Items Of Local Interest

Miss Bessie Roop, of New Windsor, spent Thanksgiving with Miss Blanche Lindsay, near this city.

Mrs. Charles Hesson, of this city, has spring daisies in bloom in her yard.

Mrs. Pierce Marsh, of Frederick, visited Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Henry, and other friends in this city, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lantz, of E. Main street, this city, spent Thanksgiving with friends in Baltimore.

It is announced that Western Maryland College is to have an intercollegiate basketball team this year.

Mr. Harry Miller, of Baltimore, visited his brother, Mr. Geo. A. Miller, and other relatives in this city Saturday and Sunday last.

The Junior Order United American Mechanics, of this city, attended divine service Sunday morning at Grace Lutheran Church. There were fifty-seven in line.

The market is still conducted by the members of the Church of God in the Central Hotel property, this city, in connection with an oyster supper every Saturday evening.

Western Maryland College football team was given a reception recently, in the parlors of the college by Vice-President A. Norman Ward and Prof. F. M. Baldwin, of that institution.

Mr. John T. Zahn, of East Main street, this city, Saturday killed three fine hogs weighing 440, 460 and 521 pounds respectively. Thus far Mr. Zahn has the champion in weight and the finest pen of porkers killed in this county, this season.

The Western Maryland Railway on Sunday broke all records in the freight service for 24 hours by hauling 3,152 cars. Of these 2,212 were loaded and 940 empty. A number of extra trains were run and every available locomotive was pressed into service.

On Sunday afternoon as Mr. Ezra Harbaugh and Mr. George N. Hunter were both going west on East Main street, this city, in their automobiles, they accidentally ran into each other. No one was hurt and no damage to either machine of any account was done.

Messrs. J. W. Lockard & Son, of this city, report the following sales of automobiles of recent date: Messrs. Frank Warehime, Silver Run, 1914 Buick; N. Mullinix, Woodbine, 1914 Buick: Wm. Spencer, Sandyville, Maxwell 22; George Neudecker, Leisters, Maxwell 22; Dr. Charles R. Foutz, Westminster, 1914 Buick, and Ex-Senator J. E. Beasman, Sykesville, 1914 Buick roadster.

A petition signed by nearly all the leading citizens and business men of Hampstead, was presented to the Hampstead Cornet Band and the Conway Band of Carroll County, both of Hampstead, at their regular meeting, asking each organization to take such action as might eventually lead to a consolidation into one band such as might be given the undivided support of the people of the community. It was suggested that a committee of three, members of their respective organizations, be named, to confer with three other disinterested persons, for the purpose of formulating plans to the end that this consolidation be accomplished.

Hagerstown, Md., Nov. 30.—A conference, which practically settled the strike of the shopmen in the employ of the Western Maryland Railroad at Cumberland, was held in Hagerstown between a committee representing the men who went out and Superintendent of Motive Power Warnock and other officials of his department. The difficulty arose over nonunion men, it is alleged, being allowed to work in the shops. The strikers asserted that the shops were deserted, with the exception of the nonunion men, but at the shops it was announced that engines were being furnished to move all trains.

The Western Maryland Railway has completed arrangements to establish a new direct train service between Baltimore and Cleveland. This took effect Tuesday. The announcement was made by General Pasenger Agent Charles F. Stewart. The additional service is made possible by the extension of the railway company's present sleeper service between Baltimore and Pittsburgh. The officials of the Western Maryland were enabled to extend this service because of the road's trunk line connections. By the new service Baltimoreans can reach Cleveland in the morning, will have over seven hours there and can catch a train for the East in the afternoon.

Dr. Ezra L., eldest son of Hon. D. E. Buckey, spent Thanksgiving with his parents at Littlestown, Pa., and also planned a brief call upon Carroll county relatives and friends before returning to his home in Brooklyn today. Among others he visited his father's only sister, Mrs. Elhanan Englar at New Windsor, Saturday the 29th, thence to Union Bridge Sunday evening, visiting his aunt Rebecca L. Rinehart, on South Main street. From there he planned driving with his uncle E. O. Norris to various points incident to his boyhood days, such as Beaver Dam and Pipe Creek cemeteries, his old birthplace "Little Pipe Creek Mills" near Middleburg, old Good-Intent school house, etc. After all, "one's own home town" (as the song goes) has fascinations that are nearer and dearer than any of the gilded allurements to be acquired, for the price, at fashionable resorts, [illegible] of which Mr. Buckey has visited various parts of the world.

Miss Nellie Wooden, of Baltimore, spent Thanksgiving with her father, C. C. Wooden, Hampstead.

Mrs. Flora Baker, of Mount Carmel, is the guest of Mrs. William Abbott, Hampstead.

Dr. Ira Whitehill and wife, of New Windsor, visited the doctor's parents in Unionville, last Sunday.

Mrs. Joseph Fowble, of Fowblesburg, entertained Misses Esther and Grace Shamberger and Miss Grace Knell, of Baltimore, Sunday.

Misses Olive and Gertrude Nicodemus spent several days recently in Westminster with their aunt, Mrs. Clara Pittinger.

Mrs. M. G. Shaw, of New Windsor, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Amanda Orrison, West Church street, Frederick.

Mr. George L. Schaeffer, of Cranberry Valley, killed two hogs Monday weighing 316 and 360 pounds respectively.

Miss Mary P. S. Koontz, of Canada Hill, spent from Wednesday until Saturday of last week with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bitzell, near this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eckenrode and family, of Gynnbrook, spent several days with Mrs. Eckenrode's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Masenheimer, at Manchester.

Mr. John Engleman, formerly of this county, but now of Baltimore, spent several days during the past week visiting relatives in and near Union Mills.

The oyster supper held Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of last week by the ladies of Providence Methodist Protestant Church, Gamber, was quite a success. The net proceeds amounted to $62.00.

Revival service, conducted by Rev. John H. Gonso, began Sunday evening in the Church of God at Carrollton. A large congregation was present and splendid interest was manifested. Everyone welcome at these services.

Among the entries at the Williams port Poultry show at Williamsport, Pa., last week were ducks and chickens bred and raised by Mrs. F. Littlefield and R. J. Walden, of Middleburg, Md. As usual these fanciers captured a large share of the prizes amid keen competition, among which were: R. J. Walden for best shaped female Barred Rock, first on Barred Plymouth Rock pen and third on hen; Mrs. F. Littlefield won first on Indian Runner ducks (fawn) and second and third on old duck. Mrs. Littlefield was also awarded first on young Indian Runner ducks and third on young drake.

At their meeting on Monday last John M. Roberts, Esq., appeared before the Mayor and members of the Common Council of this city and urged action upon a petition, signed by prominent citizens, praying the improvement of Bishop street, between East Green street and the city limits. The improvement was also urged in a communication from another citizen, who explained its necessity. The matter was referred to the Committee on Streets, with authority to take such action as may be desired to give the residents of the street in that locality a satisfactory path or walk to East Green street, and relieve them from having to wade in mud, during wet weather. The street is certainly very much in need of such a walk and improvement in other respects and should have the prompt attention of the municipal authorities.

Robert Casson, general auditor of the Western Maryland Railway Company for many years, has been succeeded in this position by F. C. Uhlman, who was recently made the assistant auditor. Mr. Casson is now traveling in Europe, where he went some weeks ago to visit his old home, he having come from England. On his return he will take up for the Western Maryland Railway the work of valuing its property under the recent act of Congress. In this task he will work in co-operation with the Inter-State Commerce Commission, which has general supervision over this physical valuation. Mr. Uhlman came to the Western Maryland from the Virginia Railroad. He is looked upon as an expert accountant, with special knowledge of railroad bookkeeping and adjustments. Some say it may mean the passing of Mr. Casson from the service of the Western Maryland after the completion of the valuation work, which will require several years to complete.

The members of the Mills family held a reunion at the home of J. Bibb Mills, attorney for the Anti-Saloon League, 3508 Duvall avenue, Baltimore, on Thanksgiving Day. The reunion was the first ever held by the Mills family at which Rev. Dr. J. L. Mills, the father, of Carmichael, Queen Anne's county, with all of his sons and their wives and children, was present. Moreover, it was the first time since 1899 that Rev. Mr. Mills has attended a reunion of his family. Besides Rev. Mr. Mills, those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Mills, of New York, and their three children; Joseph S. Mills, a member of the faculty of the High School of Commerce, of New York, and his wife and child; Dr. and Mrs. William Porter Mills, of East Las Vegas, N. M., and their child; Miss Marie L. Mills, of Carmichael, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Bibb Mills and their three children. Rev. Dr. J. L. Mills was pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, this city, some years gao.

Mr. Frank Reese, of Cranberry, killed five hogs Monday weighing 300, 316, 320, 337 and 386 pounds respectively. Mr. George L. Schaeffer was the butcher.

Mrs. Tozer, of Union Bridge, who had been spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Amon Burgee, near Frederick, has returned home. Mrs. Tozer had been quite ill, but is somewhat better.

The members of the Church of God will serve a twelve o'clock dinner Saturday, December 13, in the market room, this city, to the G. A. R. men who will meet here that day.

The present Congress was in extra session from soon after the inauguration of President Wilson, until Monday last. It then adjourned sine die, only to meet at once in its first regular session. This session will probably be prolonged until far into next summer. The duration of what will be a practically continuous session will probably be without a precedent.

Mr. John D. Bowers had a Thomas Iceless Soda Fountain installed in his place of business in this city, Monday, which is a great improvement and adds very much to the beauty of his store. This fountain is one of the very latest improved and is much larger than the old one. Mr. Bowers purchased the fountain from the K. H. Thomas Company, Baltimore, at a cost of $1800. He also had a new fruit and candy case put in his store about a week ago. Mr. Harry Ryland is installing the electric lights.

Residents of Gamber and vicinity have killed some fine porkers this season. Among them were the following: Mr. Herschel Miller, six, 192, 208, 230, 292, 304, 316; Mr. Thomas J. Miller, six, 240, 250, 250, 269, 300, 306; Mr. George Alfred Barnes, three, 286, 360, 360; Mrs. Lewis Miller, two, 250, 268; Mr. H. Clinton Shipley, four, 282, 299, 313, 322; Mr. R. H. Barnes, four, 314, 324, 328, 332. Mr. Oscar E. Barnes, two, 280, 326; Mr. John Arnsberger, two, 255, 271; Mr. Levi Barnes, two, 142, 164; Mr. Levi Gamber, two, 187, 225; Mr. Carroll Shipley, two, 173, 207. The aggregate of these weights is about 9,315 pounds, a good supply of bacon for a few families. Most of the porkers were slaughtered and dressed by Mr. Wm. N. Shauck and his son, Mr. Jarrett Shauck, who have the reputation of being very skillful in the butchering business.

It is announced, but not with such authority as to make it absolutely certain, that the Anti-Saloon League will abandon its fight to have the State-wide local option bill passed at the coming session of the legislature, and will begin a campaign for contsitutional prohibition. It is probable, however, that concurrent with this movement the local option measure will also be kept to the fore. Members of the legislature elect from this county, interviewed on the subject, with common consent and with sound judgment, declined to commit themselves to any definite action in relation to the prohibition movement, and say they will act upon it as seems proper and right to them, when it shall come up for consideration in the General Assembly. The effort to ascertain their purpose in relation to the measure was not made by the league or its agents.

Elder Uriah Bixler and members of his family, who had been abroad for several months, arrived home by the 11.07 A. M. train on Friday last. They landed at Boston on the previous Monday, after a voyage of twelve days from Naples, Italy, and spent the remainder of the week till Thursday in visiting historic and generally interesting scenes in Boston and New York. They reached Baltimore on the homeward journey Thursday night. During their absence they traveled about 9000 miles by water and 4,000 miles on land. They visited Great Britain, France, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and Holland in Europe; Alexandria and the lower Nile region in Egypt; Palestine, Baalbec and Damascus and other points in Asia. They received a most cordial greeting from their many friends when they reached home. Elder Bixler, who wrote the editor of the Sentinel a number of very interesting letters while abroad, all of which its readers have had the pleasure of perusing, spent a short time in the Sentinel office on Wednesday, during which his conversation was greatly enjoyed. He saw things with clear vision during his travels and is able to give better information of foreign lands than some more experienced tourists. He comes back home with the assured knowledge that nowhere, in the countries he visited, do the people live as comfortably as the inhabitants of America. It was a joy to him and his companions to tread again the soil of Carroll county.

CAR OF DAIRY CATTLE WITH TRAVELING INSTITUTE

The season of Farmers' Institutes is at hand, and this week a special train went over the Baltimore and Ohio, the Chesapeake Beach and the Pennsylvania Railroads, carrying a corps of institute lecturers and also coaches for lectures and one coach of high grade dairy cattle, fitted into what is considered a model dairy barn. This is an innovation for institute work.

This year a Women's Car will be run, and domestic science, home economics and other subjects treated. The lecturers will be: Dr. H. J. Patterson, President Maryland Agricultural College; Dr. Richard S. Hill, Director Farmers' Institute; S. S. Buckley, V. M. D., College Park, Md.; Guy E. Walcott, U. S. Department of Agriculture; James R. Mahaffy, V. M. D., Wilmington, Delaware; E. I. Oswald, Chewsville, Md.; Miss Mary A. Burnite, Denton, Md.

Tomorrow the only places to be visited in this county will be reached: Mt. Airy, 11.25 A. M. to 1.15 P. M.; Woodbine, 1.30 P. M. to 3.25 P. M.; Sykesville, 4 P. M. to 5.45 P. M.

Mr. William R. Yingling, of Cranberry, killed three hogs Monday weighing 339, 357 and 394 pounds respectively.

Mr. James E. Smith, of East Main street, this city, killed two hogs on Tuesday weighing 400 and 410 pounds respectively.

Mr. W. F. Corbin, of East Main street, this city, killed two hogs Tuesday weighing 335 and 372 pounds respectively.

Mr. John E. Eckenrode, of Liberty street, this city, killed three hogs Saturday weighing 345, 355 and 405 pounds respectively.

Mrs. Margaret Orr has returned to her home in this city after a visit of three weeks to her sister, Mrs. William Staub, of Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. William N. Keefer, wife and sons, Francis and Charles, visited Mrs. Keefer's mother, Mrs. Loretta Martin, in Littlestown, last week.

Mrs. A. C. Marshall and Miss Estelle McMaines, of Raspburg, spent the latter part of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Abdiel Bollinger, of Eastview.

Mrs. Charles E. Deatrich, who had been spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. William H. Hetrick, of Carroll street, this city, has returned to her home in Gettysburg, Pa.

Mr. J. L. Baust, of this city, reports the following sales of Quincy gasoline engines the past week: Mr. Herbert Essick, of this city, engine and electric lighting plant, and Mr. William Lockard, near Reese, engine and outfit.

The show window of Messrs. Harvey Bankard & Son, on East Main street, this city, has been attracting considerable attention for a day or two, the object of curiosity being a mounted gold pheasant, a graceful and beautiful bird. A mounted gray squirrel or two and a huge oppossum are also curiosities in the window.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Stoner and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton E. Myers, of Pennsylvania avenue, this city, entertained the following guests Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. James L. Stoner, Jr., Dr. J. W. Harley, Mr. Earle Tyler, Mr. Edward Roller, Miss Helen Whalen, Miss Goldie Neilor and Miss Lillian Roller, all of Baltimore.

Mr. Oliver Wayne Stewart, of Chicago, will deliver a lecture on the subject of Temperance, at the Methodist Protestant Church, this city, on Tuesday evening. No admission will be charged. Mr. Stewart is a member of the Illinois General Assembly and, if press notices of his powers as an orator are reliable, those who hear him will enjoy a rare treat. The exercises of the evening will begin at 7.30 o'clock.

An application for a license to sell liquor at the works of the Tidewater Portland Cement Company was objected to by citizens of Union Bridge, and the remonstrance was tried before Judge Forsythe on Wednesday. It was proved by the remonstrants that the application was defective, as a sufficient number of eligible signers had not recommended the granting of the license. Several of the signers were not qualified under the law and hence the court sustained the remonstrance. It is said that the purpose of the Cement Company was to sell beer only to its workmen.

Yesterday was delivery day at the establishment of the Farmers Supply Company, 11-13 Liberty street, this city, and a big day it was in the company's business. Twelve International hopper-cooled gasoline and kerosene engines, ranging from 2 1|2 to 12 horse power, were delivered, besides three Low-life and one Clover-leaf endless manure spreaders, eight 8-inch Scientific feed grinders and two circular wood saws, sold and delivered. After the morning's business the customers were entertained at dinner at the Washington lunch room by the company. Under the management of Mr. Wm. T. Kimmey the company has had a very successful year. It keeps about "everything for the farm."

The Middle Eastern States—New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia—contributed more recruits to the navy in the past five months than any other section of the country. The enlistment from that section numbered 1,984, or 28 per cent. of the total. The Central States—Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and West Virginia—came next, with 1,521, or 21 per cent., and the far Western States—Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Washington, Oregon and California—third, with 1,179, or 16 per cent.; the Middle Western States—Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas—with 772, or 10 per cent. The New England district was last, only 600 enlistments, or 8 1|2 per cent.

The Sentinel, in a recent editorial, expressed the opinion that Huerta might prolong his fight with the Constitutionalists in Mexico indefinitely by seizing private property and confiscating mines of the precious metals to maintain his armies. And that, it now appears, is about what he contemplates attempting. He is quoted as declaring "that the country is self-supporting and that forced loans, if made necessary, would enable him to resist indefinitely." He is still full of fight. That portion of the Mexican press supporting him denies emphatically the statement of President Wilson that Huerta is losing sympathy every day and that his fall is expected. It is hardly probable, however, that the President would have made such an assertion if he had not been well informed on the subject. Whether Huerta's intention to resort to forced loans as a means of staving off his overthrow will be effective remains to be seen.

Deaths

MRS. EDWARD WEBSTER

Mrs. Susie Webster, aged 31 years, wife of Edward Webster, died Thursday of last week at Snydersburg. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Yingling, and is survived by her husband and parents.

MRS. MARGARET BORING

Mrs. Margaret J. Boring, widow of the late Jacob Boring, died at her home, 2829 Fulton avenue, Baltimore, on Sunday, aged 71 years. Funeral services were held at the house in Baltimore on Monday, and the remains were brought to Hampstead on Tuesday and taken to Grace Church for interment.

HARRY F. FINK

Harry F. Fink, formerly of Taneytown, died at his home in Hanover, on Wednesday evening, November 27. His death being so sudden was a great shock to his many friends. He leaves five children, also two brothers, Pius J. and Joseph, of Taneytown, and two sisters, Mrs. M. J. Gardner, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Catherine Blumenour, with whom he lived. He was 63 years of age. The funeral was held in Hanover, Saturday morning.

WILLIAM H. ROBERTS

Mr. William H. Roberts, formerly of this county, died suddenly at his home in Baltimore, on Tuesday, at the age of sixty-one years. His remains were at the home of his son, 1429 Olive street, until yesterday when they were brought to Bethesda M. E. Church, at Gist, where funeral services were held yesterday afternoon. Interment was in the church burial ground beside the grave of Mrs. Sarah J. Roberts, Mr. Roberts' deceased wife. Mrs. Roberts, who died several years ago, was a daughter of the late Richard Barnes and a cousin of Messrs. Geo. H. Barnes and R. Wesley Barnes, of Gamber. Mr. Roberts is survived by several sons and daughters.

MRS. SARAH C. COVER

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Catherine Cover, 69 years old, who died on Thursday afternoon of last week at her home, 1311 Madison avenue, Baltimore, from Bright's disease, took place Saturday afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. Philip A. Heilman, of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Druid Hill avenue and McMechen street. Burial was in Loraine Cemetery.

Mrs. Cover had been ill since Thursday of the previous week, and her death came as a great shock to her many friends in Baltimore and Union Bridge, Carroll county. Besides her husband (Jacob Cover), she is survived by four sons (Marshall, Alonzo J., Augustus C. and Edward Cover), and three daughters (Misses Mary, Annie an dMargaret Cover). Two sisters and three brothers also survive.

MISS E. F. OGG

Miss Emma Frances Ogg, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Ogg, of this city, died Sunday, November 30, 1913, at her residence on West Main street, this city, aged 59 years and 3 months. She is survived by the following sisters: Mrs. Joshua Williams, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Amanda M. Nutting and Mrs. Martha Lindsay, of this city.

The funeral service, conducted by Rev. Dr. D. L. Greenfield, was held Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock at her late residence and the interment was in the Westminster Cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. Jno. E. Stonesifer, William H. McCollum Jonas Bachman, Ezra Bish, John T. Anders and Lewis A. Berman.

Messrs. F. A. Sharrer and Son were funeral directors.

MRS. MARGARET S. STONER

Mrs. Margaret Susan Stoner, widow of Ephraim Stoner, died last Friday afternoon at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reisler, 3405 Walbrook avenue, Walbrook, from the infirmities of age. She was in her 83rd year.

Mrs. Stoner was born in Frederick county and was a native of the village of Johnsville. Before marriage she was Miss Margaret Susan Smith, of a well-known family of that section. Her husband, who was a farmer, died nine years ago, and a year later she moved to Baltimore to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Reisler. In addition to her daughter, she leaves six sons, Kearney Stoner, of St. Louis; Oliver Stoner, of Illinois; Dr. C. E. Stoner, of Los Angeles; Walter Stoner, of Richmond, Va.; Frank Stoner, of Frederick, and Jesse Stoner, of Johnsville. Mrs. Carroll Albaugh, of this city, is her granddaughter.

After brief funeral services at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reisler, the remains were taken to Johnsville where funeral services were held at 12 M., on Sunday, in the Methodist Protestant Church. Interment was in the church burial ground.

MRS. SARAH C. KAUFMAN

Mrs. Sarah Catherine Kaufman, widow of the late Jacob Kaufman, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. F. Huson, 1130 North Stricker street, Baltimore, shortly after 2 o'clock Saturday morning from paralysis brought on by the infirmities of age. Her age was 77 years, 5 months and 30 days.

Mrs. Kaufman is survived by four sons, Edward L., Daniel J., Thomas J. and John P. Kaufman, and two daughters, Mrs. Huson and Mrs. C. W. Berg, of Boston; one sister, Miss Lizzie Benner, of Baltimore, and one brother, Mr. Henry Benner, of Uniontown this county. Seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive her.

The funeral service, conducted by Rev. P. A. Heilman, pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church, of which Mrs. Kaufman was a member, was held at eight-thirty o'clock Monday morning at her late residence, and the interment was in Krider's Cemetery, near this city.

The pallbearers were employees of Mr. James M. Stoner, funeral director. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.
