Hero's Day Mass at St. John's.

At both Masses on Sunday last, the pastor of St. John's Catholic Church delivered a sermon appropriate to "Hero Day."

In the course of his sermon, Father McGuigan, spoke of the appropriate and advantageous recognition of the spirit of heroism which prevails in the world to-day. "The finer disposition of a people" he said, "tends to hide itself away as the more noble traits of the individual character seek obscurity. The coarse and vulgar are always forward. It is becoming therefore and of vast importance that we should from time to time, bring forward and dwell upon the nobler thoughts and better feelings which uplift, uphold and direct a nation."

Father McGuigan in his announcements before the sermon urged the people to buy Liberty Bonds. He also urged the women of the congregation to respond to the appeal of the Red Cross for more workers.

During the service special hymns containing prayerful petitions for the blessing of God upon our soldier boys were rendered by the congregation.

A prayer for the welfare of the nation was recited during the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

BARBER—HUGHES.

On Sunday, September 29, 1918, at 12 M., Margaret Barber and William A. Hughes, both of whom are worthy and highly respectable young colored folks, were married in the parlor of the residence of Judge and Mrs. Wm. H. Thomas, Willis street, this city, by Rev. Thomas E. McGuigan, pastor of St. John's Catholic church, this city, in the presence of a number of their white friends.

The bride was born and reared in St. Mary's county, Maryland, the former home of Judge Thomas, and has been a house servant in his family for a number of years. The groom was employed by Mr. Joshua Gist, of near this city.

In the days before the Civil War the marriages of colored servants were generally performed in the parlor of their master's residence, and, today in many parts of the South, the same custom prevails.

After the ceremony the bride and groom left for Baltimore, where they will both be employed, she with Mrs. Grant Swartz, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Thomas, and he in war work.

Letter From France

A. E. F. France,
1st September, 1918.

My dear brother Joseph:

Your letter dated July 22nd received August 26th and I was very glad to hear from you. I also received a package of papers dated some time in June. Altough late I appreciate them when so far from base. When our crowd is thru reading the papers we turn them over to the Y. M. C. A., so you see the papers are being read by others.

At the present time we are rushed in the erection of barracks. Our boys seem to have the edge on any other fellows in ercting barracks; all along the line you will hear comments on the 502nd Engineers for speed. There are engineers here in camp both younger and older in service than our crew, but we seem to outwork all of them. Just the other day I overheard a conversation between a Major and a Lieutenant and they could not understand why we put up barracks faster than any of the rest of them and having fewer men on each particular job. Our men are not hounded if they stop a few minutes to take a smoke or sit down.

We had quite an electrical storm last night and about at the same time we got an alarm of an air raid, which did not prove any more than the alarm. When we first landed here we would get up at night and dress on an alarm for an air raid, but now we even don't get awake. The weather for the past two weeks has been ideal with a cool breeze blowing and one sees so many aeroplanes in the air, flying in all kinds of formations—high and low. I made up our pay roll and turned it in in less than a day and on the first of August we received our pay and I hope we will be equally as fortunate this month. Oh! last night we had some supper—fresh fried fish, new string beans, French fried spuds, eggs, lettuce, cucumbers, hot French bread, coffee with real milk and sugar and last, but not the least, a large raisin cake with "eggs" in it, and talk about good, it was the best ever and along with the cake we had regular chocolate icing. There were five of us at the feast, which cost us each four dollars. The place where we eat is a private family and are made to feel at home, the only difference there is we pay for everything.

I met Edward Chrest at this place and while he is still around camp I have not seen him again. I am still doing some M. P. work and now have a dandy riding horse, which the Major, who is the commandant here, procured for me. It beats pushing an army bicycle over the country when you have posts ten miles from camp. I do this work in addition to my company routine.

What do you think of the Allies now? I think by Christmas we will be fighting on German soil or else the war will be over. I see where we had a little fuss on the Mexican border, but that is all I have heard. What do you think of the "Stars and Stripes"? The demand for the issues are far greater than the weekly output, as each soldier likes to get from one to six copies. I have been sending them to you whenever possible. By the way, your letter of July 22nd was the last I have received from the States up to this writing, so you see our mail is also held up. When ever I see any of the Westminster boys I will let you know.

Your devoted brother,
WILLIAM.

Influenza at Gettysburg.

Influenza is increasing its victims at Camp Colt, Gettysburg. About 40 soldiers have died. Rev. Father W. F. Boyle has allowed the use of Xavier hall as a hospital. He said "the lives of our soldiers are more important than a week or two of schooling for our children." The building is well adapted for hospital purposes.

The insidious manner in which the disease works among the men was shown in the case of Joseph B. McGinn, a private in the Casual Company. His parents had come from their home at Fallfield Center, Vermont, to see their son and on Saturday evening visited him at the hospital. He was apparently getting along very well, was in the best of spirits, and talked with them for some time.

Sunday morning the father and mother attended early church service and then went to camp to see their son, only to find that he had died just a short time before.

To Take Part In Drive.

Baltimore, Md., September 30.—The executive committee of the War Mothers of America, Maryland division, has sent a call broadcast through the State for the participation on Saturday, October 5, of every War Mother in Maryland in the Liberty Loan drive in Baltimore.

The War Mothers want to do their maximum bit to foster an early and successful conclusion of the Loan campaign and they have decided to march in the pageant of women in Baltimore on Saturday. The decision to march with the other women of Maryland was made at a meeting of the Emergency Committee, called by Mrs. Jas. H. Patton, acting president of the Maryland organization, who was acting for the Executive Committee. The meeting was held in the new headquarters of the War Mothers, in the War Camp Community Service building, Holliday and Lexington Streets, Baltimore.

Those who attended the meeting and participated in the deliberations were: Mrs. Patton, Mrs. Phillips Lee Goldsborough, Mrs. George N. Numsen, Mrs. T. Parkin Scott, Mrs. Samuel A. Tubman, Mrs. Charles Slagle, Mrs. Hester Dorsey Richardson, Mrs. George Clarke Peck, Mrs. George W. Hyde, Mrs. S. S. Field, Mrs. Frank L. Mohler, Mrs. S. F. Miller, Mrs. Matthew C. Fenton, Mrs. W. A. Buckingham, Mrs. Henry H. Hubner, Mrs. Harry G. Skinner, Mrs. Oscar Leser, Mrs. R. Bennett Price, Mrs. M. W. Pryor and Mrs. C. D. Jones.

It was decided definitely that the War Mothers will march as a distinct unit in the Saturday parade, which is being organized by Mrs. Edward Guest Gibson, of the Liberty Loan parade committee. In the War Mothers' unit will be another distinct unit, composed of War Mothers who wear gold stars in honor of sons who have been made the supreme sacrifice in the war. With the unit will be a song leader, to be supplied by the War Camp Community Service.

Plans discussed at the meeting were for the participation in the parade of all the War Mothers of Maryland. Every effort will be made to reach those in the counties and they will be urged to enroll for the march, just as the War Mothers of Baltimore are urged to enroll, at the War Mother's headquarters, Holliday and Lexington streets. The place of mobilization will be announced later. The hour of assembly will be 1 P. M.

Another decision reached at the meeting was that concerning the dress of the War Mothers in the march. The costume will be a plain, simple white dress, such as shirtwaist and skirt. The headdress will be a white veil of course net, one yard square, held in place by a band of dark blue satin ribbon, bearing the words, "War Mothers of America" in silver letters. These bands may be purchased on the day of the parade or any time beginning Thursday morning at War Mothers' headquarters, in the Red Circle building.

On the left arm of each War Mother, worn between the elbow and the shoulder, will be the official brassard of the organization. This will be a red ribbon, three inches wide, encircling the arm. On this ribbon will be a white field, sufficiently large to contain a blue star for each son in the service—and for a gold star, of course, for each son who has given his life for the nation.

Other information relative to dress and details of the parade will be available at the headquarters, which also can be reached by telephone by calling St. Paul 316.

The War Mothers hope to do their maximum share in this pageant in the interest of the loan drive and they hope every War Mother in Maryland who can will participate. They are urging that all War Mothers enroll at once at headquarters and be prepared to be in line on Saturday.

Council of Defense Meeting at Union Mills

Council of Defense units have now been organized at every school house in Myers district, and on the night of the 2nd., the working committee from the school houses met at the I. O. M. hall, Union Mills, to make the final arrangements for the Fourth Liberty Loan Drive in the district. It was a splendid gathering of men of means and standing in their respective communities, and great interest was manifested in the proceedings of the meeting. A list showing the assessment of every taxpayer in the district had been copied from the county tax books and the list was divided up giving to each local unit the names the unit was expected to canvass. The committeemen were cautioned to use this information with great care but as far as possible to have every one to subscribe to bonds to the extent of his or her ability.. Saturday, October 12th, was fixed as the day for the drive. At one o'clock on that day all the church and school bells will ring and all the factory whistles be blown in the district. In this one grand effort, we confidently expect to put across in a single day our allotment of bonds, about $114,000 which we may say in passing, we consider far out of porportion to our wealth and resources. If any do not come to the school houses to subscribe to bonds, they will be called upon the next day.

A VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN HAS BEEN STARTED

All Plan to Familiarize Every Man, Woman and Child in Maryland With Y. W. C. A. Work

The Publicity Committee of the War Council of the Young Women's Christian Association have started a vigorous campaign planned to familiarize every man, woman and child in the state of Maryland with the work of the Y. W. C. A.

One means of carrying on this campaign which is proving very effective is the distribution of literature, and Mrs. T. O'Donnell Hillen, the chairman of the Publicity committee, is personally superintending the work of sending Blue Triangle literature to stores, hotels and other centers of public interest throughout the entire state. This literature is sent with the request that those receiving it, give it a prominent place.

"We ask," said Mrs. Hillen, "that the people to whom the literature, posters or window cards may be sent, advertising any of the organizations that will be represented in the coming drive, do all they possible can do to co-operate with us in our propaganda work. We understand that some persons who receive the posters pay no attention to them. If this is true, they are defeating the purpose of our campaign, and in defeating the purpose of the campaign are defeating the purpose of the government that has authorized the Y. W. C. A., as well as the other organizations to undertake this campaign preparatory to the financial drive later on. We are asking for no money now, and all posters and window cards are distributed entirely free of charge, with merely the request that they be given all the publicity possible. A great many people do not know the work the Blue Triangle is doing—we are asking co-operation in the task of making a knowledge of its value and importance general throughout the state of Maryland."

Patriotic Service in Myers' District.

The citizens of Myers' District will observe a Patriotic Service in St. Mary's Lutheran Church, Silver Run, October 7th, at 2.30 P. M. Rev. A. G. Wolf, pastor, will preach a Patriotic sermon, and Mr. George R. Gehr, of Westminster, Md., will also deliver an address.

There will also be special music, accompanied by Orchestra. As this will be the only Patriotic meeting that will be held during the Fourth Liberty Loan Campaign, citizens from all parts of the district, as well as adjoining districts, are urged to be present.

By order of Myers' District Council of Defense.

Wheat Sold Below Guaranteed Price

Reports reach the Food Administrations that some farmers are selling their wheat at less than guaranteed prices because of the railway embargoes placed in parts of the country against wheat shipment. While the elevators are temporarily overstocked because seaboard movement has not kept pace with internal movement, this condition should be improved during the next thirty or sixty days. No farmer who will have patience until the situation improves need sell below the guaranteed price, for the Government will buy all wheat as fast as it can be moved.
