... They will be more
... enabled to take step in the advancing column of the times. Travelers and former citizens of the county say improvements here are more notable than in any other section of the Shore, and have been for several years.

Our business men stand well in financial circles, and in the management of public affairs Caroline is excelsior. These are the reasons for the county's fair fame, and on these condition the people may enter upon the year's duties with feelings of satistaction. Perhaps the year 1889 will afford even greater profits in the various branches of agricultural pursuits than did '87 or '88. Industries are now so diversified and thoroughly understood by farmers and fruit growers that failure is hardly possible. Eighteen hundred and eighty-nine will be a prosperous year in Caroline.

MR. CLEVELAND has once more shown that he has the rare faculty of saying the right thing at the right time. In a letter of regret from him read at a banquet given by the Boston Tariff Reform League last Friday night, he blazes the way for the weak-kneed members of the party to follow him and for every member of the party to uphold the principles voted for by a plurality of more than 100,000 in the total number of voters in the country last November. After expressing his regret at not being able to attend the banquet, Mr. Cleveland wrote: "Our institutions were constructed in purity of purpose and love for humanity. Their operation is adjusted to the touch of national virtue and patriotism, and their results under such guidance must be the prosperity and happiness of our people; and so long as the advocates of tariff reform appreciate the sentiments in which our institutions had their origin, so long as they in a spirit of true patriotism are consecrated to the service of their country, temporary defeat brings no discouragement. It but proves the stubbornness of the forces of combined selfishness and discloses how far the people have been led astray and how great is the necessity of redoubled efforts in their behalf. To lose faith in the intelligence of the people is a surrender and an abandonment of the struggle. To arouse their intelligence and free it from darkness and delusion give assurance of speedy and complete victory. In the track of reform are found the dead hopes of pioneers and the despair of those who fall in the march. But there will be neither despair nor dead hopes in the path of tariff reform nor shall its pioneers fail to reach the heights. Holding fast their faith and rejecting every alluring overture and every deceptive compromise which would betray their sacred trust, they themselves shall regain and restore the patrmony of their country, freed from the trepass of grasping encroachment, and safely secured by the genius of American justice and equality."

Brave words, these, for a defeated candidate, and very badly needed too, for many Democrats in Congress have recently shown a very decided weakness of the spine of this subject and have talked about compromising with the enemy to the extent of passing a bill making large reductions in the internal revenue, leaving the unjust import duties to remain as they now are, etc. The indications now are that Mr. Cleveland's letter will furnish the necessary stiffening for the wobbling backbones and that we shall hear no more talk of compromise.

Washington Letter.

The Democrats of the House will handle the Senate tariff bill without gloves when it goes to them after its passage by the Senate. They propose to show the country what a one-sided and unfair measure it really is. They are now busy gathering facts and statistics for the purpose.

The President has ordered the dismissal of Edward Cushing, Collector of Customs at Bath, Maine.

Representative Crisp, Chairman of the House committee on contested elections, expects to call up this week the cases of Small vs. Elliott and Sullivan vs Felton.

Michigan has a handsome statue of Gen. Lewis Cass, to be placed in Statuary Hall at the Capitol.

A new and very fine crayon portrait of Speaker Carlisle has been hung in the lobby of the House.

The Blaine war grows apace. Everywhere two or three Republicans are gathered together you are certain to hear the name of the gentlemen from Maine mentioned. His enemies are bitter and his friends staunch, and the battle is sure to rage continually between them from now until four years from next March, with what result only time can tell. Mr. Harrison probably wishes most heartily that Blaine had never been born, but if he had not, the people of this country would have missed lots of fun.

As if there were not already a surfeit of candidates for Speaker of the next House, three more were brought out last week. They were Representatives Lodge, Bayne and Farquhar. I do not suppose that either of these three men have the most remote idea of ever being elected Speaker; but they probably hope that their being mentioned for the position will cause them to get better committee assignments from the man who is elected. And judging from past experience they are right.

It is proposed to have the takers of the next census make a schedule of the surviving ex-Confederate soldiers. The idea has been very well received, and will be considered at the next meeting of the Senate committee on the census. The bill already passed by the House provides for a similar schedule of Union soldiers.

"Here is presented," writes Mr. Pierce, "the singular spectacle of 20,000 colored voters in the Empire State of the North determining the result of a Presidential contest of 8,000,000 of white voters in thirty-eight States; and not only so, but also determining, for four years, and possibly for an indefinite period, the course of the government upon the gravest question of public policy ever presented to the intelligence of the American people."

MR. CASPER G. WOODALL, for ten years past the editor and proprietor of the Chestertown Transcript, has sold his paper to Messrs Collins & Hopper. Under Mr. Woodall's management, the Transcript has been very successful. We wish it continued prosperity.

They Want a Black Man in the Cabinet.

Philadelphia Record.

It is not without reason that the negro voters of America claim that they should have ample recognition under the incoming administration. They show from election statists that not only in New York and Indiana, but in nearly every other Northern State the Republicans would be in a minority if they should break their alliance with that party. Upon this ground they demand a seat in the Harrison Cabinet, and they have pitched on ex-Senator Blanche K. Bruce as the man.

EDWARD ATKINSON: "The waste of the many poor costs the community in the aggregate far more than the waste of the few rich."

WRITE it 1889!

Wanamaker's.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, Dec. 31, 1888

Last announcement for this year. Just stopped long enough after the great holiday business to take breath. Now we are prepared to tell you things which perhaps you are waiting to know—ready to translate type-told tales into business acts.

An occasion begins in the store to-day. It should command your quick attention. Its causes are numerous.

We have been doing great bargain buying.

Stocks have been overhauled to discover all excessive quantities.

All things damaged by handling or otherwise "off" have been hunted out.

All stocks depleted by sales have been replenished.

Many new things have been prepared for attractive openings. Its effects are many.

The store is thus to be filled with bargains—numerous and real.

The old year goes out leaving the store in joyful attractiveness for her new-born sister.

The life and movement are to be kept up by appeals to your self-interest and taste. You will be compelled to profit by them.

The announcements of to-day are but the start of many that will follow. Therefore, read more diligently than ever our daily story.

DRESS GOODS.

On Saturday we announced 150 distinct combinations in Dress Patterns at $4 to $40. The prices are off one-half; and the goods mostly new and just opened.

Here is a twin bargain, just bought from one of the greatest manufacturing concerns in New England; all the year round fancy worsted dress goods. We tell only prices:

$1.25 quality 75 cents
$1.50 quality 85 cents
$1.75 quality $1.25

Columns of talk in them, but only space for brief mention, as they first come to the counters to-day.

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR.

December is ahead. The usual January exhibit is made to-day.

Muslin Underwear is now on the second floor in newly furnished quarters and vastly improved location. The year which closes to-day shows by far the greatest sales record ever made in this department If we know anything about it, the year beginning to-morrow will beat the record by a heavy per cent.

The sale opened to-day has been planned for months. Our own factory and others under contract have been busy in the preparation.

The prices are remarkably low. In many cases you get the garments for what the material would cost. How? The difference between the mill price and retail price of the cloth pays for the making. You get them without profit. And there is not a bit of benevolence in it—to you. Organizations must live. Many a manufacturer would prefer to sell at cost or less to keep his factory going through the dull time. This is our advantage. To increase our buying power we will do some business for nothing. This is your advantage. And so the January Underwear Sale comes about. Better look sharp if you would get the pick. Consumers and not traders are expected at this sale.

GOWNS:

Mother Hubbard Gowns, heavy muslin, two rows Hamburg inserting between fine tucks on yoke. Hamburg edging on neck, sleeves and yoke front. Made in our own factory. 60 cents each, would be cheap at $1.08. All fresh goods, just made.

Heavy Muslin Gown, wide all-over inserting on yoke between fine tucks, Hamburg edging on neck, sleeves and front. Our own make, usual $1.25 quality, 75 cents each.

Muslin Gown, similar to above, but more elaborate trimming, have been $1.25; now 80 cents each.

Cambric Gown, tucked and feather-stitched yoke, edging on neck and sleeves, reduced from $2.00 to $1.80.

Cambric Gown, princess front, tucks in clusters, fine blind embroidery on neck, sleeves and front, reduced from $2.25 to $1.25.

Cambric Gown with fine tucked and inserting yoke, fine Hamburg edging on neck, sleeves and front, reduced from $3.75 to $2.00.

CHEMISES:

Muslin Chemise, square neck, Hamburg edging on front, neck and sleeves. 50 cents each. The best we have ever been able to offer at the price.

Heavy Muslin Chemise, corded yoke, with neat Hamburg edging on neck, yoke and sleeves, 45 cents each.

Cambric Chemise, square neck, with Torchon lace on front, neck and sleeves, 65 cents each, worth fully $1.

DRAWERS:

Fruit of the Loom Muslin Drawers, with three tucks and hem, 25 cents each. This excells all former efforts at cheapness.

The same as the foregoing, with more tucks, 35 cents each.

Muslin Drawers, ruffles and double rows of three fine tucks each, 42 cents.

Same as the above, with more tucks, 55 cent each.

Cambric Drawers, fine quality, fully tucked, 35 cents each.

SKIRTS:

Muslin Skirts with neat Hamburg edging on Cambric ruffle, five tucks above the ruffle, 65 cents.

Fruit of the Loom Muslin Skirts, with cambric ruffle, 50 cents.

Muslin Skirts, with four tucks and hem 35cents, reduced from 45 cents.

Muslin Skirts, with Hamburg ruffle and tucks, 75 cents, from $1.

Muslin Skirts, very file never shown before, with ruffle and bind embroidery $1.50.

CORSET COVERS:

Only 100 dozen Muslin Corset Covers, with Hamburg edging, at 15 cents

Extra fine Corset covers, V front, wide Hamburg edgiog, and feather-stitched binding, 50 cents each.

This entire offering is free from trash. The muslins are not loaded with clay or lime.—The work is honest. To get the advantage of this sale early coming will be necessary.

Of the high grades in Muslin Underwear the stock is greatly increased.

In the same department we show also a number of bargains in heavy Skirts.

WOOL SKIRTS.

The assortment is large in gray, cardinal, scarlet. blue, pink, and black, also in various combinations of the several colors.

Prices were.	Prices are.	Were.	Are.
95 cents	75 cents	$2.50	$1.75.
$1.25	$1.00	$2.50	$2.00
$1.50	$1 25	$3.25	$2.50
$1.75	$1.50

APRONS AND PILLOW SHAMS.

In the White Goods stock, southweast of centre, first floor.

900 Aprons, sheer embroidered, cambric tucked, and cambric embroidered. The prices have ranged from 13 cents to $2.50 each. They are now from 10 cents to $1.-25 each.

108 pairs Pillow Shams. Prices were $2 to $4.25 a pair, are now from $1 to $2.13.

During the holiday trade these goods are sold mostly by sample, some are used for decoration and display, and therefore become soiled. The goods thus offered at an average of less than half are perfect except soiled.

LINENS.

The whole muster of them is marching to the drum-beat of sensational prices. Let there be no doubt in your mind.—Add a quarter or a third to the cost of each dollar's worth and you get to the close retail price in other stores. Add half and you get to the average retail price. You need n't guess; bring in the samples and compare. Or when you come carry the other things in your mind. Put anybody else's Linens beside ours and we know what the outcome will be.

No dealers in America (or the world for that matter) can get closer to the Linen makers than we are. No one can handle the Linens for less. We know of no one who handles them for so little. Year in and year out you are saying that we lead in Linens. Just now you'll say we are bettering our best. See if you won't.

Wanamaker's

Some of the finest makes of Tablecloths, soiled, tossed, or otherwise out of seeming, will go at condition prices. So will everything that has suffered by fingering or careless usage.

WOMEN'S OVERGARMENTS.

You'll doubt your eyes,—Reason to, but they won't be deceiving you. The price-tags are just where they belong.

A buyer's carnival in Wraps, Jackets, Ulsters, and Raglans. The money you put into one will almost surely buy two of the sort you have in mind. No need to figure on what work and trimming cost; weigh the stuff alone in the pocketbook scales! You'll feel like pitying the work people. Don't. The loss is away this side of them. Big loss to somebody. No matter. The things are now within your reach—and as if a greenback, big or little, went with each. We only point out a few of the styles here. The Thirteenth and Chestnut streets part of the second floor is overflowing with them.

Woman's Rich Braided Wraps, in colors and black, were $20; now $10.

Rich Embroidered and Braided Wraps, latest styles, were $25; now $15.

Same, better, were $30 and $35; now $20.

Rich Plush and Brocade Wraps, $15, $20 $28 and $30, from $30, $40, $50, $60.

Woman's Wraps that have been sold at $5 $6, and $7, are now $2.50.

Wraps that were $8 and $10, now $3.

Wraps that were $8, $10, and $12, now $4.

Wraps that were $12 and $15, now $5.

Ulsters and Raglans at $4, $5, $6, $7, $8, were double.

Ulsters and Raglans at $10, $12 and $15, from $15, $20, and $25.

Beaver Jackets at $3, $4, $5, $6, that were $6, $8, $10, $12.

Tea Gowns, $9 to $5.50.

Fine All-Wool Cloth Costoms, $8, worth $12.

A great variety of Dresses at $10, $12, $15 $20 and $25; about half usual price.

A few rich Paris Costums at half.

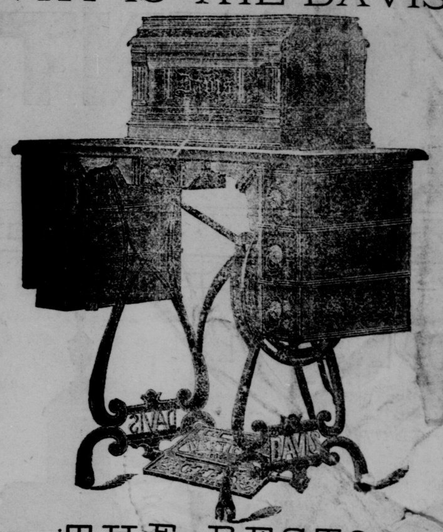
WHY IS THE DAVIS
-:VERTICAL FEED:-
-:SEWING MACHINE:-



—:THE BEST?:—

BECAUSE, with the Vertical Feed, the presser foot is always raised from the fabric when the feed takes place, and presents no resistance to seams or ridges, and the needle being in the fabric, moving with the Vertical Feed-Bar on the goods behind the needle, makes the stitches uniform in length, and renders it impossible to full one piece while the other is stretched. For the same reason the Machine is capable of sewing elastic goods, making a smooth and flexible seam with stitch alike on both sides; also of sewing any number of thicknesses without basting, operating with equal facility on the heaviest as well as the lightest fabrics.

BECAUSE it is Light Running, Simple in Construction, and has less working parts than any other Machine. It has the greatest number of PRACTICAL Attachments for doing every desirable style of work, all automatic in their action and made of the Best Materials, in the most workmanlike manner. It will do a greater variety of work than all other machines combined, and is the acknowledged Pioneer and Leader in Sewing Machine Decorative Work.

$1000.00 Reward to any person that willdo the same range of work, and do it as well on any other Machine, as can be done on the DAVIS VERTICAL FEED SEWING MACHINE.
