SATURDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 2.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Chairman Wilson, of of the Ways and Means committee of the House of Representatives, on Monday last gave to the public the result of the long and careful consideration of the matter of tariff schedules. After a full hearing of all the many interests affected the bill was framed as one which would create all the needed revenue of the government without entailing special hardships upon any particular class. Nor are there any special favorites. Under this bill the consumers of the country and the farmers, as well as the manufacturers, are constantly in view. The good effects of the bill, when it becomes a law, will be most sensibly felt in the great States whose chief interests are agricultural. In the framing of the McKinley law many of the schedules were written out by manufacturers, and so enacted. How could the people expect even justice under the operations of such a measure? It is pretty safe to say that no such dictation was permitted in the making up of this proposed law. The duties which the new bill will impose will be from 25 to 30 per cent. of the value of dutiable imports. The McKinley law's average was from 55 to 60 per cent.

In an interview concerning his position on prominent subjects for legislation at the coming session, Senator-elect Thomas A. Smith said: "As I am young in legislative experience I do not think it either wise or prudent for me at this time to attempt to define my position on matters pertaining thereto, though I have no hesitancy in saying that I am heartily in favor of a revaluation of property under some good assessment law, and this is a matter I think should be taken up early in the session so that it may not be necessarily hurried through. The oyster interest is one of vital importance to the State, but does not affect us at all in Caroline county, as a local measure." Messrs. Lewis and Sisk are also emphatic in their advocacy of a revaluation.

Another meeting of the Maryland Road League will be held in Baltimore on Friday, December 15. All persons present at the previous convention, and the representatives of all farmers' associations, mercantile bodies, road improvement societies, the League of American Wheelmen, and all public bodies interested in roads, as well as all friends of the cause, are invited to attend, it being a general convention of all persons and bodies interested in good roads. A bill for the improvement of roads, with the report thereon, will be presented by the Road League, and action will be taken looking to the coming session of the Legislature. Caroline should be well represented at this gathering.

Henry Clay Dodson, Charles F. Stewart and H. S. Hall, late republican candidates for the House of Delegates, have served notice on Francis G. Wrightson, Ormond Hammond and Wm. Collins, of an election contest.

The President and Mrs. Cleveland entertained a dinner party Thanksgiving Day, at which Joe Jefferson, the comedian, was the guest of honor.

The executive mansion and the legislative halls have been put in first class order for the assembling of the legislature.

Becaue these Black Dress Goods are a third or a quarter under price it doesn't follow that they are one bit under quality. They are not. It is simply the great goods gathering power of this store that makes them, and dozens more, so interesting to you.

At 50c a yard.
38 in. black French Diagonal, regular price 75c.

At 50 a yard.
45 in. black All-wool Serge, retailing at the manufacturer's price.

At 75 a yard.
38 in. black Figured Fancies, three designs, retailing at less than the manufacturer's price.

At 85c a yard.
50 in. French Whipcord, original price $1.25.

At 85c a yard.

Sewing Machines.

How much and yet how little most folks know about them. What work-doers, what eye-savers, what bread-winners they are is common knowledge.

But how many know what a crust of "expenses" counts in the usual retail price of all Sewing Machines? Not one in a thousand.

It would astound Sewing Machine buyers if they knew what actual cost is, and what retail prices would be were machines sold on the same basis as shoes or clothing or books or furniture or almost any other merchandise.

Why not sell them so?

Time was when patents forbade. But the basic and important patents have expired. The field is opened to anyone. Names have lost much of their significance. The ——, the ——, the ——, no matter how good they were, or are, can no longer monopolize excellencies.

All of the wall of exclusiveness has tumbled down—except the cumbrous, costly way of selling goods.

Why shouldn't it go?

Here are the Quaker City Sewing Machines. We named them. The best machine that could be made by picking from all the goodness of other machines was brought us. We called it "Quaker City." Taken all in all, we count it the best Sewing Machine on the market.

These are the prices:

$18, $19, $20, $22.50, $25.

Each machine perfect and complete. Oak or Walnut case.

Working parts exactly the same in every instance.

High Arm.
Self-setting Needles.
Self-threading Shuttle.
Automatic Bobbin Winder.
Complete attachments.

How can we make these little prices! Easy enough. We buy and sell Sewing Machines as we buy and sell dry goods. And

WE DON'T Employ canvassers and pay them half the selling price for getting the business.

WE DON'T Sell on installments and thus lose a part of the price of some machines

WE DON'T Send out instructors to give lessons at the customer's house—instructions are given at the store.

WE DON'T Do the business in a reckless and expensive way and make the customer stand the extra cost.

Always specially attractive lots in the Book store. These are haphazard.

Standard Sets.
