But as it practically worked, it was for the interest of a contractor to have his expenses mount up as high as possible. Even if a contractor meant to be honest, he would easily become careless under such a system. If his costs on a job were $1,000,000. and he was guaranteed 10 per cent profit. he would make $100,000. But if his costs ran up to $2,000,000, then his profits would be $200,000.

LACK OF CONFIDENCE

Trade reports emphasize the idea that business is being nalted as the result of lack of confidence. The level of wholesale prices has dropped about 14 per cent. Buyers are fearful that the decline is not ended and they hesitate to stock up heavily.

This feeling of uncertainty is quite likely to be overdone. There is little overproduction of merchandise. Fall is the ideal time to paint. There is no time of the year that is as favorable for painting as Fall. By painting at this season of the year, it gives the paint a chance to set slowly, and to become hard and firm before the hot rays of the Summer's sun drives upon it.

Another feature to be taken in consideration is that the painter can accomplish more work at this season of the year, than he can in the hot Summer months. This reduces the cost of the paint job.

If you put the painting of your property off when it needs it badly, it is a very expensive proposition for in the course of a year your property has begun to decay and it will mean that eventually you will pay more in the end, than if you had painted when it was needed.

Now when you have decided to paint, the thing to consider is what is the best paint to use and what will eventually make you the cheapest job. The work on a paint job will cost as much as the materials, so don't make the mistake of employing good labor and use a cheap grade paint. It costs no more and in fact not as much to use the best paint, for it works more smoothly and the painter can cover more surface with it in a day
