Rock Hall Claims Smallest Woman in State.—Maryland, noted for her beautiful daughters, can also boast of having as many small daughters as any state. The smallest woman on the Eastern Shore, and, it is believed, in the entire State, is Miss Ruby Somers, of Rock Hall, who can boast of being only three feet four inches in height and tipping the beam at only 60 pounds. Miss Somers was born at Oriole, Somerset county, August 15, 1885, and therefore was 24 years old only a few days ago. With her parents she removed to Kent county "when quite small," to use her own words, and her diminutive size has made her a great favorite with everyone who knows her. Intellectually Miss Somers is well able to hold her own with any of her larger Kent county sisters, and she can converse at length upon most any subject of national or local import. She is the youngest of a family of four children. Capt. John Davis Somers, her father, is a man of towering height, being over six feet tall; her mother is a large woman and the three other children, also are of more than ordinary size.

Shopping In Sassafras.—Mrs. Maude Darrell Hoffman, a pioneer of country week work, was praising in Hartford the country vacation.

"A country vacation is better than a seashore one," she said. You see things so much quainter. And the further into the country you go the quainter becomes the things you see.

"I once spent August in a village called the Head of Sassafras, a village down in Maryland. The postoffice there was the general store. The morning after my arrival I went to the general store for my mail

A little girl preceded me with an egg in her hand.

"Gimmie an egg's worth of tea, please,' I heard her say to the postmaster-storekeeper; 'and ma says ye might weigh out an egg's worth of sugar, too, for the blackhen's a-cluckin', and I'll be up again in a minute.'"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Will Cost More.—According to a report an increase of two cents is to be made in the near future in the fee for the registration of letters and mail packages.

HOWE'S GREAT LONDON SHOWS.

The Clowns Are Surprisingly Funny—Every Act a Feature.

Any one of Howe's Circus clowns would be the last person in the world you would pick out as a professional jester. He is the soberest-appearing cuss you ever saw on the street. Yet he has but to walk from the dressing top to the big show and you laugh. There is something about that stride that is funny, and when he allows the toy balloon to get away from him and sail through the air, crying after it, the spectators almost fall off the seats with laughter. Now, you let some one else try that same little clown trick and and it's not funny at all

The clown today occupies an even more exalted position with the circus than he did thirty or forty years ago.

Years ago they didn't have the colossal acts such as travel with a show of the caliber of Howe's aggregation. Then it was an easy matter to make, or rather arrange, your program so that one act followed another without a wait. Nowadays with the big acts it takes time to get the rigging ready, and the clown must, during these temporary lulls, amuse the spectators so that they will forget all about the wait and watch and laugh.

The clowns of Howe's Great London Shows were all specially engaged for this branch of the performance, and it's the boast of the management that this their efforts in this direction have met with a success beyond their expectations.

The big show will be here Saturday Sept. 11.

Dr. Aberently, the great English physician, said, "Watch your kidneys. When they are affected, life is in danger." Foley's Kidney Remedy makes healthy kidneys, corrects urinary irregularities, and tones up the whole system. Sold by all druggists.
