"OUR CELEBRITIES."

[By L. B. C. Morris, of Sassafras.]

A few nights ago one of our members
Went to sleep behind the stove in the store,
And these are some of the things he dreamed
Before he began to snore.

Sassafras Grange has a number of famous men
By whom we set great store.
And these are some of the things they did
In Ernest's grocery store.

They made new laws for all the state,
They unmade many more;
They settled the fate of the universe,
In Ernest's grocery store.

They made new fortunes every hour,
They were no longer poor;
They did more work than you or I,
In Ernest's grocery store.

Harry Griffith was the Mayor of Sassafras,
Our troubles all were o'er
For Sassafras was a city, built
'Round Ernest's grocery store.

Isaac Gibbs was Governor,
And many men were sore,
Because he had promised all the offices
To the Gang in Ernest's store.

Bill Colgain farmed some fifty farms,
He could have farmed fifty more;
How did he do it? He told how
In Ernest's grocery store.

Lew Roberts was a New York man
At whom we laughed 'till our sides were sore
Because he thought he knew more about farming
Than the crowd in Ernest's store.

Irving Spry was mammy's boy,
We had seen his kind before;
He stayed home every day and worked
Instead of "setting" in the store.

Bob Johnston ran for Sheriff,
He ran 'till his feet were sore;
He landed hard behind the stove
In Ernest's grocery store.

Our Charlies both were bachelors bold,
In leap year they had proposals by the score,
But they held fast to their liberty,
And their right to go to the store.

Brad Johnson was the chicken king
Of all the Eastern Shore;
His Leghorn's reached from here to the moon,
And back to Ernest's store.

Uncle Henry Rosin caught bigger fish
Than had e'er been caught before;
And he told the biggest fish yarns
Ever told in Ernest's store.

He also went asleighing,
And the mud was so deep he swore;
As he sleighed in the mud to Still Pond
And back to Ernest's store.

Our treasurer had skipped with the funds of the Grange,
But here the man began to snore;
And they woke him up behind the stove
In Ernest's grocery store.

GALENA ITEMS.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Caldwell are visiting friends in and near Wilmington.

Miss Jennie Bowers, of Still Pond, is visiting her friend, Miss Edith Caldwell, of near town.

Mr. Claude Stauffer and Rev. Olie H. Connelly, of Washington College, spent the week-end with friends at Galena.

Mr. Roland Pennington, our station agent, has been quite sick for the past week, but we are glad to report he is once more able to be out again.

Among the sick of our town are some of the little ones: The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bolton, also the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Boyles, have been quite sick, but both are reported better at this writing.

Mrs. Agnes May Clough, wife of Mr. Dudley Clough, died on Friday of last week. The funeral service was conducted at 10 30 o'clock on Monday morning last at the residence near town by Rev. A. P. Prettyman, assisted by Rev. O. H. Connelly. The deceased before her marriage, which was solemnized little less than a year ago, was a Miss Lingo, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lingo, who reside near Golts. A husband and infant babe are left to mourn the loss of an affectionare wife and a loving mother. Undertaker Collins, of Townsend, had charge of the funeral and interment was in Townsend cemetery.

Another burglar in town! Or is it the same fellow? Some one climbed in the window of Olivet M. E. Church Saturday night, evidently hunting a fire, and took the pulpit rug with him as he left. With this rug around a brick the glass door to Mr. Frank Ruth's store was bursted in the unknown party entering and helping himself to watches, revolvers, shoes, etc, and leaving the rug behind. Foot prints in the snow corresponding in size to those in the church yard were found in various places in town where the visitor evidently had some curiosity as to whether our citizens locked their windows and doors. They did; so he passed on. Our midnight guest has at least one good trait—he usually goes to church when he comes to town.

KENNEDYVILLE NOTES.

Mr. William Clendaniel, a student at Western Maryland College, who came home a few days ago because of fractured arm, broken in gymnasium exercises, returned to school this week.

Services for the M. P. Church next Sunday are as follows: 9.30 a. m., Sunday School; 10 30 Holy Communion and Decision service, with opportunity for persons to unite with the church; Junior C. E. service at 2.30 p. m.; at 7 p. m. Song service and sermon by Rev. Cyrus P. Keen, of Salisbury, superintendent of the Eastern Shore District Anti saloon League. A full attendance is solicited.

Miss Bidwell had a good house at her entertainment in Weer's Hall Saturday night, and all were highly pleased and delightfully entertained. Miss Bidwell sang in the M. P. Church Sunday morning and evening to the delight of all present. The service on Sunday morning was in the interest of the pending Anti-Saloon local option bill now before the legislative body at Annapolis, and the enthusiasm of our Kennedyville and vicinity people is ardent. The pastor read letters bearing on the bill, hymns appropriate were sung, and the conquest and stars and stripes flags were on exhibition. The "chain gang" object lesson by the pastor gave an illustration of the complicity of the organized whiskey business and its victims and horrible results. A number of letters and telegrams were sent off from our village on Monday to the Kent and other members of the legislature, imploring and beseeching them to stand by the bill for the inalienable rights of the people, and praying them to see to it that the four good local option men from Baltimore to the legislature be not unseated, and that such a vote would at once be a blow at the local option bill.

Cabbage is one of the very best vegetables to feed to poultry, as it keeps green a long time and the chickens enjoy picking at it.

Mighty easy to feed new corn to the hogs, stalks and all, but you will find that if the corn is first run through the shredder the animals will eat it up clean.
