IMPORTANT RULING

Suit for Damages Against Kent County and Engineer Isaac Gibbs Thrown Out on Demurrer at Easton.

The suit of Mr. H. B. Richardson, of Broad Neck, against Kent county for damages to his horse resulting from an accident on the public road, was removed from Kent county to Easton. The case came up Wednesday. S. Scott Beck, Esq., represented the plaintiff, Lewin W. Wickes, Esq., appeared for Engineer Gibbs and H. H. Barroll, Esq., represented the county commissioners. The defendants demurred to the suit, which demurrer was sustained and the case dismissed. The ruling should not in any wise relieve the responsible parties from using all possible care in making the roads safe. Mr. Beck will likely take an appeal.

JUNE COAL SCHEDULE.

Beginning Saturday the public will pay a higher price for anthracite coal than they have in any summer month in years. The June schedule, or what is commonly called the summer schedule, of retail prices were fixed Tuesday by the members of the Baltimore Coal Exchange, at a meeting held in the Royal Arcanum. The average price will amount to a 35-cent raise over the price that prevailed last June, and while it is a surety that price will be increased 10 cents a ton on the first of July, there is probability the limit will extend far beyond that in the months that follow.

The scale of prices Tuesday is not quite up to that of the predominant winter scale, but the difference is so slight that it will not be felt. However, many consumers will no doubt take advantage of these few cents' reduction on each ton and assured that the price will increase, will lay in their winter's supply during June. Because of this coal dealers stated that the month will be a record-breaker in the sale of coal and that they would not be surprised to see the supply exhausted inasmuch as operators are not on the market for any.

Heretofore the price of anthracite coal has dropped, on the first of June, about 50 cents, and increased 10 cents a ton each month until September, when the winter price was reached.

As agreed upon by the retail dealers the hard coal will sell at the following rates per ton; White Ash, $6.75; No. 2, $7; No. 3, $7.25; Nut, $7.50; Pea, $5.50; Sly, No. 2, $7.25; No. 3, $7.50; Big Nut, $7.75; Lykens Valley, No. 2, $8; No. 3, $8.25.
