American Land and Irrigation Exposition.

Our many readers devoted to agricultural pursuits will be interested to learn that at the American Land and Irrigation Exposition now being held in New York City, the Pennsylvania Railroad booth exhibit, which specialized in the products of this Peninsula, was awarded the first prize. The booth is very artistically arranged and contains a fine and effective display of the various fruits, vegetables, grains and other products for which this Peninsula is noted. The sweet potato exhibit, a particularly fine one, received honorable mention. The booth is surmounted by a huge imitation pumpkin, weighing three tons, and is a very effective and striking advertisement of the incomparable resources of this favored section.

The Exposition is generally representative—most of the States, Insular Possessions and the larger railroads being exhibitors. The Exposition is being well attended and is very favorably commented on.

SCIENTIFIC FARMING

In furtherance of the cause of scientific farming a Special Farmers' Educational Train will start from Wilmington on December 2, on a week's lecture tour of the Delaware-Maryland-Virginia Peninsula. The train will consist of several demonstration and lecture cars, which the Pennsylvania Railroad has placed at the disposal of Delaware College, Maryland Agricultural College and the Delaware State Board of Agriculture, who have arranged a schedule and will co-operate in providing lectures and demonstrations on agricultural subjects of special interest to Peninsula farmers. Two coaches will be used as lecture rooms and three lectures will be delivered during the stop of one hour and thirty minutes at each station. The schedule has been arranged to fit in with the programs of the State Farmers' Institute. No stops will be made at points where the Farmers' Institute meets, as the time and number of stops is limited and it is desired to make the scientific farming propaganda as widespread as possible. The Educational Special will arrive at Townsend at 10 25 a. m., December 2, and this will give Kent county farmers desirous of hearing the lectures a chance to attend at that point. All persons interested in profitable agriculture are cordially invited to attend these free lectures and the various experts from the different experiment stations and colleges will be pleased to answer any questions farmers may bring relative to problems on their farms.

A Sigh From the Author.

"Proofreading is Greek to me, even after having several books published," Miss Alice Louise Lee recently wrote to her publishers. "But what worries me is this psychological question. Will my corrections be as unintelligible to the printer as all his marks are to me? It seems to me very confusing. In the face of proofreading I feel like the farmer who before the rhinoceros' cage declared, 'There ain't no such beast!'"

His Honor at Stake.

"Young man, how do you expect to marry my daughter if you are in debt?"

"Why, sir, in my opinion it's the only square thing to do. The longer I am engaged to her the worse off I will be."—Life.

The Servant Problem.

"I, sir," said the demonstrative candidate, "am a servant of the people."

"Gosh!" replied Farmer Corntossel "Ain't this servant problem gettin' to be awful?"—Washington Star.

Children Cry

Messrs. Wilkins and Massey got into the ducks last week bagging 24.

Home-Run Baker's brother in Talbot County killed 90 black head ducks one day last week.

A rabbit hunt on the outskirts of Great Notch, N. J., was brought to an unexpected ending one afternoon recently at the base of an old apple tree into which the rabbit had sought shelter. The hunters, John Lyons and Robert Dodd, of Upper Montclair, had fired two shots at the little animal, and as the smoke cleared away saw their prize run into the hollow of the tree. As the hunters were preparing to smoke the rabbit out they discovered in the tree hollow a much-worn pocketbook. It contained one $100 bill, five $2, three $5 and eight $1 bills, all in fair condition. The rabbit hunting was immediately stopped. There was nothing to show to whom the money belonged, and the supposition is that it had been hidden by a thief.

The Centreville Observer correspondent at Kent Island says: "Mr. John Clendaniel came up last Friday from Kent Point and brought a lot of dogs for a rabbit hunt. He was joined by a number of friends here with their dogs. The whole party is reported to have bagged thirty rabbits, and all they did not kill they ran into Chesapeake Bay and Chester River and they were drowned.

"The Primrose Club" comprising Capt. C. E. Crane, H. P. Skipper, F. E. Duyer, and Thos. Smith bagged 53 fine ducks Monday morning.

Mr. Frank Plummer killed 12 ducks off his shore above the bridge Monday.

OBEYING the orders of his employer, H. H. Hart, of Oakland, Cal., Jas. Litz, a chauffeu, ran a $4,500 automobile off the rear of a ferryboat in San Francisco Bay, on Wednesday. Hart's desire to "drown" the offending automobile was reached after it had rolled up a repair bill amounting to $2,000.

The "DETROITER"

AFTER driving a "Detroiter" 3,500 miles, over all sorts of roads, I recommend it to any one desiring to purchase an Automobile. It is by far the leading $900 car in America to-day, possessing features only found in $1200 to $1500 machines. After using machines for five years, I am in a position to know when I see a dependable, desirable car, and the "Detroiter" is just that car.

You get an Automobile in quality, style and motoring qualities when you get a "Detroiter."
