THE KENT NEWS

CHESTER TOWN, MD.

Saturday Morning, October 3, 1846.

V. B. PALMER,

South East corner of Baltimore and Calvert streets, Baltimore—No. 59 Pine street, Philadelphia—No. 160 Nassau street, (Tribune Buildings,) New York, and No. 16 State street, Boston, is our authorized AGENT for receiving advertisements for, and subscriptions to, the "KENT NEWS," and collecting and receipting for the same.

WHIG TICKET.

For the Legislature:

WM. F. SMYTH,
S. W. SPENCER,
B. CHAMBERS WICKES.

For the Levy Court:

HUGH WALLIS,
THOMAS D. BURGESS.

Election, Wednesday, 7th day of October.

THE ELECTION

Will take place in Maryland, on WEDNESDAY NEXT. We hope that our Whig friends generally, will turn out. Let no one remain at home, with the expectation that "there will be enough without him". It is the duty of every good Whig to vote, whether there be opposition or not, if he be able to get to the polls.—It should be a pleasure also.—We know a gentleman that will travel sixty miles to vote, under the belief, too, that there will be no opposition. It should be a gratification to a Whig to vote. When he reflects upon the nature of Whig principles—the measures which the Whigs would ruinous policy of the present Administration—the enormous debt incurred in a War provoked by the Executive—and the blow given to the domestic industry of the country—he should be aroused to a spirit of action, and let the Administration and the country see, that in weal or woe—in prosperity or adversity—the Whigs are alive to their principles and their duty. Let no Whig be accused of indifference or lukewarmness, but let every one feel a lively and abiding interest in Whig principles and measures, and vote the ticket for the sake of the Ticket and the Whigs.

Dry Weather.

A considerable quantity of the early seeding of wheat has not yet appeared above ground. In many, and perhaps the largest portions of our county, there has been but a slight shower or two of rain, since the 4th July. The ground never was drier—the pastures are failing, and the wheat needs rain very much.

Washington College.

The Winter Session of this Institution commenced on Thursday last. Those who design sending their sons to this College should do so, at an early day. The present week, and a portion of the next, will be necessarily consumed in preliminaries for study, &c. but it is always best to "begin at the beginning," or as nearly so as may be. It opens, we understand, under favorable auspices, and it is likely to become one of the most popular, as it certainly is, among the most useful and efficient schools.

The Cambridge,

A new steamboat, commanded by Captain John D. Turner, arrived here on Monday last about quarter past 12 o'clock, M. having left Baltimore at ½ past 7, A. M. and touched at Corsica wharf, on her passage up. Capt. Turner gave a general invitation to our citizens, to participate in an excursion ten miles down the river. A considerable number of ladies and gentlemen, from the town and country, repaired on board, and were admirably pleased with the performance of the boat. Her speed in the shoal water of the river, was at the rate of about fifteen miles per hour. He paddles strike with great power, but do not seem to jar or shake her as most do. She goes straight and steady in the water. Her length, we believe is about 210 feet, and she appears to be capacious and strong.—Her machinery is new and in fine order—her finish and accommodations are very handsome and superior, and she cannot fail to be a pleasant and expeditious boat.

In consequence of some delay that must occur in the narrow waters of Corsica, she will not usually reach Chester Town before 12, or a quarter past 12 o'clock, M. but in running from Chester Town to Baltimore, she is expected to perform the trip in about four hours, the time usually consumed at a fashionable dinner. In deep water, it is said she can run twenty miles an hour.

SANTA ANNA.

The following is the proclamation issued by Santa Anna to the troops of San Juan de Ulloa, upon his first arrival:

BRETHERN IN ARMS!—Your generous call having reached me in my exile, I could no longer be indifferent to it, seeing that it was but an echo of the solicitations made for my return from other departments.—Your conduct, brethren in arms, has been noble—patriotic.

The joy which I feel, my friends, in finding myself once more among you, is unbounded. Relying on your patriotism and virtue, I hurried to join you as soon as it was possible for me to do so; and I am now here for the purpose of co-operating with you in working out the salvation of the Republic, and raising it from the ignominious position to which it has been reduced by treason and imbecility. Never, perhaps, before have we brandished our swords in a cause more noble. True, everything is destroyed, but we, with a proper spirit and aided by the Mexican people, can everything create.

Soldiers of the Republic! a proud and noble sentiment animated me when my happiness was to lead you to the battle field against the foreign enemies of our country. With feelings similar I appear again at this moment, to defend the sacred rights of nationality. We will cause our insulted eagles to rise victorious in the midst of the combat: the nation shall be tenfold vindicated for the numerous outrages she has sustained, and we shall exact for her that respect which of right she merits. In this enterprise, brother soldiers, the glory that awaits us is immortal: the men assembled have always been—brave, subordinate, patriotic.—And doubt it not, the hour of victory—Providence has assigned us, we will commence.

ANTONIO LOPEZ DE SANTA ANNA

Heroic Vera Cruz, 16th Aug. 1846.

A letter from Washington says—The bill of expenses for G. Butler's S. Carolina, and Col. Davis's Tennessee, on account of the Prairie or Camanche Indians was sixty thousand dollars! Wonder what will be the cost of the Wisconsin Eleven. Every Indian who comes to Washington costs the treasury as much as a member of Congress, and in nine cases out of ten, his visit is about as profitable.

In my next I shall give you some details concerning the pressure upon the treasury, and the expenses of the war, which will astonish the good people who are to foot the bill.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28, 8 P. M. 1846.

A disastrous fire broke out this afternoon at the corner of Schuylkill, Sixth and George streets, which destroyed every building nearly up to Seventh st. There were twenty two brick houses destroyed, a great ly damaged, and great misery must ensue in consequence, as the persons inhabiting them were generally poor, from four to eight families in each house, and at least eighty families are rendered houseless.—The loss is estimated at fifteen thousand dollars.

SUFFERINGS OF THE ARMY.

A letter from a member of the Louisville (Ky.) Guards, to his brother in Louisville written at Camargo, Mexico Sept. 1, says—

"There are not so many sick as we have had, but the cases are generally of a more fatal character, being bilious fevers, &c. which being very violent, if not reduced in a day or two prove fatal. We have lost some six men since we have been here.—Every day you can hear the roll of the muffled drum, and it casts a gloom over the countenances of all.

SICKNESS IN THE ARMY.

The New Orleans Picayune of the 20th instant says—

We have conversed with an officer of the Kentucky volunteers, direct from Camargo. He says that it is reasonable to estimate the number of the sick at 29 men to each company of volunteers; that the disease from which they suffer most is diarrhœa, which seems to baffle the skill of the surgeons; and that there are no fevers prevailing, unless of a very mild type.

DEAD.

Mr. Samuel Burche, for many years principal assistant to the Clerk of the House of Representatives in Washington, died on Saturday last, after a lingering attack of fever, terminating in consumption. Mr. B. leaves property behind him to the amount of $150,000. He was about 60 years of age.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Smith Scudder, Esq. of Elizabeth town, an old and honorable member of the New Jersey bar, suddenly expired in the Court House at Bergen Hill, N. Y., while in session, the Attorney General was speaking in the case of Spencer. The proceedings of the court were immediately suspended.

From the Richmond Whig. Sept. 29.

TRAGICAL AFFAIR

Mr. D. M. Hoyt, a Lottery Broker in this place, was shot yesterday morning about half past 6 o'clock, as is represented and believed, by Mr. Wm. R. Myers, who, according to report, accompanied by his brother, Col. S. S. Myers, and Mr. Van S. Burt, went into his office, the former armed with a revolving pistol, for the purpose of making the assault. Mr. Hoyt was twice wounded, one ball entering his head just above the eye, and the other one of his thighs, and wounding also the other. Late yesterday evening he was alive; but we understand that there is a very slight prospect of his survival of his wounds.

From the Richmond Standard.

Hoyt denies his guilt, and when he supposed himself in extremis he declared that the last words he uttered should be to proclaim the innocence of Mrs. Myers.—Though he ascribe these declarations rather to the gallantry of the gentleman, than the innocence of the lady.

This evening there is a report in circulation, how true we know not, that Mr. Hoyt has made a will and left Mrs. Myers a legacy of $30,000.

It is said that Col. Pollard, the father of the lady, arrived in the city to-day, just in time to find a father's intended retribution anticipated by a husband's vengeance.—This is not a community where the dearest rights and tenderest ties can be infringed with impunity.

THE MORMON WAR ENDED.

The steamboat Alvarado arrived at St. Louis on the 19th September, bringing to the Republican of that city the following letter, from which it will be seen that the difficulties heretofore existing in Nauvoo have been brought to a termination.

STEAMER ALVARADO,
Friday, September 18, 1846.

The Mormon war is at last ended. On Wednesday evening, the Quincy Committee prevailed on the Mormons to surrender; and yesterday, at three o'clock, the Anties marched into, and took possession of the city of Nauvoo. The Mormons stipulated to leave forthwith, or as fast as they can possibly get away; except a committee of five, who are to remain to dispose of the property yet belonging to the community. No property has been, or is to be destroyed—although a strong disposition existed, with many of the Anties, to destroy the Temple. They fear it will be a beacon light to lure the Mormons back. By refraining from violent measures the Anties have saved themselves from a great deal of reproach.

A gentleman who left Nauvoo yesterday, at two o'clock, said the Mormons were leaving as fast as they could get a way.—Yesterday was a happy day for the citizens of Hancock county, as peace is now permanently restored to it.

Bonaparte once at a party spoke of himself directly before a lady, and declared "I don't like that women should interfere with politics." "You are very right" Genl. Bernadotte replied; "but in a country where women are beheaded, it is natural they should desire to know the reason."

Bonaparte dreaded an epigram, pointed against himself, more than he dreaded "infernal machines." When he was told that no woman, however talented, could shake the foundation of his power, he replied, "Madam de Staël carries a quiver full of arrows that would hit a man if he were seated on a rainbow."

ITEMS.

Mr. F. W. Pickens, of South Carolina, denies that he has been offered the Mission to France.

Since Mr. Polk vetoed the River and Harbor bill, the Western papers have called the snag in the river "Polk-talks."

RELIGIOUS REVIVAL.—A great religious revival is in progress at Nashville, Tenn. At the Methodist church alone there converts number 338.

Among other effects produced by the protracted hot weather, we observe that a great many fruit trees are in bloom for the second time this season.—St. Mary's Beacon

The Louisville Journal says several papers have spoken of the notorious Dorr as about to die. The report is all a mistake. It is Dorrism, and not Dorr, that is in a dying condition.—North American.

The jury, in the case Spencer, who was tried at Jersey City on a charge of having murdered his wife, have returned a verdict of not guilty—on the ground, we suppose, of insanity.

The Rockville Journal states that Allison McDonald, in Berry's district, Montgomery county, was arrested on the 7th ult. on the charge of causing the death of his wife by brutal violence towards her.

SICKNESS IN CECIL COUNTY.—The Cecil Democrat of Saturday last says:—"We are sorry to learn that a great deal of sickness prevails in the lower part of this county. Scarcely a family has escaped the bilious or the chills and fever.

SUICIDE.—Dr. Stanton, of Wheeling, Va. committed suicide a few days ago by cutting his throat. He had returned but a few days before from Washington city, where he filled the station of an assistant clerk in the House of Representatives.

THE CROPS.—The wheat crop is at least an average crop. Corn will turn out much better than was expected. Oats and grass were good. The early potatoes were fine, but the late ones will be a failure. Sweet potatoes have done tolerably well.

Sangamon (Ill) Journal.

WEALTH OF WASHINGTON CITY

The total assessment of real and personal property in the year 1824, amounts to $5,000,000; 1829 $7,000,000; 1834, $7,100,000, 1839 $9,100,000; 1844, $11,000,000. At this date the amount may be safely put down at $12,000,000. No tax is levied on the public buildings or grounds. The estate of the late General John P. Van Ness is estimated at more than double the amount of any other.

AGRICULTURAL.

THE COMPOST HEAP.

A correspondent of the Boston Cultivator says:—"I have long been accustomed to the practice of composting manures, and highly approve of the system, adding, although it be, with the labor of turning and mixing;' nor do I know that any other mode of operation can be judiciously substituted for it. I have, however, just met with the following remarks, by a person who ranks high in the profession of scientific agriculture, and has practised composting for many years, which appears worthy further consideration, and perhaps adoption. He says, 'I now consider the general mode of managing the manure heap erroneous, both as to the expense incurred, and loss from evaporation. To prevent both, upon carrying it out to the field where it is to be used, it should be forked up to a considerable height, and the whole should then be covered closely with the soil nearest the heap—a long heap, like a potato heap being best; and as it accumulates, taking care always to cover the whole of the day's hauling, excepting the end to which the next day's work is to be added. The confinement of the steam, which is always observed to arise from a fresh made heap of manure, is thus effectually secured, and the decomposition of the whole goes regularly on, after which the mass will cut out like a jelly, without the usual process of turning over and over.'

"Now here is a novel idea; for although some persons may argue that the manure is not injured by the escape of the lighter gases during fermentation, which are destined to pass off, 'to form new combinations, and to be again brought into contact, &c.;' yet the mechanical confinement of the steam or moisture during fermentation, may more effectually secure the decomposition of the whole, causing it to 'cut out like jelly,' and save the expense and labor of so much turning and mixing.' And if it be so, will not this mode of management—namely, confining the steam or moisture during fermentation—prevent the firing or burning of the heap, as it is sure to do, when forked up high and exposed to the atmosphere? An interesting inquiry, and one which I intend to put to the test of experiment, promising to inform you of the result.'

MR. EDITOR:

A [illegible] which appeared in your paper, two [illegible] ago, which appears to be [illegible] known to the people of the Eastern Shore, as one of the best, bravest and most skilful mariners of the Chesapeake bay. He is the man on the coast alluded to, the engineer of the Maryland was not on board, being sick in Baltimore. But Capt. Taylor is himself a competent engineer—he always pays attention to the engine himself, and was particularly attentive to it on the day in question. The tide was very low on that day, and in consequence of this the pipe which supplies the condenser with water became choked so as to fill it with mud and grass. This caused the condenser to become hot, and prevented us taking the steam. In all this there was no danger, although it was necessary to stop and cool off the condenser. There was no danger at all to the boat or passengers, and no blame attributable to the Captain. The accident was not one uncommon with other steamboats, and ought not to prejudice the Maryland or her able commander, who have served the public long and faithfully, without the least injury at any time to a single passenger.

The editor of the New Haven Herald sets it down as a fact in natural history, proved by his experience for years, that when a traveller rides up to a toll gate, the keeper, if a man, invariably brings out a box or a handfull of change, but if a woman, she comes out and takes the traveller's coin and then goes back for the change.

APPOINTMENT.

We learn that on Saturday last Governor Pratt appointed Edward D. Martin, Esq. Clerk of Worcester county, in place of the late G. W. Handy, Esq.

Governor Shunk has appointed the Hon. Richard Coulter, of Westmoreland county a Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, vice Judge Kennedy, deceased.

DIED.

At his residence, near Belle Air, last week, Mr. JOSEPH BROWNE, an old and respectable citizen.

In Worton, on Monday night last, Mrs. HACKETT, at an advanced age, consort of Mr. John Hackett.

In Baltimore, on the 27th ult. ISABELLA M. SHARPLEY, in the 16th year of her age, daughter of the Rev. John Sharpley.

Of convulsions, on the 23d ult. JOHN LAWRENCE, eldest son of Arthur B. Wheatley, aged two years, nine months, and twenty-two days.

On Thursday, the 24th ultimo, at New Market, after a short but severe illness, Col. BRITTON EVANS, late of Philadelphia. Col. Evans was in the late and Florida wars, and was a brave officer.

☞Philadelphia papers will please copy.

In Chester Town, on Wednesday last, after a brief illness, Mr. EBENEZER BLACKISTON, one of our old and respectable citizens, in the 63d year of his age.

Mr. Blackiston had been a professor of religion for many years, we presume from an early age, and has gone to reap the rewards of those who, in youth, realize the advantages of religion, and whose lives are in accordance with their profession.

Mr. Blackiston was on the eve of opening a shoe store in our town, and we had hoped that he might be spared to his family and the town, for a number of years; but just as he was about leaving home for the city, he was seized with the autumnal disease, and we have a strong hope that he has gone to the "new city," where there is peace and joy forever more.

SELLERS' IMPERIAL COUGH SYRUP.

Pittsburgh, Feb 6th, 1846

MR. R. E. SELLERS:—Though I do not believe any further testimonials are necessary to establish the reputation of your justly famed Cough Syrup, I feel compelled as an act of duty, to mention several cases which came under my immediate notice in members of families whom I was in duty bound to relieve at any cost; complained of hard breathing, a severe cough and no expectoration, loss of appetite, with strong symptoms of pulmonary consumption. I mentioned your Syrup and they begged I would procure some, which I did. I am happy to report that they are quite relieved, the Syrup having produced the desired effect in every instance. You are well assured of its good effects upon myself. Hoping that this may reach the nouce of persons suffering from coughs and colds, I remain your obedient servant,

E. F. PRATT, Overseer of the Poor.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND,

For the cure of coughs, colds, consumption, broachitis, asthma, spitting of blood, pain and oppression of the breast, and all diseases arising from a disordered condition of the lungs.

Perhaps there is no medical observation better established, and none more generally confirmed by experience of the best physicians of all ages in all countries, than the fact, that many of the most difficult and incurable Consumptions originate in neglected colds. In a climate so variable as ours, where the changes of weather are frequently sudden and unexpected, it requires more care and attention to guard against this dangerous enemy to human life, than most persons are able and willing to bestow. The bills of mortality exhibit the alarming and melancholy fact, that the number of deaths by this disease are as five to one. Inasmuch then as this fatal disease is increasing, and spreading so widely and fearfully, and bidding defiance often to the combined skill of the most eminent physicians, it is a gratification to the subscriber to be enabled to offer to all of consumptive habits, or those afflicted with distressing pains in the side or breast, or any affection of the breast or lungs, a reasonable and almost certain prospect of relief.

The Compound Syrup of Horehound is a medicine suitable to persons of all ages and sexes; and if taken on the appearance of the first symptoms, which are a cough or pain in the breast, will, in nine cases out of ten, afford relief, and effect a speedy cure.

FOREIGN NEWS.

ARRIVAL OF STEAMER

GREAT WESTERN.

EIGHT DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

The markets for all descriptions of American produce were advancing.

The News from India is of rather unexpected interest. The victories which the British army achieved on the banks of the Sutlege have not resulted in that amicable arrangement and profitable settlement which was hoped for, and prematurely boasted of.

The following is from Wilmer & Smith's European Times:—

The failure of the potato crop influences the price of provisions of every kind. Bacon and ham are raising rapidly, as a glance at our market returns will show.

Indian corn is also increasing in value, as in fact is almost every kind of grain.—That the failure of the potato crop in every part of the world must greatly multiply the wants of the laboring classes in Great Britain is undeniable.

The cotton market continues steady.

The failure of the potato crop is universal.

The grain crops of the United Kingdom are not more than an average, either in quantity or quality.

Again the accounts from France, as to the harvest in that country are most distressing.
