THE NEWS.

CHESTER TOWN, Md.

Saturday Morning, February 3, 1855.

PUB. DOCUMENTS.—Hon. Jas. A. Pearce, will accept our thanks for a copy of the Patent Office Report, part 2, 1853.

☞ The Steamer Champion, owing to a leak in her boiler, did not make her regular trip up Chester River on Thursday last. We understand however, she will be here on Monday.

FAIR.—The Ladies attached to the P. E. Church, will hold a fair in this place, on Tuesday and Wednesday next—commencing at 11 o'clock each day.

☞ During last month, forty three American vessels were wrecked, which with their cargoes were valved at $1,244,000.

TRIAL AND CONVICTION OF CONSPIRATORS.—A trial of an interesting case took place at Springfield, Mass., a few days ago. The Republican of that place says:

The persons indicted were Lewis Gibbs, Benajah L. Kingsley, Edmund Hubbard, 3d, Samuel O. Hamilton and Almon L. Richards. The indictment charged the defendants with conspiracy, and contained ten counts, alleging conspiracy among them to blow up the Methodist meeting house at Chester Factories; to burn a barn belonging to David Connon, of Chester; to disfigure, by shearing, two horses belonging to William B. Turner, of Becket; to disfigure another horse of Turner's by painting; to burn a barn belonging to Sam'l Chapman, of Becket; to blow up the dwelling house of H. D. Wilcox, at Chester Factories; to attempt to blow up his grist mill; to disfigure horses belonging to Henry Dewey; and by means of these various offences to hinder and obstruct the enforcement of the Maine liquor law. The Methodist meeting house was blown up and various other outrages committed. The trials excited great interest, and resulted in the conviction of all the parties.

TOO PROUD TO BEG.—It is said there are thousands of worthy citizens, men and women, in New York—as there are no doubt, hundreds in Baltimore—who are too pround to beg or let their circumstances be known, and are, therefore, silently pining in secret destitution. The N. Y. Mirror says the pawnshops only tell their sad story, and adds:—

"First go the luxuries—the superfluous furniture—the silver spoons—the spare clothing—the jewelry, even to the bridal ring; and then the bedding, the tables, chairs, and so on through the whole inventory of articles that can be dispensed with, while life is retained—To accommodate this inborn and inalienable American pride, the pawnshops are provided with stalls, so that the melancholy bartering may be done without exposing the poor victim to public shame. Watches, gold pencils, and silver spoons have been pledged by the bushel. A friend of ours saw a poor woman at Simpson's one day last week, pawning her under clothing to raise a shilling to go to market with.

RAILROAD FATALITIES.—According to the last annual report of the New York State Engineer, there was on the railroads of that commonwealth, during the year 1854, one passenger killed for every 319,404,016 miles traveled, and one passenger injured for every 15,721,606 miles travelled. Although 9,000,000 passengers were carried an aggregate distance of 500,000,000 miles durince the year, not one was killed by causes beyond his own control. It is stated that 12 passengers and 67 employees were killed; 18 passengers and 41 employees injured, and 78 others killed and 49 injured.

THREE HUNDRED AND SIXTY PERSONS FROZEN.—General report gives out that on the 22d, and not far from Odessa, more than 360 foot soldier and several Jewish carters perished in a snow storm. The causes of death were the want of adequate warm clothing, and the sudden set in of a frost, and it is also said that the wagons and teams had gone on before the men, who were thus left behind, and as the soldiers had on wet cloths from the previous rain, they froze into a crust of ice when the frost began. They lookrd about for a bridge but could not find any. The day after grougs of dead bodies were found, and between twenty and thirty men lay in each heap.

CONVICT EMIGRANTS.—A number of convict Belgians, sent to this country by their own home government, are now in prison in New York, having been arrested immediately upon their arrival. They have petitioned the auth rities to be released.

Arrival of the Steamer Africa.

ONE WEEK LATER NEWS.

Nothing Important From the Seat of War—Negotiations Still Going On—Warlike Movements, &c.

HALIFAX, Jan. 30.—The Royal mail steamer Africa has arrived here to day, with one week's later advices from Europe.

The dates by this arrival are to the 20th January.

The America had arrived out.

The war news is entirely unimportant and embraces nothing decisive.

Before Sebastopol affairs were unchanged.

Negotiations are still in progress between the Powers involved in the war, but nothing was certainly known respecting them.

THE NEGOTIATIONS.

The chief interest of the news centres in the proceeding of the Congress of Vienna.

Hopes for peace and fears for the protraction of the war appear to be about equally balanced.

The French and English ministers at Vienna have received the necessary powers to reopen the negotiations.

Prince Gortschakoff is understood to have received written instructions from his government, and it is rumored that the Czar is anxious for peace.

There are conflicting statements, as usual, about Austria, but her conduct generally leans towards the allies.—Prussia complains of Austria's actions. Efforts are making to obtain the consent of the allies to an armistice, especially by the Prussian Cabinet.

The approaching congress of the representatives of all nations is more and more talked of. The Daily News looks for good results from the congress if the United States will take a part in its deliberations.

Private letters from Vienna say that Prince Gortshakoff has been instructed to accept any terms, except the reduction of the reduction of the Russian fleet and the occupation of Russian territory.

WARLIKE MOVEMENTS.

The army of Bavaria has almost comted its war complement.

Letters say that the Sweedish army will be immediately placed on the war footing and increased to over 65,000 men.

Russia is preparing for the spring campaign, and the Baltic army is organizing.

The Piedmontes troops were to embark on the 28th of February.

FROM THE CRIMEA.

The latest dates from the Crimea are to the 10th of January. The state of affairs was precisely as before reported.

Omer Pasha was at the allied camp on the 5th, and returned to Varna on the 6th.

Reinforcements were constantly reaching the allies. Lord Raglan had sent to India for the 10th Hussars.

The Turkish army in the Crimea is to be increased to 60,000 men during the present month.

Russian reinforcements were advancing by forced marches. The weather was frosty, and some snow had retarded the besiegers.

FROM THE DANUBE.

There is nothing further about the invasion of Dobrudscha except that the Russians, after the affair at Tultzcha, recrossed the Danube. A Vienna despatch says that Count Buol had demanded an explanation of this affair from Gortschakoff.

The Turkish force in the Dobrudscha is estimated at 30,000 men, mostly recruits.

The allied fleets in the Black Sea sustained no damage in the recent storm.

ENGLAND.

Mr. Codden, in addressing his constituents at Leeds, stigmatized the attack on Sebastopol as a grand mistake, and the question now was: how to get out of it? Other speakers favored the war.

Mr. Evans had been offerd an Indian appointment in order to frustrate his contemplated disclosures in Parliament.

Four hundred London dock labors have been sent to the Crimea to unload ships.

SPAIN

The new constitution had been submitted in the Chambers. The main features are that sovereignty eminntes from the nation; the religion of the nation to be Roman Catholic, but toleration to be allowed; the press to be free; confiscation of property and the death penalty for political offences to be abolished; a national guard to be established, the legislature to consist of two chambers; senatois to be elected for life with property qualifications; one representative in every fifty thousand citizens to be elected; the courts to meet annually and to regulate strength of the army; also to give assent to royal marriages and appoint a regency when occasion requires.

SWITZERLAND.

The Swiss conference was about to be opened, with a view of adjusting the existing difficulties between Austria and Switzerland.

DENMARK.

A bill altering the constitution was passed, at a first reading, in the Legislature.

RUSSIA.

A six-fold land tax, payable in 20 instalments, was to be imposed on the Polish proprietors.

From the Indianapolis Sentinal.

CRESTLINE, Ohio, Jan. 21.

Dear Col.:—With a nervous hand I undertake to write you a note. I left Indianapolis rather unexpectedly to you. I have taken a step that I scarcely had an idea of two hours before I left—a step that makes my heart sick to think of, but one I have not the courage to retrace. I hope you may forget and pity my weakness. I did not see any way to get out of our financial difficulties, and I had not the courage to stand the storm. I send yov the keys of the office and safe to-day. You will find the Rensselaer currency in the safe.—I have with me about $7,000, being all in the Bank, except that mentioned above. I shall leave here in the morning, but where to I do not know. I hope I will not be pursued, as I shall not be taken back to Indianapolis alive. I cannot write more. W. F. MAY.

BANKING IN DELAWARE.—A bill is before the State of Delaware to prohibit the banks of that State from being concernen in any paper or security of any description whatever, whereby the amount of profit to said bank, to arise from said transaction, shall exceed the rate of one per cent. for sixty days. A violation of the law is to work a forfeiture of the charter, and render the directors liable to answer for a misdemeanor to be punished by fine and imprisonment.

"I will Never be Without them"

Saltford, Vermilion Co., Ill, May 2, '50.

Mr. SELLERS:—Having used your Liver Pills, Cough Syrup, and Vermifuge in my family for more than three years, I believe I am justified in saying to to the public, that they are decidedly the best family medicine now in use. I will never be without them unless they cannot be obtained at any cost.—In they section of country they have saved hundred of dollars in doctors bills. I would recommend the Live' Pills in preference to anything else, for an enlargement of the spleen.

Yours respectfully,
JAMES ASHMORE.
