THE ELECTION IN KENT ON THE 4th OF NOV., 1857.

The following are the returns. The vote for Mr. Hicks is smaller than it should have been. His majority is 85. Mr. Purnell's 138. It is not for us to explain the difference.

We give the returns of the Election of the present, last year and of two years ago, for comparison. The difference can be easily seen. The mismanagements and disorders of the American party, have gradually weakened it, and unless there be great reformation, must end in its destruction and defeat. If the Unionists at the recent election had been true to duty judgement and interest, the result would have been different in regard to some of the officers and have reduced the general majority considerably. The sound and reliable portion of the Democrats came up to the line of duty and conviction right nobly. They fought unitedly, gallantly, and have earned great praise. The unreliable portion of that party, the thick and thin skins, are responsible for the defeat of a portion of the Ticket. Their voters in each District are numerous and will prove this. They are brave soldiers when there is no contest but when the hour of battle comes they are found in the rear or go over to their opponents. Some vote the American ticket—in whole or in part—others refuse to vote at all for certain officers, but both designing to bring about the same result. To them the defeat is attributable, and they must bear the responsibility. We would advise the true men of the party to "Court Martial" and cashier some if not all of these discordant and impracticable spirits—their party will lose nothing by the operation, and others may not gain.

The Old Line Whigs, a body of choice spirits, come up generally, to the support of the Union ticket and merit the thanks of all. They are a noble band and know how to discriminate and to act for the general good. They are not blindly allied to party, but their country's good is always uppermost, and they seek to promote it. Many of the reflecting conservative, men of the American party, voted a part of the Union ticket. Their convictions of the public interest and of their own consciences led them to soar high over the mere scrambles for office, and they came out manfully and nobly. These can always be trusted in emergencies, and are ready to rally where duty and the public good may call.

Another portion of the same party, desired to follow the dictates of conscience and act for the best interests of the community and according to their better judgment—but future contingencies and prospects, or some strange infatuation, alarmed them, and they "began to make excuses"—the "nomination"—"the manner of coming out," &c., like the excuses in the scripture, "I have bought a pair of oxen" &c. These have an account to settle with public opinion and their own consciences—and as the process may be a long and troublesome one, they had as well get about it soon.

To that Portion who "go it blind" and are carried captive by the cry of "Americans must rule America"—mere party catch—words designed to excite the feelings by suppressing the judgement—we would advise them to study more the reasons and principles of government—to look into the causes and consequences of things—to read and reflect more, and not to lose sight of the good of the country, and the best policy to promote its various interests and to establish a safe and good currency, and guard against revulsions in the monetary and business concerns of the nation, and of our local and best home interests, and not be caught by office seeking politicians, or the love of office, and the clap-traps of party.

To such as voted against Mr. G. because his father faithfully performed the duties of the same office, we can only say that you would take from the children all incentives and inducements to qualify themselves for place, visit in punishment the fidelity of the father upon the merits and qualifications of the child, and thus establish an unjust and dangerous principle.

To such as declared their intention to vote for Mr. Gordon, from a sense of justice, and of right, and the honest convictions of their heart, but who permitted themselves, to be wheedled by the flimsy and little appeals which politicians made, and who changed their colours and voted against their declared intentions, we can only remark, "That the wind bloweth where it listeth, and we hear the sound thereof, but cannot tell from whence it cometh or whither it goeth."

To such as acted upon the unscrupulous principle of "all is right in politics," "that the end justifies the means," who draw a line of distinction between the morality of the Bible and of politics, as some do between the ordinary business of life and of "horse trading," we would recommend the maxim of "Honesty is the best policy," and a speedy repentence for fear the dangerous seeds may bring forth a fruitful harvest of error.

To such as were used as mere instruments to carry out the plans of others, and who never stop to reflect, upon right or wrong, and who do not seem to care much for the distinction so they "gain a point," we scarcely know to whom to commend them, and must leave them as "hard cases," to be dealt with "hereafter."

The Election passed off rather quietly and with it we hope all the asperation and excitement that accompanied it. Let the era of good feeling return, and all learn lessons from the past that may be profitable in the future. To all we commend patience, prudence, fortitude and Temperance.

The State Election.

RECAPITULATION.

Congressmen.

The Congressional delegation will probably stands as follows:

First district—Judge Stewart, dem. Second disttict—James R. Ricaud, Amer. Third district—J. Morrison Harris, Amer. Fourth district—Henry Winter Davis, Amer. Fifth district—M. Kunkel, dem., (a gain.) Sixth district—Thos. F. Bowie, dem.

THE STATE SENATE.

This body consists of 22 members, one half elected every two years, but in consequence of vacancies 13 were chosen this year, leaving 7 Americans and 2 democrats holding over. So far we hear of the election of 1 American in Carroll, 1 in Caroline (a gain) and 1 in Frederick, giving them 10 members, or 2 less than a majority.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

This body is composed of 74 members 38 is therefore a majority. As far as ascertained it stands as follows:

Americans 34.
Democrats 13.

Not Heard From.—Baltimore county (reported democrtic;) St. Mary's, Charles Calvert, Anne Arundel, Somerset, Worcester and Washinton, Massachusetts Election.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—The vote for Governor, in all but four towns, stands—Banks, republican, 61,407; Gardner, American, 37,644; Beach, democrat, 31,000. In the House the republicans have thus far a clar majority of 96.

New York Election.

ALBANY, Nov. 4.—The result of the election in this State is very close and doubtful, and cannot be determined until returns are received from the northern counties.

Louisiana Election.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—The State election which was held yesterday quietly conducted. Only a small vote was cast. But little interest was felt in this city.—Four members of Congress, members of the State Legislature and various State offiicers were elected. The American ticket is successful by a considerable majority.

THE CITY YESTERDAY.—Except in the immediate vicinity of the places for voting yesterday the streets of the city were remarkably quiet, and until the time when the returns began to be received there was more quiet in Baltimere street than has been seen for some time. Persuant to the request of the mayor most of the restaurants were closed at an early hour and not opened again during the day or night. There was but little business of any kind done, the election absarbing the attention of nearly all ths citizens.—Baltimore Sun.

Grist and Saw MILLS FOR SALE.

IN view of a contemplated change in business, the undersigned will sell at public sale his Grist and Saw

MILLS,

with

46 Acres of Land

attached. The Location of these Mills are highly favorable; they lie on the head waters of Lee Creek, in Kent county, Maryland; are within ½ mile of navigable water for grain boats, so that boats or scows may be loaded at the door of the Grist Mill.

They are convenient to places of public worship, and a good school; and are surrounded by some of the most highly improved and best tendered farms in the county. Of the 46 acres of Land, there are 3 or 4 acres of

and two acres of

Thriving Chesnut

the balance is arable and in a high state of cultivation. There are also

TWO ORCHARDS,

one Apple and the other Peach.

Both Mills are in complete and substantial order, having been thoroughly rebuilt within few months. There are other improvements such as a

Frame Dwelling House

with Kitchen attached, Corn house and Stable all in good order.

It may be asserted with the utmost confidence that in view of the advantages of the location of these Mills, their present complete order, the fair and easy terms upon which they may be purchased, no better bargain has been offered for many years in this county, to the man of enterprise and small capital.
