The Kent News.

CHESTERTOWN:

SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 7, 1865.

THE NEWS.

It is asserted that General Grant, in a recent conversation, declared that the Government of the United States will vindicate the Monroe doctrine at an early day, and that Maximilian must leave Mexico. It is further stated that General Grant said that the Administration at Washington held the above as a settled purpose, and only await the meeting of Congress to take open action in the matter.

Governor Brownlow, in his message to the Tennessee Legislature, congratulates the people on the termination of the rebellion; recommends amendments and additions to the franchise laws; says the restoration of civil law has worked well, and prosperity is promised in every section. Guilty rebels, he says, should be treated with severity in proportion to their offences, the mass with ten years' disfranchisement, but the leaders with neither mercy or forbearance. Emigration should be fostered and encouraged. He is convinced that white and colored people cannot live together, politically or socially, as equals, and he advocates their removal to some portion of the national territory best adapted for a nation of freemen. The testimony of negroes he recommends to be taken in the courts. President Johnson's reconstruction policy is strongly endorsed as the sole hope of the country.

The mechanics' demonstration in Baltimore on Tuesday night was a grand affair. The procession was large in numbers, brilliant in lights and devices, and withal orderly and decorous in behavior. The prevailing idea—"Eight Hours a Legal Day's Work"—was put forth in every possible form. Light-boxes asserted it, bells struck it, and dials that showed only eight hours proclaimed it. The concourse of people on the streets attracted by the spectacle was immense, and Monument Square was packed with the densest mass, perhaps, ever brought within the same limits.

Gen. Banks addressed a large meeting of the citizens of Lawrence, Massachusetts, on Monday evening. He thought the policy of President Johnson was altogether too lenient; and declared that the change of policy occasioned by the death of Mr. Lincoln could not be otherwise than disastrous to the country.

Mexican advices to the 23d ult. represent that the most barbarous orders are being issued by the French, and arrests are becoming so numerous that it will soon take one-half the nation to guard the prisoners. The Liberals are reported as successful in several engagements, holding several of the main towns, and harassing the French and Austrian troops at several points.

Governor Oglesby, of Illinois, has issued an address to the Governors of the different States and Territories, to be submitted by them to the Legislatures and people of their States, asking more active and efficient cooperation in the matter of raising funds for the Lincoln Monument.

A bold push in behalf of negro suffrage in the South has been made in Raleigh, N. C., by the establishment there of an out-and-out negro suffrage paper, the first number of which was issued on Saturday.

Hon. John Minor Botts is nominated by a number of citizens as a candidate for Congress in the Lynchburg (Va.) district. All the other candidates have declared that they cannot take the Congressional oath.

Hon. James L. Orr has accepted the nomination for Governor of S. Carolina.

Ex-Senator Gwin, who lately figured in Mexico, and ex-Gov. Clarke, of Missouri, have been committed to Fort Jackson.

CONNECTICUT AND NEGRO SUFFRAGE.—The proposition to amend the Constitution of Connecticut so as to allow negroes to vote, has been defeated by a majority of upwards of six thousand votes. Every county in the State, except one, voted against it. This commendable action of the people of Connecticut indicates very plainly the sense of the Northern people to be opposed to the radical demand for negro suffrage in the South.

AN UNREGISTERED CANDIDATE.—The Snow Hill (Md) Shield, contains the following:

DEEP LANDING, Sept. 30th, 1865.

Mr. Editor—Presuming that the refusing to register a citizen as a voter because of misrepresentation and consequent prejudice does not disqualify him from being a candidate for any position that he may desire, you will please announce me as a candidate for Register of Wills for Worcester county. Not knowing any gentleman who entertains the same political views that I do that intends being a candidate for that place, I do not feel willing that any one of opposite politics should be permitted to walk over the field without opposition. Respectfully.

L. J. M. P. BROADWATER.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION.—The State election takes place in Pennsylvania on Tuesday next, for Auditor General and Surveyor General, who are to be voted for throughout the State. Members of both branches of the Legislature and county officers are also to be chosen. In Philadelphia a Mayor and other municipal officers are likewise to be elected.

BALTIMORE COMMERCIAL.—This is the title of a new paper which made its appearance in Baltimore on Monday last, under the management of Wm. Wales, C. C. Cox and R. M. Newport, the first named gentleman being the proprietor of the Clipper, the publication of which has been discontinued. The Commercial is a large and handsome sheet, and the salutatory of the editors is characterized by a high and conciliatory tone, much in keeping with the efforts of those who have been striving to promote fraternal relations between the sections since the advent of peace.

REGISTRATION.—We complete in this issue the publication of the names of the registered voters of the county—those of the third district will be found on our first page. There were registered as "qualified" in the first district 165 names, in the second 190, in the third 188, in the fourth 298, and in the 5th 299—making in all 1140. This is about 650 less than the full vote of the county. It is proper, however, to remark that much the larger part of this latter number declined to make application for registration.

CONCERT.—At the solicitation of a number of our citizens, the "Peninsula Glee Club," of Centreville, will give a Concert at the Court House, in Chestertown, on Thursday evening next. The musical talent of this association is spoken of in the very highest terms, and we feel justified in promising to all who may be present on that evening a rare and agreeable entertainment.

SALE OF A FARM.—On Saturday last, at the Voshell House, R. Hynson, Esq., attorney for Messrs. Rasin & Benjamin, sold their farm, situated in Quaker Neck, and containing 61 acres, with inferior buildings. It was purchased by Mr. Barney DeCorse at $38.05 per acre.

"YOUNG NAPOLEON."—Mr. Levi Fiddis has sold his fine colt, "Young Napoleon," three years old last June, to Mr. B. H. Gardner, for $450.

COURT.—The October term of the Circuit Court for Kent county will commence on Monday, the 16th.

THE PRESIDENT AND HIS POLITICS.—According to the New York Tribune "the President informed Dean Richmond that he should in no wise interfere with New York Politics; that he considered himself pledged to no party, and that only those who approved of his present policy could be regarded as his friends. He further stated that the policy of reconstruction which he is now pursuing is not an experiment, but the settled course which he has determined to carry out without reference to the wishes of any party."

SALE OF A FARM.—The farm of Benj. W. Harris, deceased, situated on Bohemia Manor, in Cecil county, Md., has been sold for $26,504. John J. Williams, of Delaware, purchaser. The tract contains 346 acres of first quality land, and well improved.

NOMINATION.—Hon. John H. Price has been unanimously nominated for re-election as circuit judge by the judicial convention of the ninth district, composed of Harford and Cecil counties.

DEATHS.

At the residence of Mr. H. B. Warren, in this county, on Monday last, Oct. 2d, MARY ANN USILTON, relict of the late Robert Usilton, aged 65 years and 10 days.

The deceased had gone to Mr. Warren's on a visit on the Tuesday previous to her death, was taken suddenly ill on Wednesday, and died on the following Monday. Yet, notwithstanding the short warning, death did not find her unprepared, for she had not waited till prostrated by disease to make preparation to die, but had many years since sought and found the Savior in the pardon of her sins, and attached herself to St. James' M. P. Church, and at the time of her death was a member of the Methodist Protestant Church of this town;—her life being marked by a consistent yet unpretending Christian course. Second only to the salvation of her own soul, she held the welfare of her children—loving them as only a mother can love, and seeking by a constant devotion to their interests to secure their comfort and happiness.

The writer, with all the rest of her children but one, stood by the bed-side of this good mother when dying, and oh! with what sad hearts and painful reflections did we mark the great change which had taken place in the dear familiar face,—how deep our grief as we noticed the hollow eyes, the sunken cheeks, the death-damp upon her brow, and clasped for the last time the cold withered hand; and the dreaded truth forced itself upon our minds that in a few short hours at most, she would leave us forever!—that the welcome voice which had so often counselled and encouraged us, would in a few moments be hushed in death!—never more to be heard in its earnest pleadings with us to refrain from sin, nor to cheer us in our efforts to serve God and "live religious." Yet, thank God, we were not without comfort even in this sad hour, but in the midst of all these distressing thoughts, were enabled to experience a feeling of resignation, and even of joy, while receiving from her lips the sweet, encouraging testimony of her faith in Christ and her readiness and willingness to die. Asking her if she had any word of advice to leave her children, she replied, "Tell them always to do right—LIVE RELIGIOUS." We then asked her if she was afraid to die, and her reply was, "No,—No." For several hours after this she lingered, retaining her consciousness to the last—and without a struggle or groan, her ransomed spirit took its flight to the land of the blest, where we hope in a few short years at most, to join her with all the other loved ones who have preceded us, in singing the "new song" of Moses and the Lamb, and together walk the golden streets of the Heavenly Jerusalem!

"O may the Heavenly prospect fire
Our hearts with ardent love,
Till wings of faith and strong desire
Bear every thought above.

"Prepare us, Lord, by grace divine,
For thy bright courts on high;
Then bid our spirits rise and join
The loved ones in the sky!" * * *
