WHAT IS SAID BY THOSE USING THE DEERING CORN HARVESTER:

CHESTERTOWN, MD., August 22, 1906.
INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CO.—
Sirs: I purchased of Smith & Graham, your local agents, one of your Deering Corn Harvesters. I used it in all kinds of corn—light, heavy, weedy and wet—and it handled it very satisfactorily. I found that it was decidedly the cheaper way to cut off my corn.

Washington College

CHESTERTOWN, MD.

One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Session Begins Sept. 19, 1906.

The College offers four courses of study—Classical, Latin Scientific, Scientific, each leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts; and Normal, leading to the Normal Diploma, which entitles the holder to teach in any county of the State without examination.

Sub-Freshman and Sub-Normal Classes are maintained for the benefit of those who desire a thorough preparation. In the Collegiate Department the elective system enables each student to select the studies suited to his particular needs.

Students are provided with good board and comfortable, well furnished quarters. The buildings are equipped with ever modern convenience—steam heat, electric lights, baths. Here students may pursue their studies in a highly moral community, amid beautiful and healthful surroundings, under careful supervision of health and habits, at very low rates.

DEATH OF JUDGE MARTIN

Maryland Jurist Expires After Eight Weeks Of Illness—Will be Buried At Easton—Another Important Vacancy On The Bench Must Now Be Filled By Gubernatorial Appointment.

A telegram was received Wednesday announcing the death of Judge William Richardson Martin, at East Hampton, L. I. Until he became ill he was the guest of Mr. Preston B. Spring, of Talbot county, who makes that place his summer residence.

The Judge's death had been expected. It was caused by paralysis, he having received two strokes, the first one while he was holding court at Chestertown last October, when he was carried to Baltimore for treatment. The last stroke which proved fatal, he received about eight weeks ago at Mr. Spring's home at East Hampton.

In speaking of the death of Judge Martin, Governor Warfield expressed himself as deeply grieved.

By the death of Judge Martin a vacancy will exist in the Second Judicial circuit which the Governor will be called upon to fill. Of course, the Governor would, undar no circumstances, speak of this; but since Judge Martin has been critically ill the subject of his successor has been talked of in different quarters, and is highly probable that a strong contest will be made by the friends of applicants in the counties of this district.

This is the second vacancy in the circuit which Governor Warfield will be called upon to fill within a year, Judge Crothers, of Cecil county, having been appointed to succeed the late Judge Edwin Brown. At that time Mr. W. H. Deweese, of Denton, was strongly indorsed for the place. Caroline county will have difficulty in landing the place as Queen Anne's county will undoubtedly present one or more candidates. The names of Mr. Thomas J. Keating and ex-State's Attorney Harper probably will be among those recomended from Queen Anne's. Talbot county will naturally desire to retain the position, and it is said that, while Mr. J. Harry Covington had been mentioned for the place it is reported that the sentiment seems now to center on Mr. William H. Adkins.

Kent county, it is said, is being counted upon by the Talbot county Democracy as an ally in furthering the candidacy of its choice, and it is likely that the Governor will be waited upon by a number of delegations before selecting a successor to Judge Martin.

His Successful Career.

Judge Martin was born at Snow Hill, Worcester county, in 1854. He was the second son of Edward Martin, who at one time was Clerk of the Circuit Court for Worcester County. His mother was Miss Richardson, daughter of the late Joseph Richardson, who lived at Tuckahoe Neck, in Caroline county.

Educated in the public schools of Worcester county and at Delaware College, from which he was graduated with high honors, he moved to Easton and was made principal of the high school there, in 1875. In connection with his duties there he took up the study of law and was admitted to the Talbot bar November 29, 1876. He formed a partnership with the late Isaac C. W. Powell, of Easton, which continued until 1884, when Mr. Powell died, after which Judge Martin practiced law alone.

He was elected associate judge of the Second Judicial circuit, which comprises Talbot, Caroline, Queen Anne's, Kent and Cecil counties, the largest judicial circuit in the State, November 2, 1897, as a Democrat, by a large majority, carrying every county in the circuit. As a judge he was noted for his zeal in exposing and punishing crime and at the same time saving court expenses. He was connected with a number of the leading financial institutions of Easton, being a director in the Easton National Bank, the Talbot County Savings Bank, the Workingmen's Permanent Building and Loan Association and the Spring Hill Cemetery Association. The Judge was a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church and for years was a trustee of Trinity Cathedral, Easton. He frequently represented the church in diocesan conventions. He was also treasurer of the Episcopal fund.

In 1885 he married Miss Florence Starr, daughter of the late Robert Starr, a prominent snuff manufacturer of Baltimore, who, with two children—one son, Edward, and a daughter, Maria Francis Martin—survives him. He also leaves two brothers—Mr. John Shelby Martin and Mr. Edward D. Martin. The Judge was a member of the Royal Arcanum and at one time orator of Guardian Council.

His body was taken to Easton Thursday afternoon, and the funeral services will be held from Trinity Cathedral at noon Saturday. The burial will be in Spring Hill Cemetery.

Tribute from Judge Pearce.

Chief Judge James Alfred Pearce feels keenly the death of Judge Martin as for eight years they were intimately associated on the bench and became like brothers. Judge Pearce pays the following tribute to the beloved citizen:

"The death of Judge William R. Martin of the Second Judicial Circuit, though anticipated within the last ten days, has caused a feeling of profound sorrow in Kent county. It can be truly said that he was universally respected and beloved by our people; and justly so, for few men have possessed a more engaging personality united with the qualities of mind and heart which are essential to the fullest discharge of the duties of the judicial office. His countenance was an index to his frank and manly character. His genial cordiality easily won the friendships of those who came in contact with him, and his manifest sincerity firmly held them friends.

His heart was large and his nature gentle, but while he tempered justice with mercy whenever there was room for its exercise, he was firm and unyielding in the punishment of wilful and deliberate violations of law. His knowledge of law was full and ample. In the application of legal principles to the varied questions arising in the Courts, as in the affairs of every day life, he was thoroughly practical, and his judgement was sound and clear. He was true to every responsibility imposed upon him, and in all things he sought, above all, to do justice under the law.

He frequently presided in this Court, exhibiting and unusua facility for dispatching the public business without undue haste, and without encountering the opposition of counsel.

His memory will be cherished not only by his associates upon the Bench and by the Bar, but by the people throughout the Circuit."

TROLLEY VICTORY AT LAST!

Quaker Neck Road Right-of-Way Amicably Settled and Electric Line Soon to be Built.

The trolley line between Chestertown and Tolchester will now be built and construction work upon it will begin as soon as preliminary work is accomplished; with the exception of a short length all the right of way has been secured and in that direction the encumbrance heretofore met with has been amicably settled. On Tuesday Mr. Alva A. Lamkin appeared before the County Commissioners and was confronted by a small delegation armed with numerous petitions urging the commissioners to refuse to grant a right of way in the bed of Quaker Neck road. After some warm protestation on the part of some of the delegation, Mr. Lamkin asked permission to withdraw his application for the use of said road so far as the county was concerned and matters were amicably adjusted.

Mr. Lamkin has secured a private right of way from Radcliffe Creek to the city limits of Chestertown. On Wednesday a right of way in the bed of Princess street, (Quaker Neck road) was granted for the laying of tracks and the running of cars over same from the city limits to the tracks of the steam railroad. This furnishes the much sought for entrance to Chestertown and completes the way for an early beginning of work. The portion of the electric line on Princess street will be lighted by the company and a suitable terminal shed and waiting room erected.

With a trolley line to our town touching Rock Hall and Tolchester there will be no time that we are not in direct touch with the rest of the world. Our Town Fathers are to be highly commended for their aid, as also the county commissioners, in bringing us in touch by these means with other markets than Philadelphia. With a trolley line we have Baltimore at our doors and a produce market available the day of shipment and affording us top prices. When the News man saw Mr. Lamkin on Thursday morning he, Mr. L., was highly elated and promised to have the road in operation as early as possible, he also asked us to thank for him those who have worked in the cause and thereby made an effort to have grand old Kent county make a stride along the lines of progress and get a location amongst the progressive counties of the United States.

The Rock Hall line is being pushed with a vim and as a branch line will be a feeder of much importance. It is expected to have the Rock Hall line ready for operation on or near the time of beginning the operation of the main line.

THE steamer Corsica will leave Baltimore Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday at 7 p. m. stopping at Quaker Neck, Bookers, Rolph's, Chestertown, Crumpton. Returning, steamer will leave Crumpton for Baltimore, Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 12 noon stopping at the above landings.
