IN PULPIT AND PEW.

[Ministers and other church workers are invited to send us brief, snappy accounts of interest to readers of this column, keeping within the limits of a single paragraph. When notices are too long they will be scaled down to meet the requirements of space.]

Revival Services are in progress at Union M. E. Church, Worton, Md. Great interest is being manifested and large congregations greet the pastor, Rev. James K. Easley each evening. The meetings will be continued for two or three weeks. All are invited to attend these services.

Revival services at St. James M. P. Church will be continued next week. Preaching by the pastor at 10.30 A. M. and 7. P. M Public invited to attend these services.

Rev. Dr. F. T. Tagg, the distinguished editor of the Methodist Protestant, delighted the congregation of Christ M. P. Church, Chestertown, with able sermons last Sunday morning and evening. A feature of the music was a sweet solo by Miss Mary Sappington.

Miss Eva Hurlock had charge of the Christian Workers' Service in Christ Church Sunday. The program included a solo by Miss Flora Wheatley, duet by Mrs. Carle Russell and Miss Edith Fallowfield, etc.

The dedication of the new part of Rhode Island Avenue Church occured last Sunday; Rev. G. W. Hadaway, preached in the morning, Rev. F. C. Klein, in the afternoon and Rev. D. L. Greenfield at night. We are told the services were interesting and successful, and a handsome sum of money was raised toward paying for the improvement. Rev. J. M. Gill is pastor.

A wonderful revival is being held at the churches in East Cumberland. This is the church named Melvin Chapel, after the mother of W. A. Melvin. Rev. W. L. Hoffman has had in the last week, about forty conversions and up to this time twenty-five new members have been received into the church. Revival meetings are also being held at the Bedford Street Church, which was resulted thus far in three conversions.

The Rev. Jas. A. Mitchell, of Centreville, will give Divine service in Chapel of the Holy Cross, Millington, on Sunday morning next, including a celebration of the Holy Communion.

Christ M. P, church, public worship at 10 30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Testimony meeting at 9.30 a. m. Sunday school at 2.30 p. m. Christian Workers' Song Hour 6 45 p. m. Evening Theme; How the Month may Serve the Soul.

FROM ALL indications, the chances are that the next House of Representatives will have a Democratic majority, and even if it should not, there is no reason to place any dependance in the claims that only a Republican Representative from the Eastern Shore would have any weight or influence in the House.

WEDDING BELLS.

TRENCHARD—DIXON.

A quiet wedding took place at Sacred Heart Rectory, Chestertown early Wednesday morning, Rev. Father McKenna officiating. The contracting parties were Miss Nannie Dixon, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Dixon and Mr. Nesbit Trenchard, late of the Chestertown Basket Works but more recently of the big lumber mill in Gumberry, North Carolina. The ceremony took place in the presence of only a few close friends and relatives of the couple. The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling suit of plaid broadcloth with brown hat to harmonize. After the ceremony the bridal couple boarded the B. S. Ford and started for their future home in North Carolina. Mr. and Mrs. Trenchard leave many warm friends here who wish them much happiness.

TULL—COALE.

A pretty church wedding took place Saturday evening at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, St. Paul and Twenty-second streets, Baltimore, when Miss Laura Elizabeth Coale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Coale, of 2207 St. Paul street, was married to Mr. Rudolph Tull, of Philadelphia, both parties being well-known in Chestertown and in Worton.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a gown of white satin and duchess lace, with pearl trimmings; her tulle veil was caught up with a spray of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of lillies of the valley.

She was met at the altar by the groom, accompanied by his brother, Mr. Chas. N. Tull, who acted as the best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hugh Johnston, a former pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. H. F. Rall.

Miss Elizabeth Keech was the maid of honor. She wore a lavender gown of radium silk and carried white chrysanthemums. The matron of honor was Mrs. James G. Beck, of Chestertown, who wore white radium silk and carried lavender chrysanthemums.

Misses Virginia Cooke and Elizabeth Reese, of Elkton, were the flower girls. They were attired in white and carried baskets of chrysanthemums.

The ushers were Messrs. Morton Coale, of Ardmore, Pa.; Harry Richards, of Rising Sun; Charles H. Gayetty, of Philadelphia; Alfred Rodgers, of Philadelphia; Dr. Frank B. Hines, of Chestertown, and Dr. Robert L. Mitchell.

The bridesmaids were Misses Jennie Hines, of Chestertown; Roberta Tull, of Washington; Lillian Frocke and Grace Carson.

The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was sung by 10 young ladies of the guild connected with the church, of which the bride is a popular member.

A reception followed the wedding at the home of the bride's parents, at which only the relatives and intimate friends of the family were present. After an extended trip Mr. and Mrs. Tull will live at Cynwyd, Pennsylvania.

Among the presents was a handsome home all furnished in Philadelphia, a chest of silver and other presents amounting to several thousands of dollars.

EMORY—WATSON.

At St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Centreville, Wednesday evening Miss Susannah Hanson Watson, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Watson, was married to Mr. Edward Bourke Emory, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard Emory, Jr. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The best man was Mr. Thomas E. Bryan, of Baltimore. Rev. Walter B Stehl, rector of the church, assisted by Rev. James A. Mitchell, performed the ceremony. Miss Susie Mitchell was maid of honor and Messrs. James P. Keating, Madison B. Bordley, Alan G Emory, Blanchard Emory 3d, of Centreville; John P. Steele, of Baltimore, and Dr. Harry B. Wilmer, of Philadelphia, were the ushers. Mr. and Mrs. Emory left on the 6 38 train for Baltimore, Washington and the South. The bride was a member of the Anti-Matrimonial Club, organized there several years ago and is the second to desert the ranks within two years. A forfeit is placed by the society on deserters, and all manner of tricks are employed to discomfit the outgoing member.

MURRAY—NELSON.

A wedding of interest, not only to Kent County, but to the whole peninsula and Wilmington Conference, was that of the Rev. W. L. S. Murray, pastor of Washington Heights M. E. Church to Miss Pauline Estelle Nelson, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. E. H Nelson of Camden, Del., Wednesday at noon in Camden. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, in the presence of only relatives and intimate friends Following the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Murray left on a wedding trip.

SKEGGS—NOBLETTE.

At St. James Parsonage Wednesday evening, Oct. 31st by Rev. J. M. Sheridan Mr. John H. Skeggs and Miss Daisy N. Noblett were married, both of Smithville.

PARRISH—DECK.

Rev. J. W. Parish, pastor of Wesley Chapel Church, near Rock Hall, was married Thursday evening, October 25, to Miss Clara E. Deck. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M Sheridan, at the home of the bride, Norristown, Pa. The bride's family formerly lived in Roxbury, on Concord Circuit, and were for many years members of the Methodist Protestant Church. She is an attractive and interesting young lady. A big reception was held Friday evening.

COURT ADJOURNS.

An Impressive Memorial Service in Honor of Judge Martin—Judge Crothers Sentences Prisoners in a Forceful Manner.

Case of Receivers of the Easton Funeral Benefit Association vs. Rock Hall Council Jr. O. U. A. M. was tried. H. H. Barroll for plaintiff; M. deK. Smith for defendant. Jury trial, verdict for plaintiff, with judgement for $139.10.

Case of Dr. Joseph Reynolds vs John D. Urie, for professional services to the amount of $100 proved an interesting case. Mr. Urie claimed that the doctor contracted to cure him for $25. H. H. Barroll for plaintiff; W. W. Beck and R. D. Hynson for defendant. Jury trial, verdict for plaintiff, with judgement for $75.

State vs. Bertha Green, charged with setting fire to bed of Mrs. W. T. Hepbron, verdict guilty. W. W. Beck for state; S. P. Townshend for defendant.

State vs. Joseph Downes, charged with rape; verdict guilty. Beck for state, H. W. Vickers, Jr., for defendant.

State vs. Henry Young, charged with assault with intent to kill L. F. Newsome. Verdict guilty. Beck for state, L. W. Wickes for defendant.

State vs. George W. Parks, charged with violation of local option law. Verdict guilty. Beck for state, H. H. Barroll for defendant.

At a night session argument of counsel on the motion for a new trial in the Stoops-Russell case was heard, and on Tuesday the Court rendered its judgment denying a new trial. The case will now go to the Court of Appeals.

The Court also denied a new trial in the Blake-Telephone case.

H. W. Vickers, Esq., Chairman, presented resolutions in memory of the late Judge Wm. R. Martin, and also made a fine speech in offering same. John D. Urie and Lewin W. Wickes, Esqs., as members of the committee, also made impressive eulogistic addresses. Judges Crothers and Adkins responded in a most touching and sympathetic manner.

Court adjourns until Monday, November 5th, when election appeal cases will be heard.

Judge Crothers sentenced the prisoners as follows:

Thos. Lamb, to nine months in House of Correction and pay a fine of $500 for violating local option law at Fairlee.

Geo. W. Parks, nine months in House of Correction and pay a fine of $500, for selling beer at Rock Hall.

Charles Watkins, six months in House of Correction and pay a fine of $400, for selling intoxicating drinks at Rock Hall.

Bertie Green, five years in Industrial Home for arson.

Joseph Downes, ten years in penitentiary for rape.

Henry Young, four years in penitentiary for assault.

Judge Boyd delivered the opinion reversing the decree of the Circuit Court for Kent county in the appeal of Harry B. Parsons and others against John D. Urie. On January 2, 1894, the appellants gave a mortgage to Thomas W. Emason, Jr., and others. Later it was assigned to John D. Urie, as committee for minors in interest and individuality. The property was advertised for sale on default of interest, but a tender of the debt with interest and costs was made. This the appellee would not accept unless accompanied with a request for a release of the mortgage, and this was not made. Just as the sale was about to be made, it is claimed by the appellee, the tender was made accompanied by the request that the mortgage be released. The court below granted a decree releasing the mortgage only as to two undivided interests of two of the parties, but the Court of Appeals held that the whole mortgage should have been released and a decree passed for the sale of the property or as much thereof as necessary to extinguish the mortgage debt.

GUNNING NOTES.

The woods and thickets throughout Kent reverberated Thursday with shot and shell while the music of the hounds sounded sweet to the hunters' ear. Among the most successful "sportsmen" was the party from Chestertown, guests of Mr. Robert C. Morgan and son, Ned. The party consisting of Messrs. R. C. Morgan, James Willis, Harry Rash, Wm. F. Russell, Fred G Usilton and Ned Morgan, killed twenty-five rabbits and enjoyed a sumptuous dinner over which Mrs. Morgan presided with her characteristic skill. Ned has two of the finest dogs in this section. Our modesty forbids us telling who killed the most game.

Messrs. James D. Lucas and Edw. Newsome bagged seven partridges and three rabbits on Hazazer's farm in Worton Point. Mr. R. D. Hynson killed an even dozen.

Mr. George Burke on the Dodd farm lost his fine rabbit dog Thursday in having been mistaken for a rabbit by a colored gunner and shot.

Mr. Snowden Thomas and several others bagged 25 rabbits.

A young man near Fairlee has traded a hundred pound hog for a rabbit dog.

The law for gunning in Queen Anne's is not out until November 15th. The same date prevails in Delaware. A license of $5.50 is required for non-residents to hunt upon invitation while $15.50 is required if not invited.

Justice Steele, of Caroline, had before him last week some violators of the game law. Colter Joseph was fined $20 for killing 4 rabbits, and W. E. Ward was fined $10 for killing two squirrels out of season. The peculiar features of these cases were that Ward, as the informer against Joseph, was entitled to one-half the fine inposed, or $10, which paid his fine for violating the law in killing the squirrels, and Joseph, as informer against Ward, received one-half of his fine, or $5. The net results were that Joseph was mulct in $18.63 fine and costs, less 66 cents witness fee for self and son, and Ward had to pay $2.81 costs, less 33 cents witness fee. The State's Attorney, in presenting these cases, alluded to the reported frequent violations of the county game laws and the infrequent occasions of informations of such violations lodged with the authorities, who stood ready to protect the game in strict accordance with the laws in reference thereto.

A SUCCESSFUL TOURNAMENT.

Messrs. Shallcross and Massey the genial proprietors of Dewey Park closed a successful season with a tournament Saturday that proved one of the most interesting in the resort's history. AN AWFUL ACCIDENT.

Landon Walters, one of Still Pond's Best Young Men, Killed by an Explosion of Gas on Friday Night.

The village of Still Pond was greatly shocked last Friday night when it was learned that Landon Walters had met with a horrible accident. The young man went to his tin shop after supper and was lighting an acetylene lamp when the whole tank exploded! Landon was struck in his face and head and a big hole blown in the roof. Mr. Charles Walters, father of Landon, was standing just outside the door when the explosion occured and rushed to his son's aid. Drs. Maxwell, Kelley and Atwell did all in their power to relieve the suffering of the young man but he was beyond human aid and died at 3 o'clock Saturday.

Mr. Charles Walters and family removed to Still Pond from Brooklyn, near Baltimore, and had been employed in the tinshop of Medders & Co. Recently Mr. Walters & Son had started in business for themselves and were doing well. Landon was 18 years old and stood high in the esteem of everyone. He was of a cheerful disposition and of exemplary character.

The funeral, which was one of the largest ever seen in the neighborhood was held at his late home on Monday afternoon at half past two o'clock. The white plush casket being literally covered with beautiful flowers sent by his many friends, both in Brooklyn, his former home, and his Sunday school class and friends. Rev. T. S. Holt, of Still Pond, assisted by Rev. Dr. Willis, of South Baltimore M. P. Church, his former pastor, conducted the services, Dr. Willis speaking very beautifully of the life and character of the deceased. The interment took place in the cemetery at Still Pond, the casket being lowered in a grave of snowy whiteness, trimmed with evergreen and flowers. The pallbearers, six of his friends, were: Wm. Ford, Wm. Thompson, Jr, Carl T. Norris, Thomas Mann, Jr., Charles Ford and Wm. Penn Tonison. Undertaker Wm. H. Krusen had charge of funeral arrangements.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Miss Elizabeth Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Brown, of Quaker Neck, died Monday in Baltimore, after an operation for appendicitis. The deceased was about 25 years of age, and had resided in Baltimore for several years filling a responsible position in the office of a well-known business firm of Baltimore. She was seemingly very healthy, and of a bright sunny disposition. Her sudden death is indeed a shock to her bereaved family and friends The funeral took place Thursday from the home of her parents in Quaker Neck, interment in Chester Cemetery. Dr. H. B. Martin officiated. Touching hymns were sung by Mrs. Allan A. Harris, Mr. Walter Ruth and Miss Willie Wickes. The bearers were Messrs. Henry, Comegys and William Brown, DeCoursey and Walter Ruth and Mr. Bond. The offerings of flowers were beautiful. J. E. Ferguson undertaker.

The many friends of Mr. David P. Jones, formerly of Chestertown, will learn with profound sorrow of the death of his daughter, Miss Nellie Pauline, which sad event occured on Oct. 20th at Phoenix, Arizona. Mr. Jones' wife died about a year ago with consumption and the daughter having symptons of the same disease, he moved his family west in the hope that the climate would benefit Miss Nellie's health. The deceased was about 20 years old and was a beautiful girl of charming manners and character.

Mr. Milton Kidd Aldrich died in Balto. on Thursday last. He was 38 years of age and a son of Lucas and Matilda Aldrich, of Kent county. The funeral services will take place from his late home in Baltimore today. Interment at Chester cemetery, Chestertown, on Sunday at 3 p. m.

JACKSON'S only hope of election to Congress is in the use of his money to bribe voters. Rebuke it by voting for THOMAS A. SMITH, a recognized man of ability.
