LOCAL NOTES

It is reported that another teacher is to be appointed in Chestertown High School next Tuesday. There are a number of applicants.

Postmaster Thomas, of Chestertown, has received an inquiry from Philadelphia, asking for furnished rooms for 20 young people who having heard of the beauties of Chestertown want to spend the Easter holidays here. What's the matter with the Custom house for them?

The Town Commissioners will take up the matter of new road on High street and curbing next Monday evening. It will require about 12000 tons of stone for which proposals are being received. Surveyor Taylor has been ascertaining the grades this week.

The County Underwriters Association of Maryland was formed in Baltimore Monday and Mr. James G. Beck was made treasurer. Mr. T. Shafer also attended.

J. F. Thompson's big 16-passenger automobile was given a trial run Thursday and proved satisfactory. Mr. Max Blakeney was chauffeur. This machine cost nearly $4,000.

The Chestertown Lodge of Masons on Wednesday evening last decided to hold a banquet on Thursday April 13th.

The Fairlee Grange minstrels gave the final performance of the season on Tuesday at Fairlee. A good audience was present and the show as usual was great. They have given six performances and everyone a success. We'll look out for them next winter and may they meet with even greater success.

J. H. Orem is the latest addition to Chestertown's plumbing lists. He is installing water in Mr. Moffett's new building on High street.

Mr. Grayson, nephew of Mrs J. Lane Finley, went out for a walk last Sunday week in Harford county, and when found was dead and covered with snow. He had been a sufferer from heart trouble for sometime.

A new creamery is being built on the farm of Mr. Wills Lusby, near Cecilton, and it will be managed by Mr. Joseph Woolevhan.

There have been 39 witnesses summoned for defendants, from Kent, in the case of W. J. Price, Jr., vs. H. H. Barroll and son which is docketed for April term of court. The case will not likely be tried here nor in Queen Anne's.

The Shaw property was offered at public sale Tuesday by H. H. Barroll and R Groome Parks, Esqs., attorneys, and but one piece sold, the 60-foot lot on Riverside Terrace. This was bought in by Mr. Geo. D. Lofland for $1,000.

W. F. Jarrell ventured out with his automobile Wednesday and says the roads are improving rapidly.

The packing house owned by Dr. T. M. Sheppard will be operated this season, as formerly, by Mr. Geo. W. Evans, of Aberdeen, who will turn out packed tomatoes and make catsup. Mr. Evans will employ home labor entirely and he has the interest of the home people at heart. In the past Crumpton has been overrun with foreigners, her pretty thoroughfare has been thronged with this class of people, while their gardens and orchards have been their harvests, and the money earned carried away from the community. Crumpton got their filth and derived no benefits.

Beck & Ivens have sold to Jacob H. Roberts, of Hempstead, L. I., the Genevieve Pennington farm on Sassafras river for $10,000. The farm contains about 200 acres.

The Automobile Club which has recently been organized here, has rented the large room over the store of Mr. Arlington L. Sparks for a club room.

Carl Myers and wife have purchased of Mrs. Frances P. Reed the "Possum Hollow" farm in Worton and containing about 150 acres for $6,000. The sale was made through Messrs. Beck and Ivens.

The C. W. Hague house in Still Pond was sold at public sale Tuesday to Miss Lida Hague for $1,000, W. W. Beck, Esq., attorney.

Some important changes are noted on the railroad. Wm. A. Wheatley, Jr., who has been the assistant at Chestertown, has been appointed agent at Black's, succeeding W. T. Medford. Mr. Medford goes to Trappe. A. S. Turner at Worton has resigned same to take effect April 1. There are several applicants for this position.

A representative from the Hopkins Tailoring Co. will be at Vansant & Newsome's store on Friday and Saturday, March 10th and 11th, to take measures for suits, etc.

The Still Pond Farmers' Club was entertained at the beautiful home of Miss Lavina Harper on last Thursday. There were present: Rev. J. H. Beauchamp, Mrs. Beauchamp, Rev. Galloway, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. F. Cornelius, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Price, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Bennett, Captian and Mrs. D. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bonwell, Mr. and Mrs. H. Redding, Mr. and Mrs. S. Roseberry, Mr. and Mrs. L. Price, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jarrell, Mrs. Shafer, Miss Emma Shafer, Mrs. J. Biddle Hossinger, Mrs. K. Crew, Mrs Emma Meeks, Mrs. John Parrott, Mrs. Walters, Miss Bessie Wheatley, Mr. Jas. Webb.

The first woman placed on trial for her life in Dover in ten years was Hattie Reese, a mulatto, scarcely more than a girl, whose trial was begun Monday morning for murder of the first degree. She is the daughter of Dollie Reese, a well-known carter formerly of Chestertown. The State showed that she, after a quarrel with John Curry, went home and got a single-barrelled shotgun, went to Dover's principal street, laid in wait and shot Curry dead as he passed with his hands in his pockets. The jury convicted her of second degree murder and the court sentenced Hattie to imprisonment for life and a fine of $500. The girl gave a hollow cough while she was being sentenced that showed to those about her that she was probably receiving a death sentence between the order of the court and the ravages of tuberculosis, Nature's penalty for the pace that kills.

CARPENTERS ON STRIKE

The carpenters in Chestertown, numbering about 30, went on strike Wednesday asking for 10 hours pay for 9 hours work.

Mr. Walter T. Pippin, who has several contracts under way in Queen Anne's and more in Kent in prospect agreed to the new terms and his men have lost but little time.

Frank Duyer & Bros., who work a large force of men, did not lose a day, acceding at once to the demands. They are now at work on a contract job for Ellwood Baker and expect to start on a big contract in the burned district as soon as material arrives.

Mr. Foster Cannon says he has agreed to the new schedule.

It is sincerely hoped that the strike may be settled today.

GRANGE NOTES.

Kennedyville Grange is on the boom. At the last meeting on Monday night 14 new members were taken in and 10 are expected to be received at next meeting. The next big meeting will be held on Saturday, March 11. when good speakers will be present and a sumptuous supper served. This Grange now has a membership of about 90 and is going right ahead under the leadership of Master Geo. R. Rasin, who makes a worthy and up-to-date general and one it is a pleasure to follow.

Fairlee Grange held a special meeting March 1st celebrating Washington's birthday. Reading by several members were especially good. The special feature of meeting was an address by Mr. J. W. McClary on Washington which showed a well-stored mind and the manner of delivery was most pleasing and instructive. Many of the ladies and gentlemen were in Colonial attire and presented a most pleasing effect. Mr. J. T. Anthony, whom we all welcome most heartily, was present and gave timely and wise advice. The choir rendered music in their usual pleasing manner, a duet being especially effective. Many interesting questions were given by the lecturer which were answered by various members. The Grange Garner was read in a clear and impressive manner by Mrs. Frank Crow and was full of good sense, wit and humor. The next special meeting will be held March 22 at which Maryland Day will be celebrated.

Profitable Sheep.—Mr. E. S. Jarman, a former Kent countain, living near Earleville, has 13 ewes that had 28 lambs; 11 twins and 2 triplets. Who can beat it?

Kent County Boy Traded.—Manager Hank Ramsey of the Altoona (Pa.) Tri-State League Club has completed a trade with the Waterbury Club of the Connecticut League whereby he gives three of his best players of last year's champions, Outfielders Jimmy Clark and Brook Crist and Pitcher Lower for Third Baseman Clifton V. Hoover, who is known to many of the local fans, having played with the strong Galena Club several years ago, and who last season beat the third baseman of the Connecticut League in fielding and batting. From newspaper reports the value of the three players given in exchange for Hoover were worth $4,000 to the Altoona Club, therefore great things are expected of Hoover the coming season.

What Town Life Costs a Farmer.—Here is what it costs a farmer of the United States to spend a quiet day in New York city:

Cab to hotel	6 bushels of oats.
Tip to driver	15 cabbages.
Tip to elevator boy	2 dozen eggs.
Tip to bellboy	1½ bushels of barley.
Breakfast	Quarter ton of hay.
Tip to waiter	2 bushels of potatoes.
Luncheon	1 sheep.
Tip to waiter	1½ bushels of carrots.
Dinner	Four bushels of rye.
Tip to waiter	1 bushel of onions.
