IN MISERY FOR YEARS

Mrs. Courtney Tells How She Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oskaloosa, Iowa.—"For years I was simply in misery from a weakness and awful pains—and nothing seemed to do me any good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and got relief right away. I can certainly recommend this valuable medicine to other women who suffer, for it has done such good work for me and I know it will help others if they will give it a fair trial."—Mrs. LIZZIE COURTNEY, 108 8th Ave., West, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Why will women drag along from day to day, year in and year out, suffering such misery as did Mrs. Courtney, when such letters as this are continually being published. Every woman who suffers from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, nervousness, or who is passing through the Change of Life should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its long experience is at your service.

What is the difference between an OCULIST and an OPTOMETRIST?

The Oculist treats diseased eyes and fits glasses according to the laws of optics. The Optometrist uses the same means for detecting any disease, but does not treat, but refers to the Oculist or family Physician. The Optometrist fits glasses according to the laws of optics just the same as the Oculist, but without drugs or drops.

KENT NEWS $1.00 PER YEAR

GALENA

This staid old town long years ago,
We will admit was rather slow
(George Washington road through it once)
The patriarchs rehearsed their stunts
At pitching quoits and bullets jerked,
And other 'jobs' at which they worked.
These tales they told down at the store
And ev'ry winter told them o'er.
The cows would browse along the street
The planters would from near and far
Assemble 'bout the tavern's bar;—
There hours were spent at "High low Jack"—
Temptation more there was no lack.
The whole world seemed to be at ease
When they were planting corn and peas.
They paid per day just fifty cents
For men to plow or build a fence.
He'd buy his sugar, tea and rice
With eggs, and never ask the price.
He'd come to town astride his mare,
And stay all day without a care
Of what the papers had to say
Of German-ee or Austri-a.

If one had wearied of his life,
Of its vicissitudes and strife,
This was the place of which he'd quest;
'Twas here he'd stop and find sweet rest.
The air was balmy, wholesome, pure,
From all alarms he was secure.
He found in life one glad sweet song,
With nothing ever going wrong.
Of course with me you must agree—
He'd croak—a victim of ennui.

But now behold what change has come,
The wheels of progress loudly hum:
The streets where once was mud and dust.
Are now no longer foully cussed.
Cement is where mire used to be,
And travel is a luxury.
The surface smooth is nicely tarred
Exactly like a boulevard.
All day a constant stream of cars
Roll through the town. 'Tis strange Old Mars
Don't hold 'em up and save the gas
'Till more propitious days shall pass.
They come from Jersey and from Maine,
With ne'er a stop for storm or rain:
And some (believe it if you can),
From Labrador and Yucatan.
To cross the street you watch and wait,
And when you start you hesitate.
But, why of trifles make a note,
Our visitors sure get our goat.

Like blue streaks from a clouded sky.
They "hit 'em up" as they go by.
Twin sixes—flivers—trucks and vans.
The worst as well as best of mans
Inventive genius;—and each one
Is of its kind a paragon.
Those speed bugs even on the farms.
Give heed no more to war's alarms;
But step into the spot lights glare
With "bubble wagons" everywhere.
What charm—a choral of delight,
To burn the road both day and night,
Strange faces now are nothing new—
The wind has changed 'tis very true—
The graybeards now are like the rune,
Quite out of date and out of tune:
They sit way back and seek the shade,
They can't keep up with the parade.

When night has come—we seek repose—
The air once sweet as Shiraz' rose,
Now has the oder of old junk,
Or fumes with gas or Chinese punk.
There's one incessant flash and glare,
Like star-shells in the midnight air.
A constant hum and buzz and roar,
All day—all night, and then some more.
The cows have long since passed away;
No bovine now could longer stay
Upon the pike and live an hour
To browse the turf or nip a flower.
George Washington who once was great,
The folks no longer hesitate
To turn him down and talk of France,
The war all other themes supplants.
The games in which long hours were spent,
No more afford divertisement;
Base ball is now a daily bore,
And all you hear is "What's the score?"
Pandean days have strangely flown
To an oblivion unknown;
Our elders of the long ago,
Stand back and view the passing show.
Our town has hit a gait we fear
That keeps us always on high gear.

When Sunday comes—that day of rest—
When we've supposed to do our best
In the salvation of our soul,
'Tis then we hit the "old bank roll"
With no concern about its fate;
And find it out when 'tis too late.
But, let her go,—"on with the dance,"
A Roman Holiday," perchance (?)
Ha, Ha, 'tis then we set the pace,
With Baltimore in second place;
We let her rip "right off the bat,"
Until I 'speck we'll break a slat.
This is the life for some we know,
This ever changing movie show;
Whilst others would be glad to feel
The pace will shortly "bust the reel."
The earth grows smaller ev'ry day—
The mile we traveled yesterday
This morning is one half instead,
And time is just one hour ahead.

But,—why elucidate my friends?
We burn the candle at both ends.
