Summer Sunday night song services have been started in the Lewes Methodist Church in the place of regular services.

Carroll, 6-month-old child of Mrs. Hettie James, of Easton, who was injured on Wednesday afternoon of last week by a falling electric light pole, died Thursday night.

E. Kurtz Taylor, of Blythedale, entered upon his duties last Saturday as Treasurer of Cecil county, and John H. Terrell has entered upon his second term as assistant.

The 316-acre Pennington farm, near Galena, has been bought by R. N. and S. T. Bramble, of Galena, for $28,000, the highest price paid for a Kent county farm for several years.

Sharptown citizens have set July 21 for the banquet to Senator Jesse D. Price, in appreciation of his services in securing appropriation for a bridge across the Nanticoke River at that point.

The trustees of Leslie public school have appointed Miss Ethel Reynolds principal to succeed Miss Margaret V. Hartnett, of Elkton, resigned to become assistant principal in the primary school.

The old covered wooden bridge spanning Little Elk Creek, near Calvert, has been demolished preparatory to the construction of a two-span concrete bridge by the State Road Commission.

President R. W. Silvester, of the Maryland Agricultural College, has been notified that the War Department has selected the College on its military merits as one to name graduates for appointment as second lieutenants in the army.

The barge Wicomico, belonging to the Southern Transportation Company, of Philadelphia, heavily loaded with coal, sank in the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, just above the Pivot Bridge. The dredging machine had to dig a channel around the barge so other boats could pass.

Rev. A. W. Lightbourne, D. D., has accepted an invitation extended to him by pastor-in-charge E. C. Sunfield of Camden Camp to speak at the campmeeting on Sunday School day at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, on "How to Win and Keep Men in the Sunday School."

Oxford is making great preparations for the regatta which is to come off at that place July 21st. The committee in charge, with Mr. T. Clifford Morris, chairman, is doing everything in its power to make this event the greatest of their meets during the 25 years that the C. B. Y. Club has been holding its annual race contests.

"I never in my life," says John Wanamaker, "used such a thing as a poster, a dodger or a hand bill. My plan for twenty-five years has been to buy so much space in a newspaper and fill it up with what I wanted. I would not give an advertisement in a newspaper of four hundred circulation for five thousand posters and dodgers."

The only honorable and honest way to stop a newspaper is to step into the office and pay up all arrearages, get a receipt and have your name off the lists. To fire your paper back at the publisher marked "refused" when you owe six months or a year, and never go near the office, is not only disreputable but dishonest as well.—Bristol Courier.

Where The Flag Was Born.

The small two-story house still standing at 239 Arch Street, below Third, Philadelphia, has an interesting history. In it the first flag containing thirteen stars and thirteen stripes, was made by Mrs. John Ross. The design for the flag was from a drawing made by George Washington with a pencil, and the flag thus designed was adopted by a resolution of Congress on the 14th day of June, 1777. A committee of Congress, accompanied by General Washington, afterward called upon Mrs. Ross and engaged her to make a flag from this design. The flag then made is now known the world over as the Star Spangled Banner of the United States. There is a striking resemblance between the design of our flag and the arms of General Washington, and it is believed by many that the American flag was derived from this heraldic design.

Putting Wye Camp in Shape.

The managers of Wye Camp are busily engaged getting the grounds, tents, etc., in shape for the coming encampment, July 15-25, and, from present indications, will have everything in readiness for the time named. The usual admission of 5 cents will be taken at the gate this year and no further requests will be made for collections during the ten days. An individual season ticket is to be sold for 25 cents in the place of a family or tent ticket. The formal program for the preaching services has not yet been completed; but from the list of ministers already engaged it seems certain that no lack of preaching is in store for those who attend the camp. The following well-known and able ministers are expected:

J. F. Clark, Robert Watt, J. H. Howard, T. R. Woodford, R. L. Shipley, W. E. Greenfield, J. P. Otis, I. G. Fosnocht, G. L. Hardesty, J. L. Sparklin, Daniel Wilson, W. E. Habbart, L. W. Layfield, C. W. Strickland, W. W. Sharp, Leonard White, J. M. Arters, A. W. Goodhand, G. T. Alderson. Others are yet to be heard from, assuring the best of service in this department of the encampment.

A Brave Front to the World.

"If every pair for whom wedding bells have rung this June," says Margaret Sangster in Woman's Home Companion for June, "would take to heart the thought that their private affairs are their own, not to be told to outsiders and not to be paraded before the world, they would insure and safeguard their selfrespect and the permanance of their home. The temptation may arise when first there is a little friction to seek sympathy from mother, sister or intimate friend. That temptation should be trampled under foot. Confidential friends are not invariably to be trusted. With or without the best intention the third party intruding in the affairs of a married couple is in peril of making mischief. Make it a rule to confide wholly without secrets or reserves in one another from the hour that you become husband and wife, and you will have little to fear, though the four winds should blow around your house. It will stand against any tempest and prove itself strong and hallowed, your sanctuary and your castle if you confide in and befend your sacramental union. Never let a quarrel last overnight. Present a brave front to the world. There is common sense in the homely advice to put the best foot forward. Don't begin by thinking that you must have everything on the same plane with your neighbors. Live within your means, although your living be of the simplest. Try to save a little each month toward coming days when expenses may be larger. Much comfort is theirs who are aware that they have laid aside a provision against accident illness or an unlooked-for occasion. May heaven bless the young married folk who set forth together in this year of grace. May they live to celebrate their golden wedding and live together, loved and honored, years after that splendid meridian."

"FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS HAVE CURED ME"

The above is a quotation from a letter written by H. M. Winkler, Evansville, Ind. "I contracted a severe case of kidney trouble. My back gave out and pained me. I seemed to have lost all strength and ambition; was bothered with dizzy spells, my head would swim and specks float before my eyes. I took Foley Kidney Pills regularly and am now perfectly well and feel like a new man. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me." For sale at C. H. Redden's, Denton, Md.

New Peninsula Telephone Plan.

Telephonic facilities between Maryland, Delaware and Virginia have been greatly improved within the past few months by the laying of a new cable under the Chesapeake Bay. A score of expert telephone and electrical engineers supervised the laying of this cable, the result of which is an easier and more satisfactory conversation between Baltimore, Md., and all points along the Eastern Shore of Maryland, Delaware and Virginia.

This is the first submarine cable of its kind in this country, if not in the world. At present Baltimore is in direct communication with the Eastern Shore via Tolchester. In years gone by it was necessary in order to reach any point of the Eastern Shore to relay the message to Wilmington and thence around the Peninsula to the point desired. This, of course, required much unnecessary time, and very few persons would use the phone for long distances. Another disadvantage was that while the "open" wires—that is, those wires strung on poles—transmit messages satisfactorily, they became bulky when used in large numbers and are easily put out of service during heavy storms.

This cable was developed by a corps of expert engineers, of Chicago, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, who spent two or three months working on its development. The result is that, across Chesapeake Bay there is the best submarine cable in the world—a cable which makes telephone conversation from Baltimore to Cape Charles or other Peninsular points equivalent to a conversation over a land line 50 miles shorter than by way of the former route. The difficulty of laying this cable was excessive. At several points, special apparatus weighing 1400 pounds was fastened to the cable. These appliances being very delicate had to be lowered with great care.

With this cable, telephone facilities will be distinctly improved for all patrons, resulting in easier and more satisfactory conversations between Baltimore and vicinity and the Eastern Shore. Not only has this cable been laid, but additional wires have been run to the terminals of this cable from points in the southern part of the Eastern Shore Peninsula and from Baltimore and Annapolis to the other end. Also the telephone company has spent considerable money in running additional lines down the middle of the Peninsula from Wilmington to Salisbury, Md.

"Is LIFE WORTH SAVING?"

Mrs. Mollie McRamey, Prentiss, Miss., writes that she had a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble, and that four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cured her sound and well. She closes her letter by saying: "I heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to any sufferer of kidney disease. It saved my life. Sold by C. H. Redden, Denton, Md.

Oil On Roads Kills Vegetation.

Spencer Miller, who carried the war against the mosquito to South Orange, N. J., says that it will not be very long before the municipalities of the United States which have been using oil to lay the dust on rural highways will wish they had never done it. Mr. Miller told the members of the New England Society of Orange that Europe has discovered the mistake. He says that the oil kills the lawns and foliage along the sides of the highways where it has been used.

"When we begin to see the hedges and the shrubbery withering under our eyes, then we see the mistake we have been making," said Mr. Miller, "In Europe the evil effects of using the oil are already sadly apparent. The oil-laden dust is picked up by the automobiles and scattered to the foliage and lawns, which it will certainly kill."

Prof. Handy, Misses Bessie Tylor, Bertie Wright, of Easton, and Miss Mullikin, of Trappe, will spend six weeks at Columbia College, New York, this summer, taking special courses. Prof. Handy will be accompanied by his family.

Considerable excitement was created at Crisfield last Friday by the discovery of oil in an old abandoned well on a farm near that town. The farm belongs to a Mr. T. H. Ward, who was offered a large figure for the property by a party some time ago and since that time several mysterious strangers have been observed around the old well at night. This stirred up the curiosity of the owner, who with a party of neighbors examined the well and discovered the oil. Mr. Ward will have an expert make an examination.

The Town Council of Milford has adopted a resolution providing that all active members of the fire department shall be exempt from the payment of town poll tax.

Dr. Norris Pilchard, a recent graduate of the Jefferson Medical College of Pennsylvania, who has been visiting his cousin, Mrs. H. Lay Beaven, of Easton, left last week for Pottstown, Pa., where he has been appointed resident physician of the Pottstown Hospital.

Middletown Farms Dairies of Middletown, Del., are making a new kind of "Ice Cream." It is called "Frost" and is a frozen delicacy that is proving very popular everywhere. The farms continue to do a large business in Ice Cream, shipping daily to nearly every town on the peninsula.

A landscape gardener in California has startled horticulturists by announcing that he is planning to graft two thousand varieties of roses on one bush, and that he expects the bush to show the bloom of almost every variety of rose known in this country. He claims he has over one hundred varieties already blooming on one bush.

People who use straw mattresses run the risk of being attacked by the straw itch, a disease said to be new to American physicians. It is a peculiar itching eruptive disease which has been proven to be due to the attack of a small straw and infesting mite. Public attention has been called to the subject by a publication in the last issue of the Government public health reports by Joseph Goldberger.

The Board of Education of Dover Public Schools has promoted Miss Mary Collison to take Miss Ida Frazier's grade and employed Miss Olive R. Garton, of Wyoming, who has just graduated at the West Chester Normal School, to teach Miss Collison's grade. Miss Alice Burchenal has also been employed as an additional teacher for the High School, which will have about 50 pupils during the next term.

A correspondent of the Sussex Republican from Selbyville says: The strawberry season of 1910 came to a close last week. It was one of the largest ever experienced in town, 380 refrigerator cars being shipped from here which netted the growers over $200,000. The principal berry this year was the Gandy, which is known in this vicinity as the mortgage lifter, as the farmers receive such fine prices for it that many have been able to pay off their debts.

The United States Supreme Court sustained the "Jim Crow Law," and declares railroads have a right to make their own regulations without regard to inter-state business. In other words, If a negro holds a ticket from Philadelphia to Norfolk while he is riding through the State of Maryland he must go into the "Jim Crow" car and as Virginia has the same law he must enter the "Jim Crow" car at Delmar. On the D. M. & V., Railroad the railroad company can demand that colored passengers go into the car provided for their race when the train reaches Selbyville going south, as both Maryland and Virginia have a "Jim Crow" law.

A FEW SHORT WEFKS

Mr. J. S. Bartell, Edwardsville, Ill., writes: "A few months age my kidneys became congested. I had severe backache and pain across the kidneys and hips. Foley Kid-Pills promptly cured my backache and corrected the action of my kidneys. This was brought about after my using them for only a few short weeks and I can cheerfully recommend them." Sold by C. H. Redden, Denton, Md.

Debt Paid At Dedication.

Rev. Louis E. Barrett, formerly of Easton, now of Chestertown, Md., had the interesting experience last week of officiating at the dedication of a new church, where he was pastor twenty-five years ago, at which the entire cost of the new building, $2,000, was paid for during the dedication services. The church is located at Chesconnesix, Accomac county, Va., about 4 miles from Oncock, and the congregation is one of the most aggressive of the rural congregations in the Wilmington M. E. Conference. Nearly the entire adult population of the town belongs to the church, while most of the children attend the Sunday School, and everybody appears to take unusual interest in the affairs of the church, hence the great success of the dedication services.

How To Cure Rheumatism.

The cause of Rheumatism and kindred diseases is an excess of uric acid in the blood. To cure this terrible disease this acid must be expelled and the system so regulated that no more acid will be formed in excessive quantities. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. Rubbing with Oils and Liniments will not cure, affords only temporary relief at best, causes you to delay the proper treatment, and allows the malady to get a firmer hold on you. Liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure Rheumatism than paint will change the fibre of rotten wood.

Science has at last discovered a perfect and complete cure, which is called "Rheumacide." Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected the most marvelous cures; we believe it will cure you. Rheumacide "gets at the joints from the inside" sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the liver and kidneys, and makes you well all over. Rheumacide "strikes the roots of the disease and removes its cause." This splendid remedy is sold by druggists and dealers generally at 50c and $1.00 a bottle. In tablet form at 25c and 50c a package. Trial bottle of tablets sent by mail on receipt of price 25c. Booklet free. Write to Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.
