At a special election in Elkton, the proposition to issue $75,000 in bonds for an electric light plant and water works and to extend the sewerage system, was overwhelmingly defeated.

While driving through Pearson's woods, in Kent County, John J Woodall, Jr, was held up and robbed of a gold watch and his money by three highwaymen, one white and two colored. The white man held the horse while the others took his valuables.

Laurel and Bethel campmeeting, the largest on the Peninsula, if not the largest in the world will begin this year on August 12th and continue for three weeks. An elaborate program of religious worship, sermons, music and concerts is being arranged and many people are expected to attend.

A shipment of 400,000 soft crabs was made in one week recently from Crisfield, the greatest crab market in the world, to points South as far as New Orleans, Crisfield supplies 75 per cent of the soft crabs in the United States, 90 per cent. of which come from the sounds of Virginia, in Accomac Co.

Captain Joshua J. Whealton, of Chincoteague, claims the distinction of being the only wild goose farmer in the world. He has 250 acres of land skirting the coast of Chincoteague Sound, and has at the present time over 1,500 wild geese on the place. He ships them alive to the Northern markets and gets an average price of $5 a pair.

Miss Hettie Kollock, one of the oldest residents of Georgetown, aged 85 years, celebrated the anniversary of her birth at the residence of her nephew, Col. John W. Johnson, on Pine Street, last Thursday, by having a number of her friends spend the day with her. For the past few years Miss Kollock has been tendered a post card shower every birthday.

A local branch of the Delaware Fruit Exchange has been organized at Laurel with fifty-eight charter members, comprising the most progressive and well-to-do element of Sussex County agriculturists. Clayton L. Ward has been chosen manager and the exchange began operation last Thursday. The election of the board of trustees has been deferred until the close of the fruit season.

The fire alarm system for Dover's fire department has arrived and will be put in service at once. It consists of a large gong stationed at the Robbins Hose Co.'s house, to which are connected six or seven alarm boxes in different parts of the town, in houses of the fireman. When a fire occurs in any part of the town close to the home of a member of the company he can at once give the location of the fire and at the same time arouse other members by sounding the gong at the hose house.

ACUTE OR CHRONIC—WHICH?

No matter if your kidney trouble is acute or chronic Foley's Kidney Remedy will reach your case. Mr. Claude Brown, Reynoldsville, Ill., writes us that he suffered many months with kidney complaint which baffled all treatment. At last he tried Foley's Kidney Remedy and a few large bottles effected a complete cure. He says "It has been of inestimable value to me." Sold by C. H. Redden, Denton, Md. 1

THE APPLE IS KING.

An important fruit deal this week among successful Kent county growers has added interest to the apple business in this section. The old Soper farm, near Wyoming, consisting of 138 acres, and containing 6,000 fruit trees, was sold to J. R. Neville for $7,200. Mr. Neville is enthusiastic over his purchase and told a number of Northerners who have settled here that the reason they cannot make good money in Delaware fruit lands is that they will not study the soil conditions here and till properly. "It is not the fault of the land," said Mr. Neville, who himself is an Englishman but has learned the art of producing things in Delaware.

Mr. Neville had scarcely become the rightful owner of the farm before he picked and sold from one tree $21 worth of apples.

All of the lower central part of Kent county is a fruit and truck garden for the northern cities, and Magnolia is situated in the center of it. Near here are the great apple orchards of the Sopers, the Bancrofts and a score of other growers. About here are the greatest asparagus fields, the berry fields and the pear and peach orchards, while the land is devoted to diversified farming by the very leading thinkers and doers among the agricultural class of Delaware.

Apple growing is rapidly overshadowing other interests, and those who pay most attention to their orchards by spraying, cultivation, fertilization and intelligent gathering and packing of the apples are reaping rich harvests from their fields. Frank Soper on last Thursday morning hauled two four-mule wagon loads of apples packed in hampers to Wyoming, where he received $284.50 for the apples from these two loads which sold at the station for 85 cents per hamper. Incidentally Mr. Soper called attention to the two loads of apples on eight mules by remarking that previous to the building, or surfacing of the public road between his place and Wyoming with stone it would have been an impossibility to have delivered that quantity of apples with the same mules or less than five wagons, therefore, he saves the time of three men, who were working at other things at home, instead of loafing about the station or traveling over the road.

Apples are proving a gold mine to some farmers in central and lower Delaware, where they have solved the problem by spraying, particularly of early apples, on which Delaware almost has a monopoly of the world.

The Pennsylvania Railroar reports to the State agricultural authorities here that, up to the present, this season, it has shipped 283,038 large baskets known as seven-eighths. The company moved in one day last week, besides those sent by boat, 12,268 large baskets.

When it is remembered that the growers received from 45 cents to $1 per basket for these apples, some idea of the fortune that is flowing in can be comprehended.

And the apple crop is a bumper alongside that of one year ago. Young trees everywhere seem to have begun to bear. Compared with 1909, the totals are surprising. In 1909, on July 15th, for instance, the Pennsylvania Railroad handled only 1,396 baskets; in 1910 same day, the farmers shipped out 12,268 baskets. In 1909 the total to July 15th was only 15,736 baskets; while in 1910, same day, the shipments reached 295,306 baskets.—Delaware State News.

Rev. Alfred Smith's New Post.

The Rev. Dr. Alfred Smith, at present temperance evangelist of the Wilmington M. E. Conference, was last week appointed assistant corresponding secretary ot the Methodist Episcopal Church Temperance Society. Dr. Smith will cover the field east of Chicago and will continue to have his home near Dover. His salary will be $2,000 a year. Dr. Smith will begin his work on September 1st. The position is considered a great honor among churchmen and came to Dr. Smith from the committee appointed by the General Conference of the church, to select a man for the place. The secretary of the society is the Rev. Charles Wilson, a son of the late John A. B. Wilson. Peninsula Methodists are, therefore, well represented in the temperance society of the church.

FROM SICKNESS TO EXCELLENT HEALTH.

DRIVING WELL FOR GAS AND OIL

The Maryland Oil and Gas Company recently organized in this city are going to determing the question as to whether there is gas and oil around Parsonsburg in quantities which will pay to develope. The company which is composed of Salisburians, have had an expert oil and gas man from Pittsburg on the property and from the reports made by him the promoters of the company feel sure that they will find both gas and oil in paying quantities at Parsonsburg.

During the past two weeks leases have been signed with all the property owners in and around Parsonsburg, amounting to over 4,000 acres of land on which the company have the rights for gas, oil and minerals under the land. By the leases the property owners get one-eighth of all the productions under their lands.

The company now have all the legal ends of their business arranged and have entered into a contract with an experienced oil well driver to sink an experimental well on the property and demonstrate exactly what underlies the land. The expert who recently examined the property says he feels sure that they will strike the same oil flow at Parsonsburg which has been struck in Pennsylvania. He made some experiments with water from the wells at Parsonsburg and in every case found indications of oil. In fact water left over night in a vessel would be covered the next morning with a thick skim of oil. It is estimated that it will cost about $2,000 to sink the first well.

More than ten years ago gas was discovered at Parsonsburg and the residents of the village piped it into their houses and used it for fuel and lighting. It was, of course in its crude state. It is the intention of the company if they strike a good supply of natural gas, to pipe it to Salisbury for fuel and lighting, and they are going into the enterprise with every hope of winning out. If they do strike gas and oil at Parsonsburg this section of the Peninsula would boom so fast that it would be hard to keep up with the procession. For this reason everybody is enthusiastic with the hope that the Company will be successful in their experiments.—Wicomico News.

To Make Shore Connections

A steam connection between Annapolis and Cambridge is an assured fact if the enterprise of Mr. W. M. McCormick, of Baltimore, carries out his intention.

For some time the steam yacht Idler has been at the shops of the E. J. Codd Company having every part of her machinery overhauled. She will be placed in condition to carry fifty passengers and some freight between the two points. The final survey has been made by the United States steamboat inspectors and the vessel is expected to make a trial trip in the river in a few days.

Mr. McCormick's intentio nis to hasten the passenger travel from the Eastern Shore to Baltimore across the bay to Annapolis. From there the short trip to Baltimore will be made on the electric lines.

Capt. George F. Curlett, who has been chief officer of the Tolchester steamer Annapolis, will command the Idler. She is of 57 tons gross register and 95 feet long.

During this hot weather dispensers of milk cannot be too careful to keep milk receptacles clean and pure. They should be thoroughly scalded and rinsed each time used to insure the removal of any germ that may be lurking there.

The extreme hot weather of the past two weeks was fatal to many horses. It is said that more horses died in the ten days ending last Saturday in Wicomico county than was ever known in the same length of time. Not only horses, but cattle and hogs also die from the extreme heat.

Governor Crothers has appointed the following Cecil county farmers to represent that county at the National Farmer's Convention which opens at Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 6th. C. C. Price, J. H. Kimble, W. B. Davis, J. M. C. Carhart, M. C. Reeder, Cecil E. Ewing, W. M. Pogue, Clinton C. Dunbar, James T. Armour and R. K. Rawlins.

The Produce Exchange of Virginia, sold on Friday July 22, 257 cars of white potatoes, the largest work of any day since the organization. The receipts of produce on the Onancock wharf of the Baltimore steamers on Tuesday of last week, were something over 4,000 packages of potatoes, onions and other vegetables. This exceeded any day since the establishment of the line.

The town of Centreville had a remarkable wedding last week. At the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, their youngest daughter, Ethel, became the bride of Paul J. Roser, of Millville, N. J. The officiating minister was Rev. Mary J. Brown, sister of the bride. Miss Ethel, the bride, is herself a minister and for some months past has been the pastor of the Howard Street, Holiness Church, Millville.

Representing the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Frank Stout of Wilmington, went to Seaford and arrested Samuel Ross, colored, of Concord, on the charge of ill treating a mule owned by Frank Jefferson. It was testified that Ross beat out one of the mules eyes with a heavy club and then made it finish the days work. That night he put the mule in the stable without feeding it or notifying its owner of what had happened. Ross was given 30 days in prison.

L. L. Layton, chairman of a committee recently appointed by the Georgetown Board of Trade to petition the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to lower freight rates, has been notified by those in authority that the rate on coal has been reduced from $2.65 to $2 per ton. An effort will be made jointly by the Board of Trade and Midland Grange to have the Company lessen freight rates on fertilizer, which it is claimed, is 30 cents more per ton to that station than to stations fifty miles farther down the company's line.

After September 1st they will reside in Dover, at the C. W. Fisher residence, where Sipple will engage in the practice of his profession, that of dentistry.

The largest wheat yield reported in Queen Annes county was threshed on the Paca's Island farm belonging to Mrs. Annie E. Bryan tenanted by W. T. Harris. 2,455 bushels of wheat were received from 70 acres of land, an average of slighdly over the 35 bushel mark. On seven and a half acres of stalk ground 300 bushels were threshed, an average of about 40 bushels to the acre.

Prof. L. W. Lightly, of East Berlin, Pa., director of Farmers' Institute work in the Keystone State, made a visit Friday of last week to the seed farms of W. Oscar Collier. He thoroughly examined the work being done by Mr. Collier, photographing a number of the plots, and expressed himself as highly gratified with the results he is securing, and promised Mr. Collier to come again when the crops are more matured.

The "Country Gentleman" says: "Nearly twice as many eggs are now in cold storage warehouses of New York and vicinity as there were a year ago—1,119,000 cases (30 dozens each) in 28 such establishments, against 615,000 a year ago.

In the chicken yard at her home in Milton, on Friday morning, Miss Mary Coverdale, a highly respected woman of that town, aged about sixty years, was found by her brother, Wesley Coverdale, with her throat cut. When the brother discovered her she was not dead and, taking her into the house she lived for about two hours. Residents of the town are unable to give any motive for committing the act, unless she was brooding over something that she has kept concealed.

The man who wrestles with the cow and learns the calves to suck, who casts the corn before the swine, is now in the greatest luck, for butter's on the upper grade, veal's higher than a kite, pork is climbing up the scale and beef is out of sight; eggs he gathers every day from his Poland chicken coop are almost worth their weight in gold and we are in the soup. His corn brings him a fancy price, it's rising every day and he rakes in all kinds of men for half a load of hay. The farmer is in the saddle and when he comes to town the rest of us by right should go way back and sit down.

Accompanied by destructive atmospheric disturbances, a violent rain and wind storm swept over Vienna recently and damaged buildings and growing crops to a great extent. A number of people were stunned. A terrific bolt of lightning struck a wire fence on the farm of D. H. Brinsfield, near Vienna, and running along the wires struck three trees and uprooted them. The Brinsfield home was struck and the whole family stunned. Mrs. Brinsfield, who was in the dairy cutting butter with a steel knife, was rendered unconscious. Two rooms of the house were wrecked.

Mr. William F. Drain, who has been cashier of the National Bank of Cambridge for a number of years, has tendered to the Board of Directors of that institution his resignation as cashier, to take effect about the middle of September, at which time he will become Second Vice-President. Miss Henrietta Barton, who has held a position with the Bank for the past eleven years, has also tendered her resignation as assistant cashier, and will retire from the bank about the middle of September. Mr. Drain, the retiring cashier, has been connected with this bank ever since it organized, about thirty years ago. He will be succeeded as cashier by Mr. Walter B. Johnson, the present assistant cashier of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank.

DOG DAYS BEGIN.

Dog days start officially this month. They continue until about September 20. During that period of 60 days dogs and domestic animals of all descriptions suffer most from the excessive heat.

But if the few "don'ts" contained here are followed, you will not only be giving comfort to your dog, a very good friend of yours, but will also be playing safe for yourself and everyone in your family.

The first one, "Don't kick a dog," is not only a suggestion for the safety of your own anatomy, but is also humane. A kick may injure a dog internally, causing him pain for life.

Don't club a dog into insensibility if he happens to get "mixed up" in a fight with another dog. If you are convinced that the dog has actually gone mad, kill him.

Chain your dog up in a cool, shady place if he becomes vicious during dog days. If he is permanently so kill him. Chloroforming instead of shooting is advocated when killing animals.

Give your dog plenty of fresh water to drink. A healthy dog will drink every hour if it can. Don't give your dog too much meat in hot weather. Meat produces animal heat and the dog becomes delirious.

Don't be cruel to fighting dogs. Grab them by the back and pull them apart. Striking an angry dog may cause him to bite.

There is no more reason for dogs becoming infected with the rabies bacilli in summer than in cold weather. A dog must be infected with the germ by direct inoculation by biting, so don't let your dog roam and he will not be infected.

The Editor's Prayer.

I would flee from the city's rule and law—from its fashions and forms cut loose—and go where the strawberry grows on its straw, and the gooseberry grows on its goose; where the catnip tree is climbed by the cat as she clutches for her prey the guilless and unsuspecting rattan bush at play I will watch at ease the suffron cow and the cowlet in their glee, as they peal in joy from bough to bough on top of a cowslip tree; and list while the partridge drums his drum, and the woodchuck chucks his wood, and the dog devours the dogwood plum in the primitive solitude. O, let me drink from the moss grown pump that was hewn from a pumpkin tree! Eat mush and milk from a rural stump, from form and fashion free—new garnered mush from the mushroom vine and milk from the milkweed sweet—with luscious pineapples from the pine! Such food as the gods might eat! And then to the whitewashed dairy I'll turn, where the dairy maid hastening hies her ruddy and golden butter to churn from the milk of her butterflies; and I'll rise at morn with the earliest bird, to the fragrant farm-yard pass, and watch while the farmer turns his herd of grasshoppers out to grass.

Farmer Autoists.

According to statements made by bankers and automobile dealers, there are more that 5,000 motorcars instorage at Kansas City and nearby towns waiting for the coming of the harvest money to the farmers of the Southwest. These cars are valued at $8,000,000, and according to the dealers every one of them will be disposed of before the winter comes. One train of 36 carloads from one factory, 215 cars in all, is being placed in storage.

The cars are beginning to move into the Southwest now, but dealers say the big movement will be in August. The average price of the cars, the dealers say, will be about $1,500. Few of the cars, however, will run above $2,500 in price, and usually the high-priced cars go to the towns. Bankers have found that their attempt to curb the investment in motorcars was a failure and they are lending money on them as before. One farmer in Stafford county, Kansas, has just bought six cars, one for himself and one for each of his five sons. He paid cash.

LIFE ON PANAMA CANAL

has had one frightful drawback—malaria trouble—that has brought suffering and death to thousands. The germs cause chills, fever and ague, biliousness, jaundice, lassitude, weakness and general debility. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. "Three bottles completely cured me of a very severe attack of malaria," writes Wm. A. Fretwell of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had good health ever since." Cure Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles, and prevent Typhoid. 50c Guaranteed by C. H. Redden, Denton, A. L. Duffy, Hillsboro, Md.

Farmer's Secret Society.

After making a study of the way of farmers in their busy seasons of the year, we have concluded that none of the secret societies, with all their professions of brotherly love, plus secret signs and grips, are equal to the brotherly love that exists between farm neighbors. When Jones is in a gripe, Smith and his neighbors go down and help Jones, and they do it with a will. And it is the same when Smith needs help with his work. The farmers appear to have among themselves something that men all over the world, men in every walk of life, ought to have but have not. We refer to that feeling of comradeship with one another. In other words, it is the farmer's secret society that is not secret.

Not Honored in Pennsylvania.

Not Honored in Pennsylvaniea.

State Highway Commissioner Joseph W. Hunter, of Pennsylvania has notified Automobile Commissioner John E. George, of Maryland, that the laws of Pennsylvania make no provision for reciprocal arrangements whereby the citizens of other States can traverse the roads of Pennsylvania for similar privileges extended by that State. Maryland and Delaware autoists who desire to tour through Pennsylvania will, therefore, be compelled to secure a license from the authorities of that State.

How To Cure Rheumatism.

The cause of Rheumatism and kindred diseases is an excess of uric acid in the blood. To cure this terrible disease this acid must be expelled and the system so regulated that no more acid will be formed in excessive quantities. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. Rubbing with Oils and Liniments will not cure, affords only temporary relief at best, causes you to delay the proper treatment, and allows the malady to get a firmer hold on you. Liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure Rheumatism than paint will change the fibre of rotten wood.

Science has at last discovered a perfect and complete cure, which is called "Rheumacide." Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected the most marvelous cures; we believe it will cure you. Rheumacide "gets at the joints from the inside" sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the liver and kidneys, and makes you well all over. Rheumacide "strikes the roots of the disease and removes its cause." This splendid remedy is sold by druggists and dealers generally at 50c and $1.00 a bottle. In tablet form at 25c and 50c a package. Trial bottle of tablets sent by mail on receipt of price 25c. Booklet free. Write to Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.
