THE AMERICAN UNION

Sixty-Fifth Year. DENTON, MARYLAND, THURSDAY AFTERNOON, OCTOBER 6, 1921 $1.00 Per Year.

First Period of Campaign Ends With Interest High

Mrs. Earl White and Arthur McDaniel Win the First Cash Prizes.---The Highest Extra Vote for the Remainder of the Campaign Will Be Given This Week.---Inactive Workers are Gradually Being Weeded Out and the Field is Left For Those Who Really Work.

SECOND CASH PRIZE OFFERED FOR TUESDAY

THE PRIZE LIST

FIRST GRAND PRIZE—A self-starting, electric equipped Chevrolet Touring Car, five passenger, purchased of The F. & R. Garage.

SECOND GRAND PRIZE—$150 in CASH or a $150 talking machine.

THIRD GRAND PRIZE—A $40.00 South Bend or Hamilton Watch (open face for a Gentleman or Elgin Wrist Watch for a Lady), purchased of F. J. Wright, Jeweler.

SPECIAL CASH PRIZES—Special Cash Prizes aggregating at least $50.00 will be given away from time to time.

NO LOSERS—There will be no losers in this campaign, for any candidate competing to the end of the campaign and failing to win a grand prize, or a special cash prize, and turning in at least $25 in cash subscription business, will be given 10 per cent. commission on the business he (or she) brings in.

The first period in the American Union subscription campaign closed Tuesday of this week, with the awarding of the first special cash prize. In checking up the work it was found that the candidates are running a very close race, the winners winning over each other and over a dozen others by a very, very small margin. However, Mrs. Earl White was the winner of the $10.00 cash prize, and Arthur McDaniel won the $5.00.

The business of the last few days shows that the workers are developing energy and are proving to the American Union and to the public that they are really out to win. They realize that there is "no royal road to winning" and that those who would succeed must go out among their neighbors and friends and relatives and get new subscribers for the paper and get old ones to renew. They realize that they must work for them and that the time in which to work for them is growing shorter every day. The success of the campaign is a foregone conclusion, for the prize list offered is so valuable that the candidiates are justified in the effort and the time they are devoting to the campaign.

No candidate, however, has a well defined lead—no candidate has risen head and shoulders over any other candidate—it is still anybody's race, and any REAL WORKER, any AMBITIOUS WORKER who really wants a car, can easily start in now and by using sensible, businesslike methods of campaigning for votes, can be a winner of a Chevrolet Touring car. It is not too late to enter—but it soon will be.

While there is a long list of names entered in this contest, thus far only a VERY FEW have shown any REAL PERSONAL INTEREST. Much of the voting has been due to friendly interest of friends who wish to see some favorite win.

You will note that the long list of competitors is being gradually cut down. We are eliminating the disinterested ones, and from now on all those who fail to make a report at least once a week, or who fail to keep in touch with the subscripeion department by reporting that they are at least interested and trying, are subject to being dropped without further notice.

Biggest Vote Offer

The biggest vote offer for the remainder of the campaign is being given this week. Up until 5 o'clock Tuesday, October 11th, there will be given a coupon good for 150,000 Extra Votes for each $10.00 worth of renewal subscription business turned in by any candidate. This offer WILL NOT BE REPEATED, and for the periods following DECIDEDLY FEWER EXTRA VOTES will be given with each $10.00, as each week the vote value is decreased. The wise workers will take advantage of this Extra Vote and do their best work RIGHT now.

The American Union is offering you a Chevrolet Touring Car in return for your time. A Chevrolet Touring Car is worth your untiring effort.

Another Cash Prize

A cash prize of $10.00 will be given on next Tuesday to the candidate who turns in the greatest amount of cash business for renewal subscriptions during the week ending October 11th at 5 p. m.

RISING MARKET SEEN FOR LIBERTY BONDS

Treasury Predicts Par Value Will Be Reached in Two Years

Washington, Sept. 30. — Liberty bonds will be selling at par value in one or two years, Treasury Department officials predicted today. Reports to the Department indicate a strong and rising market for all Government war bond issues.

Improvement in the money and investment markets, practically complete liquidation of Liberty bonds by small buyers and the fact that the war issues are finding new favor in the eyes of large and small investors, have combined to bring about higher levels, officials said.

Heretofore it has been easy to secure Liberty bonds at low figures from small buyers who were forced to sell because of lack of employment. With this flood of small sellers out of the market, purchases must be made from stronger hands consequently causing higher prices.

Officials forecast gradually increasing prices from now on, with only small and temporary setbacks.

There are fools everywhere and most of them drive automobiles.

The world is long on geniuses and short on workers.

GRAND JURY REPORT

Below will be found the report of the Grand Jury for the October term of Court of Caroline County held here this week. The court term was very only two days and the remainder of of the court only another half day.

To the Honorable Judges of the Circuit Court of Caroline County, State of Maryland.

The Grand Inquest of the State of Maryland for Caroline County having concluded its labors, most respectfully begs leave to submit its report.

We have been in session two days, examined twenty witnesses, made nine presentments, and found nine bills of indictment.

A committee of three members visited our almshouse and report as follows: We found sixteen inmates, four white male, three colored male, nine colored female, all of whom are apparently well cared for.

A committee of three members visited our jail and report as follows: We found four prisoners, two white and two colored. The prison is well kept. We recommend that repairs be made at once to the roof and blinds of the jail and that the exterior and interior be painted and the living rooms papered. We also earnestly urge the immediate repair of grate through which prisoners have and may escape.

Respectfully submitted,

W. H. TAFT RECEIVES THE JUDICIAL OATH

Supreme Court Reconvenes for Regular Fall Term

Washington, Oct. 3.—Administration of the judicial oath to William Howard Taft, new Chief Justice of the United States, marked the reconvening of the Supreme Court for the regular fall term.

The oath was administered to Mr. Taft, who thereby became the first Chief Justice to have previously occupied the highest executive office in the nation, by the senior associate justice, Joseph McKenna. The oath taken today by Mr. Taft supplemented the constitutional oath administered July 11, soon after the appointment of the former President by President Harding.

The administration of the judicial oath, the final step in the induction of a new chief justice, was attended by all the age-old ceremony attached to the nation's highest tribunal. The oath binds the chief justice "to administer justice without respect to persons and do equal right to the poor and the rich."

The induction of the chief justice accomplished, James M. Beck, the new Solicitor General of the United States, was presented to the court and then the various attorneys whose applications to practise before the court had been approved since the court's adjournment last June.

The chief Justice and the associate justices at the conclusion of these ceremonies followed the custom established years ago and went to the White House to pay their respects to the President.

TUESDAY'S REGISTRATION SHOWS MANY WANT VOTE

Last Tuesday was the first of the intermediate registration days. The other registration day for this year is next Tuesday, at which time all persons who have not registered and whose names are not on the books must register if they desire to vote in November.

Not many people registered in Denton compared to the number whose names are not on the books, and it is hoped that many more will appear next Tuesday. The polls are open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. in the Den-Mar Mobile Company store room for the second precinct, and in the office of J. Virgil Moore for the first district.

The number registered in the second precinct was 46, 19 Republicans, 26 Democrats and 1 Independent. Of this number, 32 were white. Seventeen persons were removed, 6 Republicans, 8 Democrats, 1 Prohibitionist and 2 Independents.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENED LAST WEEK

The opening of the 1921-1922 term of Washington College occurred last week. The attendance is the largest in recent years. Every available room is occupied and some have more tenants than they were intended to occupy. By the time all students are in it is expected that the attendance will reach 110 students.

A gift from Col. Clarence Dodson of New York has made possible the partial reopening of the dormitory for women. Two floors are now occupied by the students and married members of the faculty. Without doubt in another year the entire building will be filled with women students.

A department of commerce and finance has been opened this year. It is proving popular. Courses are offered in typewriting, bookkeeping, and shorthand as well as in advanced subjects, such as accounting, business administration and banking.

There are two new members of the faculty. Professor George R. Harrington, who has charge of the Department of Commerce and Finance, in the Central City College, Syracuse, N. Y., and the Cortland (N. Y.) Normal College.He has taught in several business colleges, including ten years at Pierce School, Philadelphia.

Professor W. R. Howell assumes charge of the Department of Economics and Philosophy. He took his A. B. from Milligan College, Tenn., and his M. A. from Yale, where he has also done much additional graduate study. He has taught at Washington College before.

Rally Day at the M. P. Church

A Rally Day Service of an unique character will be rendered at the Denton M. P. Church on Sunday, October 9 at 7:30 p. m.. Each department will have a part in the program. This exercise was written especially for this service. The rendition of this program bids fair to be on the same high plane as of former services. Special stereoptican slides have been made to assist in emphasizing the idea of the program.

At the Sunday School hour it is hoped to have 100 per cent of the school present.

Rev. J. A. Dudley, the pastor, will preach on "Going Forward" at the 11 a. m. service.

General Wood Retires From Army

Washington, Oct. 5.—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood retired today from active service in the Army to accept appointment as Governor-General of the Philippine Islands, thus terminating voluntarily more than 36 years of distinguished military life. His retirement was caused by insistence of Administration officials that he accept the new post and the refusal of Congress to permit him to do so while continuing his active army duties.

Octogenarian Ends Life Tragically

Mr. Isaac Bryan, aged about eighty years, committed suicide early Wednesday morning at his home in Trappe by shooting himself through the breast with a No. 8 muzzle-loading gun. The shot lodged in different parts of the body. He died a few minutes after committing the deed. For a number of years Mr. Bryan was a merchant of Trappe, but being in feeble health he sold out his business several years ago, since which time he has lived a retired life. He is survived by the following children: Mrs. Campbell Hughlett, Bruce Bryan, of Trappe; William T. Bryan of Philadelphia, owner of Howell's Point; Mrs. Charles G. Yeager, Harvey Bryan, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. William G. Dodge of Newburyport, Mass.

"PERFECT FOOD" FOUND BY HUNGARIAN SCIENTIST

Has Soy Bean as Its Base

London, Sept. 28.—The "perfect food," which resembles in all-round quality the "Biblical manna with which the Israelites were miraculously fed on their journey through the wilderness," has just been discovered by Dr. Laszlo Berczeller, a Hungarian scientist, after a series of experiments extending over eight years, according to a statement by the scientist printed in the London Times today. The American High Commissioner at Budapest and the British Minister are investigating the new food and are expected to report to their governments on it. The base of the new food is the soy bean, which is largely grown in China and Japan for food purposes.

Painting Up

The places of business of Frampton & Dukes, butchers, E. D. Kimmey and Robert Pitts, barbers, are being painted, presenting a better appearance and helping to improve the looks of the town.

PROMINENT YOUNG MAN MARRIED SATURDAY

Last Saturday evening, at the M. E. Parsonage in Easton, a quiet wedding took place in which Miss Ivy Dale Townsend, daughter of Mrs. Annia E. Townsend and the late Captain Samuel Townsend, of Easton, and Mr. Leland Short, of the firm of Smort and Company, Denton, were the principles. The wedding took place at 7 p. m., with the Rev. Mr. W. H. Briggs officiating.

Mrs. Short was formerly a nurse and served in Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore and the Easton Hospital. Mr. Short is a very energetic young man and is well liked by his large circle of friends in Denton and in the entire county.

The newly married couple will make their home at the corner of Franklin and 6th streets. They did not go on a wedding trip at this time, because of the pressure of work at the plant of Short and Company, but they will take a trip in the near future.

Mad Dog at Goldsboro

Last Saturday morning a mad dog made its appearance in the yard of County Commissioner J. Spencer Lapham about 7 o'clock. He was first seen by a colored man about the place but not until he had bitten Mr. Lapham's bird dog and another dog.

Mr. Lapham heard the commotion and ran out. Seeing the dog running up the road, he jumped in his auto, taking his gun, and started in pursuit. The dog kept ahead of the car for quite a distance, and then doubled on his tracks. Just as Mr. Lapham thought he was going to run over him the dog left the road and ran into a field. As soon as he could stop the car, Mr. Lapham aimed at the dog and killed him. Only the two dogs were bitten as far as can be found out.

Wants Squirrel Law Changed

At the session of the General Assembly of 1920 there was enacted a law prohibiting the killing of squirrel in any manner except between the date of November 10th to January 1st. This law is state-wide in effect. During the season of 1920 this Department received very few complaints from persons who desired to hunt and kill squirrel, however, reports received from throughout the state confirm the fact that squirrels, under the protection of the law, during 1920 must have increased rapidly. The Department is in receipt almost daily of complaints from persons throughout the state as to squirrels destroying their corn. Of course, squirrels would destroy corn to some extent during September when it is in a tender state.

State Game Warden LeCompte states to the public that he will request the introduction of a bill at the coming session of the General Assembly of 1922 to repeal the present law protecting squirrels and request a law to be enacted opening the season for the killing of squirrels, September 1st, 1922, instead of November 10. He hopes to secure the co-operation of the public of this state in having same enacted.

Commits Suicide With Butcher Knife

Jacob Chipman, a retired business man of Georgetown, committed suicide on Sunday, September 25, by cutting his throat with a butcher knife. He had been suffering for some time from a nervous breakdown. Without arousing his wife he got out of bed and went to the kitchen where he secured the knife. Then he went into the rear yard of his daughter's home next door and hacked his throat several times. A physician was called but Mr. Chipman died in a short time. He was a prominent man of business and considered well-to-do. At one time he was proprietor of the Eagle Hotel at Georgetown, and later engaged in the real estate business. He had not been in good health for five years. He was a brother of the late I. M. Chipman of Seaford.

Surprise Shower

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Clark were given a surprise shower on Monday evening by the members and friends of Denton M. P. Church. Quite a large crowd attended.

Potatoes Scarce and High

The white potato crop is reported unusually short throughout the county this fall, and as a result prices are soaring with each passing week. The early crop was almost a total failure and the prolonged drought greatly reduced the crop of late potatoes.

MAIL SERVICE IS STARTED HERE

Regular Carrier Has Not Yet Been Appointed—Better Time Made on Delivery

MAIL BOXES NOT UP

Denton's free delivery of mail was begun last Saturday morning by the appointment of Mr. John Emerson by Postmaster A. E. Cooper to temporarily fill the position until such time as the results of the examination were heard and the regular carrier appointed.

As all houses had not been numbered at that time and some addresses were rather vague in the mind of the new carrier, the first couple days of the service were a trifle slow, but Mr. Emerson has weathered the hardest part of the gale and is beginning to get the mail around the town in good time.

The mail boxes have not come, but as soon as they arrive they will be put up around the town and either two or three collections will be made each day, prebably early in the morning, before noon and before the evening mail goes out.

It has been no easy matter for the postoffice clerks to start this mail service and they should receive the commendation of every patron of the office. Sorting the mail out which has no street address and knowing whether the patrons want to continue to get their mail at the postoffice boxes or general delivery or have it delivered, has been the largest problem, but this will all be straightened out in a week or so and will facilitate the delivery of the mail. Mr. H. Earle Smith has been assisting in the postoffice during this extra rush of work, helping to get matters straightened out.

GERMANY RATIFIES U. S. PEACE TREATY

The Reichstag Acts, Completing the Process of Ratification—News Hailed With Satisfaction

Berlin, Sept. 30.—The German-American Peace Treaty was ratified by the Reichstag today. The Reichstag Committee on Foreign Affairs in its report upon the treaty had recommended ratification. Before the Reichstag took up the debate upon the committee's report the Cabinet appealed to the members not to touch on the "war responsibility issue" in their discussions.

Germany is the first to ratify the treaty, as the United States Senate has not yet taken such action.

Under part three of the treaty, it will be effective as soon as the German and American ratifications are formally exchanged in this city.

The treaty was signed in Berlin on August 25.

The Reichsrat, or upper chamber of the German Parliament, ratified the treaty on September 17. The action of the Reichstag today completes the process of ratification.

Washington is Pleased

Washington, Sept. 30.—The ratification of the German-American peace treaty by the Reichstag in Berlin today was hailed with deep satisfaction in high administrative quarters.

The news was immediately conveyed to President Harding at the White House and Secretary of State Hughes at the State Department and also to the Capitol, where the treaty is now under consideration.

In Administration circles the hope was expressed that the action of the Reichstag would have the effect of speeding up ratification by the United States Senate, the only act now needed for the ending of the war and the final conclusion of peace between the United States and Germany.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge (Republican), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in charge of the treaty, said:

"The action is, indeed, gratifying. It is particularly pleasing to those of us who have sought to end the technical state of war between the United States and Germany and reestablish peace between the American and German peoples.

"The importance of the early resumption of diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany is generally recognized, especially as it will lead to a complete restoration of business and trade relations between the two countries."

No Ambassador Selected

Washington, Sept. 30.—President Harding is still looking for an Ambassador to go to Berlin after the treaty is ratified. High Administration officials said today that no one has been selected for the job, and that no names are prominently under consideration now.

President Harding would have appointed William Boyce Thompson, New York, it is said, but learned that Thompson cannot leave his business interest at this time. Ellis Loring Dressel, American Commissioner at Berlin, former Ambassador David Jayne Hill, Ex-Senator Beveridge of Indiana and Nicholas Murray Butler, are among those recently mentioned, but it was said by Administration officials today that none of these will be selected.

Grist Mill Reopens

The Brockway grist mill, now owned by Mr. Harry Fooks of Laurel, Del., reopened Monday after being closed for nearly six years. The machinery was tried out last week and everything was in good working order. Mr. S. N. Harris is wiring the mill for electricity and it will operate both night and day in the near future. Mr. L. Riddleberger, who formerly was owner and manager of the Zacharias mill, near town, is manager. "The Greensboro Milling Company" is the firm name of this new enterprise.

HELP DENTON TO PROSPER—BUY HERE

The most deplorable "blot upon the escutcheon" of man is ingratitude, and the highest form of ingratitude is to antagonistically center your efforts against those to whom you look for sustenance. This is exactly what you do when you send your money away from your home community.

Fair and intelligent consideration of this question will result in the concentration of effort for the best interests of our home community. If you do not spend your money at home we cannot grow. Reciprocity and cooperation are our salvation. Rules for self protection must be made and adhered to by our citizens . That which hampers, limits, cripples and retards must of necessity be done away with. That which tends to prosperity and plenty must be encouraged. We are now moving toward the light through the vista of folly, and if we only obey the simple and just rule of buying at home, no one can estimate the great riches and benefits that will yet be ours.

The well meaning citizens who are advocating the buy-at-home-idea are honorable and friendly aids of prosperity, peace and plenty.

Buy at home and all the happiness and contentment that is the reward of a clean, clear conscience and righteous action are yours.

Your all depends upon the business conditions of your home community. Don't you see that when you send your money away you are lowering the business standard, and thereby doing your friends, your town and yourself a gross injustice?

Wives, talk this important question over with your husbands. Husbands, impress the importance of this upon your wives. This mail order buying is more or less of a fad—a craze that will—yes, must be eliminated for the very simple reason that it is not consistent with good business judgment or common sense to invest money in such a manner.

for identification ad that the words community retrogression. Put your shoulder to the wheel and boost. Nothing you can get out of a catalogue can take the place of horse sense. Buy at home and persuade your neighbor to do likewise.

Man Who Saved T. R. Dead

Henry F. Cochems, attorney and author of Milwaukee, known as the man who saved Theodore Roosevelt from an assassin, died at the Red Cross Hospital at Salida, Col., recently.

With Theodore Roosevelt he bolted the Republican party and was a strong leader of the Progressive party.

He was standing near Roosevelt when he was shot by an assassin in Milwaukee. Cochems seized the man and prevented him from firing a second time.
