WHEN OFFICERS VIOLATE THE LAWS

In his charge to the Grand Jury on Monday, Chief Justice Adkins stated that the conditions found in any community, in any county or any section are exactly those sanctioned by the people of that particular locality. If indecencies and violations of the law are prevailing in Caroline County, it is because the people allow them. He called the Grand Jury the clearing house for the county which, when matters were brought to its attention, was to investigate, and where violations were found, was to bring true bills before the court for sentence.

In the reply of the grand jury made Wednesday afternoon that body stated that the reports of violations of laws, and especially of the 18th amendment, are not as many nor as bad as stated. This is encouraging, yet in the same report is cited an instance of a justice of the peace charged with violating the very laws he is sworn to protect. Many reports have been circulated of the violation of the laws by several of the officers of the county, and the grand jury calls attention to the fact that when officers of the law violate the laws, disrespect and discontent on the part of the people will follow. It is to be hoped that all officers will heed the warning of the grand jury, and will carry out the letter of the law for themselves as well as for others.

SHALL C. H. S. LOSE THIS YEAR?

Last year the track and field teams of Caroline High School won the Eastern Shore championship, but were defeated when they came up against the Western Shore champions, not because our boys did not have grit or pluck, or were of inferior material, but—we say it in a whisper—because we as a town failed to provide a suitable place for them to practice.

For instance, our boys were accustomed to play soccer on a field which was far under the correct size called for by the rules of the game. As a result, they were forced to play and practice in close formation, and when they were put on a standard size field, against a team accustomed to play in open formation, our boys were unable to adjust themselves to this very important feature, and as a consequence, they lost the state championship.

Considering the grounds on which our boys had to practice, they did more than remarkably well. Will you not help them this year to prepare for the championship games by giving the financial aid necessary for securing a suitable field?

Denton is in sore need of a public playground, a field or a park where Dentonians can have or hold anything they wish, be it Chautauqua, carnival, baseball games, public playground, under the supervision of a trained instructor. By helping the boys we will in reality be helping ourselves.

Each year the schools of the county hold an annual track and field day, and as the county seat and most centrally located, Denton should be the scene of the affair. It is not possible at present, however, for lack of grounds. If immediate action is taken, the track meet can probably be held here next spring.

There is a plot of ground, centrally located, which can be procured now for playground and public purposes. It has been leased for the next year by a few public-spirited men for the use of the boys in practicing. It is desired to purchase this lot with funds secured from public contributions, for a permanent playground and athletic field. Are you willing to do your share toward helping the boys win? If so, see Mr. William I. Norris and give him your donations.

Not only are the donations from the older folks asked, but every boy and every girl now in school in Denton should make a point of helping secure this field. Talking over the matter at home will help, but better still, outside of school hours, earning a nickel or a dime, and contributing this sum through the teacher. Every boy ought to raise at least a dollar, and the girls should be not far behind.

Shallwe all help to buy a playground? Let's do it for Denton!

N. E. A. APPEALS FOR FUNDS TO AID STRICKEN SMYRNA

Blame whom you will for the Smyrna horror; the least Americans over here can do is to contribute promptly and generously to the Smyrna Emergency Fund of the Near East Relief. From Constantinople headquarters, Director Jacquith of this organized American relief agency for Anatolia, chartered by Congress, was sent immediately to Smyrna on a United States Destroyer with a medical unit and supplies. Responding to the request of the U. S. State Department to do its utmost, Near East Relief advanced $25,000 and then a second $25,000, first in food, medical supplies and stores collected at Constantinople for its regular work; and, since the fire, some steamers besides destroyers have been secured to transport refugees — homeless, helpless men, women and children—and convey them to places of greater safety where they will not starve to death or breed pestilence. How Maryland best can help Smyrna relief will be a special feature at the Maryland Conference on October 11, at First Unitarian Church, Charles and Franklin Sts., Baltimore. Send checks for this special emergency fund to Maryland Near East Relief, John E. Boisseau, Treasurer, 14 W. Franklin St., Baltimore, Md.
