MR. WALLIS' POSITION.

The radical reformers held a mass meeting in Baltimore on Tuesday night, at which a letter was read from Mr. S. to third. document, and a city cotemporary justly says that it does not place him in any better light before the voters of Maryland than did his previous endorsement of the unclean combination which has been formed to overthrow the Democratic party. It displays all the arts of the rhetorician, and as a model of English composition it is not bad; but for all that his best friends will regret, for the sake of his reputation, that he has written it, and thus irrevocably pronounced his separation from his party friends and affiliations.

Maryland, or seek to set up a new party in its stead, is of no avail, and no one personal pique, which his nomination for the State. another position would, in part, have
