Auquel effet les dits consuls et vice-consuls s'addresseront aux tribunaux, juges et officiers competens, et leur fe-

Convention of Navigation and Commerce between the United States of America and His Majesty the King of France and Navarre.

The United States of America and His Majesty the King of France and Navarre, being desirous of settling the relations of navigation and commerce between their respective nations, by a temporary convention reciprocally beneficial and satisfactory, and thereby of leading to a more permanent and comprehensive arrangement, have respectively furnished their full powers in manner following, that is to say: The President of the United States to JOHN QUINCY ADAMS, their Secretary of State: and His Most Christian Majesty, to the Baron HYDE DE NEUVILLE, Knight of the Royal & Military Order of St. Louis Commander of the Legion of Honor, Grand Cross of the Royal American Order of Isabella the Catholic, his Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary near the United States; who, after exchanging their full powers, have agreed on the following articles:

ARTICLE 1st.

Articles of the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United States, imported into France in vessels of the United States, shall pay an additional duty, not exceeding twenty francs per ton of merchandize over and above the duties paid on the like articles, also of the growth, produce, or manufacture, of the United States, when imported in French vessels.

ARTICLE 2.

Articles of the growth, produce, or manufacture of France, imported into the United States in French vessels, shall pay an additional duty, not exceeding three dollars and seventy-five cents per ton of merchandize over and above the duties collected upon the like articles, also of the growth, produce, or manufacture, of France when imported in vessels of the United States.

ARTICLE 3.

No discriminating duty shall be levied upon the productions of the soil or industry of France, imported in French bottoms into the ports of the United States for transit or re-exportation: nor shall any such duties be levied upon the productions of the soil or industry of the United States, imported in vessels of the United States into the ports of France for transit or re-exportation.

ARTICLE 4.

The following quantities shall be considered as forming the ton of merchandize for each of the articles hereinafter specified:

Wines—four 61 gallon hogsheads, or 244 gallons of 231 cubic inches, American measure.

Brandies, and all other liquids, 244 gallons.

Silks and other dry goods, and all other articles usually subject to measurement, forty-two cubic feet French, in France, and fifty cubic feet American measure, in the United States.

ARTICLE 5.

The duties of tonnage, light-money, pilotage, port charges, brokerage, and all other duties upon foreign shipping, over and above those paid by the national shipping in the two countries respectively, other than those specified in articles 1 and 2 of the present convention, shall not exceed in France, for vessels of the United States, five francs per ton of the vessel's American register; nor for vessels of France in the United States, ninety-four cents per ton of the vessel's French passport.

ARTICLE 6.

The contracting parties, wishing to favour their mutual commerce by affording in their ports every necessary assistance to their respective vessels, have agreed that the consuls and vice consuls, may cause to be arrested the sailors, being part of the crews of the vessels of their respective nations, who shall have deserted from the said vessels, in order to send them back and transport them out of the country. For which purpose the said consuls and vice consuls shall address themselves to the courts, judges, and cont, par ecrit, la demande des dits deserteurs, en justifiant par l'exhibition des registres du batiment ou role d'equipage ou autres documens officiels que ces hommes faisaient partie des dits equipages. Et sur cette demande ainsi justifiee, sauf toutefois la preuve contraire, l'extradition ne pourra etre refusee, et il sera donne toute aid et assistance aux dits consuls et vice-consuls pour la recherche, saise et arrestation des susdits deserteurs, lesquels seront meme detenus et gardes dans les prisons du pays a leur requisition, et a leurs frais, jusqu'a ce qu'ils ayent trouve occasion de les renvoyer; mais s'ils n'etaient renvoye dans le delai de trois mois a compter du jour de leur arret, ils seront elargis et ne pourront plus etre arretes pour la meme cause.

ARTICLE 7.

La presente convention temporaire aura son plien effet pendant deux ans a partir du 1er. Octobre prochain, et meme apres l'expiration de ce terme, elle sera maintenue jusqu'a la conclusion d'un traite definitif, ou jusqu'a ce que l'une des parties ait declare a l'autre son intention d'y rancncer, laquelle declaration devra etre faite au moins six mois d'avance.

Et dans le cas ou la presente convention viendrait a continuer, sans cette declaration par l'une ou l'autre partie, les droits extraordinaires specifies dans les 1 et 2 articles, seront, a l'expiration des dites deux annees, diminues de part et d'autre d'un quart de leur montant, et successivement d'un quart du dit montant d'annee en annee, aussi longtems qu'aucune des parties n'aura declare son intention d'y renoncer, ainsi qu'il est dit ci-dessus.

ARTICLE 8.

La presente convention sera ratifice de part et d'autre, et les ratifications seront echanges dans l'espace d'une annee a compter de ce jour, ou plutot si faire se peut. Mais l'execution de la dite convention commencera dans le deux pays le primiere Octobre prochain, et aura son effet, dans le cas meme de non-ratification, pour tous batimens partis bona fide pour les ports de l'une ou l'autre nation, dans la confiance qu'elle etait en vigueur.

En foi de quoi, les Plenipotentiaires respectifs ont signe la presente convention, et y ont appose leur sceaux, en la ville de Washington, ce 24me jour de Juin, de l'an de notre seigneur, 1822.

officers competent, and shall demand the said deserters in writing, proving, by an exhibition of the registers of the vessel, or ship's roll, or other official documents, that those men were part of said crews; and on this demand, so proved, (saving however where the contrary is proved,) the delivery shall not be refused; and there shall be given all aid and assistance to the said consuls and vice-consuls for the search, seizure and arrest, of said deserters, who shall even be detained and kept in the prisons of the country, at their request and expense, until they shall have found an opportunity of sending them back. But if they be not sent back within three months, to be counted from the day of their arrest, they shall be set at liberty, and shall be no more arrested for the same cause.

ARTICLE 7.

The present temporary convention shall be in force for two years from the first day of October next, and even after the expiration of that term, until the couclusion of a definitive treaty, or until one of the parties shall have declared its intention to renounce it; which declaration shall be made at least six months before hand.

And in case the present arrangement should remain without such declaration of its continuance by either party, the extra duties specified in the 1st and 2d articles, shall, from the expiration of the said two years, be, on both sides, diminished by one-fourth of their whole amount, and, afterwards, by one-fourth of the said amount from year to year, so long as neither party shall have declared the intention of renouncing it as above stated.

ARTICLE 8.

The present convention shall be ratified on both sides, and the ratifications shall be exchanged within one year from the date hereof, or sooner, if possible. But the execution of the said convention shall commence in both countries on the 1st of October next, and shall be effective, even in case of non-ratification, for all such vessels as may have sailed bona fide for the ports of either nation, in the confidence of its being in force.

In faith whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the present convention, and have thereto affixed their seals, at the city of Washington, this 24th day of June, A. D. 1822.

G. HYDE DE NEUVILLE, [L. S.]

ARTICLE SEPARE.

Les droits extraordinaires leves de part et d'autre jusqu'a ce jour, en vertu de l'acte du Congress du 15 Mai, 1820, et de l'ordonnance du 26 Juillet de la meme annee et autres la confirmant, qui n'ont point deja ete rembourses, seront restitues. Signe et scelle comme ci dessus ce 24me jour de Juin, 1822.

SEPERATE ARTICLE.

The extra duties levied on either side before the present day, by virtue of the act of Congress of the 15th May 1820, and of the ordonnance of the 26th July of the same year, and others confirmative thereof, and which have not already been paid back, shall be refunded.

Signed and sealed as above, this 24th day of June, 1822.

G. HYDE DE NEUVILLE, [L. S.]

Now, therefore, be it known, that I, JAMES MONROE, President of the United States, have caused the said Convention and first separate article to be made public; to the end that the same, and every clause and article thereof, may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States and the citizens thereof.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the [L. S.] seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this twelfth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty-three, and of the Independence of the United States the forty-seventh.

JAMES MONROE.
