MORALS RELIGION AND COMMON SENSE

Your flag flies no higher than your heart.

Old Glory doesn't need praise as much as loyalty.

The flag shines fairer as we serve better.

You can't expect any law to enforce itself.

"The wicked flee when no man pursueth," but they make better time when someone is after them.

Exalting goods above human good is the essence of materialism.

Padlocks, burglar alarms and prisons are reminders of the reality of sin.

The Lord prepares a table before His children but too many of them are on a diet.

The fortunate circumstances of our lives are generally found, at last, to be of our own making.

It is always hard to correct a child for a habit that his father taught him.

Eastern Shore Happenings

Georgetown, Del., April 30.—Like a bolt from a clear sky, a freak cyclonic disturbance swept over a portion of Indian River district yesterday, cutting a path about one hundred yards wide and about five hundred yards long.

A new building, being erected by former Representative Asher H. Linge, near Warwick, was moved from its foundation a distance of about eight feet and almost completely destroyed.

Many of the timbers were carried to a nearby wood and deposited in the tops of trees. The storm, in its short distance, uprooted several large trees. It seems to have done all of the damage on the Linge farm, as no trace of it can be found anywhere else in that section.

Linge and several carpenters were on top of the building getting ready to build the roof. They noticed what appeared to be a rain cloud approaching from the north, coming at a rapid rate. They hurriedly climbed from the building and within a few minutes the freak "twister" seemed to settle on the building.

Linge was standing some distance away and one of the flying timbers struck him on the head, inflicting a gash which required thirteen stitches to close. He was unconscious for several hours, and for a time it was feared that death would result.

While Linge's condition is serious, there is hope held out that he will recover.

The injured man is one of the most widely known residents in the Eighth district and a few years ago served as a member of the lower house of the Delaware Legislature. For many years he has been engaged in the mercantile business near Warwick.

Felton, Del., May 2—Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur B. Friedel and their two daughters, Ruth and Grace, who were killed on Wednesday when their automobile was struck by a train at Felton, were buried side by side in the grave-yard of historic Barrett's Chapel today.

For more than two hours thousands of persons passd through the church and viewed the victims in front of the altar.

Mrs. Effie Friedel, 80, mother of Mr. Friedel, who saw her son and most of his family killed as she stood on the porch and waved good-by, has been prostrated since the tragedy and was unable to be present.

* * *

Lewes, Del., April 30—The large pier of the Lewes Fisheries Company that projects into Delaware Bay here was destroyed by fire early this morning. Several small buildings and an elevator were also wrecked.

Fire companies from Lewes, Georgetown and Seaford rsponded to calls for aid, but it was impossible to move the equipment over the soft marshes.

Coast guards from the Lewes station formed a bucket brigade and made a determined, but futile, effort to stop the spread of flames.

The loss is estimated at $75,000.

* * *

Salisbury, Md., April 29—The Improved Order of Red Men today selected Annapolis for its 1927 great council, with the acceptance of an invitation from Governor Ritchie, who offered the State House, as a council chamber. The Governor's invitation was augmented by others from the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and Lions' Clubs and the Chesapeake Tribe of that town.

The officers elected this morning were:

Great Sachem, Robert M. Stockslager of Hagerstown.

Great senior sagamore, Ben W. Turner, Salisbury.

Great junior sagamore, William E. Bush, Baltimore.

Great chief of records, Dr. James C. Littleton, Baltimore.

Great keeper of wampum, James D. Brown, Fruitland.

Chestertown, Md., May 2—On the eve of the corn-planting season Kent farmers find themselves confronted with a condition which promises to seriously affect this season's yield of corn, if they are not careful in the selection of seed corn.

It has been found that there is a large quantity of mouldy and damaged ears of corn from which the seed was about to be selected.

County Agent Horace B. Derrick, having been apprised of the situation, has arranged a series of meetings with the growers for the purpose of testing corn to be planted during the spring.

The cold weather has greatly delayed planting, and Professor Derrick will take advantage of this fact in order to save the growers the risk of a poor yield next fall.

Centreville, May 1—An announcement of tremendous importance to Centreville and Queenstown, in particular, and the whole of Queen Anne's county, in general, was made yesterday by O. L. Tunis, general manager of the Baltimore & Eastern Shore Ferry Line, to the effect that fast and convenient ferry service is to be established today between Quenstown and Bay Shore.

The line has the financial backing of Michael Schloss, wealthy and influential Baltimore clothing manufacturer, who incidentally is a Centreville real estate owner.

Beginning this morning one of the handsome and spacious double end ferries operated by the company, will be put on the Queenstown route, leaving Queenstown each morning at 7:30 o'clock and returning from Bay Shore each afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Of particular interest, in connection with the announcement, is the statement that at an early date steps probably will be taken to operate a commodious motor bus from various shore towns through Centreville to Queenstown, which will also convey passengers from Bay Shore, directly into the heart of Baltimore.

Manager Tunis stated yesterday that service from Queenstown was being resumed with the determination to make this line a profitable venture for the company and also to provide thor-

Delmar, Del., April 30.—The trustees of the Delmar (Delaware) School have been notified that the referendum vote taken in March, 1925, to consolidate several of the rural districts with Delmar, has been confirmed. The districts affected are Providence, Beach's, Morris and Columbia and a building program has been presented, looking toward a school large enough to accomodate local and rural students.
