Almost every day the papers chronicle the suicide of some poor unfortunate whose mind has been enfeebled by dyspepsia, over whose early horizon a heavy gloom has gathered from the untold and untellable agonies of this cruel complaint. Dyspepsia is one of the most depressing diseases afflicting humanity. It is cosmolitan in its nature-no country is exempt from its visitations, no family free from its attacks. There is a balm in Gilead; t comes in the shape of the PERUVIAN Syrup. For years it has been scattering its blessings abroad. There is, probably, no disease which experience has so amply provided to be remidable by the PERUVIAN Syrup as Dyspepsia. The most inveterate forms of this disease have been completely cured by this medicine, as ample estimony of many of our citizens prove.
