EDITORIAL NOTES.

Maryland has rendered its verdict on the Wilson Administration in no uncertain terms, says the Baltimore Sun. No one has expected the Democratic party to maintain its large majority in Congress the country over. It has been recognized that a large part of that majority was due to the activities of Mr. Roosevelt and his followers two years ago. With the diminution, not to say collapse, of the Bull Moose movement it was supposed to be inevitable, in Maryland as elsewhere, that the Republicans would make enormous gains over their showing of 1912. Yet Maryland has sent a Democratic Senator and five Democratic Representatives to Congress.

Whatever interpretation may be placed upon this action, it can but be regarded as a splendid triumph for President Wilson and the policies he represents. Senator Smith and the Congressmen who have been re-elected from this State were loyal followers of his. They stood steadily behind him in the tariff legislation, in the currency legislation, in the trust legislation, in the canal tolls repeal and all other party measures constituting that remarkable body of legislation which Congress enacted under the leadership of the President. They appealed for the people's support because they had supported the President. And the result shows that they read the popular mind aright.

On November 16th the new currency system will be put into effect all over the country. The 12 regional government-controlled banks will begin business as banks for bankers. This system contains the best and most valuable features to be found in the banking systems of the entire world, and it will be the beginning of the greatest era of prosperity ever known, and it will be an era that no panics will be able to puncture. The great benefit to be derived from these new banks is easily explained. For instance, suppose a bank loans $100,000 to the business men of its community, and more business men wanted another $75,000 which the bank could not spare. Under the old or present system the last set of men would go without the loan, and so business and industry would suffer accordingly, in that town or county. Under the new system, the local bank would deposit the securities it received as collateral for the first loan, with the government regional bank and borrow the $75,000 therefrom at about four per cent and then lend it out at about 5 per cent. So under this system no legitimate industry can ever suffer for want of money, and financial panics will be impossible.

The forty-eighth annual session of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, will meet in Wilmington November 10 to 21. Fully three thousand delegates and visitors from thirty-four States are expected to attend.

The State executive committee of the Delaware Federation of Women's Clubs, which met at Bridgeville, passed resolutions commending President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan for their neutral position in the present European war.

Now that the campaign is out of the way, people can give undivided attention to business. And business will soon be booming all over the country, notwithstanding the doleful predictions of calamity howlers.

"Made in America" will soon be the sign of goods bought abroad. The United States is rapidly becoming the great market of all supplies for the world.

Potash From Germany.

Ten thousand tons of potash from Germany has been arranged for by the American Ambassador. This is a most important announcement. It is something to bring a sense of profound relief to the American agriculturalist. It is a tonic to the nerves of the fertilizer manufacturers who have been at a standstill because of the lack of this prime ingredient to serviceable fertilizer compounds. The exportation of potash was forbidden upon the outbreak of the war, but a new policy is now in effect.

This new policy also relates to goods shipped from Switzerland that were stopped in Germany. This embargo has also been lifted. The United States has been the best customer Germany has had for potash, the importations for the fiscal year ending being worth $9,813,263.

The efforts made to produce domestic supplies of potash thus far have been failures and the dependence of the United States upon Germany continues. It is, therefore, of the highest interest to the agricultural and the fertilizer interests to have the way opened for the importing of potash.

To Settle a Mooted Question.

Comptroller Emerson C. Harrington has intimated that he might refuse to recognize the legality of the two bills passed by the last Legislature, but not signed by the Governor until several months later, and decline to pay the appropriations specified in the bills, on the ground that the Governor had failed to sign them within the six days after presentation to him, as provided by law.

One of the bills appropriates $10,000 for the purchase of Perkins' Annotated Maryland Reports and the other makes an appropriation for the benefit of a man in Somerset county who aided in making an arrest some years ago.

If the Comptroller refuses to pay the money the beneficiaries probably will bring suit, and the mooted question as to when the Governor may legally approve a bill will be the issue.

Miscellaneous Matters.

Maryland farmers produced 452,000 tons of tame or cultivated hay during 1914, according to the preliminary estimates made by the United States Department of Agriculture. The yield last year was 491,000 tons. The product is selling for an average of $15.30 per ton, compared with $12.20 per ton in 1913. The yield per acre this season is 1.16 tons and the quality is not as good as that of the average crop of the past ten years.

Mrs. Ethel P. Browne, wife of Hugh C. Browne, a well-known attorney and former postmaster of Wilmington, has brought divorce proceedings against her husband, alleging desertion. Browne is now in Central City, Col., Mrs. Browne, who was Miss Ethel Parvis, of Middletown, comes of a prominent Delaware family. Mr. Browne is well-known in this county.

The Roman Auto Co., formerly situated at 249-251 N. Broad St., Philadelphia, have moved to their new quarters, 245-347 N. Broad St. These quarters are merely temporary, consequent to the removal to their new seven-story concrete building which is now in the course of completion.

According to the figures of the Department of Agriculture the yield per acre of the principal crops of this State in 1914 will be as follows: Corn, 42.5 bushels; buckwheat, 22 bushels; Irish potatoes, 122 bushels; sweet potatoes, 146 bushels, and tobacco, 870 pounds.

Prof. J. E. Metzger has been appointed supervisor and inspector of agricultural departments in the high school of the State. He will preside at a meeting of high school teachers in agriculture at the State Normal School in Baltimore on November 20-21.

The directors of the Delaware State fair have announced that the 1915 fair will be held on September 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. It is proposed to make the 1915 fair the greatest in the history of the association.

I beg to announce the opening of my dental office in the Masonic Building, Denton, Md. 'Phone connection.—Dr. J. H. Summerfield.

Maryland Week, November 17-21.

The Maryland farmer or his family who can possibly arrange to spend part of Maryland week in Baltimore should not fail to do so. He can see there as no where else the best that Maryland can produce agriculturally, and if his neighborhood is not represented either in the club exhibits or the general display he will go home determined to come again the next year and show the other fellows that he can do as well or better in raising corn or apples, or that his wife can put up the equal of anyone's fruit or that his boy or girl can write an essay that will tell what there is in the Maryland farm life to be proud of as well as the next boy or girl in the State.

Apples Plentiful.

The following is the fruit report of the Delaware division of the Pennsylvania railroad for last week: Apples, 7,823 baskets; pears, 12,352 baskets; tomatoes, 763 baskets; sweet potatoes, 8,496 barrels; white potatoes, 105 barrels. The total shipments to date, including those of last week, are: Apples, 659,085 baskets; pears, 357,791 baskets; sweet potatoes, 78,910 barrels; tomatoes, 835,945 baskets; white potatoes, 195,407 barrels.

Obituary.

Mrs. Mollie Albright (nee Cooper) died at her home, at Columbus, N. J., October 20, 1914, after a long illness. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, and four sisters—Mrs. George Porter and Mrs. Edward Long, of Denton; Mrs. Fred Hannum, of Camden, N. J., and Mrs. John Davis, of New York. Funeral services were held in the M. E. Church by Rev. W. Wainwright, of Barnegat, N. J., and Rev. Wm. Bilderback, of Florence, N. J. Interment took place in Columbus cemetery.

Her willing hands are folded,
Her toils on earth are done.
Her troubles are all ended,
Her heavenly crown is won.

Ofttimes we seem to be cheerful,
We smile and they think we're gay,
But alas, we're gloomy and tearful
Because of our dear ones so far away.
—Sister, MRS. GEORGE W. PORTER.

In loving remembrance of our dear son, Clarence Vickery, who departed this life November 1st, 1913.

Ever faithful.

In the graveyard softly sleeping,
Where the grasses gently wave,
Lies the one we loved so dearly,
In the lonely, silent grave.

Farewell, dear Clarence, may your slumber
Be as gentle as your love;
And when God calls us heavenward,
May we meet you in Heaven above.

Silent the shades of evening
Gather around our lonely door,
Silently they bring before us
That kind, dear face we'll see no more.

Oh, smile upon us from above,
Ask God to lead us when we die,
That we may meet you once again,
Some sweet day bye and bye.
—By his PAPA AND MAMA.

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear sister, Edith Thawley Trice, who left us just two years ago—October 30, 1912.

Oh, how lonely seems the hours
Since you left us here to roam,
Yet you told us you were going
To that bright and happy home.

Then—

We would not call thee back, dear sister,
To this world so full of woe,
But we expect some day to go and meet you,
When we leave this world below.
—Sister, C. N. B.

In remembrance of my darling, Lizzie Webber, beloved wife of John E. Webber, who departed this life five weeks ago the 3rd of November.

In the graveyard softly sleeping,
Where the flowers will gently wave,
Is the one we love so dearly,
In her lonely, silent grave.

She is gone but not forgotten,
She will meet me here no more;
But I hope some day to meet her
On that happy golden shore.
—JOHN E. WEBBER.

"The way to prevent age from telling is to eat only nourishing food, to go to bed early, rise early and take plenty of healthful exercise." This was the specific given by George W. Haulenbeek, veteran stenographer of the legal department of the Baltimore and Ohio, who was 71 years old a few days ago.

For Sale—A Michigan automobile, run less than 5,000 miles, in good shape every way; fully equipped; electric lights and starter.—C. H. Redden, Denton.

A hen's singing isn't as pretty as a canary's, but it sounds more profitable. If you want your hens to sing, feed them Fairfield's Blood Tonic and Egg Producer for Poultry Only. The result is 20 per cent more eggs or get back your money.—John Clark, Hardware, Greensboro.

Feed and water will keep a cow alive, but Fairfield's Blood Tonic and Milk Producer will keep her healthy and increase her yield of milk. See that your cows get it regularly and thus insure no more milk fever, abortion or red water.—John Clark, Hardware, Greensboro.
