EDITORIAL NOTES.

Be frank to the world. Frankness is the child of honesty and courage. Say just what you mean to do on every occasion and take it for granted that you mean to do just what is right. If a friend asks you a favor, you should grant it, if it is reasonable; if it is not, tell him plainly why you cannot. You will wrong him and wrong yourself by equivocation of any kind. Never do wrong to make a friend or keep one; the man who requires you to do so is dearly purchased, and at a sacrifice. Deal kindly and firmly with all men and you will find it the policy which wears the best. Above all, do not appear to others what you are not. If you have any fault to find with anyone, tell him, not others, of what you complain. There is no more dangerous experiment than that of undertaking to do one thing to a man's face and another to his back. We should live, act and speak out of doors as the phrase is, and say and do what we are willing should be known and read of men.—Ex.

"I never read history that is past," says a prominent multimillionaire now undergoing severe international public criticism because of good intentions that are not guided by sound judgment. It is this excessive contemporaneousness, caring neither for the past nor for the future, that is the bane of so much of the world's theory of living today. A rootless and a fruitless plant is the analogy that fits it. In reality, of course, there can be no such compartmental living. The past does condition the present, as that does the future; and a man who declines to know the past is none the less shaped by it. Boasted ignorance of the past only provokes pity for the boaster, felt by educated and reflective men.—Ex.

That the State Tax Commission in the first year of its existence has dug up and put on the books $13,640,318 in intangible property is in a table prepared and given out by that body this week, a copy of which has been received at this office. This does not include Baltimore county, in which there was an increase of about $6,000,000, nor Baltimore city. These two political divisions are omitted from the table because each has a special agent not under the supervision of the State Tax Commission, whose duty it is to look after this class of property and get it on the books. In Caroline the amount of intangible property put on the books is $89,303.

"These New Year's days are a summons to a higher service, nobler achievements, loftier aspirations. We are under obligation to make each new pathway we tread count for progress, and each new year another opportunity to press forward in some fresh undertaking, some spiritual enterprise. We are called upon, today, to enlarge our vision, increase our efficiency, multiply our usefulness, strengthen our influence."—Methodist Protestant.

Mr. Lloyd Wilkinson, one of the Baltimore members of the House of Delegates, declares that the session of the Legislature can be readily cut down to 60 days if the members want to convince the people of the State that they really wish to serve them. All the business of the General Assembly, he added, could easily be completed in that time.

"Tench Tilghman's Ride," by Rev. Dr. Oliver Huckel, was sent by the provost of the University of Pennsylvania as a Christmas greeting to the 20,000 living graduates of that institution in all parts of the world.

"Look not mournfully into the past; it comes not back again. Wisely improve the present; it is thine." A good motto for the New Year.

Governor-elect Harrington will be inaugurated on Wednesday, January 12th.

Annapolis is getting ready for the coming of the law-makers.

Kind Appreciation and Pleasant Greeting.

To the Editors of the JOURNAL:

At this season, when it is customary to send our friends expressions of good wishes for the New Year, it gives us much pleasure to address such a communication to you.

Since advertising through your columns we have received many large and valuable orders from points heretofore foreign to our trade, to say nothing of numerous inquiries seeking special information concerning the Baltimore market, and it goes without saying the drawing, sweep and attention your paper is commanding.

It is, therefore, with great pleasure that we extend our hearty wishes for your continued success, on this, the eve of the New Year.

Very truly yours,
EDW. P. FOOTE & CO.,
BY E. P. FOOTE.

Secretary Redfield Warns.

Secretary Redfield's report dealing with the shad industry, in which so many people in this section of the State years ago were interested, is as follows:

"Among the fishes of which there was a reduced output are the blue back and humpback salmon, shad, haddock, pollock. Most noteworthy and most serious of the cases of diminished production is that of the shad in the Chesapeake basin, where the hatcheries were practically put out of commission because they could not reach their spawning grounds on account of the impassable barriers of nets in the Chesapeake Bay and at the mouths of rivers. The shad industry of Maryland and Virginia is being steadily destroyed. It is hardly worth while longer to run the hatcheries at Havre de Grace.

"The most serious condition exists in the Chesapeake basin, where in 1915 the fishery was the poorest ever known following a season that was the poorest in a generation. The shad, coming in from the sea on its way to the spawning grounds in fresh water, receives no protection other than that afforded by the laws requiring certain channels or ranges to be kept open for the passage of vessels and boats. Shad fisheries built, maintained and operated by the Federal Government at great expense, have practically been put out of commission by the inability to obtain eggs for hatching purposes. The next step must be the abandonment of fish-cultural work in localities where it is not appreciated and the concentration of effort in communities where the maintenance of the fish supply is regarded as a serious function of state."

In the face of such warnings the States of Maryland and Virginia ought to hesitate no longer in providing legislation prohibiting the long stake nets responsible for the destruction of the fishing industry.

The Peninsula Horticultural Society will meet in Easton on January 11, 12 and 13. This meeting always opens the second Tuesday of every year and continues three days. This year an unusually good program has been arranged. Prof. Whitten, of Missouri, will make three addresses during the session. Prof. Symons, Prof. Shaw, Prof. Cory and Prof. Temple, of the Maryland Experiment Station, will all talk on very practical subjects connected with fruit-growing.

The prevalence of fire blight on apples and pears the past season will make the subject of great interest. Prof. McCue, of Delaware, will discuss peach-growing. Prof. Farley, of New Jersey, will also make an address. Dr. Patterson will discuss horticultural education, which is now a very timely topic. The Bureau of Markets, of Washington, will send a man to talk on that subject, and the Department of Agriculture will send an expert on spraying. In addition to these, the best practical fruit and vegetable growers of the Peninsula will be on hand to talk over their problems. Every farmer in the two States should plan to attend this meeting.

Lines to Be Connected.

Day & Zimmerman, the well-known Philadelphia engineers, under whose management the several gas and electric properties on the Eastern Shore were recently purchased and consolidated, took over the Idlewild Electric Company, of Federalsburg, last week, and will make it a part of their system to be known as the Eastern Shore Gas & Electric Company. This concern is now looking at some other properties on the Eastern Shore, with a view of ultimately combining all the local companies in the various towns on the Peninsula into one large concern. Work will be started at once by Messrs. Day & Zimmerman to build the various transmission lines necessary to tie up all these properties into one body.

Duck Raising on Large Scale.

The number of commercial duck farms in the country is increasing somewhat, it is said, but the production of ducks on general farms is decreasing, especially in the Middle West. The last census reports show that ducks were kept on only 7.9 per cent. of the farms in the country. The demand for duck eggs is more limited than for hen eggs, and the demand for table ducks at good prices is to a great extent confined to large cities and is not nearly as general as the demand for chicken, or fowls. For this reason it is advisable to study the market conditions before making any large investment in ducks. Two big duck farms have been in successful operation in Southern Caroline for several years.

More Families Get Rural Mail.

Postoffice Department officials declare that the reorganization of the rural mail delivery service in Maryland, which has caused more or less complaint from many of the counties, has not only saved $17,000 annually to the Government, but has resulted in giving free delivery to many additional families. The rural mail service has been reorganized in Caroline, Cecil, Dorchester, Kent, Queen Anne's, Talbot, Wicomico, and Worcester. In Caroline county seven routes were absorbed by the extension of other routes, saving to the Government $6,340 annually. Forty-six families were inconvenienced by being compelled to move their boxes.

Miscellaneous Matters.

Fall or winter pruning of grape vines in the home garden, as well as on the commercial plantation, may be done at any time during mild weather while the vines are in a dormant condition. In general, the period from November to March gives the most satisfactory results, but the work should in all cases be done at least a week or ten days before the vines are likely to start into growth.

A Government revenue collector has been in the counties and compelled sellers of "cream of hops," "hop tonic," and other similar brands of soft drinks to take out a government license of $25, or pay a fine of the amount for selling same in the past. These beverages are said to contain 2 per cent. alcohol.

Mr. P. Watson Webb, editor of the Cambridge Record and the Cambridge Banner, is a candidate for the position of Secretary to the Senate.

Mr. Chas. Rowens, of near Preston, has been visiting Easton relatives.

The Grip Has Come Again.

"Grip is prevalent in many places, and our county is hit hard in some sections. Health Commissioner Blake, of Baltimore, says: "If you get the grip, keep by yourself as much as possible. If you feel ill, go to bed and stay there. Send for a reliable doctor. Cover your face when sneezing and don't expectorate in public. See that your eating and drinking utensils are washed separately from those of the rest of the family. Don't take the patent grip medicines."

Chestnut Grove.

We are sorry to know that Mrs. Will Pennypacker still has to use her crutches, from the effect of a kick by a horse while she was riding in a dearborn early in the fall.

Mr. William Pennypacker has moved into his new bungalow, just completed.

Miss Mary Everngam is spending the holidays in Cambridge.

Miss Theressa Keel is visiting her cousin in Seaford.

Ring Out The Old, Ring In The New.

Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring out the false, ring in the true.

Ring out false pride in place and blood,
The civic slander and the spite;
Ring in the love of truth and right.
Ring in the common love of good.

Ring out old shapes of foul disease;
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace.

Ring in the valiant man and free,
The larger heart, the kindlier hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be.

Convincing Testimony

Given By Many Denton People

Experiences told by Denton people—
Those who have had weak kidneys—
Who used Doan's Kidney Pills—
Who found the remedy effective—
Such statements prove merit.
You might doubt an utter stranger.
You must believe Denton people.
Here's Denton proof. Verify it.

You'll find why Denton folks believe in Doan's.

L. W. Sparks, printer, Main St., Denton, Md., says: "My back had given me no end of trouble for years. I have been so bad that I could not turn in bed. I tried in vain to get something that would cure me, but did not succeed until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Duffey's Pharmacy. They gave me such relief as I had not known for years." (Statement given June 12th, 1911.)

Over eight months later, Mr. Sparks said: "I have not suffered from backache or other symptoms of kidney complaint for some time."
