DENTON, SATURDAY MORNING, September 1, 1877.

Notice.

To the Democratic Conservative voters of Caroline County.

Notice is hereby given that the delegates to be elected to nominate a county ticket on Saturday, the first day of September, and to meet in convention on Tuesday, the 4th day of September, 1877, be and are hereby directed to select three delegates to represent this county in the State Convention to nominate a candidate for Comptroller of the Treasury.

PHILIP W. DOWNES,
J. W. BRYANT,
DANIEL FIELDS,
State Cen. Com. for Caroline Co.

HOWEVER much the democratic party may lose this fall in disaffected democratic voters, it will without doubt gain a great many colored votes. Most all of the colored voters in the Southern States have left the republican party and are now cordially co-operating with the democrats, and we are satisfied that the same spirit will show itself at our next election.

As the U. S. Senate now stands thirty-nine are republicans, thirty-three democrats and three existing vacancies which will no doubt be filled by democrats. Counting doubtful republicans Senators and all this only makes a bare majority of three. When the terms of the republican Senators from South Carolina, Alabama, Arkansas and Florida expire, and the vacancies are filled by democrats, as they certainly will be, then radical rule in the Senate will cease.

THE Governors' meeting made up in spirit what it lacked in numbers, and the many good speeches that were made will read just as well as though they had been spoken in the presence of the representatives of all the States. It was quite worth while to bring these officers together to talk over the interests of their several communities, and each one of them will carry back some new ideas and will leave behind some thoughts of his own that may bring forth good fruit for the whole country.—Times.

OUR primary meetings take place to-day. We sincerely hope the people of the county will not fail to elect honest and trustworthy men to make our nominations. It will devolve upon the convention next Tuesday to nominate a Senator, two members of the House af Delegates, a Sheriff, three County Commissioners and a Surveyor. In accordance with a resolution offered in the late County Central Committee meeting, and unanimously adopted, these nominations are to be made "in open convention." We think, as the time draws near, the prospect for unity of action in our ranks improves. Many of the business men of the county, who have heretofore had but little to do with politics, are now taking a lively interest, especially in the Senatorial nomination. We anticipate a warm time, but we expect the Convention to make a ticket which will be elected beyond all question.

DYING, almost dead. The Republican party of this county has been hungering on, since the last election, under a dangerous and most surely fatal disease. The first inspirations of poison were inhaled two years ago, when the potato-bugs become so numerous. These pestiferous and poisonous things were used too freely by the anxious Republican brethren, and consequently they caught a distemper, something like the "Dry Rot," which has every indication at this time of ending, this fall, in a sad and irretrievable death. The Republican party of this county is short lived; it must surely die. Ere long, before three months expire, it will be as dead as it can be; as dead as Julius Cæsar in his deadest moments; as dead as a door nail. The only question is, whether it will choose to die a natural death, for the more artificial and suicidal death which another gorge of potato-bugs would bring upon it. No stroke of "Southern policy" can save it. No process of "electrifying," nor any such thing, can save it. No! No; neither can the unhappy, unsettled, inglorious "Potato-Bugs" work out its salvation.

THE American Union of last week made an unprovoked attack upon the authorities of Washington College, charging that they had manifested "party spirit" in selecting newspapers to advertise their College. We stated in answer to this base charge, that, though not acquainted with the facts of the case, we were under the impression that the advertisement in question was sent to our paper because it had the larger circulation of the papers of this county. We have been informed by one of the students of that College that the circulation of the papers in the several counties is ascertained from the students. And as the means of the College will not permit advertising in all the newspapers on the Shore such only are chosen as will best reach the people, without regard to any political party. As to our having a larger circulation than the Union we only know that we have an average of more than 650 subscribers, and that the Union, as we are creditably informed, has considerably less than 500.

Instead of correcting its mistakes made last week, the Union in its last issue goes still further and charges us with "deception, untruthfulness, etc." We are not given to quarreling, and have hitherto studiously avoided getting into an unpleasant controversy with the Editor of the Union, knowing him to be naturally, constitutionally and premeditatedly a quarreler. Nor shall we now use much of our time and space disputing with a man who seems so careless of courtesy and fairness. We will however state, in justice to Prof. Rivers and the Board of Visitors of Washington College, that neither sectarian nor political partisanship influences the administration of the affairs of the College, that among the Professors and Board of Visitors are estimable gentlemen belonging to the Republican party, that the privileges of the College are bestowed upon all the students without distinction of sect or political opinion; and we have no doubt that if the means of the College were sufficient it would be advertised in every paper on the Eastern Shore.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Messrs. Editors:—The card of Mr. T. F. Garey, in your issue of last week has caused some discussion in this part of the county, both as to its meaning and the causes that produced it. Three theories are given, each of which has its supporters.

The first one, which is maintained by a few persons, is that Mr. Garey, having an abundance of this world's goods, is desirous of retiring to private life to enjoy for the balance of his life, without interruption, those social pleasures which abundant means place within easy reach.

The second, and which has more supporters than the first, is that, not being able to demonstrate that the views of a minority of the committee should govern the approaching nominations, he has become irritated and in a moment of anger has published that card.

The third and last one is that there has been formed, in Denton, a coalition between the Republicans who defeated S. N. West and Wm. Stevens in 1873, and the Democrats who desire to defeat Mr. Fields, this fall, if he should be nominated, and that this card is only the prelude to the formal announcement of a ticket which will contain the name of Mr. Garey for the Senate and Republicans for the other offices, unless some other Democrat can be persuaded to share the honors of such a nomination. This theory has the most supporters and is attempted to be sustained by referring to your editorial, in the same paper, on the subject of nominations.

Is this possible Mr. Editor? How is it, if so, that you have been wrought upon and brought to the point of fearing if not sympathizing with this movement? The Democrats of this section are anxious on this subject. They are as desirous as any one that proper nominations shall be made, by a convention fairly chosen in accordance with the party usage, and, when they are made, they expect every one calling himself a Democrat to support the ticket, because of the principles it will represent. Letter from Seaford.

SEAFORD, DEL., Aug 23d, 1877.

Messrs. Editors:—The event of the week in Seaford, will be the publication on Saturday, the 25th, of the first number of our new paper, the "Sussex County Index," by Prof. Thos. N. Williams, late principal of the Seaford High School, and Mr. J. B. Clark, formerly of the Denton Journal office. It is understood that the Professor will direct the editorial quill and Mr. Clark will have charge of the mechanical department of the paper. The size will be twenty-eight columns and it starts with a circulation of eight hundred.

The sale of a part of the real estate of Isaac M. Fisher, dec'd., on Saturday last was well attended, but prices were generally low. The sale was adjourned to Saturday next, when some very desirable property, including building lots and river front will be offered.

Our town Commissioners are about to advertise for sale twenty-five dogs taken up for non-payment of taxes. To sportsmen and others desirous of investing in dog-flesh a rare opportunity will be offered.

Mr. J. E. Lowry has been shipping several car loads of peaches from this point to Mansfield, Ohio, for which he has been able to pay much better prices than the growers could realize elsewhere.

Peaches shipped to the Western markets have this year paid much better than those sent to New York and Philadelphia. The season is now nearly over. AMICUS.

The Extra Session—A Rumor of Revocation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 26.—The Sunday Herald of to-day pulishes the following, which can not be traced to a reliable source, though numerous inquiries have been made in official circles:

"The idea of revoking the President's proclamation calling for an extra session of Congress to meet on the 15th of October is seriously entertained. The President has received numerous letters from members of both Houses, representing all parties politically, advising such a course. The lawyers in Congress seem to be the prime movers in this matter, and their letters regarding it agree that the present situation of affairs does not require an extra session.

They advance the further idea that if their personal interest and desires are to be served they would prefer to remain at home, or be free to attend to their business in the approaching fall terms of the courts all over the country. It is not improbable that the necessary proclamation revoking the call for an extra session will be issued this week."

WARRANT OF ELECTION.—The sheriff of this county has received from Hon Daniel Fields, President of the Senate of Maryland, a warrant of election for Senator to fill the vacancy now existing in said office by reason of a resolution of the Senate adopted at its session in 1876 declaring that Nathaniel Duke, Esq., had not been duly elected. Under the warrant the sheriff is required to give at least ten days' public notice of said election by advertisement set up at the most public places in each election district, and published in the county newspaper. He is also required to serve a copy of the warrant, together with notice of the day appointed for the holding of the said election on each of the judges of election in each election district in the county.—Calvert (Md.) Journal

SENTENCING HER HUSBAND TO BE HANGED.—Mrs. Morris, a woman justice of the peace in Wyoming Territory, heard a case of scandalous character, in which her husband was defendant. She sentenced him to be hanged by the neck until dead, and was anxious to have the sentence carried into effect at once, until the attorneys explained to her that she was sitting simply as an examining court. She then held him in bonds of $18,000,000 to await the action of the grand jury, and said she would shoot the first man that attempted to raise the sureties.

"Russia and Turkey and British Interests."

The Toronto Globe gives some interesting facts and figures concerning the relative populations of Russia and Turkey, and what these "British interests" are about which so much has been lately said. The population of Russia is set down at eighty-seven millions, and Turkey forty-three millions, or if Egypt, Tunis and Tripoli are excluded, twenty-six millions. Seven millions of the eighty-seven millions must be credited to Asiatic Russia. Taking European Russia all round there are only thirty-four people to the square mile, which would give for England, Scotland and Wales a population of not quite three millions.—Whilst the area of Asiatic Russia amounts to six millions square miles, or something like three-fourths of the whole empire, its population hardly exceeds one person to every square mile, which applied to the whole of Great Britain would scarcely give 100,000 population. Hence it can be conceived that Russia, though strong in defense, is weak for aggression, as her population is so widly scattered, and her railroad means of transportation limited. The Globe gives a brilliant picture of the grandeur of the British empire, consisting of territory amounting to 7,778,834 square miles, including, of course, her foreign possessions, a population of something like 283,639,422, and an annual revenue arising from her vast dominions of not less than $940,154,142. Such are the interests of Great Britain interwoven with the interest of all mankind.

EX-GOVERNOR A. G. BROWN, (democrat,) of Mississippi, in a letter refusing to be an independent candidate for Governor, says:

"I disapprove of much that has been done by the democratic party since its return to power in Mississippi, and I have said so. Its acts of omission and commission do not afford assurance to my mind that we are to reap those rich rewards that were so lavishly promised us in 1875 and again in 1876. Of these matters I have spoken freely but I have written very little. It is to those utterances, I suppose, that I am indebted for the frequent mention of my name as an independent candidate. That was not what I meant. In 1867 I felt that the white men of Mississippi were embarking on a course that would lead to disaster, and I volunteered to tell them so. You and all men know how my advice was received. I feel a mortal conviction that the democratic party is hurrying on its own overthrow, not this year, perhaps, but certainly in the not distant future. If I pointed to where the danger lies I should be again covered with obliquy."

A SINGLE CIRCUMSTANCE.—In social, political and religious matters a single circumstance often effects results entirely unexpected and sometimes most disastrous to human interests. So, frequently, a single symptom perhaps deemed trivial will indicate the tendency of a dangerous or even fatal illness, unless promptly arrested by suitable remedies. A feeling of soreness in the joints, bones and muscles may suggest the approach of that dangerous complaint, rheumatism, and should be removed by the use of Keller's Roman Liniment.

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.—Our town was thrown into a state of excitement and concern Tuesday morning, about 10½ o'clock, by the discovery that Mr. Eugene S. Bradshaw, a deputy clerk in the office of Francis J. Henry, Esq., clerk of the Circuit Court, had taken about two-thirds of an ounce of laudanum with a view of suicide. Both of our practicing physicians were out of town, but emetics were given and other appliances used, and we are glad to learn that Mr. Bradshaw is in a fair way to recover, though dreadfully shaken by the dose he had taken. Mental depression was the cause of the rash act.—Cambridge Chronicle.

WEST FAIRLEE, VT., Jan. 11, 1871.

Dear Sir—For seven or eight years past I have been in poor health, and for the past year or more very feeble. My health continued to decline, and my flesh and strength wasted away, until I was unable to work, or even go up stairs without great exhaustion. I suffered from frequent and distressing attacks of palpitation of the heart, my food distressed me, causing acidity and pain in the stomach; and I suffered from extreme nervousness, constipation, and debility of the system generally, my blood being thin and poor and sluggish in its circulation, and I was for years suffering all the tortures of a confirmed dyspeptic. About six months since I concluded I would try a bottle of PERUVIAN SYRUP, and received so much benefit from it that I purchased five bottles more, and have continued the use of the SYRUP until quite recently. It has restored my health to such an extent that I feel myself as good as new. My digestion is good and my weight has increased in the past four months from 130 to 158 pounds; my strength has returned, and my general health is thus wonderfully improved, and I can truly say I owe it all to the use of your PERUVIAN SYRUP. I earnestly recommend all sufferers from dyspepsia and debility to give it a trial, hoping it will do them as much good as it has me.

Yours very truly, MRS. S. B. BEMIS.

From a Merchant.

NORTH SEARSMONT, ME., Sept. 9, 1870.

Dear Sir—It gives me very great pleasure to inform you of the benefit received from the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP in my own family. My wife, for the past ten years has been in feeble health—very much debilitated generally. Last spring she concluded to try a bottle of PERUVIAN SYRUP, and was so much pleased with the result, continued its use until three or four bottles had been used, and she is now in better health than at any time for ten years, and has increased in weight from 110 pounds to 145. I have employed physicians, and used a great variety of patent medicines, to the extent of hundreds of dollars, and I know she received more benefit from the PERUVIAN SYRUP than all the rest together.

My sales of the syrup are very large and constantly increasing, and I do not hesitate to recommend and even warrant it to give satisfaction. If you desire you can use at liberty to use this communication as you see fit, as it gives me pleasure to recommend so good an article to suffering humanity.

Yours truly, ITHIEL PEASE.

PERUVIAN SYRUP
PERUVIAN SYRUP

Restored to Complete Health.

BROOKS, ME., Sept. 7, 1870.

Dear Sir—From early youth I was in feeble health, troubled with tumor in my blood, weakness and debility of the system generally; was unable to labor much, and only at some light business, and then only with great exertion.

Seven years ago the past spring I had a severe attack of Diphtheria, which left my limbs paralyzed and useless, so I was unable to walk or even sit up. Noticing the advertisement of PERUVIAN SYRUP I concluded to give it a trial, and to my great joy soon found my health improving. I continued the use of the SYRUP until three bottles had been used, and was restored to complete health, and have continued so to this day.

I attribute my present health entirely to the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, and hold it in high estimation. I cannot speak too highly in its praise. I have in several cases recommended it in cases similar to my own with the same good results.

Yours truly, CHAS. E. PEARCY.
