MUST THE ROADS PAY TRIBUTE?

The young generalissimo of the Republican forces in Caroline is bold and resourceful. His resources may have direct bearing upon the growing tax-rate. Of these resources, we are informed, are the road supervisorships. These are being used very industriously, and are yielding some Republican funds to be used next Tuesday. There are, of course, very many confidential promises—how many it would indeed be hard to say. If the supervisor, present or prospective, fails to put up money his head will fall with a dull thud into the political waste basket. Is this an innovation born of desperation, or has this practice prevailed with Republicans in the past; if so, is it any wonder that road work is the particular hobby of the ruling power in the commissioners' office, when it brings such rich promises of substantial aid toward the continuance of Republican supremacy in county affairs? On the other hand, does it not promise more neglected roads, for which a price is paid, than if the overseers were not taxed in advance almost every dollar they could properly earn on the sections of road allotted them?

The postmasters, also, must "pony up," or off go their political heads. There is a wide difference between the decrees emanating from the department and from the young Republican boss in Caroline, and between the two the postmasters' decapitation seems sure. We will see, however. whether the government order, which threatens dismissal of postmasters if they do contribute to campaign funds, or that of the young boss, which threatens the same punishment if they do not contribute, will be most effective with the postmasters of the county.

The question is: has the young boss the power behind him to enforce his boastings, by carte blanche from the powers that be? In which event, the people are powerless to help themselves at present, but they can provide for the time to come by putting in office a Democratic commissioner to succeed Mr. Lord, and another two years hence to succeed Mr. Todd.

A MOST DANGEROUS ENEMY.

Col. Charles Marshall, one of the leading independent Democrats of Baltimore city, does not propose to allow friends of good government to be deluded into voting for Governor Lowndes, if he can help it. He cites one case particularly, and says:

"In all the catalogue of crimes and offenses against good government and common honesty charged against the Democratic ring, there is not a single instance of such an absolute indifference to the most elementary principles of good government as that presented to the public by the pardon by Governor Lowndes of 'Dr.' George Wellington Bryant. * * * Before those whose Democracy is more than skin deep can accept Governor Lowndes as a leader in the cause of good government, let Mr. Cowen and the other so-called gold Democratic admirers of Governor Lowndes ('cold Democrats,' they should rather be called,) demand that Mr. Lowndes shall show why and at whose instance he pardoned 'Dr.' George Wellington Bryant, and how that act promoted the cause of good government among white or black voters. * * * I think that all Democrats will hesitate before they take the fatal step of supporting, as the champion of good government, a man who, in my judgment, has proved himself to be one of its most dangerous enemies, most dangerous because a secret enemy.

Now, in these last hours of the Caroline campaign, will not even our most partisan Republican friends, who are taxpayers, admit that with the tax-rate grown much higher, largely on account of partisan mismanagement rather than a business-like administration of the public service, and with still more gloomy prospects because of many promises given in exchange for support next Tuesday, it would be better, far better, to elect a Democratic commissioner? There can be but one answer to that question.

THE DEMOCRATIC RECORD.

The most effective kind of argument in favor of a return of the Democracy to power in this State is found in the State's history for the past thirty-two years. This history may be epitomized: The Democratic party came into power in 1867. It found a State debt of over eleven millions of dollars and a State tax of thirty cents in the one hundred dollars. Besides this debt of eleven millions there was an unascertained war debt which the State had to pay, and which has nearly been paid, of $5,000,000. When it went out of power in 1895, the debt of the State, deducting the securities which the State held at their market value, was not two million dollars, and the tax rate had been reduced from thirty cents to seventeen and three-quarter cents. During the time it was in power it built a deaf and dumb asylum for the education of deaf and dumb children of the State at a cost of $225,000; it erected an asylum for the insane of the State costing $465,000, and the Maryland House of Correction at a cost of $250,000; a State Normal School costing $250,000; gave to the yellow fever sufferers of the South $100,000, and to the various charitable institutions of the State more than $1,000,000; supported liberally the public schools for both white and colored children, and at the time the Democratic party went out of power, and for years prior thereto, gave annually $125,000 for the education of the colored children of the State. While all this was being done, the credit of the State was of the very highest, the people prospered and the wealth of the State increased from two hundred and eighty millions in 1867 to five hundred and twenty-nine millions in 1895, and now the taxable basis reaches over six hundred millions.

THE $25-A-MILE COUNTY ROADS.

There are a great many taxpayers who do not need to have their attention called to the cost of the public roads now in comparison with the cost years ago. The appropriation this year is on the basis of ten dollars a mile for six hundred miles of road in the county, to wit, $6,000. Not many years ago the roads in the county were contracted for at the rate of ten dollars per mile, which included, also, the furnishing of lumber and repair of the bridges of ordinary width. For the year ended June 30, 1897, the sum of $7,851.06 was expended upon the roads. Last year the sum of $10,692.20 was paid out and there is yet due by the commissioners, for road work, $4,996.30, making a total of $15,688.50 for one year's work on the roads, or twenty-five dollars a mile for all the roads, whereas it is an open secret that there are miles and miles of road on which not a single dollar was spent last year. This unprecedented sum should keep all the roads in perfect condition; but, as a matter of fact, some of the most travelled roads are in deplorable condition, and others, as before said, have not had a dollar expended upon them. What, then, has become of the money that should give us good roads? Will some one answer that question at once?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The history of the Democratic party shows that it has been at all times the champion of popular rights. Its traditions have come to many in the past and will come to many in the future as a heritage of which they may be proud. To claim to be a Democrat today is to join in the covenant that was made when the declaration that made us a nation was signed, and renewed whenever the party's representatives have gathered in council, and will be so renewed perpetually. No gross materialism can rob the rising generation of Democrats of their share in the achievements of the patriarchs of the household and the leading spirts of a generation ago—the birthright inalienable. Young men, look well to the interests of your party in the contest at hand. Let no consideration swerve you from the least part of your duty to that party and its candidates. Vote the whole Democratic ticket, from top to bottom, and share in the triumph that surely will wait upon that act.

John Sherman has been talking again, and what he said made it evident that the old man had neither lost interest in Ohio politics nor the faculty of properly sizing up the situation in that state. Mr. Sherman predicts Republican defeat, because of the opposition of the German voters to the foreign policy of the administration, of which he said: "It cannot be sustained in morals and is in contravention to the American Declaration of Independence, and teachings of the brave men who signed that instrument," and of the Republican opposition to a continuation of Hanna's leadership. Mr. Sherman didn't say that he would be glad of Republican defeat in Ohio or that resentment of his own treatment by the Hanna-McKinley clique was responsible for the attitude of any of the Republican voters, but there are some things that are fully understood without being said.

From the size and enthusiasm of the Democratic mass-meetings in Baltimore, in all parts of the city, and in all the counties in the State, it would seem that the Democracy is in the very best of form—the pink of condition. It would certainly not too much to say that the natural majority, under these circumstances, ought not to be less than twenty thousand.

When a colored man is suspected of violating the law the widest publicity is given it, but when a white man is suspected the matter is hushed up if possible. Last week a white man was caught in the act of entering Fisher & Nichols' store, and the party was identified, but escaped arrest. Being a Democrat a movement was at once set on foot to shield him and it was successful. Had he been a colored man, the public know what the result would have been.—Denton Union.

Here is a fair sample of the Republican editor's solicitude—ante-election solicitude—for the colored voter. We all know what results follow such false and inflammatory articles. In this case the man was arrested and the hearing was had before a Republican Justice of the Peace, Mr. James E. Hignutt, who would not have been party to any Democratic scheme, and the man released, because there was no evidence to warrant his commitment. Would it not have been more honorable, and wiser—as everybody about town knows them—for the Union to have given the full facts in this case.

One of the most prominent workers for "Lowndes and good government" is "Dr." George Wellington Bryant. The Cambridge News of Saturday last says: "And Lowndes has got ashamed of old Bryant and denies that they traveled together. Bryant did not hesitate to give it out when he was in Cambridge two weeks ago that he was at work for Lowndes, and, with a swagger, asserted that he was making big money. No doubt of it." The pilot of the yacht which took the Governor and his party of campaigners to Somerset, Major S. Fletcher, says in a letter in the Sun that the Governor and Bryant held a secret consultation in the cabin of the yacht at Crisfield.

Admiral Dewey is to be married. He has announced to some of his more intimate friends the fact of his engagement to Mrs. W. B. Hazen, of Washington. Mrs. Hazen is the widow of General Hazen, formerly chief signal officer of the army, who died about ten years ago, and is a sister of John R. McLean, Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio. Mrs. Hazen has no children, and since her husband's death has made her home with her mother. She is a woman of large means, about forty years old, and popular in the best social circles of Washington. The date for the wedding has not been fixed.

A proposition of much importance to the people of a large part of our county is that made by the Railroad Company, a full explanation of which has been given in the JOURNAL. What a railroad will do for the territory lying south of Denton in improvements, what it will add to our taxable basis, may be gauged by what the Queen Anne's Railroad has done in the past three years. There can be no doubt that the investment of a small sum would be the best investment possible. It would speedily return twofold to the county's coffers.

Ex-Senator George F. Edmunds, in a letter one day last week, says that it is contrary to an act of Congress to collect political assessments from postmasters and other federal office-holders, and the law expressly says that the refusal of postmasters and others to make contributions shall in no way prejudice the cases of such officials. This does not stop the operations of the Lowndes managers, however, and some of them have been working Caroline for all it is worth.

The spectator is very frequently a better judge of a fight than the participants, and for this reason it is that the editorial utterance of the Philadelphia Times of Wednesday is of interest: "In Maryland and Ohio, the Democrats have certainly steadily gained during the last two weeks, and the indications now are that only an unexpected ground-swell can make Maryland Republican, while Ohio is trembling in the balance between Nash and McLean."

Vote the Democratic ticket straight. The nominees, all of them, are pledged to retrenchment in public expenditures. The voters naturally view with alarm the lavish use of the public funds and the increasing taxrate. One-dollar-and-thirty-cent taxes reduce the value of their property. Look to the Democrats for relief!

From the legislative to the surveyorship nominees the Democratic ticket is a strong one, composed of representative citizens and entitled to a hearty support. They have special fitness for the positions for which they are named, and many conservative citizens of other parties will vote for them.

How many, many persons are there to whom promises of road supervisorships have been made on the strength of the fact that the "county's financial affairs are to be in the hands of the Republicans for two years more?" If all these promises could be fulfilled wouldn't we have a list!

How can Eastern Shoremen, with proper pride in their native land, vote to continue in office a Governor who used his utmost endeavors, by means of patronage, to uproot and destroy the law giving us a United States Senator on this side of the bay.

And now Governor Lowndes is writing to the ministers of the gospel asking them to help him secure another term as chief magistrate of the State. The Governor does not propose that anyone shall be beyond the reach of his importunities for votes.

Rubber boot and shoe manufacturers have formed a trust, and these goods are to be much higher than ever before this fall and winter. Is it any wonder that the voters are impatient to get at 'em?

The People Have Decided.

From the World.

In a political editorial the American remarks that the people of Maryland are thinking. They are, and have been thinking more seriously than for a long time, ever since Governor Lowndes started in for re-election on the issues of McKinleyism, which embraces militarism, imperialism, trustism and many other isms prejudicial to unbiased and non-partisan government.

Does It Pay to Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized counties with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try ONE bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. Sample bottles at W. E. Brown's, Denton, Md., Rickards & Co., Marydel.

It will not be a surprise to any who are at all familar with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, to know that people everywhere take pleasure in relating their experience in the use of that splendid medicine and in telling of the benefit they have received from it, of bad colds it has cured, of threatened attacks of pneumonia it has averted and of the children it has saved from attacks of croup and whooping cough. It is a grand good medicine. For sale by W. E. Brown, Denton, Md.; R. J. Colston, Ridgely, Md.; Hugh Duffey, Hillsboro, Md.

LORD—HELPER.—The marriage of Newton Lord and Jennie Helper took place in Maryland a few days ago and the local editor was clubbed by the bridegroom for using the heading we have used.—Seaford News.

The Shoe Sale

This annual fall shoe sale grows better and better, as fine lots of shoes come to us that makers would not sell at the prices we offered, until they were sure that it was better to accept our offer than to risk holding them for higher prices.

Thousands of pairs of such shoes have lately come. Sizes complete and assortment all you could wish.

Excellent shoes for women, of vici kid, laced or buttoned; with patent-leather or kid tips; welted soles; soft, comfortable, dressy, and yet substantial and warm. Good $3 shoes at $2 a pair. A dollar saved.

More dressy patent-leather shoes for $1.70. Other styles same price, worth up to $3.

$3 shoes, worth $4 and $5.

Men's and children's shoes, too—of course—variety and savings just as great:

Men's Shoes, $2.30, worth $3.50 and $4.

Men's Shoe's, $2, worth $3; $1.70, worth $2.50.

Boys' and Girls' Shoes, $1, worth $1.50.

And ever so many more—all well-made shoes, weights for fall and winter.

Pianos

at low price have been hard to get—not because there are not plenty of them, but because we are particular what we buy and sell: good tone, good looks, good wear.

We can give you all three for $155 to $265—no, not the best at these prices; there is almost as much difference between GOOD and BEST as there is between GOOD and BAD. You can't have BEST without paying the price—no matter what you may be told.

Pay for your piano all at once, or pay $8 to $10 a month with interest at 4 per cent.

Low-price pianos are so good nowadays that it is better to buy such than second-hand high-price ones.

Mattresses and Pillows

The best hair in the world, from the tails of South American wild horses, is used in our $50 mattress; the ticking, fine linen; workmanship, best.

A fair forty-pound mattress, $7.50. All prices between $7.50 and $50.

Pillows, with five pounds of thoroughly-cleaned feathers; deodorized by steam and cold blasts of air; 20x30 inches; good ticking. $3 a pair.

Bolsters, 20x56 inches; same feathers; same ticking, $3 each.
