Democratic Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT:

WILLIAM J. BRYAN,

OF NEBRASKA.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT:

ADLAI E. STEVENSON,

OF ILLINOIS.

FOR CONGRESS—SHORT TERM:
EDWIN H. BROWN,
of Queeen Anne's County.

FOR CONGRESS—LONG TERM:
JOHN P. MOORE, of Worcester County.

THE OUTLOOK.

The Washington correspondent of the Sun says: The Democratic Congressional Committee has received numerous reports from Maryland, all of which indicate that the State will go Democratic by a large majority and that there will be an astonishing reversal of Maryland's representation in the House.

Among yesterday's visitors to the committee's headquarters was James Camalier, the Democratic candidate for Congressman Mudd's place. He says he sees nothing but success ahead, and there is no question as to how the State will go. Mr. Camalier also says there has been a great revulsion of sentiment in his Congressional district in the last four years, and he expects a Democratic majority to be rolled up.

The recent poll of the United States which indicated an overwhelming majority for McKinley is regarded as utterly absurd by the Democratic Congressional Committee members. Polls made by Democratic managers are said to show just the opposite. Officers of the committee declare emphatically that Bryan will be elected, and also that the next House of Representatives will be Democratic.

Speeches and arguments of the anti-expansion and anti-imperialism order are being furnished to Democratic State committees and to individual applicants. There are no requests for free silver literature, however, the officers in charge of the committee remarking that there is apparently no popular interest in this subject.

Republicans privately express apprehension concerning the fate of certain States east of the Mississippi river. From their point of view the situation in Illinois is regarded as serious. Four years ago that State gave McKinley over 140,000 majority, but it is an uncertain quantity, since in 1892 it gave its electoral vote to Cleveland.

More than any other large city, however, Chicago shifts its allegiance between parties. It is normally, without doubt, a Democratic city, and this year it furnishes the chief element of uncertainty in the State. One cause of this is the uneasy condition of the laboring class. There has been a continuous strike or lockout there for the last six months. All building is at a standstill. The contractors could not make terms with their men, and they simply stopped work; and, though there has been a fair share of prosperity in other lines of industry and in other parts of the State, Chicago has felt sorely the depression resulting from the prolonged idleness of 50,000 men belonging to the building trades.

Then there is the large German population in Chicago, said to outnumber that of any other city in the world except Hamburg. The Democrats have made great efforts to secure this German vote. They have nominated many Germans for office and imperialism and militarism have alarmed many more. The efforts of the Democratic managers to convince the Germans that the United States Government has insulted their fatherland in rejecting the proposals of the German Government for dealing with the crisis in China have drawn the fire of such men as Ambassador White and caused much uneasiness here. The fear of the Republicans is that the Germans may conclude that the finances of the country are safe, and vote the Democratic ticket on the strength of the other issues raised in the campaign.

Further more, the Republican State administration under Governor Tanner has not been popular. He seems to be more interested just now in defeating Senator Cullom for re-election than in carrying the State for the Republican ticket. By the Republicans this is regarded as a very serious condition of affairs for Governor Tanner wields a great influence.

The conquest of the Philippine Islands is advocated because it will pay. What will pay for the lives lost there? The Cleveland Plain Dealer says: "According to the official table of causalties in the Phillippines published weekly by the War Department, there had been, from August 6, 1898, when the military operations against Manila began, to September 24, 1900, the date of the last report, a total of 5,106 casualties. This total was made up of 633 killed, 384 died of wounds and accidents, 1,715 died of disease, and 2,374 wounded."

Mrs. Mary A. Jackson, widow of the illustrious Confederate soldier, General "Stonewall" Jackson, is a guest at the Church Home and Infirmary, Baltimore, to receive treatment.

AN IMPORTANT CAMPAIGN.

The importance of the present campaign should be brought home to every voter. Each and every one of them, be they rich or poor, are vitally interested in the outcome. The tendency of the present administration of affairs is toward a centralization of government in one department—the military force—which is virtually, or actually, in the hands of the President. How far President McKinley has used that power in the past two years, in accordance with the wishes of the great masses of the people, and how far he has used it for the benefit and aggrandizement of a small class of protected monopolists and government jobbers, are alike matters of history. The consumer of every necessary article of merchandise is taxed daily to maintain a war in the Philippines which is both needless and unprofitable—a war of subjugation of a people who ask nothing more than to be let alone in the possession of the native land, to work out their own salvation in the matter of government—a war such as England once waged against this country, before it became an independent government, for the selfsame purpose that the military head of this nation is waging a war of butchery in the Pacific islands today, save that England had stronger claim to our land and our allegiance, and greater reason to maintain the right of government that had been theirs. From out that war for independence were evolved heroisms that have no parallel in the annals of nations and heroes that have stood peerless in history and ineffaceable from the memory of the descendants of those who gave us freedom. Let it not be said in this day that we have degenerated from champions of freedom into oppressors of freemen, or a nation struggling for freedom.

FROM THE NATION'S CAPITAL.

There will be a Democratic majority of not less than ten in the next House. That is the way the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee figures it out, and in doing the figuring allowance has been made for every reasonable contingency. Republicans privately admit that these figures are very conservative, and that they have almost given up hope of retaining control of the House, unless there is a change in public sentiment amounting almost to a stampede before election day. Even the Republican Congressional Committee has not been putting out any claim, except in the most perfunctory way, of a Republican majority in the House. On the contrary its chairman, Representative Babcock, has been preparing his party for defeat. Among the contingencies allowed for by the Democratic Committee are loss of seats in New York and Pennsylvania, which the party managers in those states are confident of saving.

Representative Livingston, of Ga., thus sums up the attitude of the two parties towards trusts: "In a recent speech made by Senator Beveridge, this statesman says that the Republican party, as well as the Democratic party, is opposed to trusts, only the Republican party proposed to limit and regulate trusts, while the Democratic party would do nothing. Now, this statement was made to intelligent people. If this is so, how could Mark Hanna go to Baltimore and get from the trusts of that city alone $80,000, while Bryan, even had he tried, could not have gotten 80 cents. Senator Hanna has said there are no trusts. He knows and so does every thinking man or woman that this is false. Here is evidence of the trusts. This year it takes 50 per cent. more wheat to buy a plow than it did last year. It takes 20 per cent. more corn and it takes from $4 to $4.50 a month more to live now than it did a year ago. Why is this? It it because of the trusts."

Lookout for preposterous Republican claims. Orders have gone out from Republican National Headquaters to the party newspapers to print continually and conspicuously during the three weeks previous to the election paragraphs claiming states enough to give McKinley 25 or 30 more electoral votes than he had in 1896. The idea is said to be that such wholesale claims persistently made, will catch voters who wish to be on the winning side.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

State Comptroller Hering and State Treasurer Vandiver were at the Baltimore office of the Board of Public Works Saturday closing up the State's business for the fiscal year ended October 1st. Dr. Hering said that between $300,000 and $400,000 had been placed to the credit of the sinking fund, maintaining its integrity. The State has taken the whole issue of the State building improvement loan of $300,000. Of this amount $88,000 will be held for the Maryland Agricultural College.

Wireless telephony is now engaging the attention of some electricians. At the recent annual session of the British Association for the Advancement of Science it was announced that experiments in wireless telephony have proved that it is possible to convey audible speech without wires six or eight miles over the sea.

If a war that is "over" and "ended" and "finished" keeps 60,000 men busy, what force would be required for a war that was really going on?

Baltimore has contributed for the benefit of the Galveston flood sufferers the handsome sum of $35,000, and the good work still goes on.

The Philadelphia Times in announcing its support of Bryan says: "All of the evils and the perils of the so-called Republican policy have returned sevenfold, developed and extended till the very foundations of the Government seem threatened. A false economic system has resulted in vast combinations of capital that throttle individual industry and hold control over all the functions of Government, and the spokesman of the Administration, a representative of one of these great trusts, is calling upon his fellow-capitalists for contributions to buy another four years' license to rob, another four years' life for their inflated and false prosperity. The Government thus controlled has found its fittest expression in schemes of military conquest and the blood and treasure of the nation are poured out to subdue a distant people and rob them of those rights of liberty and independence that America has always claimed for all mankind."

THE ECONOMY MACHINE, COMPRISING
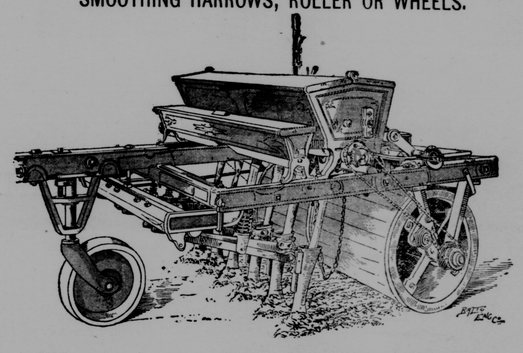
GRAIN AND FERTILIZER DRILL, GRASS SEEDER, SPRING-TOOTH, SPIKE-TOOTH AND SMOOTHING HARROWS, ROLLER OR WHEELS.



Left hand view of machine sowing grain, grass seed and fertilizer, and rolling.

The feature of the Drill is that the grain, istead of being run into a narrow trench, about ½ inch wide, as is done with the disc and hoe drills, is distributed over about 4 inches space, separating the grains so that each has a seed-bed by itself. Strips of 4 acres aach were seeded alternately with the Economy and ——— ——— (one of the leading makes) in a field of 40 acres. The yield from the planting with the Economy was more than ten per cent. greater that the other.

Harrowing and Rolling.

The above is the same machine spring-tooth harrowing and rolling at one operation, the draft being the same as a spring-tooth harrow used alone, and one man and one team doing the work of two men and two teams.
