On Decoration Day, the Chevrolet Cabriolet, which is being offered by the merchants as first prize to the contestants, will be on exhibition at Washington College during the game of the afternoon program.

The young ladies are proving themselves to be hustlers and votes are pouring in by the thousands. Every vote means a five-cent purchase from any one of the twenty-three progressive stores in Chestertown who have entered this intense drive for incerased buying at home.

WHEAT MAY SELL CHEAP

Kent farmers are much concerned in regard to their future wheat crop. From the present outlook, harvest will be on about June 20, and while the outlook a month ago for a good crop was very poor, the new wheat is now mostly in the period of blossoming and from appearances there will be a bountiful crop.

Local grain dealers are now offering 88 cents per bushel for new wheat delivered during the month of July. This, farmers say, will cause them to suffer a great loss.

It is rumored here that the spring wheat crop in the West will be considerably lighter this year due to the cold spring in that region and some farmers hope that the price of winter wheat will advance.

BOND ISSUES DEFEATED HERE

At a special election held here on Monday, the taxpayers of Chestertown overwhelmingly defeated two issues, one for $50,000 for street improvement, and one for $25,000 for the erection of a modern sewage disposal plant. Out of the entire number of votes cast, 64 were for the bond issue for street improvement, and 194 against. Seventy votes were cast in favor of the issue for the new sewage plant, and 189 against.

Two years ago, the taxpayers approved a bond issue for $100,000 for the same purpose by a substantial majority, but owing to a defect in the title of a bill passed by legislature, the Court of Appeal annulled the act. The total vote was 265 out of 600.

The indifference of the people in the two recent elections where a million dollars and $75,000 were involved as well. The move which they have only about one-third of the votes cast a ballot and the same proportion prevailed in Chestertown Monday.

RECTOR GOES TO HILLSDALE

The Rev. Lewis B. Sheen, for the past three years rector of St. Paul's Church in Berlin, and formerly at St. Paul's in Kent, left Wednesday of last week for his new charge in Hillsdale, N. J.

Mr. Sheen and his family will be greatly missed in Berlin where they have many friends, not only in the church but in the entire community as well. The move which htey have made, however, is one in which their friends can but rejoice as it is not only a larger field of usefulness but it promises to be better for Mrs. Sheen's health which has not been of the best for several years and it will enable them to have all their children with them most of the time. The eldest, Miss Dora Ann, is a student in Brooklyn and will be able to spend week-ends, at least, at home in Hillsdale.

After many weeks of investigation of all kinds and all prices of Talking Picture Machines, and after the installation and demonstration at The New Lyceum of a Movie-Tone machine, by a representative of the company, including the special priture machine, and his patrons in this vate showing of pictures here, L. B. Russell, Proprietor of the Lyceum, has purchased a modern talking picsection will be able to enjoy this latest type of movie show at little extra cost.

In purchasing this new equipment and installing talking pictures Mr. Russell is but continuing his recognized policy of endeavoring to give to the people of this section the very best and latest in movies. For some time past the Lyceum has shown all the leading pictures of screenland, on many occasions presenting "First Run" pictures here simultaneously with their appearance in Baltimore and other nearby cities. His addition of the Movietones is but another step in giving the public just what it wants.

Chestertown is to be congratulated upon its moving picture theatre, and Mr. Russell for his foresight in anticipating the desires of the theatre going public.

ASK BUS PERMITS FOR THE NEW BAY BRIDGE

Five transportation companies are competing for the privilege of operating bus lines over the proposed Chesapeake Bay bridge, which will not be built for several years, according to announcement by the Public Service Commission.

The announcement was made at the same time the Chesapeake Bay Transportation Company, 111 North Charles street, filed an application for permission to operate busses from Baltimore to Chestertown. J. Walter Joiner was named as president of the Chesapeake Bay Transportation Company, which, it was said, is to be incorporated if the permit is granted.

They plan 89 trips a week, including Sunday, at a single fare for adults of $1.25, with a round trip for $2.25. Children under 5 years old will be carried free and those from 5 to 12 years at half fare.

The first of the five companies to apply for the trans-Chesapeake permit was the Baltimore Transfer Co., which proposed also to run o freight line to the Eastern Shore. The Red Star Motor Coach Company, of Salisbury, has filed a similar application, and was followed by the United Railways and then Matthew C. Kalb Company.
