EDITORIAL NOTES.

William Lloyd Garrison presided at a Boston meeting a few days ago. Among other things he said in his address:

"What disturbs me more than the attitude of the Southerners who are making capital out of race hatred are the concessions of Northern friends of the colored people who have been truly helpful in the encouragement of Southern schools. Because prejudice is deep rooted and is again demonstrating its strength in the North, it is all the more urgent that no countenance be given to this hateful spirit.

"Not even Southern lynchings are so disheartening to the friends of equal rights as the acquiescence of such men as ex-President Cleveland, President Eliot, of Harvard, and Bishop Lawrence, of Massachusetts—all desirous of uplifting the colored race—in the nullification of the Fifteenth amendment and the maintenance of caste schools."

Mr. Garrison argued that the white South has shown "no sense of responsibility" since "usurping all political power," and that it has discriminated against colored schools in appropriations.

Men of the Garrison stripe, with their mawkish sentiment about the colored people of the South are responsible no doubt for a very large per cent. of the cases of crime peculiar to the colored people of the South and the border States. The real friends of the colored people ought to try to induce Garrison to subside.

According to the Baltimore American the Democratic State leaders have already picked their choice for the nomination for Governor. He is Col. Spencer C. Jones, former State Treasurer, former Clerk of the Court of Appeals, former president of the State Senate and former State's Attorney of Montgomery county. He is now president of the Montgomery National Bank. Former Governor Jackson was considered an important candidate until his recent return to the city. He has let it be known that he is not willing to undertake an arduous campaign. There is another former Governor, Mr. Frank Brown, who may loom up as a most prominent figure in the governorship slatemaking. He has added several strings to his bow by his recent activity in politics in this city, by which Mr. Mahool was nominated for mayor by a majority that even surprised Mr. Brown. The former governor is acting shy just now in discussing the future. He says he has all he can take care of in looking after the city campaign. "If I decide to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the governor or for any other office," he says, "I shall not hesitate to let all the Democrats of this State know of my ambition."

One of the most perplexing problems which now confront the people, especially the farmers, is that of the labor supply. For several years it has grown steadily worse, and the volume of the products of our farms has been far below the capacity of the lands. The disinclination to engage in farm work, on the part of the great majority of laborers, is working great loss to our agriculturists. In all communities the complaints are the same, and it is said that even in European countries the supply of labor is not equal to the demand. Conditions will of course finally adjust themselves, but in the meantime the young men of the land may do very well in remaining faithful to the farm. Many thousands of them have forsaken it in the years past and have done so to their own detriment and regret.

One of the best signs of coming success of the Democratic municipal ticket in Baltimore is found in the interviews of the two defeated aspirants for the Democratic nomination for mayor. Mr. J. Charles Linthicum said: "Mr. Mahool is a splendid man—a man of good record and character and popular with the people." Mr. George Stewart Brown, the other Democratic candidate for the nomination, declared: "I am a Democrat and will abide by the result as determined by the Democratic voters under the Crawford county primary. The same result obtained under the obsolete convention system would not have produced the same spirit of harmony."

March 25, 1634—just 273 years ago Monday—the first settlers of Maryland landed at St. Clement's Island, in the Potomac river. These pilgrims, according to the account of Cecilius Calvert, lord proprietor at the time, consisted of his brothers Leonard and George, "with nearly 20 other gentlemen of very good fashion and 300 laboring men, well provided in all things."

Many schools celebrated the day with appropriate addresses, recitations and music. The subject of many of the addresses was, the "Beginning of Popular Government," this being the study assigned by the State Board of Education for this year's observance of the State's day.

The statement of Mr. E. H. Harriman, the great railroad magnate, that he had, by request of Mr. Roosevelt, raised a fund of a quarter of a million dollars with which to carry the election of 1904 was denied by the President. Still the evidence comes from many high sources that the election of that year was a bought one, whether Mr. Roosevelt believed it was his own great popularity or not that won the day. Just how many millions were required that year will probably never be known outside the sanctum of the big boodle gatherers, but that that election was carried by cash there ought not to be any doubt even in the President's mind by this time.

Congressman Mudd, with the advice and consent of Congressman Jackson, it is said, has succeeded in deposing Mr. John B. Hanna from the chairmanship of the Republican State Committee, and installing therein Mr. Thomas Parran. This was done against the wishes of Attorney-General Bonaparte, whose word was heretofore thought to be the law in Republican councils in this State. The change in the chairmanship is said to mean that Mudd and Jackson will act together and favor the nomination of Mr. Phillips Lee Goldsborough for Governor.

"The South," says the Philadelphia Record, "has tried Bryan twice. It has tried an Eastern candidate twice. There have been three consequent failures. There is no need going into particulars. Now, let the South lead. Let it name its own candidate—some stalwart Southern Democrat—and call upon the true Jeffersonians of the North and West to respond. That is the logic of the political situation."

The Democratic nominee for Mayor of Baltimore, Mr. J. Barry Mahool, evidently the choice of a great majority of the Democrats of Baltimore, ought to win easily in the coming contest. There is no queston of the fairness of the primary election, and Mr. Mahool's fitness is not doubted, and the city is Democratic. As goes Baltimore so goes the State.

A bill is before the Pennsylvania legislature to make 2000 pounds of coal a ton, but it does not contemplate any higher rate per pound for this most necessary fuel. The jokesmith says some of the dealers were several lengths ahead of the legislature in this matter. They attended to that some time ago.

The year 1914 is some distance ahead, but already there a strong sentiment in Baltimore favorable to the celebration in a magnificent way the centenary of the glorious events for Maryland and the country of that early time.

A correspondent of the New York Sun is attempting to discover "a cure for poetry." He will never succeed: crushed in the waste basket it will rise again.

If John D. Rockefeller had spent as much money as the Fifty-ninth Congress, he would be a public charge in an Ohio poor house.

The Delaware legislature has adjourned, and the Dover News says all present funds as well as all to come have been voted away.

After diagnosing the cases, Dr. Roosevelt may suggest the water cure treatment for railroads in the future.

Letter to C. H. Whitby.

DENTON, MD.

Dear Sir: You may like to know what you pay for the paint in a gallon of "paint," assuming the pure-paint part of all "paints" to be all alike; which it isn't; and worth $1.75 a gallon.

Of a paint adulterated 10 per cent. the pure-paint part brings $1.94 a gallon.
15 per cent brings $2.06 a gallon.
25 " " 2.33 "
33⅓ " 2.62 "
50 " 3.50 "
75 " 7.00 "

The average adulteration of paint in this country is about one-third; so, you see, the average price the American people are paying for paint is about $2.62 a gallon.

It is a game of wits. Adulterators are always too sharp for the bulk of consumers. People won't pay $1.75 a gallon for paint. So they pay $2.62 a gallon for paint and something that looks like paint mixed with it. (They pay the painter, besides, from $2 to $4 for painting those useless gallons.)

Why do they do it? They don't know Devoe.

Yours truly

SPRING WEATHER.

The opening of Spring reminds the prudent man and woman that it is time to get rid of the accumulations of the winter season. The body demands it as the price of comfort and health. In old times the spring was the time for strong physicking, and heroic were the means often taken. Nowadays the prudent at this time of the year take a mild but effective prescription, such as ¼ oz. Fluid Extract of Buchu, 1 oz. Bulso Mixture, ¼ oz. Fluid Extract Gentian Compound and 15 ozs. water. This taken in doses of one tablespoonful three times a day, before meals, is said to do the work far better than the drastic drugs of old and is vastly more pleasant. The prescription can be put up by any good pharmacy at small cost.

TO HORSEMEN OF CAROLINE.

This is to notify the Horsemen Caroline and adjacent counties that Mr. A. E. Cooper, Denton, Md., has charge o my horse—THE CORKER No. 31685. A glance at his pedigree shows at once the blending of the best blood lines known to the American Trotter, and an examination of the animal will satisfy the most critical as to his great individuality. He is a pure natural gaited trotter and a producer of trotters. A colt by this horse out of Fantasy which was recently sold at the Fasig Tipton Midwinter sale, Madison Square garden, New York, won the distinction of being the the fastest natural trotter ever foaled at Mr. C. J. Hamlin's Village Farm, and one of the best ever sold in New York. He was bred by C. J. Hamlin, Village Farm, and foaled in 1896. Mr. Hamlin sold him to Mr. Dudley Riggs, Baltimore, Md., in February 1905, and I bought him at Mr. Riggs' sale.

This is a horse that any community can be proud of. He has been used largely in the stud and show rings. Having won prizes at the National Horse Show in 1898, 1899 and 1900 besides being a many times Blue Ribbon winner, in this and adjoining states. Has never been raced but has shown quarters in 33, and can at the present time show a mile better than 2.20. He is bred the in purple, as his pedigree will show, and in order to enable the breeders of the Eastern Shore to get the services of this Royally bred horse have placed his fee at only $20.00. He is a sure foal getter—you take no chance, and if you paid $100.00 you could not get better blood lines. Now it is up to you.

ARE YOU RHEUMATIC?

Sufferers from rheumatism are so very numerous that means for their relief are always welcome. A treatment reported as giving remarkably satisfactory results is as follows: From a druggist are obtained tablets compounded of 2½ grains Sodium Bi-carbonate, 3 grains Salicylic Acid and 1 minim Wine of Colchicum. One of these is taken before each meal, followed immediately by a glass of water. After each meal is taken a tablespoonful of a mixture of ¼ oz. Fluid Extract of Buchu, 1 dram Fluid Extract of Horse Nettle, 1 oz. Amet Cordial, ¼ oz. Fluid Extract of Liverwort and 14 ozs. water. This treatment, persevered in for a month, is said to be extremely efficacious, even in most obstinate cases.
