COUNTY MEETING.

ALL persons, in Talbot County, favorable to the maintenance of American principles and opposed to modern Democracy are requested to meet in Convention in Easton, at the Court House, on TUESDAY, the 9th of June, at 2 o'clock P. M., to nominate Delegates to the State Convention which assembles in Baltimore city on Thursday, the 23d July, to nominate a candidate for Governor and other State officers. A full meeting is earnestly desired.

May 23.

HISTORY OF THE U. STATES.—We have received from the Agent, parts 27 and 28 of the above excellent history.

OUR FIRST PAGE.—We commend the article on our first page, in reference to the Star on "Young Men's Christian Associations," to the attentive perusal of our readers.

DEDICATION OF THE NEW CHURCH.—This new and splendid Church will be dedicated to-morrow. The services of some of the most eminent Divines in the Conference, we are informed, have been engaged and will be present to participate in the ceremonies.

FINE STRAWBERRIES.—Capt. H. J. Strandberg will please accept our thanks for a box of delicious Strawberries, received on Thursday. Out of curiosity, we measured some of them, and found them each four inches in circumference. They are beyond a question the finest fruit of the kind raised in the State. The Captain will raise about two thousand quarts, and sells them for fifty cents per quart in the city of Baltimore. A fine business.

AMERICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.—This Convention assembled in Louisville on Tuesday, composed of the ablest men in most all the States of the Union. At the informal meeting held on Monday, very interesting speeches were made by Hon. Erastus Brooks of N. Y., Hon. A. Kennedy, of Md., and R. W. Thompson of Indiana.—We shall look to the proceedings of this convention with a great deal of interest and endeavor to lay them before our readers at the earliest period.

UTAH.—It seems a desperately hard task for the President to get some suitable person as Governor of Utah Territory who will serve. Major McCullough has been appointed twice and has positively declined both times. It is said another has been fixed upon, but his name is withheld from the public, lest he might be induced to decline the honor. The government is a little shy of old Brigham. His religion cannot be interfered with by the laws of the Constitution, therefore a Governor sent out to break in upon his dominions would be likely to meet with not a very warm reception. To tell the truth, we believe the appointees are afraid of old Brigham—and this is the reason they do not accept the station.

GRAIN AND FARMERS AND MONEY.—By the arrival of the America at New York from Europe, it is reported breadstuffs have advanced—which will have a tendency to advance the prices of grain in our city markets. Recently there has been a perfect harvest for farmers—but notwithstanding the fact of grain having gone up—and notwithstanding the price has been so high for the last three or four years, yet there seems to be no more money afloat, but on the contrary the market has been tighter and more stringent. We have repeatedly inquired the cause of this, and we are told that every dollar of surplus money the farmer has is by some expended for fertilizers of various sorts, in the improvement of their land, and by others is sent immediately to the West for investment there. These men who seek a foreign place for the profitable investment of their money, we venture to say, will one of these days regret they ever thought of such a thing; for depend upon it, the high prices paid for money in the West cannot last long—and will ere long—so predicted by abler pens than ours, fall with a perfect crash, and leave the parties in far worse condition than those who stood by the immediate land of their birth—their native country. There is money to be made in our own county if speculators desire it, as well as any where else, and who would not sooner expend his money at home for the embellishment and improvement of his own county, than send it off to glitter in Western coffers?

FOR GOVERNOR.—Isaac Hazelhurst of Philadelphia was on Monday nominated for Governor of Pennsylvania, by a convention of strait out Americans, at Lancaster.

GEN. TILGHMAN, was among the speakers at the recent celebration at Boston, he having been called upon to a toast in honor of the "Staff of Washington," as "an immediate descendant of one of that body."—This response, the Boston Courier says, was an eloquent one.

THE PREDICTED COMET is now visible in the northwestern part of the heavens, near Ursa Major. The assertion of the French astronomer, that the comet would strike the earth, seems to have met with a general skepticism. "It is useless to speculate," says Professor Mitchell, "in reference to the possible consequences of a collision with a comet, as there is scarcely one chance in millions that it can occur.—Science has as yet discovered no guarantee for a planet against the possible shock of a comet, but an examination of the delicate adjustments of our own system and those of Saturn and Jupiter, would seem to indicate that in all past time no derangement has ever occurred from such a cause."

THE RIOT AT WASHINGTON.—The riots which occurred in Washington, on Monday, on the occasion of the municipal election, were disgraceful in the extreme. No doubt it will be and is charged upon the American party and the "Plug Uglies" of Baltimore city in particular, by the Democratic party, but the simple fact that not one man from the city of Baltimore was injured is sufficient to refute the charge.

We do not wish to exculpate any party, or club, or sect of men from the just censure which they should receive in the commission of such base and lawless proceedings, and say that those engaged in the riots by whatever name or party should be held strictly accountable therefor, and be punished to the severest extent of the law. These riots might soon be checked if the proper authorities would only mete out to those engaged in them, their just due, but whilst ever the courts of the country are slow to punish the ringleaders, we may always expect such scenes to occur. We refer our readers to an article in another column from the Baltimore Clipper, where it will be seen who is to blame and where the responsibility of the matter rests.

For the Easton Gazette.

THE TRUE ISSUE.

As an old line Whig, I have been led to enquire into the true issue between the democrats and the American party so as to determine my vote in the coming contest.—The only true issue is "shall Americans rule America," or shall the country generally and this State in particular be governed by foreigners? By the abandonment of that part of their platform which excluded Roman Catholics, the American party has settled down on a question of vital importance, and that is shall the influence and votes of foreigners, some of them lately arrived into this country, control our State elections or shall the native born rule the land of freedom. The attempt to associate the American party of Maryland with the abolitionists of the North is unfair and ungenerous. Not a man of them voted for the black republican candidate, but gave their votes for Mr. Fillmore, an old Whig, and as true a friend of the Union as is in the United States. The American party proper are as loyal to the Constitution and the Union as any other people dare be. They advocate the change in the naturalization laws so as to put foreign voters on the precise footing with the native born. The democrats oppose this, and this is the great difference between the two parties, with the further difference that the democrats give most of their patronage in the cities, to foreigners, over our own people. Whereas the Americans prefer our natives to foreigners. Is there any true American citizen who objects to this preference? The democrats still charge the Americans with religious intolerance, and by this means array the Catholic and foreign votes against their opponents. Now abstract the Catholic and foreign votes in Maryland and you will find a very small number of democrats in this State. The fact cannot be disguised that for years past the Gubernatorial election of this State has been ruled by the foreign vote; and by this vote the old Whigs have been generally beaten in Maryland.—Foreigners who have just arrived have been permitted to vote either with dead men's papers or by fraudulent naturalization. The old line Whigs have for years advocated a change of the naturalization laws as right in itself. On what grounds can the old Whigs of Maryland affiliate with their old and inveterate opponents?

A CLAY WHIG.

A SOUTHERN PLANTATION.—An estate recently purchased by a Texas sugar planter comprised one league of land, of which 800 acres are in cultivation, with a fine sugar-house and machinery, 1200 head of cattle, 75 mules and horses, together with all the farming utensils complete for a sugar plantation, and 75 negroes. The present growing crop of sugar and cotton was sold with the estate, for which $116,000 was paid.

A SPECULATION.—It is stated that in the spring of 1855 W. H Ross, ex-Governor of Delaware, whilst on a tour through the West for the benefit of his health, purchased some town lots in Kansas Territory.—He has but lately returned from another trip, and whilst out there he sold his land and realized something over fifteen thousand dollars by the speculation.

WASHINGTON, June 3.

From Washington.—Joseph Williams, of Iowa, has been appointed Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Kansas vice Mr. Cunningham, resigned. Calvin F. Burns has been appointed United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Missouri vice Mr. Reynolds, resigned.

Bloody Times at Washington!

Several Killed and others Terribly Wounded—the aid of the President Invoked—U. States Marines Firing a Volley in the Market House, &c., &c.

We learn from private sources that the Municipal contest at Washington yesterday, says the Clipper of Tuesday, was one of the bloodiest on record.

Quite early in the morning a gang of Baltimore Eighth Ward bullies staggered through the streets of 4th Ward flourishing revolvers, billies, slung shots, &c. and by way of diversion inaugurated a free fight, right off, in which several hundred men and boys took part. The immediate cause of the fuss, however, seems to have been an attempt by the Anti-Know-Nothings to keep such a full possession of the polls as that no American could approach within a stone's throw. For this purpose they crowded the vicinity with Irish, negroes, and ruffians of every hue, each one of whom manifested the most determined resistance whenever a voter approached who was adjudged, in their parlance, "A follower of the the dark lantern."

After several fruitless attempts to deposit their ballots, a number of resolute Americans concluded to press their way through, when the Irish finding themselves overpowered drew their billies and commenced slashing away; in their drunkenness and frenzy knocked as many of themselves down as anybody else. In the general melee which followed, pistols were also fired indiscriminately; stones, brick-bats, and missiles of every description hurled violently, pell mell, in every direction.—Among those injured in the conflict, was R. B. Owens, forth ward commissioners, who had his wrist badly shattered by a pistol ball; A. Kloffer received a spent ball in his forehead, which stunned him, but inflicted no serious injury. Captain Goddard with his squad, also mixed in, but came off rather second best, being struck several times but whether by friends or foe did not appear either then or subsequently.

An Irishman was dreadfully cut up.—His features were scarcely distinguishable, and his whole person covered with blood. In the skirmish also, Mr. Geo. D. Spencer received a severe blow in the face.

The polls were torn down, pavements pulled up, and the judges frightened out of their wits. Some of these brave officials (?) hid themselves under tables, and the clerks sought protection as best they could behind chairs, or others of their fellows of large corporeal dimensions, whilst most scampered away, making 2.40 on the side walks.

The buildings in the neighborhood were damaged, the doors and windows being broken in on all sides.

An old man named Cassiday, a granite cutter, received a bullet wound over the left ear; the ball fortunately, however, glanced, and did not penetrate the skull.

Mr. Mathew Emery was severely wounded by a blow from a stone. In consequence of the disturbances there was a general closing up of the stores and places of business quite early in the morning.

The belligerents were formidably armed. One man was armed with a large blacksmith's sledge, another with a horse pistol of large diminsions; a third carried a miscellaneous assortment of revolvers, bowie knives, billies, an iron bar; while a fourth carried, besides a side pocket filled with convenient stones, brickbats, &c., a large billet of oak wood, sufficient in size for an awning post.

The cowardice of the police was so great that no arrests of any consequence were made and at the sight of the man with the sledge hammer (probably, that same rotationist from this city who wrote under that caption in the "Sun,") they beat a hasty retreat for the Mayor's office with their coat-tails floating horizontally in the air. A young man, however, named Johnson was finally carried off to the watch house.

Mayor Magruder, after recovering his consciousness, and feeling the utter inefficiency of his own imbecile force, despatched, post haste, the following message to President Buchanan:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, June 1, 1857.

To the President of the United States:

Sir: Upon the representation of creditable citizens that a band of lawless persons, most of them not residents of this city have attacked one of the polls at which the annual election is now in progress, and after maiming some twenty good and peaceable citizens, have driven the remainder from the polls, have dispersed the commissioners of election, and threaten further violence on any attempt to carry on the election. I respectfully request you to order out the company of United States marines, now in this city, to maintain the peace thereof, the civil authorities finding themselves unable to do so with the means at their disposal, and their being no other United States soldiers at your command in this city. I have instituted a personal inquiry into the matter, and find that the weapons used were various kinds of fire-arms, clubs, knives, and stones; and the facts as stated in the enclosed certificate are just and true.

W. B. MAGRUDER, Mayor.

The President forthwith ordered out the bold "sogers," and in short order they began to arm themselves for the rescue. By this time, however, trouble was brewing in another direction. In the neighborhood of Eleventh street and the Avenue some thirty or forty shots were fired, in quick succession, and promiscuous crowds of men, women, and children seen pouring out like mountain streams directly after a freshet.

In this affray, a yound man, residing on Thirteenth street, between H and I, named John Ouzely, was shot in the knee.

Some of the cod-fish aristocrats and silk-stocking democrats ventured a participation in this "wee bit of a fight," appearing when all danger was over, fully harnessed and equipped, as if on a gunning expedition, swearing vengence and looking without expecting to find somebody to shoot at. After a patrol of the ward they grounded arms around a basket of champagne and pop, pop went the corks until the majority of them were badly shot—in the neck.—That was the extent of this battle.

Shortly after this another rumpus occurred in the Fourth ward. A noisy crowd of boys and men passed up Pennsylvania avenue from the diriction of the Fifth Ward, dragging after them a small brass gun. Immediately after two companies of U. S. Marines commanded by Captain Tyler, went to the City Hall, and reported for service to the Mayor.

Shortly after 1 o'clock, P. M., the marines (two companies, 110 men in all) arrived on the ground, first precinct of the fourth ward, under the charge of Captain Tyler, and accompanied by Mayor Magruder.—The opposition had, in the mean time, procured a brass cannon, and stationed it at the Northern market house, which they made their headquarters.

After the Mayor had addressed the crowd, stating that the soldiers were brought there solely to maintain the public peace of the city which had been flagrantly violated, the marines moved upon the market house to take possession of the cannon, amidst every species of taunt and opprobrium, ending finally in the possessors of the cannon firing pistols at the marines. The latter, however, moved steadily on, seized the cannon, and then due warning having been given, replied to the pistol shots upon them by a volley of ball.

This provoked another reply from the rioters, who fired at the marines, under cover, two of whom, it is said, were seriously injured, when quiet was restored and the parties separated.

After the smoke cleared away, however the terrible sight was presented of four or five persons in the agonies of death, and several others fearfully wounded. The cartridges of the marines beyond all reasonable doubt, did the principal mischief, since that those fatally injured were nearly all mere lookers on and not actual participants in the fight.

The names of those killed and wounded could not be fully ascertained, as the localities specified were avoided by all prudent persons during the balance of the day.—Our informant, however, mentions Alston, grocery keeper, shot through the head, dead. Thomas Willis, of Anna Arundel county, Md., shot in the back; fatally, it is thought. A colored man shot dead, name not known. P. F. Bell, Seventh Ward, knee terribly fractured. Colonel Williams, of the Land Office, shot in the left arm while standing at his window in the 2d story of his house. Col. Deans, also of the Land Office, was shot pretty badly.

An old man lay dead near Hyatt's store, shot through the head and breast. Another man shot in the abdomen near the market house, dropped apparently fatally wounded.

The scene was heartrending in the extreme, and curses of bereaved friends loud and bitter against the Mayor, the soldiers, and the short-sighted authorities generally.

One of the marines, an Irishman was accosted, in the heat of the fight, with the remark—"Look'y here; your shooting democrats!" "Indade, an' I aint," he replied, "I'm shooting nothing but d——d no nothings!" This is the kind of spirit which originated the whole unfortunate affair, and actuated the democracy throughout the entire contest. Indeed, the French street crowd, as well as the Jackson Tavern delegation from this city, slapped their fists together and fairly gnashed their teeth in anticipation of their bloody revenge upon the Know Nothings, before starting.

Since writing the above, we have received the annexed particulars by telegraph.

The accounts in circulation are very contradictory. The city is in a fever of excitement, and the riot is everywhere discussed. The Marines are still in reserve at the City Hall anticipating a large reinforcement of rioters from Baltimore in the 7 o'clock train, the Marines were stationed at the Depot to receive them. Despatches are said to have been sent by some of the parties here for their comrades to come down to-morrow, but it is believed the reception met with to-day will deter them.

The streets are now (8 o'clock) quiet with the exception of some squads of drunken brawlers. Among those killed was Archibald Dalrymple, a brake-man on the Washington road. As far as is known, he was not a participator in the riot, but was struck by a chance shot. Several of the wounded will, it is thought, not survive.

The Light Artillery are expected to arrive from Baltimore about 9 o'clock to relieved the marines.

LATER.

The rioters have obtained another cannon and threaten to destroy the house of the Mayor and Capt. Tyler, of the Marines.—Their families and valuables have accordingly been removed to places of safety.—There is great apathy on the part of good citizens and no steps are being taken by them to stay further trouble.

We are assured that the thirst for power by the administration, who would monopolize not only all authority in the Union, if possible, but steal and appropriate every isle in the sea and every country under heaven, has induced leading politicians of that kidney to hire these bullies for the occasion. If, therefore f they have more than they bargained for, they have themselves to blame as well as comfort.

THE VERY LATEST.

WATHINGTON, (Midnight) June 1.—The city is now nearly quiet. So far eight lives have been lost, and some sixteen persons are wounded. Some sériously.

An effect was made to renew the riot in the Second Ward to-night but it was checked by the appearance of the artillery from Baltimore.

Democrats have carried four out of the seven wards and have elected most of their candidates.

ST. LOUIS, June 1.

Arrival of Gov. Walker in Kansas—Delivery of his Inaugural.—Governor Walker arrived at Lecompton, Kansas, on Wednesday. He was received very quietly and read his inaugural. It is a lengthy document and declares that the territorial laws shall be enforced. It criticises the action of the free State men and declares that the position already taken shall be maintained by the whole force of the government.—Governor Walker passed through Lawrence on the way here and assured the people there that everything would be fair.

At the nominating convention held here for the election of a candidate for delegate to the constitutional convention and a surveyor general, M. Calhoun Jones, of the Union, and a man named Bolling, alleged pro-slavery, were nominated.

Gen. Lane was arrested on Tuesday for assault and battery with intent to kill—an old affair. He made a political speech in the evening to 1,500 persons.

Charles Faggett, the murderer of Hoppes, last summer, is in prison and in chains, awaiting trial, which commences on Monday. Judge Lecompte refused to admit him to bail.

ST. LOUIS, June 2.

From Utah—Brigham Young Driving Away the Gentiles—A Large Number of Emigrants Leaving the Territory.—The Leavenworth (K. T.) Herald of the 30th ult., learns from a gentleman, named Williams, who left Salt Lake in April 15th, that a great excitement prevailed at that place.—Brigham Young was driving the Gentiles away from the Territory. Judge Stiles, the United States Marshal, the Surveyor General, and their families together with a large number of emigrants, were leaving.

WASHINGTON, June 1.

From Washington.—The government has received as yet no official account of the Ohio fugitive slave case. The Secretary of the Interior has replied to the United States' marshal's telegraphic dispatch as follows: "Consult the district attorney and execute the law. The President expects you to do your duty and he will do his."

Major McCullough, who is here, has been again tendered the Governorship of Utah.

CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO CANAL.—The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal took place on Monday at the City Hall. It resulted in the re-election of the old board as follows: Wm. P. Maulsby, President, Frederick county, Md.; Thomas Devecmon and James Cowdy and Jacob Hagrove, Washington county, Md.; John Brewer, Montgomery county and Robert P. Dodge, of Georgetown, D. C. From the dams on the upper region of the canal intelligence was yesterday received which gives the hope that by the 10th inst. navigation will be resumed throughout.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Bureaux of Health, hospitals and dispensaries, have never accomplished half the good that has been achieved through the agencies for the sale of these remedies.—Fortunately for the sick, these agencies pervade all countries. Every dwelling, however, should be furnished with the preparations, for they may be suddenly and imperatively required at any hour. If universally and appropriately used in all cases demanding medical treatment, the average duration of human life would be increased, and the amount of human suffering greatly lessened. The effect of the Ointment on eruptions, ulcers, tumors, and all kinds of external diseases and injuries, is little short of supernatural.
