For though his death may cast a gloom,
Heaven only calls back its own;

And viewed the body in burial laid,
But thought we thou, mound of clay,

He is gone! The spirit has took its flight

LETTER FROM WORTON STATION.

Messrs. Editors:—The Union Ladies' Society still exists. We have gotten along very harmoniously until lately, when the question came up as to who was the proper ones to invest the said society's funds. We, and the majority of the society; claim the right of the duly elected treasurer to make the deposit of money on the signature of the president. But instead of its being done in that way, a member but not an officer, takes it and puts it in bank in brown name without the consent of said society which we think all wrong. We claim to be on a side of the oppressed and we think the act a species of tyranny, or in other words a minority ruling the majority.

Spring, lovely spring, has at last made appearance with its buds and flowers making glad our hearts—may we be thankful for our many blessings.

We were very sorry to hear of the death of one our old friends, H. W. Earnest, but we doubt not our loss is his gain.

Messrs. Editors, would you believe it, Worton Station boasts of an avenue. Laying all jokes aside the place is growing very fast and we think will in a not far distant day be a place of considerable note. There seems to be a good amount of enterprise manifest about the place. Everybody is on the stretch trying to catch up lost time caused by the lateness of the spring, but the good Father orders all things right and no doubt we will get our reward in peace and plenty. Some say the cold weather has killed the strawberry buds; hope it is only conjecture. The interested ones say peaches are not yet injured; hope there will be a paying crop.

The prospect now seems to be that we are going to have a fair this fall. Every one ought to contribute their mite to make it interesting. There is or ought to be ingenuity enough in old Kent among the old and young to send something to fill up, regardless of getting a premium.

PLAINDEALER.

A GENEROUS SENATOR.—While talking with Senator Wade Hampton last evening a daughter of the late Reverdy Johnson came up with an autograph album in her hand. This book was for the names only of United States Senators. The purpose of this lady is to raise a little contribution toward the founding of a hotel for helpless Southern soldiers at Richmond. The work so laudable that it would be like an effort to argue the duty and glory of it. This hotel is to be sold when filled to many one who will give the most for it. Each Senator has subscribed with But the one thing which radiant face came in haste to tell Hampton from this: One United States Senator—was he of the North? was he from the South? the East? the West? it was a secret, is a precious and sacred—this Senator no little $5, not willing to be more than some of his fellow Senators who are not rich, and then slyly handed enough to set two decimals to there is heart in this world after you despair for humanity.

A WILLIAMSPORT YOUTH sent fi to a New York firm to learn how to swearing, and received in reply: your mouth." He has sworn ever a

AN inquirer asks: "How can I tel music?" That is easy enough. When everybody applaud and look relieved piece is finished then you can know it is strictly classical.

"I CAN marry any girl that I please," with a self-satisfied expression of countenance. "No doubt," she responded sarcastically: "but what girl do you please?" They didn't speak now.

"You are weak," said a woman to her son, who was remonstrating against her marrying again. "Yes," mother he replied, "I'm so weak that I can't go a step farther."

A LITTLE GIRL who was watching a balloon ascension, suddenly exclaimed: "Mamma, I shouldn't think God would like that man to go up in heaven alive."

CUPID IN DIAMONDS.

When cupid wears the DIAMOND shirt,
His conquest's sure of hearts so tender,
For when they see this manly guise,
The ladies always quick surrender.

Surely the ladies are attracted by neatness of dress, which adds so much to the general elegance of one's appearance. What's more vital to a well-dressed man than a perfect-fitting, smooth-setting shirt?
