SENATOR EVARTS has received a first-class book in the good opinion of sensible and honest people. Riddleberger blackguarded him the other day in a Senate executive session, for calling the Virginia repudiators rogues and swindlers in an argument before the Supreme court on the debt case. As Riddleberger is one of the authors of the repudiation law which the creditors are resisting the truth was disagreeable to him, but it is the truth all the same.

---SUPERINTENDENT SNOWDEN, of the U. S. Min in Philadelphia, states that he has received over 80,000 trade dollars since March 4th and that letters from holders of the coin in various parts of the country are pouring in upon him. This is believed to show that the people have lost all hope of securing legislation on the subject from Congress and that they have determined to make the best of the reduction and sell the coins. The price of standard silver at present is ninety-six cents an ounce, and at that rate the trade dollars are worth eighty-four cents. This is the price paid for them at the mint.

---A SPECK OF WAR has arisen in an unexpected quarter. The seizure of the steamer Colon at Aspinwall by the revolutionists Monday and the arrest of the United States consul and other American citizens have received from the authorities at Washington the prompt attention demanded by so grave an occurrence. Secretary Whitney on Tuesday ordered Admiral Jouett, at New Orleans, to proceed to Key West with the Tennessee and Swatara and there await further instructions, and directed the Alliance, now at Key West, to proceed at once to Aspinwall. The Secretary also telegraphed to Comcitizens and property, and reminding him with Aspinwall for that purpose, and directing him torney General Roberts with a view to finding "The "dress parade" of the Maryland electoral college at the White House on Thursday had a most agreeable termination. It was expected by some that at the interview with the President such an opportunity to discuss Maryland politics and political differences might not be neglected. It was said that a written address had been prepared which it was proposed to rheumatism, complicated with the breaking out submit to the President. But Mr. Keating, of Queen Anne's county, and perhaps one or more other electors, objected to this, and the address was not presented. Mr. Keating is said to have shut off what promised to be a speech on political office-holding by interjecting a conundrum to the President. He wanted to know whether t was not easier to agree upon a principle than as to the means of carrying it out. The same gentleman with graceful politeness intimated out over his body, and his physicians prescribe spects merely, and he was disinclined to detain immediate rest and absence from all business the Maryland gentlemen were retiring from the dice, C. This action of the board has been condemned by Baltimore packers, who at a public meeting adopted resolutions declaring that the extension of the tonging season gives an opportunity to planters outside the State to obtain planting stock, which will be carried to other States, thereby depleting our beds, and by the time our next season opens will be used in competition with our markets.
