The Proposed Eastern Shore Railroad.

The preliminary surveys for the proposed Bal-timore and Eastern Shore Railroad, chartered by construction. The primary object of this projected road is to afford a direct and rapid means of communication between Baltimore and Salisbury, Wicomico county, Md. Salisbury is connected with the South and East by a system of communication with Philadelphia and N. York.

At each of these landings there will be piers and terminal facilities. These points are sufficiently protected naturally to make them comparatively free from drift ice, while at the same time a sufficient depth of water can be reached with piers of moderate extent. Freights will be transferred without breaking bulk. From Broad cove the road will run to the old town of St. Michaels, in Talbot county, a distance of about 41 miles. From St. Michaels the road will run in a southeasterly direction to Royal Oak, also in Talbot county; thence to Easton, the county seat of Talbot, distant from St. Michaels about 10 miles. Easton to voluntarily add his testimony to that has a population of about 4,000, and is an exceptionally pretty place, and enterprising. The surrounding country is thickly settled.
