Death of Mr. J. W. Higgins, Jr.

The news of the death of Mr. James Worthington Higgins, Jr., at his home, 537 Quintana Place, northwest Washington, on Saturday evening last, was a very great shock and the source of deep sorrow to his relatives and many friends in Calvert county. After returning from a drive, and while sitting in his car, in the garage connected with his residence, engaged in adjusting a wind shield wiper, he was overcome with monoxide gas and when his plight became known it was too late to save his life. The outer doors of the garage automatically close after a car enters, and another door connects with the residence. Mr. Higgins had intended to go out again later A maid in the house detected the oder of monoxide gas and gave the alarm Life was not extinct when help arrived, but though a pulmotor was used and every possible effort made to revive the unfortunate young man, it was unavailing.

Mr Higgins was aged 43 years, and was the husband of Mrs. Marie Elisabeth Higgins (nee Riordan) He was the son of Mr James W. Higgins, of Calvert county, and the late Mrs. Martha Griffith Higgins. He was one of the best known of the younger men who have lived in Calvert and was universally esteemed. During the World War he enlisted, and served in the aviation division, developing into a skillful aviator. Afterwards he spent a few years in this county, and for a while was active in poltics, being elected on the Republican ticket to one term in the House of Delegates. Later he was appointed to a position in the Internal Reveaue Department, in Washington, which office he held at the time of his death.

The deceased is survived by his wife; his father; a young son, James Allen Higgins, and two sisters, Mrs. Louise H. Williams, of Calvert, and Mrs. Robert W Cook, of Annapolis.

The funeral was held on Tuesday afnoon, with services at 2 30 o'clock in Fort Myer Chapel, Fort Myer, Va., and interment in Arlington National Cemetery, Va.

Dwelling Destroyed by Fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett W. Beach, of Parker's Wharf and Washington, suffered the loss of their residence at Parker's by fire, together with all the furniture and household effects it contained, on Saturday, December 26th. Mr. Beach and family are spending the winter in Washington, but had come to the county and spent the night of Christmas Day at their country home, returning to Washington about 10 o'clock on Saturday morning. At 3 o'clock that afternoon Messrs. Malcolm Grahame and Thomas Brayshaw, staying at the home of Mr and Mrs Clare Briscoe, noticed smoke issuing from the house of Mr. Beach. They quickly spread the alarm, but the fire had gained such headway at that time it was impossible to enter the building, and all efforts to save the house and contents were fruitless. The North Beach Volunteer Fire Department responded quickly to the call sent in to them, but could not reach the house in time to be of service there, though valuable aid was rendered in preventing the spread of the fire to other cottages in the development. The loss is partially covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Death of Mr. George Chaney.

Mr. George Chaney died at his home at Mount Harmony, this county, on Thursday morning, December 24th, following a lingering illness The deceased had been an invalid for a few years past, as the result of a stroke of paralysis, and recently when he suffered another he failed rapidly. Mr. Chaney was aged 69 years, and was the husband of Mrs Jennie McKenney Chaney. He was a son of the late James Walter Chaney. He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Roland Hall, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Earl Walton, of Chaneyville; three sons, George Chaney, Jr., Allen Chaney and Wilson Chaney, and two brothers, John Chaney, of Dunkirk, and James Chaney, of Clarendon, Va. The funeral was held on Sunday, December 27th, at Smithville M. E. Church, the service was conducted by Rev. O. C. Mitchell.

Hutchins—Ward.

Miss Nellie Agnes Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Plummer Ward, of Paris, and Mr. William Harry Hutchins, of Mt, Harmony, were quietly married on Saturday, December 26. The ceremony was performed by Rev. O. C. Mitchell, after which Mr and Mrs. Hutchins left for a short wedding trip. On their return thuy will reside at Mt Harmony.

Mr. Hutchins is a prosperous farmer and a well known undertaker. Mrs. Hutchins is a graduate of the State Teacher's College at Towson. She has been teaching in the county for a number of years and at present she is teaching at Fairview. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins are very popular throughout Calvert and adjoining counties. The best wishes of a host of friends go with them.

Death of Two Brothers.

Mr. William M. Rawlings and his brother, Mr. Holdsworth Bowen Rawlings, who resided near Prince Frederick, each died at their respective homes last week, the former on Tuesday, December 29th, and the latter on December 31st. Their deaths followed a long illness for each. They were the sons of the late Fielder and Bettie Rawlings. Their funerals took place at Asbury M. E. Church on December 31st, at 2 P. M., and January 2nd, at 11 A. M., respectively. Rev. Dr. S. Paul Schilling conducted the service of each.

Mr. William M. Rawlings was aged 73 years, the husband of Mrs. Ida Scrivener Rawlings. He is survived by his wife; three daughters, Mrs. George Shumann, of Baltimore, and Misses Nellie and Mae Rawlings; five sons, Elbert and Arthur Rawlings, of Baltimore, and Frank, Reid and Raymond Rawlings

Mr. Holdsworth Bowen Rawlings was aged 71 years, and was the husband of Mrs. Carrie Weems Rawlings. He is survived by his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Wilson Yoe, and two sons, Milburn Rawlings, of Baltimore and Earl Rawlings.

Surviving the two deceased also are two sisters, Mrs Jennie Hance, of Linthicum Heights, and Mrs. Brooke Hardesty, and one brother, Benjamin T. Rawlings.

The passing of the two Messrs. Rawlings is much regretted by their large number of friends. Industrious and conscientious citizens, devoted to their families and good neighbors, they will be greatly missed in the community.

Youth Conference Will be Held January 23.

A significant opportunity for the young people of the county is presented by the county-wide mid-winter Youth Conference to be held by the Calvert County Youth Council on Saturday, January 23, at Prince Frederick. Under the theme, "Following Christ in Today's World," the young people of the churches will meet morning and afternoon in the Calvert County High school to discuss some of the major problems confronting them, closing the conference in the evening with a service in St Paul's Protestant Episcopal church.

Speakers during the day will include Rev. John C. Millian, director of religious education of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and Rev. Durrie B. Hardin. There will be three discussion groups meeting simultaneously morning and afternoon, with the following subjects and leaders: "Personal Religious Living" led by Rev. C. E. Kirby; "A Constructive Use of Leisure Time," led by Rev. G. Custer Cromwell, of Baltimore, and "Building for World Peace," led by Rev. S Paul Schilling. Devotional services morning, afternoon and evening will be led by young people.

The afternoon session will close with reports from the discussion groups, group recreation and a 6 o'clock supper which will be featured by group singing and entertainment. Supper reservations are to be mailed or telephoned to Miss Dorothy Ordwein, registrar, Prince Frederick, by January 19.

Miss Katherine Bowie Belt.

Miss Katherine Bowie Belt, a member of one of the oldest and most aristocratic families in Calvert county, died on Tuesday morning last at her home near Huntingtown. Miss Belt was the last of her generation in her family. Born in Prince George's county, a daughter of the late Commodore William Josephi Belt, U. S. N., she had spent much of her life in Calvert, and for several years past, with her nephew, Y. Kent Bowie, lived at the old Belt homestead near Huntingtown. An uncle of the deceased, Colonel Charles Belt, U. S. A., owned the land on which now stands the town of Chevy Chase, Md. Miss Belt had many fine traits of character, and a gracious manner was one of her assets. She had many friends who sincerely regret her demise. She is survived by a number of nieces and nephews of two or three generations. The late Capt. Chas. R. Belt, who once lived here, was her brother.

The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at All Saints Protestant Episcopal Church, with interment in the cemetery there.

Store Damaged by Fire.

The store at Barstow, owned by Mr. George F. Hardesty and conducted by Messrs. Lewis and Frank Stafford, was damaged by fire on Wednesday morning of last week and the entire stock of goods either destroyed or damaged beyond use. The store had been closed for the night, and shortly after midnight when Thomas and William Weems, returning from coon hunting, passed by they noticed the building was on fire. The majority of the inhabitants of Barstow were quickly aroused and promptly turned out. By their united and tireless efforts they at last managed to save the store building, but by that time the stock was already either destroyed or hopelessly damaged. The North Beach Volunteer Fire Department was on hand to lend aid as quickly as they could reach the scene of the fire, but by the time they had gotten there the fire was pretty well under control. The damage to the building is covered by insurance.

Injured in Automobile Accident.

Mr Charles Stinnett was very seriously injured in an automobile acceldent on Saturday afternoon last at Fairview, in this county. He was a passenger in the car operated by Columbus Gott, who is alleged to have disregarded a stop sign when emerging from an intersecting road on which he was travelling, and then crossing to the opposite side of the Southern Maryland Boulevard directly in front of the car of Mr. Edward Hardesty, of Prince Frederick, proceeding north on the highway, and who could not stop in time to avoid a collision. Both cars were badly damaged, and Hardesty received a bruise on the forehead when he was thrown against the windshield, but Stinnett was more seriously injured. Dr. Hugh Ward, of Owings, was summoned, and, after an examination, announced that the front of Stinnett's skull was fractured. He was taken to the Calvert County Hospital at once. His condition now is said to be somewhat improved. Gott, who was uninjured, has been placed under arrest, and will be tried today before Police Justice William W. Duke for reckless driving and driving while intoxicated.

Farm Bureau News.

The Calvert County Farm Bureau will hold its first annual banquet in the Huntingtown Hall on January 20th. The banquet will start at 6 o'clock with a Southern Maryland turkey dinner which will last until 7.30. From then until 9 an entertainment will be given. Part of the entertainers will be from Baltimore and Annapolis. After the entertainment several speakers will address the audience. The entertainment committee is making every effort to make this the most enjoyable affair of the season. This is the first thing of its kind that the local Farm Bureau has ever attempted, but it has been planned to make it an annual affair.

All members in good standing will receive two tickets at no cost. Extra tickets will cost $1 00. Tickets can be secured from the entertainment committee, Carrow Prout, Owings; Roland Trott and Calvert C. Buckler, Huntingtown, John B Morsell, County Agent, Prince Frederick, as soon as they are received from the printer. Arrangements are also being made to hold a dance after the banquet if possible.

Any one wishing to join the Farm Bureau can do so by seeing the above committee, or Ellis Bowen, president of the Calvert County Farm Bureau. Every farmer should be a member of this co-operative organization, and help make our county a better place to live in and the only way that this can be accomplished is for the farmers to pull together. Watch your local papers next week for more details on the banquet.

Young—Ireland.

A marriage of much interest here was quietly solomnized on Saturday evening, December 26th, at 7.30 o'clock, at the Rectory of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church, Prince Frederick, when Miss Naomi Sedwick Ireland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson Ireland, of Wilson, became the bride of Mr. Samuel Haison Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Young, of Prince Frederick. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. Durrie B Hardin, and was witnessed only by members of the families of the young couple. The bride was modishly attired in a black traveling suit, with matching accessories. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Young left on a wedding trip. They are residing now at the home of the groom in Prince Frederick.

Death of Elisha B. Howes.

Mr. Elisha B. Howes, one of the best known citizens of the Third District, and former chief judge of the Orphans' Court for Calvert county, died on Saturday morning, December 26th, at his home near Ferry Landing, after an illness of two years. He suffered a stroke of paralysis December, 1934, and never recovered.

Mr. Howes embodied the finest traits of a good citizen, and held the affection and esteem of many persons. He was a large land-owner and successful farmer, and interested in politics to some extent. He was elected judge of the Orphans' Court on the Democratic ticket, in 1930, and was re-elected in 1934. He never served in the second term, however, because of his illness, and Charles G. Spicknall, of Lower Marlboro, was finally named to succeed him.

The deceased was aged 75 years, and was a son of the late Webster Howes. He was a bachelor, and is survived by three brothers, James Z and George W. Howes, both of Calvert county, and Daniel Howes, of Baltimore.

The funeral wss held at Smithville Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday afternoon, December 27th, at 2.30o'clock, with interment in the church cemetery. Rev. O. C. Mitchell conducted the service.

Lecture Will be Held in Calvert County High School.

The Calvert County Council of Parents and Teachers, in cooperation with the State and County Health Departments, will sponsor a series of addresses on the problem of controlling syphilis. The first lecture will be held in the Calvert County High school January 11, at 7.30 p. m. The speaker will by Dr. J. E. Moore, professor of dermatology and spyhiology at Johns Hopkins University. The public is urged to attend.

In article written by Dr. Thomas Parran, entitled "Why Don't We Stamp Out Syphilis," the following statement appears: "Syphilis, a plague that disables half a million Americans a year; a plague that does a hundred times as much damage as the dread infantile paralysis; a plague that is wrecking lives, shattering homes and filling institutions all over the land with its insane, blind, feeble minded or unemployable victims—that is syphilis. It bids fair to become the great American direase."

Victim of Amnesia.

Suffering from amnesia, Harry Shaeffer, of Catonsville, aged about 45 years, who, it is said, is a graduate of West Point and a retired Army officer, lately having employment in Baltimore, was picked up on the Crain Highway near Pigeon House Inn on Christmas Eve by Willie Claggett, colored, of Chesapeake Beach, when the man signalled for a ride. At Dunkirk, when Claggett informed his passenger he could carry him no further Shaeffer refused to get out of the car and said he wished to be taken to a hospital. Claggett called up Sheriff Maurice M. Buckler, who brought Shaeffer to the Calvert County Hospital, where it was found that he had forgotten his name and anything connected with his past life. A gold watch bearing a name or initials, which he was wearing, was the only clue to his identity, but that and a description of the man wired the Baltimore police department was enough to establish his identity. His family had reported his disappearance after leaving home for his job in the morning. Two sons and a daughter came to the Hospital here on Christmas morning and carried him back to their home. At that time he did not know them. It is said that this is not his first attack of amnesia.

A New Year Dawns.

A new year dawns for you and me,
New scenes and untried ways,
New hopes and opportunities
Await the coming days.

We'll cross the threshold with our Lord,
Nor fear to face once more
The great unknown awaiting us,
Beyond that open door.

With all its problems, joys and cares,
The old year slips away,
No more forever to return;
Nor would we have it stay.

The onward march and upward look
Be ours, what'er befall;
As on the threshold of the year
We hear our Masters's call.

Fear not to cross the threshold new,
And face another year;
Remember that He goes before,
Our untried faith to cheer.

IN MEMORIAM.

WOOD. In loving rembrance of my dear mother, ANNIE M. WOOD, who possed away November 19, 1936,

You left behind a broken heart,
That loved you so sincere.
That never did and never will,
Forget you mother dear.

Come to me in my sadness,
Wrap your arms around me tight,
And ask God to comfort
Your heart broken daughter tonight.

By her devoted daughter, A. B.
