There will be an oyster and meat supper in Huntingtown Hall on Saturday, March 6th, for the benefit of Emmanuel Methodist Episcopal Church South, beginning at 5 o'clock. Price, 50 cents. Pie and ice cream for sale also. Public cordially invited.

Growers Urged to Use Red Clover Of Domestic Origin.

In spite of the fact that the supply of domestic red clover seed is very short and heavy importations of foreign grown seed are being made, Maryland farmers are advised to use only domestic seed or substitute some other legume or grass, because imported red clover seed will not give satisfactory results in this section, according to Forrest S. Holmes, in charge of the seed laboratory at College Park.

Mr. Holmes says that imported red clover seed can be distinguished from domestic seed by the colored fractions of the imported seed. The colors used for staining imported seed are violet, green, orange-red, purple-red and red. Green will be seen most generally, approximately one per cent of the seed being so stained. When stain is seen in a lot of seed, the entire bulk is imported seed, not just the stained seeds.

It is pointed out that while imported red clover seed may be designated as "adapted" or "adaptable" by those offering it for sale, no one should be misled by the use of such a term. Extensive tests have shown conclusively that imported red clover seed will not produce satisfactory crops in this section. It should not be planted, for it not only will give smaller yields than home-grown seed but it will contaminate our native strains by introducing inferior characters of the imported seed.

At the present time imported red clover seed costs only slightly more than half as much as selected domestic seed With such a difference in price, there will be a great temptation to buy the cheaper imported seed Mr. Holmes warns that anyone who is inclined to buy imported seed should remember that the resulting crop will not be satisfactory and that such seed is actually the most expensive now on the market in spite of its low price.

Home grown red clover seed is above average in plant producing capacity but there is a wide variation in this respect among different lots of seed, according to Mr. Holmes. Determination of the plant producing capacity of individual will show that many of them can be used at rates considerably below average without any risk of an unsatisfactory crop because of insufficient seed being planted. With the price of home-grown seed as high as it is now, it will pay to know the plant producing capacity and to use no more than is needed.

Information regarding the plant producing capacity of lots of seed and other characteristics affecting their planting value, can be had by sending a representative sample to the Seed Laboratory at the University of Maryland, College Park, in care of Mr. Holmes.

Death of Mr. J. Morsell Roberts.

Mr. J. Morsell Roberts died on Friday of last week about noon at the Calvert County Hospital, where he had been under treatment not quite three weeks. Mr. Roberts was a member of an old Calvert county family, a son of the late Richard Roberts and Henrietta Morsell Roberts, and was very well known. He was 66 years old. Born at the family homestead on the bay, he spent most of his life in Calvert, and for the past three years filled a position in this county with the State Roads force. Mr. Roberts had a very large circle of friends, and there is sincere regret at his passing. He was the husband of Mrs. Mollie Bond Roberts, of this county.

The deceased is survived by his wife and one son, Richard Roberts, of St. Leonards; six sisters, Mrs. Jas. A. Duke, of Broomes Island, Mrs. Lee Mullikin, Collington, Mrs Joseph Pitcher, of Washington, Mrs William Groff, of Owings Mills, Mrs. Augustus Wedderburn, of Virginia, and Mrs. Hoval Smith, Phoenix, Arizona, and one brother, William Roberts, of Lynchburg, Va. Kent R. Mullikin, of Collington, Democratic floor leader in the House of Delegates, is a nephew of the deceased.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Christ Protestant Episcopal Church, this county, with interment in the family lot in the cemetery. Rev Durrie B. Hardin conducted the service.

Campaigning for Better Tobacco Prices.

The directors of the Calvert County Farm Bureau, assisted by committees in the various communities, are in the midst of a campaign to secure more remunerative prices for the tobacco crop It is the feeling of the Farm Bureau officials that Calvert county farmers will be victims of another low market unless action is taken to increase prices. The 40 cent top that prevailed during the 1936 marketing year is one of the chief targets. In the face of rising commodity prices and increased cost of production of tobacco, the Farm Bureau officials feel that a substantial increase in tobacco prices should be expected this year. Prices on the top grades, less than those of former years when they ranged from 55 to 60 cents per pound, will not be acceptable to the Calvert County Farm Bureau. Every tobacco grower in the county will be canvassed and asked to support the move. Some communities have been completed, with one reporting nearly 100 per cent cooperation pledge.

The officers and directors of the Calvert County Farm Bureau are: President, Ellis Bowen; vice president, Calvert C. Buckler; secretary, John B. Morsell; treasurer, T. Wilson Hall. Directors, Julius Parran, A. Claude Turner, Lester Hall, Roland H. Trott, Carrow T. Prout and C. Orville Drury.

Bank Cashier Being Sought by U. S. Agents.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice Sunday launched a hunt for Walter Edgar Seipp, missing cashier of the Upper Marlboro branch of the County Trust Company of Maryland (formerly of Solomons.)

The search was instituted when James K. Cullen, United States Commissioner, of Baltimore, issued a warrant for Seipp's arrest on an affidavit filed by S. C. Simon, special agent of the department. Seipp, according to Simon, disappeared on February 8, simultaneously with the appearance at Upper Marlboro of examiners from the State Bank Commissioner's office.

Subsequent investigation of the bank's records showed at least $600 to be missing, but complete examination of the books is expected to show a loss of about $16,000, according to Bernard J Flynn, United States District Attorney.

In the warrant issued by Commissioner, Seipp is charged with "embezzling, abstracting and wilfully misapplying" funds of the bank. Mr. Flynn, in explaining Seipp's metnods, said the cashier wrote out personal checks when he did not have funds in his account. These actions took place subsequent to December 3, 1936, he said.

Seipp had been associated with the bank for fifteen years, is married and has two children. Lansdale G. Sasscer, president of the State Senate, is head of the Marlboro branch, and State Senator J. Allan Coad, of Leonardtown, is president of the County Trust Company of Maryland.

Department of Justice agents became involved in the investigation because the bank is one of the Federal Reserve system and its deposits are Federally guaranteed, Mr. Flynn explained.—Baltimore Sun.

Death of Mr. Thomas P. Martin.

The many friends of Mr. Thomas P. Martin, of Solomon's, were shocked and much distressed to learn of his death, which occurred on Sunday, at the home of his son, Mr Raymond Martin, in Annapolis, where he was spending the winter. Mr Martin's death was caused by pneumonia, following an attack of influenza.

In his passing Solomon's loses one of its best known and most esteemed citizens, and one who will long be missed. Mr Martin was aged about 65 years, and was the husband of the late Mrs. Missouria Bramble Martin, who died many years ago. He is survived by two sons, Thomas Martin, of Charlotte, N. C., and Raymond Martin, of Annapolis; a sister Mrs. George Condiff, of Solomon's, and one brother, Robert Martin, of Baltimore. Frank Evans, of Prince Frederick, and Reynolds Evans, of Solomon's, are nephews of the deceased.

The funeral was held Monday morning at 8 o'clock in Annapolis, with Requiem Mass at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's Star of the Sea Catholic Church, Solomon's. Burial was in the church cemetery.

More Money Needed to Fight Tuberculosis.

The Christmas Seal sale that has been conducted recently by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association to raise funds for continuing the war on tuberculosis for another year has raised sufficient funds to carry on the program, but the goal has not yet been attained.

"Due to the recent payments for the Christmas Seals enough money has been made available to carry on the work of the association," said William B. Matthews, managing director of the association. "However, it is most important that those people who have still not contributed should do so, for there are many activities in the program that need to be enlarged and there are always many extra things that come up in the course of a year that must be taken care of without delay.

Among the activities that should be enlarged are, according to Mr. Matthews, the state-wide clinical service, the Miracle House, the purchase of necessary diagnostic equipment and the work among the colored tuberculous.

"The work of the association has progressed steadily in the past thirty years. Our efforts, however, must be intensified if we are to completely control this disease. Those who still retain their seals unpaid for would be of great help in this fight if they sent the money for their seals to their respective chairmen," Mr. Matthews concluded.

Jackson and Sasscer to Speak in Calvert.

Mayor Howard W. Jackson, of Baltimore, has accepted the invitation of the Women's Democratic Club to be a guest speaker at the banquet to be held Saturday night February 20th, at 7 p. m. at the Town Hall, Prince Frederick. Hon. L. G. Sasscer, President of the Maryland State Senate, will be another speaker. The dinner will be served promptly at seven, in order that the hall may be cleared for dancing by 9.30. A ticket to the bauquet entitles the guest to attendance at the dance also and complimentary tickets admitting two are being given to everyone buying a dinner ticket. The committee has also decided to admit to the dance persons not holding tickets upon payment of those persons of 50c at the door of the hall after 9 30. Mrs. Roy Williams is chairman of the ticket committee. Mrs. Everard Briscoe is chairman of the committee arranging for the banquet and the dinner will be served by Mrs Mae King. Reservations are being made for the affair and it is expected that the guests will number well over a hundred.

"O, For a Thousand Tongues" Voted Most Popular Methodist Hymn.

In a nation-wide poll just concluded among church members, the hymn, "O, for a Thousand Tongues" was voted the most popular of all Methodist hymns. It is to be used as part of the dinner program in over 20,000 cities, towns and hamlets, where the successful launching of the Million Unit Fellowship Movement is to be celebrated at family church gatherings by more than 3,000,000 Methodist.

These dinners will be linked together from coast-to-coast by a national broadcast given under the auspices of the Federal Council of Churches, which will feature Dr. E Stanley Jones, recent head of the preaching mission, in a farewell message to America. As a Methodist missionary, Dr. Jones' message, they feel, will be of particular importance to these Methonist gatherings.

This winning hymn, which was composed by Charles Wesley in 1739, will also be presented on the broadcast. In order of their popularity, other hymns ranking high are "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," "Love Divine," "All Love Excelling," and "A Charge to Ksep I Have."

More About Packing Tobacco.

Mr Editor: Will you please give me space in your paper for some valuable information to the farmers of Southern Maryland in regards to handling of their tobacco this year? We feel that we have an unusual good crop of tobacco and it is my aim to try to help get every dollar available for it.

Now we have so many complaints from our foreign buyers about bad packing of Maryland tobacco. I am suggesting that farmers in every community, go as a whole, and guarantee that the contents of the hogshead calls for, then the buyer will be ready and willing to pay a better price.

A manufacturer told a buyer on this market that he didn't care how much he paid for a hogshead of tobacco, just so he got what he paid for. In packing be careful not to use green heading, for this has caused some farmers as much as $6 for one piece of same. We have known a hogshead to lose 15 pounds of tobacco that sold for 40 cents per pound by making this error.

Be sure that your tobacco is in good condition before packing it. When tobacco is seasoned well and has a good tobacco smell will have a lot to do with the sale, for there is no buyer that buys tobacco without first smelling same.

With kindest regards to the tobacco growers of Southern Maryland and hoping that this advice will be helpful to to both them and the warehouses, I am

Very truly yours,
ALBERT J. LOMAX,
Chief Inspector.

Food Market Advice.

Low prices for lamb and for poultry are being asked this week. While ducks and turkeys are outstanding in value all poultry, particularly small fowl, broiling and frying chickens are much cheaper than last year. The early part of the week will see shoulder, rib and loin lamb chops and shoulder cuts cheap, the weekend chops and legs. While there are three fast days in the week, the holiday weekend will make this news interesting to most people.

Generous supplies of eggs continue to arrive in our markets and they are being sold at very reasonable prices. Fish supplies on the other hand are not nearly so plentiful this year as last though fresh fillets, cod steak and frozen halibut, salmon, swordfish and Boston mackerel are fairly inexpensive.

All varieties of red skinned apples are higher. Bananas, however, are somewhat more plentiful. Oranges are a little higher but oranges and grapefruit are still the best fruit values available. Strawberries and pineapple continue to be more abundant and lower in price than is usual at this season.

Fresh peas and beans are high in price but both spinach and new cabbage are plentiful and low in price. To supplement these, young beets, carrots are abundant and inexpensive. Onions and turnips are higher but still very reasonable. Cauliflower is lower while Brussels sprouts and broccoli are both higher.

Here are two weekend menus *built around foods which are readily available and moderate in price:

Stuffed Celery
Roast Lamb — New Potatoes
Glazed Carrots — Bread and Butter
Strawberry Bavarian
Coffee

Roast Stuffed Duck or Turkey
Mashed Sweet Potatoes
Creamed Spinach
Grapefruit and Lettuce Salad
Bread and Butter
Orange Scuffle — Hard Sauce
Coffee

*This menu tested and tasted in A&P Kitchen.

Dr. Jerome Snyder will be in Prince Frederick Wednesday, February 24, from 1 to 4 to conduct eye examinations and prescribe glasses. Office at Calvert County Hospital.

Carroll—Weems.

On Wednesday evening, February 10, at the Southern Methodist parsonage in Prince Frederick, Miss Bertha Weems, only daughter of Mrs. John T. Weems and the late Mr. Weems, of Port Republic, became the bride of Mr. Luther Carroll, youngest son of Mrs. James R. Carroll and the late Mr. Carroll, of Solomons. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. E. Kirby in the presence of a few friends. The bride was attired in a dress of Navy blue crepe, with hat, gloves and shoes to correspond. The young couple is very well known and have the best wishes of their many friends. They will reside at Solomons.

Calvert Musings.

No mistake about it, Calvert county is certainly movie conscious; witness the huge audiences generally on hand at Prince Frederick on Friday nights. And that is just fine, for Mr. Taylor, movie manager here and for one house at Solomon's, selects his attractions with care and much taste, and the public benefits by seeing the best to be offered in the films. We have for some time past felt that it might be a good thing, here at least, if the programs were continuous, for in that case there would not be the crowding as at one single showing. If, for example, the movies began at 7, and again at 9, there should be quite an easing of the usual congestion.

If some day sidewalks could be established through the principal part of Prince Frederick, those responsible for the improvement would have the undying gratitude of many persons. Pedestrians in the town have to do some fancy stepping to keep out of the way of traffic at all times, for there is not a place here of which the walker can feel he has the exclusive use. In one spot when a car is passing, one either has to take refuge in some bushes or try to jump to safety on a neighbor's porch, if the owner doesn't object. In another narrow part of the road, when the walker is facing the approaching traffic, which he is suppesed to do, there is a rose-hedge he is quite apt to get too intimate with for comfort. Sidewalks here are needed both for comfort and safety.

We hope that the committee having in charge the plans for beautifying the Court House lawn, by the planting of shrubbery and trees, will select for the latter only native specimens. They generally last longer, grow taller and can be gotten, probably without cost, right here in the neighborhood. A few elms, or tulip poplars, wood maple, oak, etc., could be placed to advantage in the corners of the lot, where they would not interfere with any other landscaping effect, and would be something to rejoice over as the years go by.

Death of Mrs. Elizabeth Grover.

Mrs. Elizabeth Grover, one of the oldest ladies in Calvert county, died on Saturday afternoon last at the home of his son, Mr. George R. Grover, at St. Leonard's Creek. Mrs. Grover was a daughter of the late Samuel Pardoe, of this county, and was in her 89th year. She was twice married, her first husband being the late George R. Grover; her second, the late Robert Grover. She is survived by her son, George R. Grover.

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church South, the service conducted by Rev. C. E. Kirby, and interment was in the cemetery at Middleham Chapel.
