ENOCH PRATT BALTO. FREE LIBRARY

CECIL COUNTY STAR

Vol. 55—No. 11 | ELKTON, MARYLAND, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1936. | $1.00 Per Year

NEW YORK TIMES FOR ROOSEVELT

Life Term For Man Convicted Of Attempted Assault

Jury Finds Herbert Dean Guilty After Short Session

Out Only Forty-Five Minutes When They Returned With A Verdict Of Guilty In Second Count

All Day Monday Taken Up On Case; Not Concluded Until 11:30 When Jury Comes In

The most important case to occupy the Circuit Court for Cecil County this week was that of Herbert M. Dean, of North asEt, indicted by the September term Grand Jury for felonious assault on Sara Jane Alexander, 13, of North East.

Dean was placed on trial Monday before a jury consisting of Benjamin F. Bailey, foreman, Harry H. Howard, William Stetrling Evans, Thomas R. Freeman, Harry L. Bunting, Clarence E. Harris, awrence Perkins, Arthur H. Owens, Norman Spear, Morris Dunbar, Gove S. Jenkins and William J. Fenton. Thirty members were called to the box before the jury was empanelled.

Girl's Evidence Private

The evidence of the young Alexander girl, privately taken, was that Dean was the man who had taken her to a secluded spot in Elk Neck and struck her over the head, rendering her unconscious. Later when she regained consciousness she was brought back to North East and let out of the car near her home.

Dr. J. J. Greenwald, who examined the girl after the attempted assault, told of the condition he had found her at the time he examined her shortly after she had been returned to North East. He also testified that an attempt had been made to ravish the girl.

Dr. Maldees testified to finding human bloodstains in the machine Dean had driven that night and also stains and hair on an automatic pistol owned by Dean. John Alexander, John Johnson, Jesse Alexander, Boyd Scarborough, Esther Franklin, George C. Rawson and Elwood Racine were also called as witnesses for the State.

Night Session Held

The case was concluded in the evening session after the defense put the following witnesses on the stand: Geo. C. Rawson, George W. Owens, George Holden, Emory Clark, Mrs. Willard McKenney, Willard McKenney and Ethel Waters.

Defense witnesses were followed by argument after which the case was given to the jury at 10:45 o'clock. After forty-five minutes deliberation, the jury returned a verdict of guilty on the second count, assault with intent to rape. On Tuesday Court sentenced Dean to life in the Maryland Penitentiary.

State's Attorney E. D. E. Rollins prosecuted the case for the State while Dean was represented by State Senator Harold E. Cobourn.

Other Important Cases

Charles E. Doughton and Clarence E. Fogelman on Tuesday pleaded guilty to larceny of tires and received suspended sentences.

John P. Boddy, Jr., colored, pleaded guilty to non support and was ordered to pay $5 per month.

Samuel M. James pleaded guilty to forgery and was sentenced to the Maryland House of Correction for one year.

Henry Haines pleaded guilty to perverted practice and was sentenced to two years in the House of Correction.

Martin McLaughlin was tried before a jury and found guilty on the second count, having liquor in possession for sale.

Lewis D. Price pleaded guilty to fornication and was ordered to pay $10 per month. Kyle C. Gracee pleaded guilty to a similar offense and was ordered to pay $15 per month.

Dance Music By Billy Isaacs For Autumnal Ball

Co. "E" Club's Second Dance Of Season Here Next Friday Eve.

Commanders Played For Sport Dance At Close Of Last Season

The second dance of the 1936-1937 series under Co. "E" Club sponsorship will be held at the State Armory here on Friday evening of next week, October 9th, when Billy Isaacs and his Commanders will command the attention of local enthusiasts with his rhythmetic arrangements of modern dance tunes.

The Commanders, under the baton of the inimitable Isaacs, form one of the best working musical organizations to grace the local armory in several seasons past and their modern interpretation of the popular "swing" numbers make them much in demand at leading colleges and universities throughout the eastern section of the country. Isaacs organization will be remembered as the band that so capably handled the music for the Sport Dance at the close of the past dance season. They have also appeared on the Co. "E" Club program at several dances during the past few seasons and have gained a large local following.

The Autumnal Ball here next Friday evening will begin at the usual hour, 9 o'clock, and end at one.

Wilmington Ready To Greet Kiwanis Clubs' Convention

Local Organization Will Take Active Part In Three Day Parley In First City

The Elkton Kiwanis Club, according to President Harold T. Perkins, is making arrangements to participate in the 18th annual Capital District Convention of Kiwanis Clubs which will be held in Wilmington, Delaware, October 11, 12, and 13. Dr. J. L. Trone, first president of the local club and a member of the regional committee in charge of arrangements, announced today that as the time for the convention grows nearer, plans for the entertainment of guests who will attend are rapidly shaping into definite form and an interesting and entertaining program has been arranged.

A tour of New Castle county has been decided on and in the city of New Castle many homes, erected long before the Revolutionary War, will be visited. Dr. Trone also stated that in Wilmington is the site on which the Swedes first landed in the New Continent in 1638 and the 300th anniversary in 1938 may bring King Gustav of Sweden to Wilmington for the occasion.

Entertainment Scheduled

Not only will the gentler sex attending the convention wtness the beauties of the Longwood estate of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre S. duPont on Saturday evening, October 11th, but on Monday, October 12th, and just prior to the sight seeing tour, the bridge luncheon with prizes for the ladies will be held at the Wilmington Country Club, enabling the visitors to see the splendid golf course and tennis courts where national matches are held. For the men who play golf, the contests will be staged at the Concord Country Club and while the women are having their bridge luncheon, the men will be having a Fellowship luncheon in the Hotel duPont, headquarters for the convention.

Trone May Get Post

Practically every member of the Elkton Kiwanis Club will attend the sessions of the convention and participate in the program, while President Harold T. Perkins, Henry R. Shank and Howard C. McClintock, will be present as delegates. Dr. J. L. Trone's name is prominently mentioned as the leading candidate for Lieutenant Governor of the Capital District and members of the local organization are counting heavily on this honor coming to the Elkton club.

Several Injured In Crash Near North East

Several colored people were injured one seriously, when their car crashed into a bus near North East Monday night.

Lloyd Dodd, of Baltimore, was the most seriously injured and was brought to Union Hospital where he is being treated for a possible fracture of the skull and a fractured vertebrae. Two of his companions, Allen Spicer ,of Cambridge, and Herbert Spicer, of Baltimore, were also treated at the hospital for several lacerations and bruises about the face and body.

Two other occupants of the car, John Myrtle and Myrtle Johnson, of Baltimore, were uninjured except for minor cutts and were able to assist their injured companions. All occupants of the bus escaped injury.

Sandy Cove Dog Show Proves Big Drawing Card

Large Number Of Entries Test Skill Of Judges In Various Classes

Winsome Of Winehunt, Scotch Terrior, Carries Off Highest Show Honors

A little Scotch terrior, carrying the euphonious name of Winsome of Winehunt, carried off the honors and was awarded the grand prize at the first annual dog show held at Sandy Cove, exclusive women's resort near North East last Saturday. The dog was shown by its owner, Joseph C. Barrett, of Oxford, Pa.

While the crowd in attendance was not as large as expected, the show was a complete success and the number and calibre of exhibitts was far above the expectation of the sponsors. The school dental clinics, for which the show was given, realized something over one hundred dollars.

Local Dogs Win Cups

Among the leading winners in the show and which were awarded silver cups, were several Cecil county dogs. Outstanding ones were: June, owned by Adley Armour of North East, best hound; Tuck, owned by Harry Minker, of Elkton, best coon dog; Cy Perkins, owned by Mayor Henry H. Mitchell, of Elkton, best Chesapeake Bay retriever. Other cup winners were: Manto Joe, owned by R. W. Willis, Glasgow, Delaware, best American beagle; Thistle III of Beaverkill, owned by Davis S. Edgar Brooklyn, N. Y., best beagle bitch; and Mt. Vista Caraleen, owned by Mrs. J. S. Councilman, Fullerton, Md., best American collie.

North East Collie Best

Shop, owned by Mrs. Charles Mearns, of North East, received the votes of the judges as the best collie, with other winners as follows: Tambrae Cork, owned by Peggy Thomford, of Kennett Square, Pa., best collie bitch; Lady Queen Elizabeth, owned by Marian Smith, of Newark, Del., best collie femlae pup; Bugsy, owned by Vernon Hannum, of West Grove, Pa., best male collie pup; Inky Tink, owned by Irene M. Davis, of Philadelphia, best shepherd; Princess Pat, owned by Irene M. Davis, best shepherd bitch; Sandy, owned by Mrs. Frederick Hohbein, of Washington, D. C., best young collie pup; Bertie, owned by Patrick Deakin, of

(Continued on Page 8)

Cecil Homemakers Go To Baltimore On Annual Tour

Inspect Several Large Industries And Are Shown Over Huge Passenger And Freight Liner

Every Club In County Is Represented With Nearly 300 Women Making Trip

Nearly three hundred Cecil county women, representing every Homemakers Club in the county, enjoyed their annual educational tour last Thursday. Under the direction of Miss Gertrude Denning, Home Demonstration Agent, the tour this year carried the members to Baltimore where several of the largest industries in the city were inspected.

Leaving Perryville in the morning at seven o'clock, seven large buses carried the Homemakers to Baltimore where their first stop was made at the plant of the American Sugar Refining Company. Here guides ushered the party through the huge factories and explained the various processes by which sugar is turned from the raw material to the refined product. The next visit was to the manufacturing plant of the Proctor and Gamble Company where they were made acquainted with the various processes of soap making and other products of this great concern.

After lunch the first visit of the afternoon was made to the Stieff Company, where they were shown how the world renowned silverware of this concern is made, and the last visit was made to the Old Bay Line slip on Light street where they inspected one of the large liners of that company.

The educational tour is an interesting part of the Homemakers annual program and the occasion this year besides attracting one of the largest delegations, was voted the best and most interesting since the adoption of the tour program.

Nation Swings To Roosevelt

Murder Charge Follow Fight At Havre de Grace

Garfield Barthay, Race Track Follower Accused Of Slaying Samuel Whitehead

Following a fatal cutting fray near the Havre de Grace race track last Saturday, Garfield Barthay, a race track follower, is held in the Harford county jail at Bel Air for grand jury action on the charge of murder.

Barthay is accused of fatally injuring Samuel Whitehead in a fight resulting from a dice game. Whitehead, it is alleged, was charged with using loaded dice and is said to have drawn a razor, slashing Barthay. The latter, it is charged, drew his own razor, cutting the other's jugular vein.

Barthay was arrested by Chief of Police Boyd and was held for the action of the grand jury following a preliminary hearing before Magistrate James C. Vancherie at Havre de Grace.

Gets Post As CCC Educational Adviser

J. Gifford Scarborough, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Leedom Scarborough, of Elkton, has received an appointment as Educational Adviser for a CCC camp on the Eastern Shore.

Mr. Scarborough is a graduate of the Elkton High School and also from Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.

To Teach New Course

RUSSELL RAMP

New Course Added At U. Of Delaware

Appointed to teach the newly added course in farm mechanics in the School of Agriculture at the University of Delaware, Russel Ramp, formerly of Newman, Illinois, has taken up residence in Newark, it has been announced by C. A. McCue, Dean of the School of Agriculture.

Ramp, who was graduated from the College of Agriculture at the University of Illinois this year, will be in charge of classes in farm mechanics which will cover the care and use of farm machinery and equipment. The new course which is required for all sophomore students in the School of Agriculture is being taught at the University for the first time this year.

According to Dean McCue, the new course will give students graduating from the School of Agriculture a good working knowledge of farm machinery, its uses and care, as well as some training in the construction and upkeep of farm buildings and physical equipment.

ROOSEVELT CARAVAN WILL TOUR COUNTY

First Voters' Caravan Will Visit This Section Next Tuesday

Brief Speeches To Be Given In Principal Towns Along Route

The Roosevelt Caravan, covering every section of this State in the interest of the Democratic candidates, will be in Cecil county next Tuesday, according to an announcement from Democratic headquarters in Baltimore today.

The caravan, also known as the First Voters Caravan, started last week on a tour throughout Western Maryland. Brief speeches are delivered from the platform by S. Scott Beck, Jr., of Chestertown, chairman of the Roosevelt First Voters League for Maryland, and Miss Rose Louise Swindell, vice-chairman of the League. In all probability several First Voters from this county will accompany the caravan and give brief addresses in the various Cecil county towns to be covered next Tuesday.

Loud Speaking System

The caravan is fitted with the very latest sound equipment, microphone and a powerful amplifying system to carry the voices of the speakers to large open air audience wherever there is a scheduled stop.

Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, the caravan will arrive in Perryville. From there is will go to the following places: arrive at Port Deposit 9:45, leave 10:00; Arrive Rising Sun 10:30, leave 10:50; Arrive Elkton 11:30, leave 12:30; Arrive Chesapeake City 12:45, leave 1:00; Arrive Cecilton 1:30, leave 1:45.

North East Woman Gets Threatening Letter

Postoffice and police authorities are investigating a letter received by Mrs. George T. Cully, of North East, in which the writer threatened to burn Mrs. Cully's home and throw acid on her "if she didn't stop talking."

Immediately upon receipt of the letter, Mrs. Cully reported the matter to Magistrate George C. Rawson at North East and he turned the letter over to the postal authorities. Magistrate Rawson said the letter was written on cheap paper and described it as poorly spelled. An investigation is still going on but no arrests have been made as yet.

Hartt's Church To Hold Annual Poultry Supper

Regular services will be held on the M. E. Elk Neck Chagre next Sunday. At Hart's Church Sunday School will meet in the morning at 9:30 and preaching in the evening at 7:30.

At Wesley Sunday School will begin at 11 a. m., followed by preaching at 11:45. The public is invited to all services.

The annual poultry supper at Hart's will be held Thursday evening, October 8. The ladies of the church are determined that no other supper shall excel the one they will serve on that evening and are asking the public to patronize it and be convinced.

New York Times Announces It Will Support Roosevelt

New York's Leading Independent Newspaper Declares His Reelection Will Best Serve Interests Of Public. Calls Him Bulwark Against Radicalism

Says Republican Party Stands For Narrow Nationalism Which Would Carry Nation To Regimentation. Sees Better Chance Of Balanced Burget Under Roosevelt

An Associated Press dispatch announced today that the New York Times, in an editorial titled "A Reasoned Choice," announced its support of President Roosevelt for reelection.

The Times is an independent Democratic newspaper and, the editorial said, a "conservative newspaper in its own sphere."

"The New York Times believes that the public welfare will best be served this year by the continuance of the Democratic party in power and by the reelection of the President," the editorial said.

Three Reasons Are Given

Three reasons are cited for the paper's choice. First, the Times said, is its belief that a second Roosevelt administration would be more conservative. Second is its view that the reelection of the President "will provide insurange against the radicalism of the sort which the United States has most to fear."

"Finally," the editorial said, "we believe that the narrow nationalism for which the Republican party stands today is in itself a policy, which, if put into force, would carry us rapidly in the direction both of regimentation and radicalism."

The Times said it believes the President is "a keen enough judge of public opinion to make his second Administration more conservative than the first, in the sense that conservatism means consolidating ground already gained and perfecting measures hastily enacted."

No Apology For Criticisms

At the outset the editorial stressed the fact that in the past three years the newspaper "has felt compelled to oppose various policies, acts and utterances of a Democratic administration," and added it would not wish to withdraw this criticism.

The attitude of the Republicans on international issues leaves the advantage "distinctly with the Democrats," the editorial said.

"t would be blind," the editorial said, "not to recognize the necessity of adapting and ameliorating our political and economic structure to the changing circumstances of the modern world, and equally blind not to appreciate at full value, and to wish to conserve for the uncertain years which lie immediately ahead, the unquestioned confidence which Mr. Roosevelt enjoys among the distressed masses who have been the worst victims of the depression. These masses still acutely remember their disillusionment in public leadership in 1932, and have with reason felt that the President has tried to restore hope, equalize opportunity and prevent the excesses of the recent past.

Check To Radical Elements

"We believe that Mr. Roosevelt's defeat at the polls would enable the more radical elements within the Democratic party to unite under irresponsible leadership which the force and ability of the President have hitherto helped to check and counterbalance. These radical elements would thereby be strengthened in their appear to the masses.

"In this connection we prefer to have in Washington during the still critical period which lies immediately ahead, a Government united in all its branches, with power to take instantly action which may become necessary in any emergency which may arise . . .

"A further assurance against radicalism is the effectiveness of the social and economic measures pursued by the Democratic party, though often with fundamental error and raw materialism. We do not believe that these measures should be placed in other hands at the behest of those who have not been the real and chief victims of the malady, and who evolved or supported the policies which lie at the roots of its cause."

Looks To Balanced Budget

In closing, the editorial said the Times "does not intend to lose the independence on which it has always put chief emphasis or to compromise its own convictions" and added, "it will continue to indorse such of Mr. Landon's views as it finds deserving of support."

"It will continue to criticize and to oppose such of Mr. Roosevelt's policies as seem to it to lack merit," the editorial said. "In particular, it will continue to oppose governmental extravagance and to insist on the vital importance of bringing the national budget into early balance. We are encouraged to believe that this can be accomplished more readily under a second Roosevelt administration than under Mr. Landon, considering the extent to which the Republican party has now outbid the President in promising farm bounties. . . ."

The Times also supported Roosevelt in 1932.

Principio Garage Man Dies In Automobile

George L. Thompson, proprietor of a garage at Principio Furnace, died suddenly in his car Wednesday morning while enroute to Elk Neck to transport school children to the Principio school. Mr. Thompson operated a school bus and was only about a half mile from his garage when the attack came. It is thought that he realized his condition as he steered the car to the side of the road and slumped over the wheel where passersby noticed him. He was immediately rushed to the Elkton hospital where doctors pronounced him dead.

Mr. Thompson was a native of the county and had operated the Principio Garage for several years. He is survived by his wife, one child and a brother.

Cecil R. F. C. Loans Go Over Million Mark

Loans of various types amounting to $1,096,000, of which $824,724.63 was actually disbursed ,were authorized in Cecil county by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation during the period from February 2, 1932 to June 30, 1936, according to information received by Arthur E. Hungerford, State Director for the National Emergency Council for Maryland.

Loans in the State of Maryland amounted to $139,988,840.65 and disbursements in the State aggregated $124,524,204.70, not including $511,230 that went to various government agencies or relief grants to the State. Total disbursements made in the United States during the same period not including amounts disbursed in the form of relief grants to states amounted to $6,012,771,180.71.

R. J. Jaquette, 26, Succumbed Monday To Tumor On Brain

Operation at Wilmington Hospital Fails To Save His Life

Illness Developed From Injury Suffered In Fall Several Years Ago

Robert J. Jaquette, aged 26 years, prominent young farmer of the Elkton district, died Monday afternoon at the Wilmington General Hospital from a tumor of the brain. An operation failed to save him.

Mr. Jaquette's fatal illness is believed to have been caused as a result of a fall several years ago in which his head was injured.

Leaves Widow, Child

He was the son of the late Robert H. and Ella Keolig Jaquette and was born October 3, 1909. At the death of his father in February, 1934, Robert took over the management of the farm near Singerly. His mother succumbed about a year after the death of his father.

Mr. Jaquette was well known throughout this district and the county as well and had a large circle of close friends. He leaves his widow, the former Miss Grace Donovan, of Townsend, Del., and a small child. His sister, Miss Martha R. Jaquette, who resides with him, also survives.

Services Today

The funeral was held this afternoon, Thursday, from his late home near Singerly at two o'clock and interment was in Cherry Hill Cemetery.