Sandy Cove Kennel Show

A great many local dog fanciers have entered their animals. A slate of 27 novice and outstanding judges will parade. Newsreel camera men will arrive in the afternoon to take newsreel pictures of the show and the Sandy Cove Yacht Club members in full naval uniform. Roslyn Terhume, noted dog writer is instructing the girls o fthe club in stewarding in the rings, for each judge will have his and her own steward that day.

The officials of the Penna. R. R. have promised to stop flyers at North East for the convenience of visitors coming from New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore.

Notables and members of Baltimore, Wilmington, Washington and New York society will bring their champions. Some of the best dogs in the country wil lbe present. A Childrens Obedience class is attracting a great deal of attention. Each child who competes will receive a gift from the Sandy Cove Gift Shop.

Countess Felice D'Ortili, noted violinist and sister of one of the managers of Sandy Cove recently arrived from Paris bringing a silver trophy for the show. It was one of the last articles purchased on the famous Rue de Rivoli as all shops in Paris closed their doors and barricaded their windows when the first air raid siren shrieked a warning and everybody scurried into the shelters.

His Honor, the Governor, Herbert best wishes for the success of the R. O'Conor personally extended his show to Mrs. Roslyn Terhume, chairman, and hopes if engagements are not too pressing at that time, to be present at the show.

Entries close Sunday, October 8th. Any one desiring to enter a dog will please communicate with the management, Sandy Cove, North East, Md.

Elaborate prizes and trophiees will be awarded and this is expected to be the most colorful and beaeutiful dog show ever held in the state of Maryland.

National Youth Adm. Project Planned

A new National Youth Administration project is being planned to give part time employment to needy young people, between the ages of 18 and 24 years, who are unemployed and not attending school. Applicants must be in actual need of work, but not necessarily members of families on relief rolls.

The chief purpose of the new project is to give young people some job experience and to preserve or improve their morals. Types of work available include cafeteria service, clerical, library, and recreation constructioa work. The maximum number of hours per month that a person may work is 56.

Persons in the Elkton area who are interested in obtaining work should obtain application forms from Mr. Oren B. Harrison, Maryland State Employment Service, 207 North St., Elkton, or Mrs. Helen F. Hawkins at the Elkton High School.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Some good comes out of just about everything. And this mess across the Ocean, it is clarifying the air.

And some Professors, and others, who have been expounding and riling up the waters about the difference between Nazism and the other isms, they can fold up their tent, since Germany and Russia climbed into bed, together. There is no wind left in their sails—and that is a break for the U. S. A.

But if I happened to be a blood-purger of the Berlin or Moscow species—not just a political purger—I would hang my holster on the bed-post, before crawling in with the other duck.

When you get right down under the epidermus of the ism guys, you will find the same kind of persons, no difference which ism he brays about. The only important plank in his own personal platform, it is how to stay in office—and on the P. P. R. means public pay-roll.

Yours, with the low down,

JO SERRA.

LEST WE FORGET

"Twenty-two years ago American people were told that they were to make the world safe for democracy. They nobly responded. Before they got through they heard about the secret treaties by which the Allies divided the loot. They saw the Treaty of Versailles which distributed the spoils and made an impossible 'peace.' What did they get out of the adventure? Wounds and death. The contempt of former associates—until the Americans were needed again in another war for democracy. A repudiation of debts. A huge bill of expenses. A false boom. A terrific crisis.

"Those Americans who refuse to plunge blindly into the maelstrom of European and Asiatic politics are not defeatist or neurotic. They are giving evidence of sanity! not cowardice; of adult thinking as distinguished from infantilism. Experience has educated them and made them all the more determined to concentrate their energies on the making of a civilization within the circle of their continental domain. They do not propose to withdraw from the world, but they propose to deal with the world as it is and not as romantic propogandists picture it. They propose to deal with it in American terms, that is, in terms of national interest and security on this continent. Like their ancestors who made a revolution, built the Republic, and made it stick, they intend to preserve and defend the Republic, and under its shelter carry forward the work of employing their talents and resources in enriching American life. They know that this task will call for all enlightened statesmanship, the constructive energy, and imaginative intelligence that the nation can command. America is not to be Rome or Britain. It is to be America."—Charles A. Beard.

Metal Burned Away On Bottom Of River

Perryville, Md., Oct. 1—An extraordinary feat in metal burning was performed on the bottom of the Susquehanna River here during the past week in connection with the construction of the new dual highway bridge across the river, between here and Havre de Grace.

Sheet piling around pier 16 had given the contractor some worry, until the Great Lakes Underwater Cutting Works of Chicago sent John B. Carroll, a professional marine diver, and his helper here. Using an aceteylene gas torch, Carroll burned away 116 steel sheets on the river bottom, at a depth of 20 feet.

While working below, the diver and his helper were in constant touch with those above by telephone communication.

Chest Clinics

Chest clinics for the examination of persons who show indications of tuberculosis or who have been in contact with the disease, are held each month all the year round throughout the Counties of Maryland, under the joint direction of the State Department of Health and the Maryland Tuberculosis Association. The clinics are made possible through the sale of the Christmas seals. About 3,000 persons are examined at the clinics every year.

I nannouncing the plans for the clinics for the fall and winter season, Dr. R. H. Riley, Director of the State Department of Health said that the arangements i neach county are made by the County Health Officer and the nurses on his staff. The clinics are held at the office of the County Health Department or at a conveniently accessible health center and the schedules are planned so that every part of a county is reached several times a year. A special effort is made to reach persons—young or old— in whom the disease is just beginning, or who may have been in contact with it, as well as to examine persons who have definite symptoms of tuberculosis.

Some of the patients are discovered by the public health nurse in connection with their services for other people who are ill and a great many are referred to the clinics by their own physicians. The examinations are made by physicians connected with the State Tuberculosis Sanatoria, or by the health officers or other physicians who have had special experience in the care of the disease. Portable x-ray machines are included in the equipment of all the clinics, making it possible to have x-ray pictures of the chest taken immediately in connection with the general examination.

WORLD NEWS of the WEEK

U. S. EUROPE ASIA

Paris, Sept. 30 — This week sees most of the French military dispositions made and the British allies coming in steadily to fill up the front sectors on the Franco-German front.

Amsterdam, Sept. 30—Netherlands and Belgium, despite assurances from Germany that it will respect their neutrality, are on constant watch and instant readiness to defend their countries. Holland and Belgium are prepared to completely flood the countries to protect themselves.

Paris, Oct. 2—A patient investigation of the supplies of war materials needed and available, indicate that the allies in oils and minerals have a large advantage, while in food stuffs the advantage also lies with the allies. If German submarines can be subdued the war could conseivably be fought by waiting for Germany to starve herself as she did in the last war.

London, Oct. 1—Churchill today defied Hitler and the Premier called 250,000 more men of the 21 year class to the colors for service.

Manilla, Sept 30 — The National assembly at Manilla this week adopted a resolution stating they want the origional Tydings-McDuffie act conditions, giving them independence in 1946. This decision was emphasized by a vote of 53 to 7 and put an end to any plan for a re-examination of the question of independancy.

Berlin, Sept. 30—Hitler, now that he has taken Poland, wants peace and has told England just when and what kind of peace he wants, stating he will get it or else.

London, Sept. 30—The administration has informed the citizens of England that her income tax rate will be 37.5 per cent this year, more than 1-3 of each person's earnings, and making a total of eight billion dollars.

Belgrave, Yugoslovia, Sept. 30 — The people of Yugoslovia, Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary are uneasy, suspicious and nervous since the announcement of the German-Russian alliance and are expectantly watching and waiting to see what announcement will be made affecting them.

Washington, Sept. 28—Disclosures in the Dies Committee examinations have at last resulted in action by the U. S. Government, to round up the anti-national agents located here and trying to break down our governmental system.

New York, Sept. 28—Army prosecutor of Grover Bergdoll, army deserter in time of war, started trial of charges against him and have received information he came and went almost at will on forged passports and under assumed names.

Berlin, Sept 29—This week, under political pressure, little Estonia was compelled to sign a pact with Russia for ten years, being a combined military and trade pact in which all the advantages go to Russia including entrance to the Baltic and right to fortify.

London, Sept. 29—Submarines are being gradually eliminated from around the English coast. The English are now turning their attention to the small German fleet which are receiving attention from the English airplane fleet.

Stockholm, Sept. 30—All Scandinavian countries are looking carefully into the policies of Russia and Germany and trying to see where and how they will affect the Scandinavians Suspicion and disgust of Germans and German administration is growing.

Copenhagen, Oct. 2—Acting on pressure applied from Moscow the Latvians are considering demands from the Soviet for a new trade agreement, use of Libau and Window as trade ports, and the use of Libau as a harbor for a warship by the Soviet, and a Russian garrison in Libau harbor.

Paris, Oct. 5—Yesterday's German feint on the western front was a pressure test. A retreat was made when French strength had been demonstrated.

London, Oct. 3—Peace offered by Hitler. No boon to France and England it is reported here. The worthlessness of Hitler's word or oath makes any trade of political agreement with him useless.
