ROCK HALL ITEMS

Rock Hallites are sorry to note that to its own affairs.

Steamboat traffic was resumed here on Tuesday and it is thought that further embargo by opening tracks and cutting tide might cause a movement out. Quite a number of tongers succeeded in reachling the oyster bars on Tuesday and Wednesday. Fisherman at Love Point, have struck it rich the past week, some crews catching as many as 19 boxes of fine fish, this means much to those men who have been laying on their oars since Christmas and running great risks in crossing and recrossing the icy fields to and from their homes here, it also means increased prosperity to Rock Hall generally.

While we were so strongly ice bound we could look across the ice fields and see the police boat Anna B. Smith patrolling Swan Point bar when ever the ice I floes would permit.

Among the most happy of our people are the ice cream dealers Hadaway, Kel-Jones and others who have well filled ice houses and numerous fresh milkers in prospect. The coming season will be a brisk one, hence their bouy-

During the cold spell Mr. J. W. Boyer lost many of his growing plants by freezing, he has an abundance still all in a thriving condition.

The Kramer sale on Wednesday was largely attended. The buying was spirited, Mr. Tom Colver bought one of the horses and now politicians big and little may look out for jolts in the coming campaign for Tom is going to stir men and things from the word go. He has no axe to grind but he is going to watch the other fellows grind theirs:

While this section was shivering and doing their utmost to keep comfortable during the late cold weather, Capt. Thos. Elburn, late of this place but now residing in Virginia, wrote to relatives here that his garden and truck crops were in a flourishing condition.

Mr. Max Alexander having heard so much about the big profits in the poultry business now talks of entering the ousiness as a pastime. He will not work the business for broilers and roasters but will run it for eggs alone.

Revival services which were interrupted by the chicken-pox epidemic were again resumed at the M. E. Church on Sunday evening and continues through the week with increasing interest. With revival meetings and lenten regulations now on there is every reason for a genuine state of higher living. Not that we are so awfully bad but there is room for still better.

"Aunt" Polley Urie a most estimable lady, formerly of this place, has joined the innumerable hosts beyond. Her remains were brought here from Baltimore on Saturday and the funeral service conducted by Rev. Warren Burr took place Sunday afternoon.
