Evans Museum and In-We have absolute confidence in Dr. Buli's \ stitute Society," of this city, were rewill cure, we will send a trial bottle free \ | ceived yesterday by the attorneys for the

As a result the society will come immediately into the possession of property in having it. There is no remedy better or New York worth more than $1,000,000 just as good": It is the old reliable cure and property in Philadelphia valued at $100,000. The residue of the estate, in in Paris, worth at its present valuation about $800,000, will be distributed among

At the time of Dr. Evans death, the estimated value of the estate was $4,000 .-000 to $6,000,000 the bulk of it being in Paris. Numerous claimants for a share in the estate, other than those named in the bequests, soon appeared, and becoming dissatisfied with the tardy settlement, brought charges against the executors, especially the three who were living in Paris. Suits in courts upon both sides You are cordially invited of the oceans ensued. A partial settlement with the heirs was finally made by tive quarters, next door to the distribution of $100,000 among them as an instalment of a legacy of $270,000, and a residue of Paris property, estimated at about $800,000.

It is believed there will be no more liti. gation. As it is, the contemplated magnificence of the two monuments Dr. Evans aimed to leave in perpetuation of his memory, a monument proper and the museum, will fall far short of his intention when he designed his will so as to leave his great fortune to the city of his nativity.

FROM THE LOCAL POETS.

THE PESSIMIST.

Thanksgiving's coming! Let me see What I am thankful for; What blessings fate just now has left Before my open door. On one side is my pocket book With stringency of cash; Upon the other, calls which turn Gray matter into hash.

First, letter from the charities
And churches clubs are here, That prisons, and poor homes may have Thanksgiving in full cheer.
Then wedding invitations three, Each calling for a gift; Part of my shrunken dividends Politely, but firm, "lift."

My friend's relations and my own Have sent word they will come. Thanksgiving time to spend with us. And make themselves at home. he coal bill's here on schedule time There's Christmas yet in store-Oh, yes, in ways to spend my wad 've much to be thankful for."

Dear Sisters and Brothers a surprise awaits us But it was intended for our Councilor I'll vow. I guess she'll enjoy having a few friends partake, Of the palatable dishes her sister's did make It was almost forgotten when on Monday morn, Came Hallie down to Emma's blowing her horn, Oh! I'll do what I can and gladly too. So you tell the up-town sisters and brothers. And I'll send the down town folks word too. And all be sure and meet at my house on Quee and Maple Avenue.

The meeting was a success you all can see.

And we have agreed to call it a Colonial tea
In honor of our Councilor Ella Reiche. Thanksgiving is close at hand, Let each and all be glad. And praise our blessed Savior For His goodness all over the land. And may we all that are here to-night, Be spared for many a year, And try to make each other glad,

THE Talbot county grand jury in its report to the court recommended that the legislature pass a law establishing a whipping-post in the county for negroes found guilty of certain minor offenses.

A SCHOOL teacher in an adjoining State who asked a girl to purchase a grammar, received the following note from the little girl's mother: "I do not desire that Matty ingage in grammar, and I prefer her to ingage in more useful studies, and can learn her to write and speak proper myself. I went through two grammars and can't sav as they did me no good. I prefer Matty to ingage German and drawing, and vokal music on the peano." GEORGE L. McCrossin, a young Roanoke man, in testing his markmanship, shot his brother, A. M. McCrossin, in the mouth in an endeaver to shoot the ashes from a cigarette held in the mouth of the latter. He was not dangerously wounded, and owing to his consent to the test of "William Tell" markmanship on the part of his brother George was not prosecuted for a graver offence than that of shooting in the city limits and was fined $50.

New Railroad Signal System .- Whereever the installation of new signals is being carried on by the different divisions of the Pennsylvania railroad a new system is being inaugurated by officials of the company.

The system involves the cutting out of the white light as a cautionary signal and installs the yellow in its stead. This move was decided upon, officials of the road say owning to the fact that frequently the glass in signal lamps is broken thus showing a white light.

The red light will still be maintained as a danger signal while the green light will be used as a safety signal.

Another important change will be made in the signal system whereby the upraised arm of a semaphore signal denotes a clear track instead of a dropped arm as heretofore. So far no changes have been made on the Maryland division with the exception of adopting the new system at

LOCAL NEWS SCARCE.

A dearth of local news often leads to murmurs on the part of those who prize local gossip above all else, and it is not all the fault of the publisher. Any live publisher will not fail to give all the local news worthy of note, therefore when the local department is short this week you should not rail at the editor, but remember you might have committed suicide, got married, quarreled with your neighbor, stole chickens, let your team run away or done a hundred other things to make a local item. If a newspaper should publish current street gossip, or the hints and allusions of the best society in the community it would be ostracized and the editor horsewhip. ped or burned at the stake. Think a minute of the mean and low things you say about your townsmen and your neighbor and imagine how it would look in print. Don't criticise the newspapers for what they print, but give them credit for what they don't print. A newspaper that contains one-half the nonsense current among the best citizens, would be considered unfit to read. Honest!

Oh, the memory of that morning, As I stood with breaking heart Seeing the one I love so dearly

Pierced by death's most evil dart. Oh. darling husband could not my sorrow bear Had I not the golden promise In love we lived, in peace he died; His life was asked, but God denied;

A bitter cup, a shock severe. To part with one I love so dear. BY HIS LOVING WIFE. Dear father thou has left us And thy loss we deeply feel But 'tis God who has bereft us

Yet again we hope to meet thee When the day of life has fled And in Heaven with joy to greet thee Where no farewell tears are shed. 1907
