DREAM AIRPORT—RAISED FROM BOTTOM OF SEA

First official sketch of how San Francisco's new "downtown" metropolitan airport will appear after the close of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, Treasure Island, shown here, is in the geographical center of the San Francisco Bay metropolitan area. It will be the site of the World's Fair in 1939 and after the close of the Exposition, will become one of the country's major airports. In the background may be seen Alcatraz Island, American "Devil's Isle"; the Golden Gate Bridge, and at left, a glimpse of the San Francisco skyline.

World's Fair 'With Future' Leads to Big Air Terminal

SAN FRANCISCO.—The only World's Fair with a future!

This is the description coined by San Francisco Bay Region civic leaders for the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, as the Chamber of Commerce here launched a nationwide drive to the form the world of the "air terminal of the West" which will remain as a monument to the 1939 World's Fair.

With Treasure Island, San Francisco Bay site of the World's Fair, due to be completed this month, boosters for the new island airport united in telling the story of the modern flying field which will succeed the Exposition on its 400-acre man-made site.

When opened at the close of the 1939 Exposition, the new airport in its picturesque bay location will be at approximately the geographical center of the San Francisco metropolitan area. Cost of the airport proper will be in excess of $7,000,000, borne entirely by the federal government and the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition. Thus, through the 1939 World's Fair, San Francisco will obtain a second major airport without one cent of cost to the city. Hence, the description "The Only World's Fair with a Future."

T. S. HOLLAND TO SERVE AS VICE-PRESIDENT OF SUBURBAN CHEST DRIVE

The National Resources Committee of the Department of Interior, which recently recommended that surrounding territories join its District to form a greater Washington, has an ally in the Washington Community Chest.

The Chest has already broken down county lines and is this year conducting its campaign in Alexandria City, Arlington, Fairfax, Prince Georges and Montgomery Counties as well as in Washington.

Between November 10 and November 23, it will raise funds for all private welfare work needed in this Greater Washington area during the coming year.

"Need does not respect District, lines," said Randolph Leigh of McLean, Va., who is chairman of the Chest's newly established suburban unit. "Washington welfare agencies serve many sick and needy residents of the suburbs and suburban welfare agencies in turn help Washingtonians.

"In joining together to raise funds for all this region through one large Community Chest Campaign, we not only eliminate the many separate appeals that suburban residents have been subjected to in the past, but we also meet our common needs more efficiently."

T. Stanley Holland of Chevy Chase is assisting Mr. Leigh as vice chairman of the suburban unit and the following persons have agreed to work as area chairmen and secretaries of their communities:

Alexandria; William Ilich, chairman, Mrs. Margaret Kaufman, secretary; Arlington county; Mrs. Louis C. Carl chairman and Mrs. Mae E. Jacobs, secretary; Fairfax county; Francis Prykens Miller, chairman; Montgomery county; George W. Davis, chairman and Miss Ruth A. Bolton, secretary; Prince Georges county; Bird H. Dolby, chairman and Miss Eleanor Dolby, secretary.

The suburban campaign will be organized according to the system used by the Community Chest in Washington for many years. The five areas will be divided into 76 divisions and sub-divided into about 400 districts. Volunteer team captains for each district will supervise fund raising activities in their territory. Special gifts, gifts from employee groups and from business districts will be raised by separate organizations of volunteer solicitors.

While all money will be raised through the Community Chest of Washington, the distribution of the funds will be the sole responsibility of an established welfare agency in each community.

The United Charities will be the distributing agency for Alexandria and will give participating charities in that section a definite percentage of the funds. The percentage is determined by the board members of the various agencies and is based upon a careful study of the needs they are meeting.

On the same basis, the Board of Public Welfare of Arlington and of Fairfax will be the distributing agencies for those counties. The Social Service League of Montgomery county and the Social Service League of Prince Georges will distribute funds to the welfare agencies of those communities which are participating in the united appeal.

STATEMENT ISSUED BY COUNSEL RELATIVE TO FRITZ INJUNCTION

F. Barnard Welsh, counsel to the Board of County Commissioners of Montgomery County, and J. Bond Smith, General Counsel of the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission, today made the following joint statement:

"There is no occasion for Montgomery County home owners to be alarmed over the injunction issued against the Board of County Commissioners in the Peter Fritz case.

"The injunction has no application or effect except to that case which involves the claimed right of Peter Fritz to sell beer in a residential neighborhood and without a license from the Liquor Control Board.

"The Board of County Commissioners is restrained temporarily from proceeding with the criminal prosecution of Fritz under a warrant arising out of this situation; and that question will be disposed of in due course on a motion to dissolve the injunction.

"Meanwhile Montgomery County residents will continue to enjoy full zoning protection. Both the law and the ordinance remain in full force and effect during the pendency of this proceeding.

"We are not in the habit of trying cases in the newspapers, but felt it proper to make this statement in response to inquiries from the public and the press, in view of the widespread misapprehension and concern which has arisen."

IS THE BEE ANGRY WHEN HE STINGS YOU?

One of the most constructive ideas recently advanced is Dr. Mykola Haydak's theory that a bee is not angry when he stings you.

This is very comforting in a sense, for it assures us that the sting of a bee is not an act of vengeance but merely the collateral irritation of a bee "aroused by troubles with other bees." Thus, if we can keep the bees from being annoyed with each other, they will not sting us humans.

It has long been a popular belief that when a bee stings it hurts him more than it hurts his victim. Some people believe that the bee loses his stinger and flies off to die of remorse or to be assassinated by other fully equipped bees who do not mind annoying a bee with no sting.

It is nice to know, at any rate, that when the busy bee lights on a man's neck he has no emotions of hostility. As long as the other bees give him a honey flow, the man is perfectly safe—Washington Post.

Continuity of Benefits

SOMETIMES we hear people say, when they have just received some concrete benefit, that it cannot last, and that they will soon suffer some calamity to counteract the good received. This is the result of ignorance of the cause, nature, and purpose of the beneficial effects which we experience. It is due to the false belief that evil is as real and powerful as good. . . .

"John tells us (1 John 2:17), that "he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever." Now the prospect of abiding forever would not be very satisfactory if we had to continue forever experiencing calamity, discord, and suffering. Evidently John's sense of immortality included health, joy, harmony, that is, perfection, not intermittently but continuously. In real being there is a steady and uninterrupted manifestation of that which is wholly beneficial. Whatever else seems to have existence appears only as a mistake, a misconception. The real spiritual universe, including man, is maintained and governed by the ever-operative divine Principle, the source of all that is beneficial. Mary Baker Eddy says (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures p. 124), "Spirit is the life, substance, and continuity of all things." Since Spirit could not be the source of aught that is harmful or oppressive, it is apparent that discords are illusions, not actualities.

"Christ Jesus was always willing and able to benefit mankind in whatever way it seemed necessary, and his acts were in accord with spiritual law and order. He was able to heal the sick, give sight to the blind, and raise the dead, because he refused to recognize any interruption in the spiritual order and continuity of harmony and perfection. The Bible tells us (Proverbs 28:10) that "the upright shall have good things in possession;" so Jesus cast out evil from human thought, and wrought untold benefits for humanity. Health, peace, joy, and prosperity are natural, and their manifestation in experience is inevitable when we consistently express the qualities which support them, namely, honesty, goodness, righteousness, and spiritual understanding. It is our privilege to protect ourselves and our affairs by knowing that there is no law operating in opposition to our well-being; that there is no power apart from eternal Love; that perfection is an established and provable fact.

We may deprive ourselves of a great many benefits by a misconception of our true spiritual nature. God is the creator of perfect man, and this spiritual man is the indestructible and ceaseless expression of omnipresent Soul. Everything man possesses or reflects he derives from immortal Life and Love. Mrs. Eddy states (Science and Health, p. 225), "When spiritual being is understood in all its perfection, continuity, and might, then shall man be found in God's image." This is scientific reasoning which reveals the unbroken line of beneficent activities that are inherent in true consciousness and expressed in the ideal man. As we rid ourselves of the old, worn-out concept of man as material and mortal, we put on the true or new man with all the attendant benefits. The ever-available Christ-idea inspires us to relinquish the false concept of God, man, and the universe which is responsible for a limited, intermittent, and uncertain sense of harmony, satisfaction, and peace.

We derive unceasing benefit only from that which inspires us to spiritual thinking and living, for this is the only way by which we come to regard good as more normal than evil, and so escape the penalties exacted by the belief of evil as real. This is the only way by which we can maintain the true thinking which unfailingly contributes to the highest ends of life. . . .

Reaction, relapse, and retrogression are human concepts, which can never hinder or stop the continuous and eternal unfoldment of infinite Truth, from which emanates all that is constructive and beneficial. It is normal for us to be happy and healthy; and the law of divine Mind is ever-operative and available to establish harmony in individual consciousness and experience.—The Christian Science Monitor.

Order of Publication

In the Circuit Court for Montgomery County

No. 8379 Equity.

LEONARD T. WALTER, Plaintiff, vs.
MAY PAULA WALTER, Defendant.

The object of the Bill of Complaint filed in the above entitled cause is to procure a divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff, Leonard T. Walter, from the defendant, May Paula Walter, and for general relief.

The Bill of Complaint states that the plaintiff, Leonard T. Walter, is a resident of Montgomery County, Maryland, and has resided therein for more than two years, immediately preceding the filing of the Bill of Complaint; and that the defendant, May Paula Walter, is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and resides in the City of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania. That the defendant and plaintiff were married on the 22nd day of May, in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-one, in the State of Maryland.

That the plaintiff and defendant have one son, now thirteen years of age, who resides with the defendant.

That although the conduct of the plaintiff towards the defendant was always kind, affectionate, and above reproach, the said defendant on the fourteenth day of September, in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-three, without just cause or reason, abandoned and deserted the plaintiff and has refused to live with him any longer; and separation of the parties has continued uninterruptedly ever since, is deliberate and final, and beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill of Complaint prays for a divorce a vinculo matrimonii by the plaintiff from the defendant; and for general relief.

It is thereupon this 16th day of September, A. D., 1937, by the Circuit Court for Montgomery County, sitting as a Court of Equity, ordered that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Montgomery County, once in each of three successive weeks before the 23rd day of October, A. D., 1937, giving notice to said absent and non-resident defendant, the said May Paula Walter, who is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and does not reside therein, but who resides in the City of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, of the object and substance of this bill, warning her to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 16th day of November, A. D., 1937, to show cause, if any she have why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed; or in the alternative that a copy of this Order together with the Bill of Complaint filed herein be served personally upon the said May Paula Walter, on or before one month before the 16th day of November, A. D., 1937.

TESTED RECIPES

ROAST LAMB

A roast for the main dish is the preference of the majority of homemakers for a company meal or a special occasion. And a wise choice this is, for, according to modern methods of cooking meat, a roast requires no attention after it has been placed properly in a slow oven, until it is ready to serve.

What roast do you prefer? Ribs of beef, loin of pork, leg of lamb, are all favorites. By way of variety, for your next dinner party, serve a cushion style shoulder of home economist, "and make it a really distinctive dish by using a dressing to which fruit gives a delicious flavor."

Cushion Style Shoulder of Lamb With Fruit Stuffing

1 lamb shoulder boned.
2 cups bread crumbs.
6 cooked apricots, diced.
6 cooked prunes, diced.
1 small orange, chopped.
1 egg, beaten light.
Salt and pepper.

Have bone removed from shoulder of lamb. Sew on three sides, leaving a fourth side open for dressing. Make a dressing of the bread crumbs, apricots, prunes, orange, egg, salt and pepper. Fill into the cavity made by removing the bone from the lamb shoulder. Sew or skewer the edges together. Place the stuffed lamb shoulder on a rack in an open roasting pan and roast in a slow oven (300 degrees Fahrenheit) until done. It will require thirty to thirty-five minutes per pound for roasting.

NOTICE OF HEARING

On Petition for Zoning Amendment Number 214

Office of
Board of County Commissioners
For Montgomery County
Rockville, Maryland
September 28, 1937

Whereas, Adolph Spitalsky, owner of the property hereinafter described, has petitioned the Board of County Commissioners for Montgomery County as a District Zoning Board, that portion of the Maryland-Washington Metropolitan District within Montgomery County for an amendment to the zoning ordinance, passed by said District Council on the 27th day of September, 1930, which amendment provides for changing the use classification from Residential "A" to Commercial, "D" zone in Part of Lot 5, Block 2, J. H. Cissel's Addition to Silver Spring, Maryland.

And Whereas, under the provisions of Chapter 448 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland, Session of 1927, the said County Commissioners are required to hold a public hearing on said petition for zoning amendment before enacting the same, and are further required to give at least 30 days notice of the time and place of such hearing, said notice to be published in two newspapers of general circulation in the County.

Therefore, Be It Ordained by the Board of County Commissioners of Montgomery County, as the District Council for that portion of the Maryland-Washington Metropolitan District within Montgomery County, that public hearing on the above described petition for zoning amendment is hereby ordered to be held on in the office of the Board of County Commissioners, Silver Spring, Maryland.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1937

At 2:00 o'clock P. M.

Provided further, that a copy of this ordinance shall be published in The Journal and the Montgomery Independent 30 days prior to the date of said hearing; a copy of the text of the petition for zoning amendment, together with a copy of maps forming part of said petition shall be on file for public examination in the office of the Clerk to the County Commissioners for Montgomery County, Maryland.

By order of the Board of County Commissioners for Montgomery County.

FRANK H. KARN,
President.

IRA C. WHITACRE, Clerk.

Sunday and Monday, October 3 and 4. Paul Muni, Louise Rainer, in The Good Earth.

Tuesday, October 5. Kenny Baker, in Mr. Dodd Takes The Air.

Wednesday and Thursday, October 6 and 7. Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in Naughty Marietta.

CAPITOL

The laugh-happiest of all farces in which the Ritz brothers have gone haywire will be found on the screen of Loew's Capital Theatre this week in "Life Begins In College", the first starring picture for the three popular zanies.

The mad marrymaniacs of "Sing Baby Sing," on "The Avenue","You Can't Have Everything" have the time of their life in this three Ritz circus that's filled with wild, mad gags.

The comedy continues with Joan Davis. Others in the allstar cast include Gloria Stuart and Tony Martin, popular young romanticists, Fred Stone, Nat Pendleton, Ed Thorgersen, Dixie Dunbar, Joan Marsh and others. Hit tunes, dancing beauties and cuties, delights of some mighty entertaining moments.

The all-star stage revue will be headed by William and Joe Mandel and includes Minor and Root, Billy Reed, Nelson's Boxing Cats, Luba Maline, The Yates Sisters and the sixteen Harry Crosley Girls who will feature, along with several difficult routines, the popular craze of the day "The Big Apple".

EARLE

Bette Davis and Henry Fonda, teamed for the first time, come to the Earle Theatre Friday, October 1, in "That Certain Woman" new Warner Bros. production. On the stage, Xavier Cugat and his famous orchestra will present a program of Latin and American rhythms.

Edmund Goulding wrote and directed "That Certain Woman", a photoplay which affords Bette Davis full scope for her emotional talents. The action moves from New York City to Monte Carlo, and the production is said to be filled with fine performances, with the Davis-Fonda team proving an excellent combination.

Ian Hunter, Anita Louise, Donald Crisp, Hugh O'Connell, Mary Phillips and Herbert Rawlinson are included in the cast. The production is said to be even more suitable for Bette Davis than her recent successes, "Marked Woman" and "Kid Galahad."

On the stage, Xavier Cugat will conduct his popular musicians in a program of rhythm and melody. Carmen Castillo, lovely Latin songstress, heads the supporting artists who will appear with the "tango and rumba king".

PALACE

As a Broadway stage play, "Dead End" was a smash hit, packing 'em in for two solid years. Later it was cheered from coast to coast.

On Friday the great motion picture based on the powerful Sidney Kingsley drama of life in a city street, "Dead End" goes into its second big week at Loew's Palace Theatre, with Sylvia Sidney and Joel McCrea heading an impressive cast, and Hollywood may well be proud of the magnificent production Samuel Goldwyn has turned out.

The supporting cast includes Humphrey Bogart, Claire Trevor and Allen Jenkins as well as the celebrated Dead End Kids from the original stage play, Billy Halop, Huntz Hall, Bobby Jordan, Leo Gorcey, Gabriel Dell and Bernard Punsley.

And a new "News of the Day" along with a comedy and cartoon augments the second week's showing of "Dead End."

TRANS-LUX

The incoming show at the Trans-Lux Theatre, starting Friday, Oct. 1, is outstandingly characterized by its wholesome hilarity, but—completed by an educational flair; referring particularly to the short-subject section. A popular science pictorial showing interesting intricacies of the world's largest camera, of the production of electric light blubs and of plastic surgery and other subjects, vies with a novel comedy, "Aviator Shorty", featuring the cutest and most rogueish imp of a chimpanzee in captivity, for first honors. Crowding these leaders for audience approval is a sequence which identifies and introduces the beautiful girls (models) of the magazine and poster-board advertisements and includes a visit to New York's swanky Stork Club, and a color cartoon "The Wayward Pups" giving a heart quirk as well as producing roars of laughter.

The news section comprising the show the latest world happenings the major part of the program will pictorially, including vivid scenes of the war fronts, the spectacular features of the early football encounters and other sports, the finals of the President's Cup Regatta races and scenes en route with President Roosevelt.

METROPOLITAN

"Bulldog Drummond Comes Back" will be the next attraction at the Metropolitan Theatre, following the current engagement of "They Won't Forget". John Barrymore, John Howard, Louise Campbell and Reginald Denny have leading roles in this new Paramount release, based on "The Female of the Species", one of the most popular of H. C. McNeile's "Bulldog Drummond" stories.

John Howard has the title role, while John Barrymore appears as his friend, Inspector Nelson—a character part in which the famous actor presents a number of surprising appearances, once disguised as an English fisherman, another time as a Limehouse "bum".

Louis King directed "Bulldog Drummond Comes Back", which has all the mystery, thrills and excitement expected by "Drummond" fans. E. E. Clive, J. Carroll Naish and Helen Freeman are included in the supporting cast.

BELASCO

"Libertine" produced in Europe by Gustav Machaty, director of the world famed "Ecstasy" will be the next attraction at the Belasco Theatre.

The story, told briefly is as follows:

Ita lives alone with her father, a master of a small railway station, where, in this little junction, there are seldom any visitors. One rainy night, George, a young and good-looking stranger is given shelter at Ita's home. Both young people are left alone in the house that night and Ita realizes that their over night guest is very handsome and readily falls in love.

The next morning George leaves Ita with a promise to write to her, but it is not long before he has forgotten all about her, as he makes love to Gilda Hilbert, wife of a prominent business man. Mr. Hilbert knows nothing of his wife's affair until he accidentally finds a photo of his wife, that has been dropped by George at his Tailor shop. In a fury he rushes to his wife and accuses her of having an affair which George, which she denies.

In the Meantime Ita finds that she is about to become a mother. She leaves for the city, but she does not dare to return home and wanders about armlessly. A drayman passing by offers her a ride to town, and on the way tries to force his attentions on her. She screams for help and a passing motorist, James comes to her rescue. A fight ensues and James is badly wounded. He and Ita go to a hospital, where it is found that a blood transfusion is necessary. Ita, offers her blood and saves his life. They fall in love, marry, and live happily for awhile, but Ita still thinks of George. One day while shopping with her husband they meet George and Ita, realizing that George is the one she really loves leaves her husband for him. Later she finds George out for what he really is and in the end returns to James.

The picture was made in Vienna and his complete English dialogue titles.

"Libertine" will follow the current "Sex Madness" into the Belasco.
