[From the New York Evening Post, 27th.] Distressing Suicide of two Lovers. Cause Unexplained-Letters of the

A most singular and sad case of doubl suicide was discovered in Brooklyn this morning at the residence of Mr. Augustin, in Clermont Avenue, near Myrtle. About five o'clock some members of the family arose, and, on going to the back part of the dwelling, saw their son Horatio and a young unknown woman sitting on the piazza, both dead.

The police at the station-house on Myrtle Avenue, near Mr. Augustin's residence were immediately notified of the fact. telegraphic dispatch was forthwith sent to the city Hall for the Coroner. But as the Coroner Mr. Redding was at home at Bedford, a messenger was forwarded with-
