-An Altercation in which Hill is Shot. It seems as if Mrs. Boyd had been out driving with her horse which is kept at Davis' stables, and upon her return asked Mr. Davis to send someone to the house for the horse. Walter Hill was sent for the horse, but instead of returning immediately to the stable, took a drive and was gone nearly an hour. Mr. Boyd, who values his horse highly, walked to the stable to see that "Ben" was well cared for and was surprised to learn that "Ben" had not been returned. He waited fifty minutes! When Hill drove into the yard Mr. B. approached him and asked him why he had driven his horse this way, whereupon the negro assaulted him and was getting the better of Mr. Boyd, when in defense, he pulled out a pistoi and shot Hill in the leg.
