How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable spelling and arithmetic in the common schools of Springfield, Mass., in the year 1846 and at the present time has been It is with great pleasure we publish made recently by a grammar school there is only one way of settling these questions, namely, by giving to pupils of today the very examinations which were given in the schoo s of half a century ago. The school records at Springfield compared by Mr. Riley show exactly what questions were asked and how the pupils answered them in 1846. The tests in spelling and arithmetic which were given to 250 ninth-grade pupils during the past year on the quesof correct spelling, as compared with in arithmetic.
