TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Myriads of lightning bugs now inhabit every portion of town at night.

—There promises to be a large attendance of our citizens at Pinesburg on the Fourth of July.

—Preaching in the M. E. church to-morrow (Sunday) both morning and evening at the usual hours.

—The inspecter of weights and measures for this county, Mr. Otho James, was in town on Monday last in performance of the duties of his position.

—Rev. J. B. Keller, of Smithsburg, will preach in the Lutheran church to-morrow (Sunday) morning and evening at the usual hours. The public is invited.

—We direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. W. W. Hyslop, appearing elsewhere. He is the agent for the celebrated Baltimore extra fine pale beer, which is undoubtedly the best and purest on the market. His stock of wines and liquors is also fine and complete. You are invited to give him a call.

—Mr. N. E. Entler, of Los Angeles, Cal., and a former resident, accompanied by his bride, paid a visit to relatives in this place on Tuesday last. Mr. Entler was but recently married, and he and his bride are now rounding up a wedding trip which has embraced much of the West, New England and the South.

—A severe, but not long continued storm, visited Williamsport on Sunday night last. The display of lightning in the southern heavens was unusually vivid, and kept up for some time. The attention of many of our residents was attracted by it but they could offer no explanation for the electrical phenomena.

—List of patents granted to citizens of Maryland for the week, ending June 24th, 1890. Reported for the TRANSCRIPT through the patent and law offices of O. E. Duffy, 607 7th street, Washington, D. C.: W. S. Black, Baltimore, water tube boiler; S. V. Harbaugh, Baltimore, cleansing compound; J. W. Oram, Baltimore, whitewash brush.

—Mr. George W. Childs has favored us with a copy of his "Recollections of General Grant." The book is bound in neat and convenient form, and its contents are of the most entertaining character. Mr. Childs was General Grant's closest personal friend, and it is, therefore, certain that what is contained in the book in question is in every particular correct.

—Dr. E. L. Downs, of the Downsville district, and late a practicing physician in this place, took his departure for Roanoke, Va., on Thursday morning last. He will accept a clerkship in a music store in that city. The doctor has a large number of friends here who will unite with us in wishing him a large share of success in his new field of operations.

—Messrs Jos. Ardinger, of Bedington, W. Va., and W. H. Long, of Martinsburg, W. Va., were visitors to the TRANSCRIPT office on Wednesday last. Both gentlemen are former residents of this place, and they always experience great pleasure in visiting their old home. We are glad to know that they are achieving substantial success, to which their well-developed energy justly entitles them.

—Harvesting operations on the part of the numerous farmers hereabouts began in the early part of the week. The crop generally is a prolific one, and of a fine quality. The farmers are assisted in their harvesting by a number of our residents, who being unable to procure employment in any other line, very gladly took advantage of the opportunity of earning a few dollars in the manner stated.

—Mr. Jos. F. Kimler, principal of the grammar school, this place, will deliver an address at the approaching annual meeting of the Maryland State Teachers' Association, to be held at Bay Ridge on the 8th, 9th and 10th of next month. By application to P. A. Witmer, Esq., county superintendent, all persons engaged in teaching in this county can procure tickets over the B. & O. and W. M. Railroads to Bay Ridge at reduced rates.

—Bologna sausage and dried beef for sale by P. L. Lemen.

—Every tissue of the body, every nerve, bone and muscle is made stronger and more healthy by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

—The county commissioners have appropriated $7,000 for erection of new school buildings during the present year in Frederick county.

—Rev. Dr. Crawford will conduct divine services in the Presbyterian church, this place, to-morrow (Sunday) morning and evening at the usual hours. The public is cordially invited to attend.

—The Hagerstown Daily News urges the erection of a morgue in that city. We have only to remark that if a place so small as Hagerstown actually requires a morgue, it would be a first-rate town to keep away from.

—Supervisor Rose is authority for the statement that Baltimore has a population of 433,095, an increase of 100,000 in ten years, 30,000 of which is due to the taking within the city lines last year a large section of country known as "the Belt."

—Work upon the new glass factory, in Hagerstown, began on Thursday. The News announces that all who desire work can now procure it. This would, perhaps, afford a number of enforced idlers in this place the opportunity for earning a small amount, at least, and they should lose no time in making application to the proper persons.

—At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Veteran Association of Cole's Cavalry, of Maryland Volunteers, it was decided to hold a summer reunion and picnic on the battlefield of Gettysburg, Tuesday, August 5th, this being the date on which the regiment had a sharp engagement with the Confederate forces at Keedysville, this county.

—Messrs. Benj. Lefever and Samuel Mentzer, who recently embarked in silk culture, are meeting with much success. The worms are industriously performing their functions, and already have produced a number of cocoons. Two of them were shown us by Mr. Lefever, and they were large and well-developed. Mr. Melchor Stake is also having considerable success in the culture of silk.

—The annual select excursion of the W. M. R. R. Employes' Beneficial Association will occur on Saturday, July 19th. Bay Ridge has been selected as the place to which to take the excursionists this year. The steamer Columbia has been chartered for the occasion, and six silver cornet bands and Prof. Zeigler's orchestra will furnish music. Fare for round trip, $1.50. Schedule of trains will be announced later.

—Mr. C. E. Kimble on Tuesday afternoon last drove to Welsh Run, Pa., for the purpose of removing the household effects of Mrs. E. C Ford from thence to this place. Mrs. Ford accompanied Mr. Kimble. They had proceeded only about a mile from the place named, when the horses attached to the wagon became affrighted at some object and ran away. Mrs. Ford was thrown into the road, sustaining slight injuries. The furniture was also spilled out and the wagon badly broken.

—Painters are at work in the second floor corridor at the Court House engaged in kalsomining the walls and ceiling to correspond with the improvements recently made to the halls and offices on the lower floor. Court Hall will in turn receive these finishing touches, and which have been badly needed for years. When completed, this building will not only be a credit to the county officials, but a pleasure as well to all who are called there to transact the public's business.—News.

—A Philadelphia "sharper" went through this neighborhood a few weeks ago and sold groceries by sample. The goods were shipped to this place this week and the purchasers (mostly farmers) came here yesterday morning for their cheap groceries. One man's bill was $10, but when an itemized statement of the goods billed to him was made out at the current prices of groceries in Keedysville, he found he was out a few cents less than four dollars besides the fifty cents extra charged for freight. Every person who bought goods had to pay the freight on them, and said freight will, in the aggregate, amount to more than the actual freight. We have not yet heard how the others fared.—Keedysville Wavelet.

What Does it Mean?

"100 Doses One Dollar" means simply that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most economical medicine to buy, because it gives more for the money than any other preparation. Each bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month, while other preparations taken according to directions, are gone in a week. Therefore, be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier.

Drove to His Death.

Mr. Israel Reiff, a prominent farmer and distiller of Reiff's, this county, was accidentally killed yesterday afternoon under distressing circumstances. Mr. Reiff was in Hagerstown during the day and after transacting his business, started in company with Mr. Isaac Ankeney, who was on his way home from a visit west, in a slat wagon for his home. The two men proceeded on their way without mishap until they reached what is known as the Broadfording hill. It is presumed the backing strap broke in descending this hill and that the horse was forced to run away. The single tree of the wagon was found afterward to have been broken off, and it is thought that this was the result of furious kicking by the horse. At about three o'clock Mr. Christian Horst, who was on his way to the Broadfording Mill, saw Mr. Reiff lying in the drain aside of the road, but failing to recognize him, he thought the man was drunk, and passed on. On his return from the mill, in company with a Mr. Miller, Mr. Horst's attention was again attracted to the man, when an investigation was made. It was then, with difficulty, on account of his bloody condition, ascertained that it was Mr. Reiff and that he was dying from a wound in the skull. His skull was fractured, his leg was broken at the thigh, and his body covered with blood. Mr. Horst spoke to Mr. Reiff and asked him whether he recognized him, Mr. Horst. Mr. Reiff answered "yes," and endeavored to say something, but which was unintelligible. When Mr. Horst first passed Mr. Ankeney, a short distance beyond the scene of the accident, he saw Mr. Ankeney sitting on the horse's head, as though endeavoring to hold him down. He called to him and asked where his team was, to which Mr. Ankeney replied that he did not know. Upon Mr. Horst's return from the mill, and after the true state of affairs were understood, Mr. Ankeney was found wandering in the graveyard, a short distance away, in a bewildered condition, and evidently suffering aberration of the mind from an injury to his head. The horse was also found lying in the drain with a large gash in its neck. Mr. Reiff was placed in Mr. P. Neibert's wagon and taken to his home, death resulting when they had gotten within about a half mile from home. The extent of Mr. Ankeney's injuries are not known but fears are entertained that they, too, might result fatally. This morning his condition was improved. The accident cast a gloom over the community and the expressions of regret and condolence are echoed by all who knew the men in this city. Mr. Reiff was aged 55 years. He leaves a wife and ten children—five sons and five daughters.—Wednesday's Globe.

Since the above was placed in type Mr. Ankeney has practically recovered from his injuries.

The Pompeiian Fete.

Baltimore promises to fairly outdo herself on the Grand Pompeiian Fete, which is to commence there on the second of next month. The arrangements are being perfected on a tremendous scale; nearly four hundred people will take part in the rendition of the scenes of pomp and splendor that precede the devastating eruption of Vesuvius and the complete destruction of Pompeii. The realism of the surroundings, when great buildings totter and fall, flames pour fourth, affrighted people rush to and fro, and finally plunge into the lake, is so intense that the spectators can hardly believe it other than an actual catastrophe transpiring before their eyes.

Pain and Sons, of London and New York, under whose immediate supervision the grand and thrilling spectacle is presented, are acknowledged the world over as the kings of the fireworks art, promise that the Baltimore Fete shall in some respects exceed their remarkable efforts at Manhattan Beach, New York.

The fireworks are marvels of brilliant and unique results, and the special displays they will make following the fall of Pompeii every fete night will be wholly unlike anything of the kind ever seen this side of New York.

Pompeiian Park where the fete will be held is an immense enclosure, being upwards of six hundred feet square. It has been enclosed and a grand stand with a capacity for comfortably seating twelve thousand people is being erected. The fete commences on the evenings of the 2d and 4th of July, and continuing thereafter every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings until August 5th. The Western Maryland Railroad will place tickets on sale at one fare the round trip, and special announcement will be made later on as to the days of sale and limit of time for the return trip.

—Mrs. Sophia M. Rose, widow of the late Peter Rose, Baltimore, and a sister of Mrs. Amelia R. Stickel, this place, died at her residence in the above city on Tuesday evening last. She was aged about 70 years. Interment was made on Thursday afternoon.

An Estimable Young Lady Dead.

Miss Mary E. Hawken departed this life on Monday evening last, at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. E. Hawken, Conococheague street, aged 29 years, 3 months and 14 days. Miss Hawken had been a prolonged sufferer from throat consumption, and despite the most skilful medical treatment and constant and careful attention, it was evident that the insidious advances of the disease could not be prevented. On Friday, accompanied by her mother, she returned from Washington, D. C., where she had been under medical treatment for a short time. Upon her arrival she was compelled to take to her bed, gradually growing worse until death ensued. Throughout her painful illness Miss Hawken displayed singular fortitude and submission, and with a calm resignation awaited the advent of the death angel. Her death was the occasion of profound regret to our residents generally. Quiet and amiable, simple and unaffected in all her social relations, she endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. Indeed, her life was a conspicuous example of goodness, and it is much to be regretted that the full development and fruition of her ennobling qualities of mind and heart have, in her early death, been prevented, but, "We stand on this verge of crumbling time; we love, we hope, we disappear; again we mingle with the dust, and the knot intrinsecate falls apart. But this we know, a noble life enriches all the world, and the happiest dream is eternal rest free from pain." Funeral services took place from the Lutheran church, of which deceased was a consistent and earnest member, on Wednesday afternoon last. Rev. J. B. Keller, of the Lutheran church at Smithsburg, assisted by Rev. H. M. Thurlow, of the M. E. church, of this place, conducted the services. The casket was ladened with a number of floral offerings, the gifts of friends. Interment was made in Potomac Hill Cemetery. There was a large attendance of sorrowing relatives and friends at the funeral, a fitting testimonial of the respect and esteem cherished for the deceased.

Rev. C. M. Aurand's Success.

The success which has attended the ministrations of Rev. C. M. Aurand in Trenton, N. J., is attested by the following clippings—the first from the Trenton Daily True American, and the last from the Lutheran Observer:

The Workers' Bible Class and the Young Men's Meeting held by the Young Men's Christian Association, yesterday, were both well attended and full of interest. The address of Rev. C. M. Aurand, pastor of the English Evangelical Lutheran church, was a most forcible one, and the earnest words spoken will linger long in the memory of those present. The singing at this latter service was also a pleasant feature, being conducted by W. H. Tattler in his usual energetic manner.

CHRIST CHURCH, TRENTON, N. J.

Nearly fifty souls have been added to this congregation under the ministrations of the present pastor, Rev. C. M. Aurand, of less than six months duration.

The official board of the church will meet this week to take action looking towards the erection of a new edifice, of which the congregation stands in great need.

A "Young People's Luther Alliance" has recently been organized, which has now forty members, with very flattering prospects of a rapid increase. TRENTONIAN.

A Free Trip to Europe.

The publishers of the Canadian Queen will give a free trip to Europe to the person sending them the largest number of words constructed from letters contained in the name of their well-known magazine, "The Canadian Queen." Additional prizes consisting of silver tea sets, gold watches, China dinner sets, portiere curtains, silk dresses, mantel clocks, and many other useful and valuable articles will also be awarded in order of merit. Webster's unabridged dictionary to be used as authority in deciding the contest. This a popular way of introducing a popular publication. Every one sending a list of not less than ten words will receive a present. Enclose thirteen U. S. 2c. stamps for illustrated catalogue of presents and three months' trial subscription to The Queen. Address—The Canadian Queen, Toronto, Ont.

—James Lawrenson, aged 87 years, died Monday morning at his home in Baltimore. He was in the United States service nearly seventy-one years continuously. He swore in twenty-five Postmaster Generals and served under nineteen Presidents. He was a drummer boy at the battle of North Point. His funeral took place on Wednesday in Washington, Postmaster General Wanamaker and other prominent department officials meeting the body at the depot; the burial was conducted by the Masons.

These are Very Antique Relics.

Mr. Benj. F. Grosh, Sr., this place, possesses a commission issued by Congress to Peter Adams to become first lieutenant of Capt. Adam Grosh's company of the Maryland line. The commission bears date of 1776, and is signed by John Hancock, president, and Chas. Thompson, secretary. The document, considering its antiquity, is in a good state of preservation. Capt. Grosh, who is mentioned in the foregoing, was the grandfather of the owner of this valuable relic.

Mr. Grosh also possesses a scrap book that is over one hundred years old.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.
