BLANKS

For sale at this Office.

Fayette Hotel,

KEPT BY

JOHN PORTER.

In the WHITE HOUSE, at the East End of Rockville, Montgomery County, Md.;

Sign of General Lafayette.

THE public are respectfully informed that I have rented the above establishment from Mr. Jesse Leach, and have taken possession of the same.

In relinquishing my situation in the office of the Maryland Journal and True American, and assuming that of the keeper of a public house, I have been governed exclusively by the bad state of my health, caused by the close confinement, in my profession, as a printer. And in order that no improper impression may go abroad, I wish it to be distinctly understood, that in leaving my situation, it was my own voluntary act.

Although I have been connected with the publication of the True American for the greater part of the last two years, yet from the nature of my situation (being confined altogether to the office) my acquaintance with the people of the county is but limited; and I have tho't proper thus to call their attention, thro' the same channel which I have been laboring to edify and amuse, to the business which I have now undertaken I respectfully, therefore, invite them to favor me with a share of their patronage.

The management of the Hotel will be solely under my care and attention; and all may rest assured, that every effort will be made to render their situations comfortable and agreeable. The charges will be moderate; and I trust that no one will have occasion to complain of their accommodations.

Having invested the small pittance, accumulated by the hard-earning of years in my profession as a printer, in the establishment of the Fayette Hotel, not with the view to amass a fortune, for my expectations have never been raised that high, but merely for the purpose of making an honest support for my family, and the hope of restoring my health, it is expected I will not be disappointed.

The people of Montgomery (to whom this is principally directed) have, generally evinced towards me feelings of friendship, for which I shall ever feel grateful; and any future favors which may be extended towards me, shall be treasured up with fond remembrance.

The house has been lately fitted up almost new, and in such a manner as makes it neat and commodious. The stable is entirely new, and is probably the most extensive between Georgetown and Frederick. Attached to the Hotel, is substantially enclosed with a boarded fence. There is also at the YARD, a PUMP of the purest water.

Last, but not least, the lovers of newspaper reading, will find kept regularly filed upwards of twenty of the principal papers of the Union, and of different political complexion.

The public's ob't serv't,

JOHN PORTER.

To the Public

Having been employed to manage and superintend the Grist Mill, Saw Mill, and Carding Machines of William Robertson, on Rock Creek, the public are informed generally, that every attention will be promptly given in our line of business.—Having good Burr Stones and Bolting Cloth, we are making preparation to receive crops of wheat from the farmers, to be manufactured, and I think we will be safe in saying our flour, if the wheat is clean and good, will do us credit in any market. Corn Corn Meal, Wheat flour, Buckwheat flour, Rye Chop, &c. are kept constantly for sale.

The Carding and Sawing will be promptly attended to at the same time.

The price for carding common wool will be 6¼ cents per lb.—Merino 8 cts. per lb. or ten if we find greece. We think no one would grumble at the price of 8 cents for carding merino wool, if they were acquainted with the great expense and difficulty attending it—in the first place the cost of the cards is more, as it requires much finer cards and they wear out a great deal sooner than for common wool, and also take much longer time to card the same number of pounds.

The Sawing will also be reduced to suit the times—the following is a list of prices:

For sawing ½ inch plank	$0 50 per hundred.
do ⅝	55
do ¾	60
do ⅞	65
do 1	70
do 1¼	75
do 1½	85
do 1¾	90
do 2	1 00

All over two inches measuring side and edge at $1 per hundred—Laths and pailings measuring side and edge at the same price of plank the same thickness.
