is it any of their business? Our matter we hope, is none the worse, for not smelling of the labor of a week's meditation. Who has given the Chronicle the power of censorship over this press? Has that paper, yet established a reputation for any thing, other than long elaborated effusions, exacting probably, much of its leisure time, in preparing, revising and correcting them. And when the finish is given, presenting no novelty, raciness or point, but on the contrary, poorly representing the toil of a mind, haggard, "flighty," unbalanced, and no doubt, only awaiting a sufficiently exciting cause, to become unhinged, leaving it to swing, to and fro, according to the temporary force, propelling it. Whether that print, is the original of its "lank and lean" fabrics, or acts, under extrinsic influence, we know not, nor do we care. We are inclined, however, to think that it is indebted to its own native weedy exuberance for its products. For we shall be slow, to believe, that the persons, who might exercise a control over it, will justify the character of the paragraph, upon which we are commenting. It may, however, from the redundancy of its self conceit, mistaking the fulsome puffs of its parasites, for the discreet praise of its friends, conclude that it is ministering to the calumnious and detracting palate of some of its votaries. We believe it is mistaken, and that, however much, its previous efforts, may have amused, when the style of their author was a novelty, that they have long ceased to excite even ordinary interest, and that as a breath has made, so may a breath destroy, the self deluded and ricketty establishment. We have long believed, that two prints, in operation, in this County, conducted upon fair, legitimate, and high minded principles, would be of advantage, to the citizens. We yet think so. We much regret that the Chronicle, has evinced an anxious disposition, to depart from the courtesy due, from one paper to another, and foment a state of contemptible and ridiculous altercation, highly unpleasant to refined and reflecting readers.

It is not for us to dictate to them, nor will we be dictated to. Our course is a strait forward one. We shall treat all outrages committed upon us, as they deserve, come from what quarter they may—in this determination it may be necessary to carry the war into the enemy's country, however, abhorrent to our feelings, in the abstract. Our resolution is fixed, to conduct this paper upon legitimate principles—regardless of trashy obstructions, that may occasionally be thrown in our way, by mad or bad men.

In regard to the article, which appeared in this paper alluding to the Chronicle's notice of the appointment of Dr. John S. Spence, as U. S. Senator, and the circumstances leading to it, as hinted at, in that paper, it is false, that we designedly misrepresented that print. Let its own impartial readers, determine.—The Chronicle was evidently displeased, at some of the incidents connected with Dr. Spence's appointment, and denounced certain persons unknown to us, but seemingly known to them. At first, it appeared disposed to take a warlike position upon the subject, adverse to the actors which it had, in its own mind, implicated, but ultimately, it seemed not to have the courage to adhere to it, (its absurd swagger and independence to the contrary notwithstanding) and ignominiously and stupidly backs out of it, by attempting to make a jesuistical and foolish tilt at us. The Chronicle has pronounced its own condemnation, it is not necessary for us, to furnish the evidence. It breathes in every page of that print, containing remarks upon this subject. If reason has lost its pathway from the dust, that has followed the track of the Chronicle, or if that print shall be buried in its own sands, let it exonerate the Aurora. Unmanly and ungenerous treatment, cannot swerve us from the highroad of propriety—it will only serve to nerve us the more rigidly, to demand and enforce our rights, and the rights of all, at every hazard. If the Chronicle descends into the abyss of pollution, the Aurora will leave to others, the melancholy task of singing its funeral requiem.

Michigan. The Presidential electors of Michigan met at Detroit on the 7th inst. & gave the vote of the State to Martin Van Buren & Richard M. Johnson. Wm. H. Hoog, one of the Electors, appointed the messenger to convey the vote to Washington.

Death of Black Hawk.—The Galena, (Illinois) Advertiser says; that the celebrated Warrior Black Hawk, was recently drowned in the Iowa river, by the upsetting of his canoe, when returning from a Treaty.

SUPERIOR JONNY CAKE.—The following receipt will make a Jonny cake fit for an alderman, a mayor, an editor or any other dignitary, in the land. Take one quart of milk; three eggs, one tea-spoonful of saleratus, one cup of wheat flour, and one of Indian meal; sufficient to make a batter of the consistency of pancakes. Bake quick in pans previously buttered, and eat warm with butter or milk. The addition of wheat flour will be found a great improvement in the art of making these cakes.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

The Salem (Mass.) Gazette mentions the following incident, at once so creditable and encouraging to newspaper patrons. That paper says: "One of our oldest and most respectable subscribers called yesterday, and paid his hundred and first semi-annual subscription." We would call him a liberal and good hearted man by all means.

A butcher about to kill a cow, employed an Irishman to hold her. The butcher squinted, and when looking at the cow appeared to look at the Irishman. Pat fearning that he should get knocked down instead of the cow, said in much of a hurry, "Arrah, man do you strike where you look?" "To be sure I do—where do you think I'd strike?" "Then you howld the cow yourself till I get out of the way just."

MARRIED,

On Thursday evening last, by the Rev. Mr. M'Gee, Mr. William O. Cooper, of Dorchester County, to Miss Sarah A. Lee, of this city.—Balt. Paper.

DIED,

Departed this life, on Thursday Morning, 6 o'clock, 19th Inst., Henrietta Maria, Daughter of Henry C., and Mary Hicks, after a long and protracted illness, leaving a large circle of relations and acquaintances to lament their irreparable loss.

Mrs. Mary Hicks, we learn, is not dead as was erroneously reported in the Chronicle.

In this county on Thursday the 12th inst, near New Market, Capt. Travers.

In this county, on Tuesday last, Hooper Mace.

On the 8th Inst., after a protracted illness, Mrs. Nancy Keene, relict of Henry Keene, Esq., late deceased. It is unnecessary to comment upon the merits and virtues of this estimable lady. A more worthy woman, has not lived upon this earth, in modern times. In all the departments of life, she performed her duty in the most exemplary manner. The domestic affections were predominant in her character. She was a most affectionate wife, a kind parent, charitable to the poor, friendly to the disconsolate & distressed, & universally esteemed by all her acquaintances. She exhibited in her entire deportment, the evidences of a pious and devout christian, and in virtuous and religious observances, ensure eternal happiness to those, who are snatched from this transitory world, by the irreversible decrees of fate, there cannot remain a doubt that her angelic spirit, now exists in a superior sphere of bliss. But a few weeks prior, to her death, her husband, Henry Keene, a most respectable citizen and honest man, and her son John S. Keene, a correct and worthy young man, all in the same family, died, leaving a numerous circle of friends, to mourn over their bereavement. In the death of these persons, the county and neighborhood, have lost most valuable members of society. But it is the lot of mortals to die. Let the living be prepared, to meet the great Judge of quick and dead, before whom, we must all shortly appear.

TAILORING.

The Subscriber

BEGS leave respectfully to announce to his friends and the public, that he still carries on the

TAILORING BUSINESS

IN ALL ITS DIFFERENT BRANCHES,

At his old stand, in Cambridge.

He has lately procured A NEW SYSTEM OF CUTTING OUT GARMENTS, which has never been used before in this part of the State. It is adjusted upon a mathematical principle, and cannot fail to succeed in all cases. Upon this plan, the science of cutting clothes is no longer uncertain, and dependent upon the eye and accident, for a good fit. It is as unerring as the truths of geometry. He congratulates himself and his friends upon the possession of this long sought desideratum. He is prepared to make up clothes for his patrons in the neatest, and most fashionable style, having made an arrangement to procure the of the season. His work shall be finished in the best manner, and he warrants his garments to fit. Having been located in this place for the last twelve years, he returns his acknowledgements to his friends and the public, for the flattering encouragement they have bestowed upon him. He pledges himself to to devote his most assiduous attention to accommodate those who entrust work to his care. In conclusion, he invites all to call, and he flatters himself that they will be entirely satisfied that he has promised nothing but what he will most rigidly fulfil.

Latest New-York Fashions

The public's obedient servant,

DORCHESTER HOUSE,

THE undersigned respectfully announces to his friends and the public generally that he has taken that well known lately occupied by Mr. John Bradshaw; (which will in future be styled the "DORCHESTER HOUSE,") where he designs keeping a first rate establishment for the accommodation of all, and every person, who may favor him with their patronage. His TABLE will at all times be furnished with the best the market will afford. His BAR is now, and will continue to be, stocked with pure and unadulterated Liquors, of every variety; to attend to which he has procured the valuable services of Mr. Thomas Smith, who will always be ready to administer to the comforts of visitors. To attend his STABLES, he has careful and experienced Ostlers, which, together with his personal knowledge of the character and habits of that most valuable of animals, will, he flatters himself, afford ample assurance that all horses left in his charge will be well attended to. The House, in the course of the ensuing summer, will undergo a thorough repair, and be very considerably enlarged.

TAVERN HOUSE

IN THE TOWN OF CAMBRIDGE,

The advantages of its location must be acknowledged by all who visit it; for, while it is in the middle of the village, it is yet retired and quiet, standing on a fine airy situation, about equal distant from either end of the town.

The undersigned pledges himself to his patrons that his efforts to render their sojourn with him agreeable, shall be unremitting, and that nothing shall be left undone to accomplish that object; he, therefore, respectfully solicits a share of the patronage of an enlightened public.

The public's obedient servant,

Ordinances

OF THE

COMMISSIONERS OF THE TOWN OF CAMBRIDGE.

WHEREAS, on application by petition in writing of a number of the citizens of the Town of Cambridge, for the appointment of a Wood Corder or Wood Corders for the said town, It was ordered and determined that Messrs. George W. Wingate and William R. Perry be, and they are hereby, appointed Wood Corders for the said town; whose duty it shall be to measure all wood brought to the said town for sale, and to have for their services six and a quarter cents per cord, and two cents by the quarter of cord, for all wood by them or either of them measured, and in proportion for a less quantity, to be paid in each instance at the time by the seller.

And it was further ordered and ordained, That if any person or persons shall wilfully neglect the above Ordinance, or violate the same by the sale of wood without measurement in the said town, every such person or persons shall incur the penalty of fifty cents for every cord so sold, and so in proportion for a less quantity—one half of such fine to be paid to the Wood Corders equally, and the other half to the Bailiff for the use of the town; the same to be recovered under the Act of Assembly of 1793, chapter 66, section 23, before a Justice of the Peace.

WHEREAS, the Commissioners believe that the 10th section of the Act of Assembly of 1831, chapter 323, (which renders it unlawful for any retailer, ordinary keeper, or other persons, at any time to sell ardent spirits to any free negro, mulatto or slave, without the license or permit therein prescribed,) is habitually violated by some persons, It is, therefore, ordered and determined, and it is hereby declared to be the duty of the Bailiff to report to the Commissioners of the Town, any retailer, ordinary keeper or other person who shall sell any ardent spirits after 8 o'clock at night in the months of October, November, December, January, February and March, or after 9 o'clock at night in any other month.

And it is thereupon unanimously Resolved, That if any information shall be given by the Bailiff, or any other person, of the violation of the above Ordinance, the Commissioners do hereby unanimously pledge themselves to make application in writing to the County Court, if in session, or to the Orphans' Court, for a discontinuance or withdrawal of the license of any such delinquent.

By order

Notice:

THE subscriber respectfully informs the public that he has removed from the house which he lately occupied, and kept as a tavern, to his recently erected establishment on Main street, Cambridge, where he will continue his former business. His present stand, nearly opposite the Court House, and the nearest public house in Cambridge to the river, is believed to be one of the most extensive and commodious of its kind on the Eastern Shore. Tendering his grateful acknowledgements to those who have heretofore with so much liberality extended to him their patronage, and indulging the hope that he will hereafter merit and receive their countenance and support, he pledges his assiduous attention to his business, and the employment of his best exertions to please and give satisfaction to them and others who may favor him with their custom.

His Bar will at all times be supplied with choice wines and liquors, and his table with the best the market affords.

☞Boarders will, as hitherto, be taken by the year, month, week or day, on moderate terms.

DR. F. P. PHELPS,

HAVING removed from Cambridge, for the convenience of those indebted to him for professional services, has placed his accounts for collection in the hands of Nicholas L. Goldsborough, esq. and embraces this method of respectfully requesting all who are indebted to him to call immediately on Mr. G. and either pay off their respective accounts; or close them by giving their notes. Those refusing in a reasonable time to comply with this most reasonable request, cannot expect to be indulged.

CHANCERY SALE.

BY virtue of a Decree of the high Court of Chancery, I will offer at public sale, to the highest and best bidder, at the Court House door, in the Town of Cambridge, at the hour of 12 o'clock M. on Monday the 13th day of February next, more or less, of valuable wood and cleared land, being part of the tract called "Good Rich's Choice," "Rochester, and Trippe's Good Luck," comprising within its limits, the Farm upon which William Bonner Jnr. formerly resided. This property is situated in Cabbin Creek Neck; in the New Market District of this county, and distant; about a mile from navigable water. The improvements upon it, are highly respectable; I understand the soil reasonably productive, and the situation very conducive to health. The title is in fee simple and believed to be indisputable. Any further description of the premises, is deemed unnecessary, as those who are disposed to purchase, will examine for themselves.

200 Acres,

According to the terms of the Decree, one third of the purchase money, must be paid on the day of sale, and the residue in equal instalments, upon a credit of six and twelve months, with interest on each instalment from the day of sale, to be secured by obligation with security to be approved by the trustee. As soon as the entire purchase money is paid, I will convey the property to the purchaser or purchasers.

CURE FOR BOWEL COMPLAINTS.

DR. D. JAYNE'S Carminative Balsam. A safe and effectual remedy for those diseases of the Stomach and Bowels, such as Diarrhœa or Looseness, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cramp; Colic, Vomiting, Sick or Nervous Headache, Sickness at the Stomach; &c; and that frequent and fatal malady among children termed Cholera Infantum or Summer Complaint. It is very pleasant to the taste, and will readily be taken by children. Its success has been unrivalled; and it is now used in the practice of a great number of physicians, many of whom have forwarded certificates detailing cures of great importance.—Hundreds of certificates have been received from physicians, clergymen, and families of the first respectability, who have used it, and have testified to its great utility; may be seen by calling on any of the agents for the sale of this medicine. The following from Dr. M. L. Knapp, late physician to the Baltimore Dispensary, and agent of the Maryland Vaccine Institution, is deemed sufficient:

Baltimore, March 27th, 1836.

Dr. Jayne: Dear Sir—You ask me what proofs I meet with of the efficacy of your medicine. I can safely say that I never prescribed a medicine for bowel complaints that has given me so much satisfaction; and my patients so speedy and perfect relief as this. Whenever introduced into a family, it becomes a standing remedy for those ailments, and is called for again and again, which I think a pretty good proof of its usefulness and efficacy. In the Summer Complaint of children, it has frequently appeared to snatch the little victims, as it were, from the grave. "It saved the life of my child, and of such and such a child," I have repeatedly heard said. In dysenteric affections of adults, I have time and again seen it act like a charm, and give permanent relief in a few hours, I may say in a few minutes. In fine it is valuable medicine and no family should be without it.

Respectfully; M. L. KNAPP, M. D.

It is hoped that all will perceive the true value of this medicine, and by resorting to an early use of it prevent many attacks of dangerous illness, and preserve many valuable lives. For sale by Dr. D. Jayne, Salem; N. Jersey.; at wholesale and retail, by A. B. & D. Sands, druggists; 100 Fulton, corner William St. New York; only wholesale agent for the State; and by Mess. R.
