MINING JOURNAL.
A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER.
FROSTBURG, MD., JANUARY 28, 1888.

LOCALS IN MINIOR.

Publications.—The Baltimore Sun almanac for 1888 is out, and exceeds in volume of valuable information any of its predecessors. This publication has come to be almost a necessity in the great community which moves along through the world under the light of the Sun. It is like the Sun and of the Sun—a source of solid information on all current subjects, and those accustomed to it as a basis of reference would not willingly have the generous publishers cease its issue.

An exceedingly interesting article by Lily Higgin, on "Modern English Artists," with portraits, appears in the February number of Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine, giving just the information that all wish to have. Col. C. Chaille-Long's "From the Suez Canal, Through Two Seas, to the Equator," is important in view of the perennially interesting Eastern Question. Then, too, there is "A Visit to Porto Anegre, Brazil," full of information and illustrations. Among the shorter contributions to this number may be mentioned: "The Church of the Holy Sepulchre, Jerusalem;" "Joan of Arc;" "The Best of Countries," by T. DeWitt Talmage; "Harrow School;" "Hymns;" "The Sacred Books of China;" "Some Superstitions of the Synagogue," and others of interest and value. There is not much poetry in this number, but what there is is good, especially the sonnet, "In Fotheringay Castle," by Adelaide Cilley Waldron. The number closes, as usual, with a piece of sacred music.

The attractions of literature and art have rarely been more happily combined than in the offer of the well-known Boston publishing house of Holman & Co., who, in return for the trifling sum of thirty-five cents, send their beautiful photo-etching of Munkacsy's world famous painting, "Christ Before Pilate" and their elegant new illustrated household monthly, Wives and Daughters, on a three months' trial subscription. The picture is too well known to need description, its sale to John Wanamaker for $120,000 having been universally chronicled by the press, but a word of enthusiastic recommendation of the new magazine may be allowed. Wives and Daughters is an ideal production, of sparkling literary and artistic merit, filled with bright stories and charming poems from the pens of such authors as Miss Nora Perry, Mrs. Mary E. Blake, Mrs. Grace W. Oliver, Mrs. Lavinia S. Goodwin, Charles Richards Dodge, Miss Minnie C. Ballard, Miss Helen F. Gould, and a host of popular writers. Its illustrations are under the charge of Mr. Fred Webster. The publication is a marvel of good reading in attractive form at a phenomenally low price, and will be found thoroughly worthy of its dedication to pure womanhood. The publishers may be addressed at 250 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT

AT a regular meeting of Fraternity Council, No. 603, American Legion of Honor, of Frostburg, Md., held Friday evening, January 20, 1888, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted on the death of our late companion, GEORGE B. PARKER:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the Universe to remove from our midst our late companion, GEORGE B. PARKER, and the intimate relations long held by our deceased companion with the members of our Council render it proper that we should place on record our appreciation of his services as a companion and his merits as a man; therefore be it—

Resolved, That in the death of companion GEORGE B. PARKER this Council loses a member who was always active and zealous in his work, ever ready to assist the needy and distressed, devoted to the welfare and prosperity of the Order and an honest and upright man, whose virtues endeared him, not only to his companions of the Order, but to all his fellow-citizens.

Resolved, That while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our companion who has been called from labor to rest, and that this Council tenders its heartfelt sympathy to the family and relatives of our deceased companion in this their sad affliction, and commend them to Him who doeth all things well.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered on the records of this Council; that a copy of the same be presented to the family of our deceased companion, and that a copy be furnished the Frostburg MINING JOURNAL for publication.
